U.S. Farmland: Still 99.4 Percent American

The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) monitors foreign investment in U.S. agricultural land and regularly reports the results to Congress. According to the latest report, foreign investors still own fewer than one out of every 100 acres of our farm and forest land.

Since February 1, 1979, foreign owners have been required to report their holdings, acquisitions, and dispositions of U.S. agricultural land to the applicable county ASCS Office.

The results indicate that foreign investors held an interest in around 7.8 million acres of U.S. agricultural land at the start of this year. About 1.2 million of those acres were added since 1979.

Although about 80 separate nationalities from around the world are represented on the list, about 75 percent of all the landholdings are traced to Canada, Brition, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands, in that order.

The ten states with the largest foreign holdings are Maine, Texas, California, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Tennessee, New Mexico, Colorado and Montana. Together, these states account for 60 percent of all foreign agricultural acreage nationwide. Approximately 105,000 acres of Virginia farmland is foreign owned.

Tours Add Spice For Senior Citizens

Twenty-two senior citizens from Pennington Gap began September 28 to tour part of Pennsylvania. The first was breakfast in Abingdon, then Roanoke, dinner was the main event in Winchester, completing the trip to Gettysburg, Pa., at 7:00 p.m., this was headquarters for the three nights.

Tours began in Amish Country at Lancaster, with guides explaining the difference in our way of living and the Amish. Amoug the shops visited were quilt world, cheese factory, candle shop, and ice cream shop, sampling the ice cream was a treat.

Beginning at 10:00 a.m. our tour of the Battlefield in Gettysburg, visiting the cyclorama, eating lunch, touring the Prince of Peace Museum, then shopping trip and visit to Hershey Town, and the candy plant, leaving for home around 11:00 a.m. arriving in Pennington Thursday night at 11:30.

Our bus driver Hubert Rosenbaum was a very helpful person, especially with Shelburne Woodard.

A tired and happy group of Senior Citizens began their plans for another trip.

A 65 Pound Watermelon

Hershel Parsons of Stickleyville grew this large watermelon in his garden. The watermelon weighed over 65 pounds.

Certain Boats To Be Tilted

House Bill 986, passed by the 1981 session of the Virginia General Assembly, requires all watercraft fifteen feet long or longer and having a gross weight of more than 400 pounds including motor, if any, to be titled on or after January 1, 1982.

Watercraft purchased prior to January 1, 1982 and upon which a lien or security interest exists will be subject to titling, at a cost of $7.00, on or before February 15, 1982.

Watercraft purchased and registered prior to January 1, 1982, upon which no lien or security interest exists, must be titled when the registration is renewed.

Owners of watercraft acquired after January 1, 1982 must obtain title and registration after paying a two percent watercraft sales tax. The two percent watercraft sales tax replaces the four percent tax currently in effect.

No tax will be required of commercial watermen who own watercraft constructed by them for their own personal use, nor of insurance companies that purchase a watercraft for disposition as a result of a total loss claim.

All persons selling a watercraft meeting the above criteria must present the purchaser with an invoice showing the date of sale, the sales price and a description of the watercraft. This invoice must be presented by the purchaser when he pays his watercraft sales tax. Watercraft sales tax may be paid to authorized dealers for watercraft sold by them, offices of the Virginia Department of Taxation or at the Richmond office of the Virginia Game Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Caudill

Patricia Musick Weds Johnny Caudill

The Dryden United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Patricia Lynne Musick and Johnny Edward Caudill. The couple was united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, September 5 at 2:00 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E.H. Insko. He was assisted by Rev. Morgan Phillips.

The bride given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father chose a chiffonlea white gown. The bodice featured a high V neck defined by silk venice lace and pearls, full bishop sleeves with fitted cuffs edged in lace. The skirt, full from an empire waist and appliqued with venice lace extended into a chapel length train. The bride carried a bouquet of cream roses, burgundy azaleas and pink star flowers with burgundy and pink streamers tied in love knots.

Matron of honor was Nikki McCarty of Big Stone Gap. Bridesmaids were Tammy Olinger of Dryden and Daretha Mullins of Big Stone Gap. Kari Tankersley served as flower girl. The attendants' dresses were of burgundy satin trimmed in pink lace. Each carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and ferns.

Ricky Caudill of Appalachia served his brother as best man. Terry Bolling, brother of the bride, and Richard Cox, cousin of the bride were ushers. Ring bearer was Matthew Light.

Special wedding music and song was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Carroll of Pennington Gap. Wedding director was Mrs. Leigh Holland of Dryden.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Arti Caudill, aunt of the groom, Irma Quillen, aunt of the bride, and Betty Sue Quillen, cousin of the bride. The guest book was kept by Connie Quillen, cousin of the bride.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Synan of Hagerstown, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Synan, George, Dwight and Carol of Fairfield, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Quillen and Connie of Franklin, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Quillen, Vanessa and Keith of Pineville, Ky.; Richard Cox and Phyllis Pike of Sandston, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Caudill of Ft. Pierce, Fla.

The bride is a graduate of Dryden High School and attended Mountain Empire Community College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clelan Musick of Dryden. The groom attended Appalachia High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Caudill of Duffield. Both the bride and groom are employed by Westmoreland Coal Co.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home on Ridge Avenue in Appalachia.

KEEP VIRGINIA CLEAN

Clean Air At Less Cost

Each new-car buyer is paying about $725 for emission control equipment, and auto makers have indicated they could reduce sticker prices about $300 if more appropriate standards were approved by Congress, which now is holding hearings, says the Automotive Information Council (AIC).

And we still would have cleaner air. AIC pointed out that the Clean Air Act's stringent 1981 standards required emissions of hydrocarbons (HC) and carbon monoxide (CO) be reduced by 96 per cent and oxides of nitrogen (NO x) by 76 per cent compared with the uncontrolled cars of the early 1960's.

But many scientists now recognize that the CO and NO x standards are stricter than necessary to meet the natioal air quality standards and that clean air is available at less cost.

Even Eric O. Stork, former deputy administrator of the Environmental Agency, has said the auto standards "have acquired a symbolic value that is wholly out of proportion to their scientific basis." He said there "was virtually no reliable data" on urban air quality when Congress passed the escalating law back in 1970.

However, even-tougher regulations are scheduled for 1983 and 1984. . .at additional cost to the car buyer. . .unless the standards are changed.

The nation's air quality has improved substantially over the past 10 years, says AIC, quoting the March 1981 final report of the National Commission on Air Quality: "Motor vehicle controls have contributed to significant improvements in air quality."

Congressional testimony says improvements will continue under the revised standards proposed by the car manufacturers.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Orr, Clark

Emma Jane Orr and Allen Emerson Clark were united in marriage October 24, 1981 at 7:00 p.m. in the United Methodist Church in Dryden, Virginia. Reverend Joe Green performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Orr of Dryden, Virginia. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Ruth Clark and the late C.B. Clark, Jr., of Jasper, Virginia.

A program of wedding music was presented by Beth Green, soloist, and Sidney Fannon, organist. The program included the songs "Evergreen", "Annie's Song", "Follow Me", and "Blest Be The Tie".

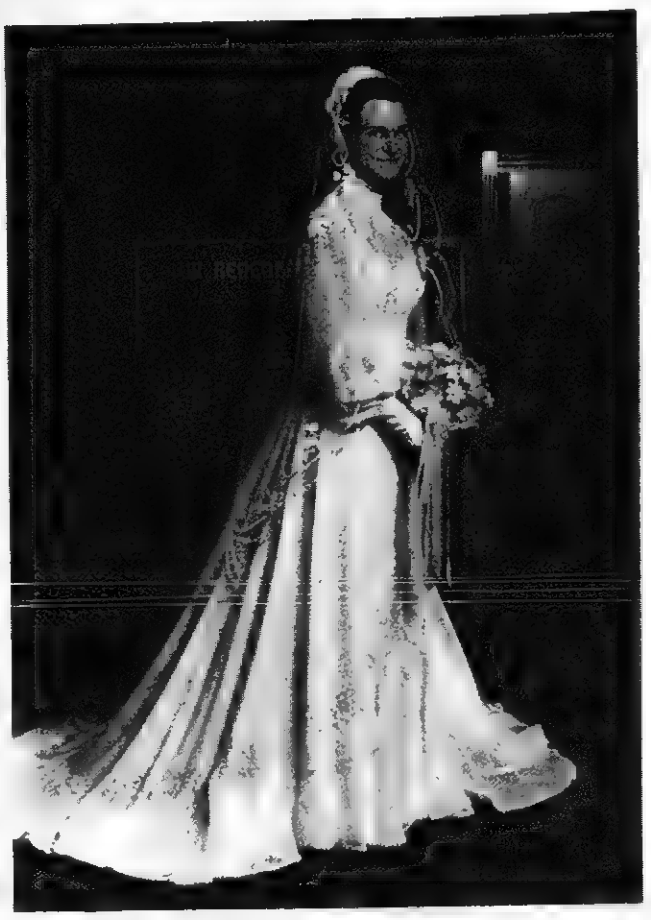
The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and was given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a formal gown of ivory peau de chine trimmed with silk Guipure lace. The gown was fashioned with a high collar and a picture neckline, both defined and enhanced with lace. The skirt flowed from a fitted, lace-trimmed bodice with a raised waistline into a semi cathedral length train.

The bride's lace trimmed Juliet cap was hand embroidered with seed pearls. A walking length ivory mantilla edged with pearls and Guipure lace fell from the Juliet cap. The bride carried a teardrop shaped bouquet of sonia roses, stephanotis, and ivy.

Peggy Orr Jessee, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a melon colored gown of quana knit, with an empire waist, a crossed bodice, and double spaghetti straps. The floor-length dress had tiny accordian pleats which fell from the raised waist. The chiffon cape the color of the dress covered the bodice.

Bridesmaids were Lesa Clark, sister of the groom; Beth Jessee, niece of the bride, and Sissy Adams Ely. Their peach colored floor length gowns were in the same style as that worn by the matron of honor. The bride's attendants carried round bouquets of carnations, pom-pons, daisies, and baby's breath, knotted together with ribbons of peach, coral, apricot, and brown. They wore halos of peach daisies, pom pons, and baby's breath in their hair, with silk ribbon streamers the color of the bouquet, trimming the back of the halo.

Kenneth Clark, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Dallen Clark, brother of the groom, Noel Boggs, brother in law of the groom and Blaine Bishop. Brent Jessee was junior groomsman.



Mrs. Allen Emerson Clark
(Emma Jane Orr)

The flower girl for the wedding was Kari Tankersley. She wore a short, lace trimmed party dress of peach and ivory, and carried a wicker basket trimmed with peach ribbon filled with rose petals. She wore a halo of baby's breath in her hair.

Ring Bearers were Chuck Clark, nephew of the groom, and Matthew Light. They wore identical ivory colored Eton suits, with ivory satin shirts featuring a Peter Pan collar.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of antique pink voile, overlayed with pink chiffon. The dress featured a high lace neckline and a lace trimmed bodice. The waist was accented by a chiffon sash, and a ruffled flounce of chiffon circled the skirt. The groom's mother wore a green tea length dress with ruffles around the neck.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. Alison Orr kept the bride's book during the reception, and Anna Maria Kirk and Beth Jessee provided a selection of piano music.

The wedding cake was four tiered, and was decorated with a bouquet of sonia tea roses, ivy, baby's breath, and peach streamers tied in love knots. Linda Lewis and Lenny Craft served the wedding cake. Debbie Jessee served the punch at the reception.

The groom received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees in Engineering Technology from East Tennessee State University. He has earned an Associate in Applied Science degree in Drafting and Design Technology, and Certificate in Mining, and an A.A.S. degree in Mining Technology from Mountain Empire Community College. He is currently employed in the Industrial Engineering Department of Westmoreland Coal Company in Big Stone Gap.

The bride is a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia School of Pharmacy, and received the Doctor of Pharmacy degree from the University of Kentucky. She is employed as a pharmacist at St. Mary's Hospital in Norton, Va.

After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple will be at home in Norton, Virginia.

Jane Orr Feted With Showers

Linda Lewis had a personal party for the bride at her home in Jonesville on October 13.

Joy Jessee, Maxie Morefield, Lorene Gibson, Edith Jessee, and Debbie Jessee gave the bride a personal and linen shower October 16 in Dryden.

A spaghetti dinner was hosted by Lucile and Bernice Orr for the bride and her friends at their home on October 19.

Wilma Tipton, Margaret Tate, and Michael Deel had a reception for the bride at St. Mary's Hospital on October 21.

Peggy Orr Jessee and Beth Jessee were hostesses for a bridesmaid's brunch at the Village Inn in Dryden on October 24.

The rehearsal dinner for the couple was served at the Coach House Restaurant, in Big Stone Gap, Virginia.

Supply Of Home Economic Graduates Will Not Meet Demand For Next 10 Years

Career opportunities for home economics graduates are and will continue to be plentiful, but misconceptions about home economics have led to declining enrollments, says Virginia Tech's College of Home Economics Dean Sanford J. Ritchey.

A recently completed analysis by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) concludes that the supply of home economics graduates will not meet the demand for them in the next 10 years, Ritchey reports. In fact, the USDA predicts that an average of 7,000 jobs a year will go unfilled through 1990 and that there will be substantial job opportunities for home economics graduates in marketing, merchandising, and sales. The most critical need the USDA says, is for home economics Ph.D.'s able to work as college professors, textile chemists, statisticians, and family counselors.

If job opportunities in home economics are so abundant, why are enrollments in colleges of home economics declining?

Ritchey believes there are several reasons for this decline. Many young women who might have chosen the home economic profession in the past are now choosing fields such as engineering, business, and agriculture. And, Ritchey asserts, home economics remains a poorly understood area of study.

Areas of professional study in Tech's College of Home Economics that offer opportunities for graduates to find professional positions and challenges, the dean says, include fashion design and merchandising, interior design, food service and lodging management, dietetics, child and family services, home economics education, and early childhood education.

"Graduates from these areas of study are finding increasing numbers of positions available to them at rising salaries. I'd advise high school graduates interested in these fields not to be turned off by traditional notions of home economics, but to investigate further the opportunities it has offer," Ritchey says.

And, he adds, "In spite of the traditional idea that home economics is for females only, males are finding their niche in the areas of design, food business and lodging, and other home economics fields. The next Calvin Klein or Conrad Hilton could be a home economics graduate."

Helpful Hints For Respiratory Illnesses

As the number of patients with chronic respiratory illnesses increase, we feel there are a few helpful hints that can be offered to help make their breathing problems a little more bearable. This article, one in a series to be presented for patients with lung disease, is being presented as part of the effort to provide helpful information to people who have Asthma, Bronchitis, Emphysema and/or Coal Worker's pneumoconiosis.

The following article is one excerpt from the educational materials that is being presented to individuals attending one of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia. Chronic respiratory illnesses are a significant and growing health problem in Southwest Virginia. The purpose of these articles and the clinics is to help inform individuals with lung diseases about their illness and to help make them feel better.

Infections:

Infection in the lung is a very serious matter. It can cause you to become very ill, very quickly. Infections are the major reasons patients with lung disease enter hospitals.

Here are a few precautions to help avoid infections.

1. Keep up to date on flu and pneumonia vaccinations.

2. Keep your body healthy through exercise daily, nourishing food and enough sleep to fight off the germs that cause infection.

3. Keep your lungs as clear of mucus as you can. Drink plenty of liquids. Infection grows quickly in old mucus.

4. Avoid large crowds and people with colds. Handle colds carefully and watch for danger signs.

Here are some danger signs to be aware of. If you suspect an infection call your doctor if you notice one of these:

1. You have a fever or chill

2. You are more short of breath than usual, you begin wheezing more than usual

3. Your cough becomes more severe

4 You began to have more mucus, or it becomes thicker than usual, or its color changes.

5. If you notice swelling in your ankles or around your eyes.

6. Your gain weight overnight.

7. You loose your appetite, become dizzy or sleepy, or have headaches.

This article has been presented with the help of the Better Breathing Clinic of Southwest Virginia, in conjunction with a Black Lung grant administered in association with the Virginia Department of Health.

For more information about upcoming classes in the Lee County area, contact, Brenda Ewing at Lee County Community Hospital at 546 1440. Monday thru Friday from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

Jonesville MYF

The MYF of Jonesville First United Methodist Church now have new leaders, Letha Davis and Loretta Drake. We would like to welcome the youth of the Jonesville area to come join us in our weekly meeting at 6 p.m. Sunday evenings at the church.

On October 25, seventeen youths and four adults enjoyed a "Halloween Cook In" at the home of Mr and Mrs. Dale Davis. Prayer was given by our pastor C.C. Mize. Games, Halloween carols and our business meeting was also enjoyed by all.

The MYF youth would like to thank their former leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Sergent for their years of work and contribution.

Prepared Childbirth Classes Offered

A program of classes on prepared childbirth for expectant couples will be sponsored by Lonesome Pine Hospital beginning Wednesday, November 4. The program will consist of a series of six weekly, two hour classes beginning at 7:30 p.m. Vanessa Jessee, R.N. and Nita Witt, R.N., Obstetrics Nurses, will conduct the program. The classes will be held in the Conference Room on the first floor at Lonesome Pine Hospital in Big Stone Gap.

The program is designed to prepare the prospective parents for the labor and delivery process. Expectant parents will learn relaxation and breathing techniques for labor as well as information about pregnancy and preparation for care of the newborn baby. Both the mother and her husband or other coach are encouraged to participate and learn the techniques that can make labor and delivery a positive, understandable experience.

There will be a $3.00 charge to cover the cost of a book used in the class. Couples should pre register by telephone by calling the Nursing Office, Lonesome Pine Hospital, telephone 523 3111, extension 225.

Federal Crop Insurance Information

Federal Crop Insurance policyholders on burley tobacco through the Lee County ASCS Office may pay the premium on their 1981 crop now or after the tobacco is sold. All checks should be made payable to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. Checks may be mailed to either the County ASCS Office or to United States Dept of Agriculture; Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, P O. Box 462, Kansas City, Missouri 64141

December 31, 1981 is the final date for current policyholders to cancel their insurance. The cancellation will not be effective for the 1982 crop year unless done by this date.

As soon as their sales are completed, insureds are encouraged to contact the County ASCS Office to determine if the tobacco brought as much as the dollar guarantee. If not, a claim may be filed at that time.

According to ASCS Director, Charles M. Ingram, Federal Crop Insurance will be handled by commercial insurance agents in 1982. "The ASCS office will not sell and service the insurance in 1982," said Ingram. "Insureds will be provided with a list of agents in the near future from whom they may select to transfer their insurance policy.

Hospital Auxiliary Bazaar Saturday

The bazaar Saturday, at First United Methodist Church, fellowship hall is just one of the few ways the Lee Hospital Auxiliary has to raise funds for this worthy cause. Beginning at 8:30 a.m., the bazaar will continue until 4:30 p.m.

To make it more convenient for you to "stop by" they are offering hot dogs, sandwiches and drinks. The crafts are of excellent quality, for "keeping" or "giving", baked goods that can be frozen for the busy holiday season, also more and more items that are surprises as one member of the auxiliary said.

If you wish to contribute to this worthy effort you may do so, any monies raised from your sharing will be used to add conveniences for the patients and their families at Lee County Community Hospital.

The ladies of Lee Auxiliary urge you to share with them Saturday, to enable them to better serve your community Hospital, expressing now an advance "thank you."

Veterans Day In County To Be Observed At Jonesville

McKinley Lewis

McKinley Lewis, a lifetime member of the American Legion Post 185 of Jonesville, was born on July 4, 1898. He was the first young man to volunteer from Lee County to serve in World War I. At nineteen years old he served from June 1917 to June 1919 when he received his honorable discharge

The American Legion Post 185 of Jonesville will observe Veterans Day at, and with Jonesville High School.

This program will begin at 10:30 a.m. Colors will be presented by Detachment No. 1, 1031 Engineer Company All veterans organizations will be represented and recognized. Guest speaker will be CSM James Flanary, CSM of the 1090 Engineer Batallion.

The public is invited to attend this program.

Family Planning Clinic Announced By County Health Department

Family planning clinics are held four times each month, by the Lee County Health Department, first, second, third and fourth Thursdays.

An appointment is necessary; call 346-2011, and ask about the services available, there is no charge for students, other charges are based on family or personal income.

All services to anyone are "Confidential" and parental permission is not necessary to prescribe birth control to minors. Anyone can attend any Health Department Clinic, regardless of age, not necessarily just the one in the county in which they live.

Winners In Tuesday's Election

Charles S. Robb
Governor

Richard J. "Dick" Davis
Lieutenant Governor

Gerald L. "Jerry" Baliles
Attorney General

Tuesday, November 3, election day, for our state officials to govern Virginia for the next four years was a bright sunny day with temperatures ranging in the mid seventies, therefore Lee Countians had a typical indian summer day to vote. Following is the Lee County vote.

Candidates for Governor, were Charles S. Robb receiving 4564 votes; J. Marshall Coleman with 2912 votes.

For Lieutenant Governor we have Richard J. "Dick" Davis in the race receiving 4189 votes; his opponent Nathan H. Miller received a total of 2845 votes.

The office of Attorney General is between Gerald L. "Jerry" Baliles with 4204 votes; and Wyatt B. Durrette, Jr., with a tally of 2746 votes.

Two members of the House of Delegates from the first district are to be elected, the candidates, Orby L. Cantrell and Ford C. Quillen are incumbents and were unopposed this election.

Complete Lee County Election Returns Next Week

On Saturday, November 7, ladies auxiliary of VFW Post 10298 will be selling poppies in Pennington Gap and Jonesville.

Little Matthew Huff, son of Gary and Sue Huff needs a monitor. He is a victim of (SID) Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

Make your donations to March of Dimes and mail to: Barbara Ashburn, P.O. Box 132, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277.

A Bouquet For Miss Florence

Miss Florence

It is an interesting and very heart-warming sight to visit the Ewing-Rose Hill Senior Citizens Site at the Morley Church in Ewing and see how industrious many of our elder citizens who spend a few hours there each day men and women for five or less days per week.

Some were just acquaintances when they enrolled in the program, and others were life long friends, but through daily association in friendly conversation, and working together in games or in quilting or other projects, a strong bond of friendship and respect for each other has grown into love and concern.

They are concerned also for others in the neighborhood, often sending cards to the sick and flowers to those in the hospital, or to families where death has occurred. They also cooperate in sending bridal and birthday gifts.

A small bouquet is being sent herein to one young lady in the group who believes in giving bouquets to the living. She calls herself an "Old Maid", the only one in the Senior Citizens Group who doesn't have nieces, nephews, children or grandchildren to make a fuss over her.

And yet, she has had in her care most of the "used-to be" children of this area at some period in their lives as she taught school for many years up until her retirement in 1963, and is now 83 years young and enjoys visits from her "school children."

When she became a member of the Senior Citizens in July 1975 she entered with the same determination to do a good day's work as she did in her teaching career, and now works as faithfully at quilting as if the whole day's work depended on her untiring efforts.

She has very few absences against her name for she has the most nearly perfect attendance record of any of the members.

"Miss Florence", as she has been called since she taught her first school in 1916, is also faithful in visiting the sick and shut-

More Storage Tanks

Three more storage tanks have been added at the Ralph Howard oil well in Long Hollow. They now have storage capacity of 640 barrels of oil. The well has stopped gushing oil on its own and later this week a pump will be installed.

Rescue Squad -- Building Fund Grows

Powell Valley Rebekah Lodge No. 50 has made a donation of $100 and the Past Noble Grand Club $25 for the Pennington Gap Rescue Squad building fund.

ins, and has in past years carried hundreds of rolls and home-made pies and other "goodies" to many in the neighborhood. She still visits quite often, but since an accident which caused a broken hip, foot, and ankle a few years ago, her visiting has been limited somewhat to conversations on the telephone, and by cards and letters.

"Miss Florence" does many other good deeds behind the scenes like helping families in case of fire or other troubles, sending donations to the American Bible Society, or to the Rescue Squad in memory of her deceased, using her car for any who need a ride, bringing food to the Center when her car is needed, and contributing financially to many civic needs.

Especially did she assist financially in the efforts to prevent the obtaining of license for selling beer in the area. Because of a crippled knee, she has been unable to accompany others on the Senior Citizens Tours except to an Annual Meeting in Big Stone Gap.

Miss Florence can also be counted on for a good devotional message wherever she happens to be for she reads extensively and is faithful in Bible Study.

From her youth she has practiced the habit of being prompt in everything she does, carrying out the adage, "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today."

After attending Radford College, Miss Florence started her teaching career. After teaching one year in Ewing, she taught at the building remaining from the former Cumberland College in Rose Hill. She was paid by the school for two or three months school and then finished out the year as a Subscription School being paid by the parents.

During 1917-18 the school had to close for a few months because of the "flu" epidemic during World War I. Since 1918 Miss Florence taught at the Rose Hill Elementary School and her last Principal (Wayne Tyler) told me once that Miss Florence had a unique way of instilling into her students the art of Courtesy, for never did a student in her class come to the office to report lunch count or for any other reason that the student did not always remember to say, "Thank you".

It would take a volume to record all the helpful deeds and activities performed by Miss Florence, especially in her younger years. Central in her life has been her church the Mt. Carmel Presbyterian - although she has been cooperative in many other churches.

At one time she was President of the Sunday School Convention in Lee County, and also spent every Sunday afternoon teaching at a Sunday School near the Iron Ore Mines at Brown's Switch and at a church not far from the present Thomas Walker High School. She was also very active in the Red Cross -- teaching others to knit for the soldiers of World War I, and supporting the efforts of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in warning against the health hazards of smoking and Alcoholic beverages.

Miss Florence had great respect for her mother and father, Mrs. Doshia Bales Bayless and Henry Bayless who moved to Rose Hill in 1914. She was my teacher when I was in the fourth grade, and I distinctly remember the audio visual aids she used - placards on the wall with the wording, "Lost Time Is Never Found Again", and others. (That must have been in 1917).

Not long before her retirement she took her second graders on a train ride on the L&N Passenger Train's last run in this area It doesn't seem like 18 to 20 years ago.

"A teacher never stops learning", she will tell you, for during the time she was hospitalized after her fall and received broken bones she told me, "I have learned more about patience than I ever knew before. The Lord has helped me to be patient".

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Darryl Kieth Lee who passed away November 4, 1979.

Two years have passed since God called. You didn't know when you said, "Bye mom, I won't be late." I would never hear that loving voice again on this earth. But your seventeen years you were with us left memories nothing can erase. Our hearts still break, our tears still flow. We must accept your voice we will hear no more.

Pick a rose and play with the children there as you did for the ones you loved on earth.

God picked a rose for His garden when He took you home. It left our home so sad and still, but time will never make us forget your loving smile and the happiness you brought us.

Seven DAR Chapters Entertain State Regent

Mrs Ralph E Rhodes Virginia State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was honored at a Dinner Meeting at the Martha Washington Inn in Abingdon on Friday October 23

This cooperative effort of the seven southwest Virginia DAR Chapters of District IV presented an opportunity for members to become better acquainted with their State Regent and with each other; and, also to have the State Regent address the chapters

Mrs George Wharton III District Director, who coordinated the meeting was assisted by Mrs Graham Landrum, Secretary and Treasurer of District IV and also State Program Chairman; and by Mrs Winton C Phipps State Chairman of DAR Magazine

The participating Chapters and their Regents were as follows Blacks Fort, Mrs Paul R Mackey of Emory, Ft. Chiswell Mrs William C Hopson of Bristol Ft Maiden Spring Mrs Cecil Northup of Tazewell, Boone Trail Mrs L C Yancy of Big Stone Gap Lovelady Anna Ford Kelly of Pennington Gap Major George Gibson Mrs Jerry Houtshell Rose Hill, and New River Pioneer Mrs Choate Armentrout of Sparta, N C

An inspiring table grace by Mrs John D Henry of Boone Trail Chapter preceded an enjoyable meal which was followed by the pledge of allegiance to the United States flag and the American Creed, led by Mrs Winton C Phipps, and the singing of the National Anthem, led by Mrs Oscar W Smith, with piano accompaniment by Mrs William C Hopson

Mrs Wharton then presented Mrs Rhodes Virginia State Regent who gave an inspiring and challenging address on the topic Our Challege in DAR

Mrs Rhodes expressed appreciation for the high standards set by the Founders of the NSDAR from its organizational meeting on October 11, 1890 and for the way the Society has increased its efforts through the years with zeal and dedication to promote Americanism and love of country.

She spoke of the growing need to continually teach respect for the Flag of the United States, emblem of our nation, and reminded us that in 1892 the first and only Resolution of the First NSDAR Continental Congress was to honor and respect the Flag of the United States of America

In speaking of the Star Spangled Banner, Mrs. Rhodes emphasized the words, 'Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a Nation,' and spoke of the work of many committees which have grown with the Society to promote Good Citizenship among the youth of our American Nation

Addressing the National Defense Committee organized in 1926, she referred to the pledge to our country as stated in the American's Creed to "Defend it against all enemies reaffirmed that we need to maintain alertness against any forces that seek to undermine our American way of life, or to destroy our form of government

Mrs Rhodes called attention to our privilege to share in the national project of our President General Patricia W Shelby by contributing to the restoration of Memorial Hall and Constitution Hall, the largest block of building in the world that is owned and built by a woman's organization She also stated that Memorial Continental Hall houses the DAR Library which is recognized as one of the finest genealogical libraries in the Country, and the DAR Museum which is considered one of the finest in the United States

The State Regent referred to the accomplishments of the DAR which is published each year in the 'Annual Proceedings', by a copy being submitted to the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, as was required by the U. S. Congress when the NSDAR was authorized under the Act of Corporation as a Society for patriotic, historical and educational purposes

Mrs Rhodes expressed thanks to the chapters for the dinner meeting and the money corsage which she will use on one of her State DAR Projects. She also reminded the members again of our 200 years of freedom as celebrated at the York town Bicentennial which she had attended the past weekend

Those from Lee County Chapters attending the meeting were Mrs George Hatcher, and Mrs Campbell Edmonds of Dryden, Mrs John Laningham, of Jonesville, and Ida Stacey, Marguerite Kelly, and Anna Ford Kelly (Regent), all of Lovelady Chapter, and from the Major George Gibson Chapter, Mrs John Seale Mrs Charles Emmett and Mrs Oscar W Smith, all of Rose Hill.

We're looking forward to serving you with all of your

Cookin' Corner

One of our readers have asked us to find the recipe for Black Forest Cake, if you have the recipe call 546-1210. We've got a promise of a slice of this cake, if we can get the recipe.

Baked Chicken 'N' Dressing

Large whole fryer
salt
4 cups water
Flour
garlic salt
seasoning salt
2 or 3 chicken bouillion cubes
Cold water

Wash large, whole fryer and put in roaster. Sprinkle heavily with garlic salt and seasoning salt (there are several brands on the market). Add about 4 cups water to bottom of roaster and bake 1 hour at 350°. Mix up dressing (see Basic Poultry Stuffing) and add to corner of roaster. Continue baking another hour. When ready to serve, remove dressing and chicken to platter and add 2 or 3 chicken bouillion cubes to broth. Let simmer till cubes are dissolved. Make thickening of cold water and flour and stir into broth. Thicken till gravy consistency. Ready to serve.

Basic Poultry Stuffing

10 - 12 bread crusts (broken into pieces)
½ cup chopped onion
1½ tsp. salt
1½ tsp. poultry seasoning
Cup diced celery
2 tbs. butter or margarine
dash pepper
2 eggs

Saute onion and celery in butter. Add to bread, also add seasonings and eggs, which have been slightly beaten. Mix thoroughly and add enough broth or water to desired consistency. Put in roaster and cook approximately one hour at 350°.

Veterans Questions

Q--Is there a time limit for applying for widow's pension from the Veterans Administration?

A--No. There is no time limit. However, in order for benefits to be retroactive to the date of the veteran's death, application must be filed within one year of that date.

Q--I defaulted on a Veterans Administration guaranteed loan in 1971 and the VA claims I owe them money on their loss. They have notified me they are going to start collecting from my VA compensation check to pay this debt. I have not given permission for them to do so. Can this be done?

A Yes. Your VA compensation may be withheld to satisfy a debt owed to the VA.

Q--I am a disabled veteran receiving 100 percent compensation from the Veterans Administration. Am I eligible for dental care?

A Yes. Veterans receiving compensation at the 100 percent rate for service connected disabilities may apply for dental care at the nearest VA medical center.

Bailey, Metcalfe Exchange Double Ring Vows

Elizabeth Lynn Bailey and Richard Adrian Metcalfe were married on September 5, 1981, at the Bethany Christian Church, Ewing, Virginia. The Rev. Earl King, Jr. officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shultz R. Bailey, Ewing. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jim Coomes, Pineville, and the late Robert Metcalfe.

A program of wedding music was provided by Phyliss Noah, pianist, and Betty Daniels, Sherry Long, and Joyce Williams accompanied by Michael Grabeel on the guitar.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents chose for her wedding a formal, floor length gown of white organza. Her fitted bodice featured pearled silk finished venise lace which outlined the Queen Anne neckline. Matching lace adorned the full bishop sleeves which were finished with pearled lace appliques at the wrists. Floral medallions of pearled lace were lavishly sprinkled on the full a line skirt which extended into a full chapel train.

The bride's picture hat of imported hairbraid was fashioned with silk finished lace and turned up back from which extended a full length illusion veil.

She carried a bouquet of red roses, orchids, and baby's breath, tied with white satin ribbons.

Brenda Brooks, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Betty Bailey, the bride's sister in law, Ella Evans, the bride's cousin; Sheila Crockett, and Pam Cox. Stephanie Brooks, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Their dresses were of rose covered taffeta.

Robbie Metcalfe served his brother as best man. Ushers were Jimmy Coomes, Jr., David May, John Bailey, brother of the bride, and Donnie McAfee, cousin of the bride. Talbott Paynter, nephew of the bridegroom was ring bearer.

Donna Paynter presided over the guest book, and thank you scrolls were presented to the guest by Niki Evans.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the church lawn.

After a wedding trip to Atlanta, Georgia, the couple is residing in Ewing.

Wedding Announced

Mr. Farid Salaita and the late Kathron Salaita, of Jonesville, Virginia would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kathy to Asher Roth.

His Classes Runneth Over ...

Don Glass, who is in his fourteenth year of teaching at the Lee County Vocational School, faces two full classes (20 students in the morning and 20 in the afternoon) every school day, every year; and if the state guidelines allowed it, he would have several more students enrolled in the Small Engine Repair class.

The time between theory and reality doesn't exist in his classes- students begin to learn "how" from day one. By the second and third days of school students can be seen on the school campus test-driving lawnmowers, garden tillers, motor bikes, etc., which they have repaired.

Glass usually has a record number in his adult education night classes, also.

And speakin' records he has not miss[ed] a day of school since he began teaching. How many teachers, or students, do you suppose can claim such an achievement? Very few, we think.

Market Trends

At the Virginia auctions veal was 25 cents to $2.25 higher except Standard at 50 cents lower as estimated receipts were down 11 percent from the previous week. Choice and Prime veal $60-73; good $50-64, and standard $43.50-57. The wide range in prices is due to the wide range in weights and locations of markets throughout the State.

Lamb prices were $1-1.75 lower as estimated receipts were down 36 percent from the previous week. Sales with official State grading sold the Choice and Prime, 90-125 lbs., lambs at $51-56.25, and the Choice, 85-125 lbs., lambs were $42-53.25. Yard graded lambs, 90-125 lbs., $51-51.50, and the 85-125 lb. lambs ranged $45-45.75.

Hog prices were steady to $2.75 lower as estimated receipts were up 1 percent from the previous week. Barrows & Gilts, US 1-3, 200-240 lbs., $44.25-$45.50; 240-270 lbs. $43-44; 180-200 lbs. $38-42. Sows US 1-3, 300-500 lbs., brought $38-47.75.

Slaughter cattle prices were 35 cents to $2.00 lower as estimated receipts were up 19 percent from the previous week. Good steers, 204, 1000-1200 lbs., $50-$54.75. Utility and Commercial cows, 2-4, ranged $31.25-42, and bulls, 1-2, 1000-1500 lbs., ranged $40-49.50. No heifers reported.

Feeder cattle prices were 25 cents to $2.25 lower as estimated receipts were down 14 percent from the previous week. The Medium Frame No. 1 steers, 300-500 lbs., $55-65.50, and the .500-700 lb. steers ranged $50-62.50. The Medium Frame No. 1 heifers, 300-500 lbs. $42-51, and the 500-700 lb. heifers ranged $38-49.

Virginia Graded Feeder Cattle Sales – From October 22 through October 28, 1981, there were nine graded feeder cattle sales held in Virginia and 10,388 head were sold. Steer prices were uneven ranging from $2.00 lower to $4.50 higher, and the heifer prices were merely steady to $2.50 higher than the previous week. Medium and Large Frame No. 1 Steers, 300-500 lbs., $64.50-72; 500-700 lbs. $58-70.50, and 700-1000 lbs. $52-61.50. Medium and Large Frame No. 1 Heifers, 300-500 lbs. $43-58, and 500-700 lbs. $45-60.50.

A special computer slaughter lamb sale was held at Dublin on Friday, October 30, 1981. All lambs were State graded on USDA standards and sold by cwt. Choice & Prime, 95-125 lbs., $50; Choice, 85-125 lbs., $47.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I usually don't waste my time writing letters to the editor, however, I feel Mr. Hayes' letter needs answering. I tried to explain to Mr. Hayes that redistricting has to stay within a 5% population margin, it is my understanding that is the law. Seems like Mr. Hayes is disappointed in me as a supervisor because I could not alternate the laws to satisfy his mind. I am not going to break or alternate the laws for Mr. Hayes or anyone else.

Mr. Hayes was told by me that I would recommend another precinct be put in the Dryden area for the convenience of the Dryden residents which will be recommended at the November 4 board meeting by me. However, Mr. Hayes doesn't even seem to be satisfied with that. Whenever redistricting has to be done it affects the whole county to a certain extent.

I am very sure there are other residents which this has affected who doesn't like it. I don't like to see Dryden split either but the sixth district has grown so much population wise there wasn't any other choice. I would have left Dryden exactly as it was if it had been possible. Instead of complaining about it, be thankful that we live in a free democracy and that one freedom we still have is the right to vote our own beliefs the way we see fit without anyone telling us how.

Of all the people who were affected in the Dryden area there were only three or four there against the redistricting of the Dryden area. I also want Mr. Hayes to know that as far as I know I am sound of mind and that the Lord gave me a mind to think and act with and that I do what I think is right and in the best interest for the taxpayers of Lee County and that I don't let any county official or anyone else tell me what to do. I am sure if another precinct is added to the Dryden area there won't be too much inconvenience for the residents of Dryden. Just give it time to work out.

Sincerely yours,
D.J. Barker

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

There are few things which we Americans take more for granted than the opportunity to drink clean water and the belief that our streams and rivers and lakes should be free from pollution, because it is fundamental to our quality of life. But we all know that clean water does not come automatically. We began our efforts to clean up waters with the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, and we have made real progress since that time. There has been a sixty-five percent improvement in the amount of pollutants removed from the Nation's wastewater. This has cut dramatically the pollution of our rivers and lakes. Many of the projects which have begun under this program have yet to be completed. When they are, the rivers and lakes of America will show even higher water quality.

In this time of severe budgetary restraint, Congress and the Administration must carefully weigh priorities to determine which Federal programs can be funded and which must be deferred. Recognizing the absolute necessity of Federal aid in building wastewater treatment facilities, the construction grant program was reauthorized by Congress recently. I strongly favored this action, because it is abundantly clear that many small towns and rural communities in Southwestern Virginia and elsewhere across the Nation could not possibly fund the construction or expansion of sewer systems without Federal aid. At the same time, funding has been authorized at a reduced rate, in keeping with the need to reduce Federal expenditures, thus bringing all federal programs more in line with current budget realities. This legislation was developed in a spirit of bipartisanship and cooperation, with meaningful program reforms that strike the necessary balance between important economic and environmental goals.

This is not a comprehensive bill providing all needed changes in the Clean Water Act or its construction grants program. It is simply a stopgap measure to assure continued funding for the next year in order to avoid disastrous delays to ongoing projects. Congress has chosen to move in a limited manner at this time responding to concerns expressed by the Administration. We can now turn our efforts to the task of crafting longer term amendments to both the regulatory and the construction grants aspects of the law which are necessary if it is to do the job we all desire. I support an overall review of the program and the needs of our communities. In the meantime, this legislation is needed to keep funding going in the current year to better respond to the Nation's public health and water quality needs.

Tobacco Marketing Cards Available At ASCS

ASCS Director, Charles M Ingram, reminds tobacco producers that tobacco marketing cards are now available at the county office. Producers must personally visit the ASCS office to obtain the cards. No cards will be issued by mail.

At the time the card is issued, producers must certify as to whether DDT, TDE, Toxaphen or Endrin was used on the tobacco after it was transplanted. Due to the demands of the tobacco buyers from foreign countries, tobacco treated with these chemicals is ineligible for price support.

Producers will also be required to estimate the amount of tobacco acreage that was planted on their farm in 1981.

If the farm operator is unable to visit the office to obtain the card, he must give written authorization to another person to receive it.

Farmers are responsible for verifying the correctness of the entries on their cards after each sale. The cards must remain at the warehouse from the time the tobacco is weighed in until it is sold. A producer who plans on having tobacco for sale at several warehouses at the same time should request that multiple cards be issued to him. Removal of the card from the warehouse in order to execute a lease is permissable.

Tobacco must be sold on the marketing card for the farm on which it was grown. The 1981 penalty rate for falsely identified tobacco is $1.24 per pound.

Dear Sir:

We would like to thank everyone who helped make the 1981 Lee County Tobacco Festival a success. We received outstanding cooperation from sponsors, volunteer workers, and participants.

We would like to especially express our appreciation to our parade marshals, Alex Perkins and Roger Congdon, who worked endless hours to give us an outstanding parade.

Thanks again, and we hope that next year will be even better.

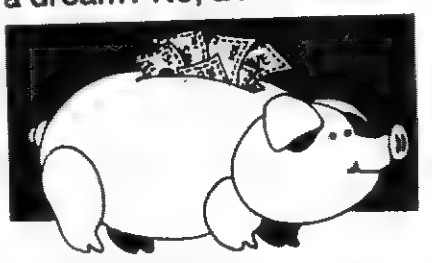
JUNE FULLER THE COUPON CLIPPER

Was it a dream? No, a refund convention!



By June Fuller

"Was I dreaming?" Wendy called over to me from the other of the two double beds that filled our hotel room "I had this wonderful dream that I traded refund forms all night and found hundreds of new ones."

I opened my sleepy eyes and pointed toward the big pile of refund forms on the hotel dresser. "They don't look like a dream to me," I said

"Well, what are we waiting for?" Wendy shouted as she dashed to be first to the bathroom

That's how the second day of the New York State Refunders Convention in Rochester began for me and my neighbor Wendy

We shared a table at breakfast with Suzanne McCarthy and several other Rochester refunders. They told us that their supermarkets had recently offered triple coupon savings and that one store had even quadrupled the value of coupons

By 9 a.m refunders had filled the convention hall almost to capacity. Thousands of refund forms were being traded

I met Meri Buskey of Glenfield, N.Y. Her album was full of good forms. We exchanged addresses so that we could trade by mail in the future

Meri told me that she had already sent for 45 refunds that month — and it was only the 18th

Then I traded forms with Nick Giancola of Rochester He is a well-organized refunder who does most of the shopping for his family of four and manages to save almost $100 a month with refunds and coupons

The convention lunch was a grand buffet that stretched for more than 50 feet and featured dozens of dishes that challenged many of the conventioneers to see who could get the most on a plate It had to be good in order to bring a temporary halt to the trading

Marlene Cummins, customer relations manager for R T. French, was the first luncheon speaker. She related several interesting refund stories, including one about the company's running out of the Corningware "Little Sidekick." Martin Sloane, a lawyer and publisher of a refunding magazine, spoke about the legalities of organized couponing and refunding.

The lunch ended with Dale Cavanaugh being selected the convention "coupon queen." She had won the cash-register competition for having paid just $27.52 for $160 32 worth of groceries.

As soon as lunch was over it was back to the convention hall for a frantic trading session. It was our last chance to find forms in the albums we had missed and to get the addresses of the conventioneers we had enjoyed trading with

On the ride home Wendy collapsed like a balloon that had suddenly lost its air "Wonderful. It was just wonderful," she sighed just before she fell fast asleep — and left me to drive the eight hours home.

Norman Rockwell's Christmas Seal

Christmas Seals from the American Lung Association this year present a nostalgic drawing by the late Norman Rockwell

Some 92 million sheets of Christmas Seals are being mailed into 60 million homes this year. Some Seals already have been received. The proceeds are used by ALA for public and patient education about lung disease; research, and the combatting of air pollution, occupational lung hazards, and the health hazards of cigarette smoke.

The Rockwell drawing originally decorated a holiday cover of the Saturday Evening Post. The 1933 painting shows a cherubic Grandfather, riding his grandson's hobby horse. He's enjoying every minute of it: his grandson, hanging on behind, is wary and a little scared.

Holidays were a favorite subject for Rockwell. He painted many Christmas covers for the Post. Called "America's Favorite Artist," Rockwell had his drawings reproduced more than any other artist. Barefoot boys with fishing poles, and idealized small town life were also frequent subjects.

The artist died in 1978. His widow lives in Stockbridge, MA, where many of his original paintings are on display. During the current holiday season, Mrs. Rockwell will serve as chairperson of the Christmas Seal campaign of her local American lung association

Christmas Seals are considered an American tradition. They can be placed on cards, seal letters, packages and presents. Anyone who needs more Christmas Seals should telephone the local American lung association.

Dryden High School News

The Dryden Varsity Cheerleaders sponsored spirit week at Dryden Combined School during the week of October 19-24. The overall participation was excellent! Monday was cowboy day; Tuesday was military day; Wednesday was crazy hair-do and stuffed animal day; Thursday was the traditional blue and gold day and Friday was hillbilly day.

Each day there were various competitions between the classes, such as tug-of-war, a three legged dribble and shoot contest and a spirit sign contest. The class winning in the most categories and showing the most spirit won the Dynamite Spirit Stick.

The over-all winner of the dress-up competition was Tim Hubbard, a freshman, who dressed up every day and showed a lot of spirit. The spirited sophomore class won the Spirit Stick in a "cheer-off" with the senior class.

The cheerleaders wish to thank everyone for participating.

If you saw Dracula at Dryden Combined School Friday, October 30, don't be alarmed; he was just part of The Haunted House the Hi-Y and Art clubs held to raise money. There were many people who worked all day Friday. Everyone enjoyed it very much and are still trying to get over the scare. We wish to thank all the teachers and students for supporting both clubs.

The Dryden High Government class held a mock election and the vote ended in a tie. The votes were 19 for Robb and 19 votes for Coleman.

Students Visit Author – Jesse Stuart

On October 16, at 6:00 A.M. Mrs. Wandaleen Adams, Flatwoods High School American Literature teacher; her husband Roger Adams; and students Melissa Eldridge, Kim Caudill, Judy Minor, Jetty Middleton, Jackie McNiel, Sam Fee, Junior Long, Alan Ingle and Kevin Cope began a journey across the Virginia and Kentucky mountains to Greenup, Kentucky, the hometown of Jesse Stuart, the author, novelist, poet and educator.

First, the group toured the small town of Greenup, strolling around the courtyard, admiring the Jesse Stuart Monument, and purchasing books and souvenirs.

Upon leaving Greenup the group drove to W-Hollow, the home of Jesse Stuart. Mrs. Stuart graciously invited the group into their home and escorted them on a tour of the house. However, the climax of the day was meeting Jesse Stuart. Each student was introduced to Mr. Stuart by Mrs. Adams. Also, they were introduced to the Stuarts' daughter, Jane Juergensmeyer, an author and poet.

The "awe" of the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Stuart and the meeting of an author that the students had been studying in American literature will be an everlasting memory for Mrs. Adams and her eleventh grade English class.

Lee Bank Announces Scholarship Fund Competition

Lee Bank and Trust Co. announces a two-part scholarshiop fund competition that enables high school seniors to enter local and national essay contests with a single paper. It is all part of a program sponsored by the nation's independent banks to increase public awareness of locally-owned banks' contributions to the community.

Lee Bank is a member of the Independent Bankers Association of America, a professional trade association that is conducting the Howard and Katherine Bell Scholarship Fund competition. The national contest will award a total of $5,000 in prizes in a contest that is open to all high school seniors without regard for financial assistance needs.

Lee Bank and Trust Co. is sponsoring a local contest with local judging. The same entries submitted in the national competition will be judged in the local contest.

Corn Low Yield Benefits Explained

All corn producers who have an accurate acreage report on file at the Lee County ASCS Office have insurance protection against a number of different causes of loss to their crop. The final reporting date was June 30.

The following types of losses are covered:

Abnormal weather conditions such as drought, flood, excessive rain, hail, unseasonable frost, high winds, etc.

Crop damage or destruction due to severe insect infestation or plant disease.

Crop damage or destruction due to drifting herbicide, providing that herbicide was not applied by any producer on the farm or by any person under the producer's control.

Crop damage or destruction due to livestock not under control of producers on the farm or by game animals (rabbits, deer, geese, etc.) if the affected producers had made reasonable efforts to keep the crops fenced or otherwise protected.

Any other conditions beyond the control of the producer.

Producers who plan to destroy their crops due to disaster conditions should file an application at the County ASCS Office to have the crop appraised before destruction.

To qualify for payments, producers must have 40 percent or greater losses to their ASCS established yields. Once the crop is harvested, producers are allowed 15 days to file a disaster application. Producers are reminded to keep crop production from different farms separate and to keep current year production separate from that of prior years.

Corn producers with any questions are encouraged to contact the Lee County ASCS Office.

Williams Speaks To PHS DECA

Randall Williams, sales representative for Red Kirk Chevrolet-Buick, spoke to the Pennington High School DECA Chapter on October 21, 1981. Williams gave a very enthusiastic and enlighting presentation on salesmanship and the attributes that are necessary for success in this career field.

His light hearted presentation kept the group's interest and they thoroughly enjoyed his comments and personal observations.

Pennington DECA would like to thank Mr. Williams for taking time out of his busy schedule to talk to our group. We are richer, for the opportunities to hear this professional salesman present his views on the art of selling.

Carter Hall News

Residents were involved in activities during October.

The Chapel service for the month was conducted by Wenny Swenson and Naomi Sunburg. The service was well attended by residents who enjoyed the song service and the Bible Story presented on the felt board.

The residents appreciate the pastors and church members who conduct the weekly church services. Those participating this month were William Cody, Johnny Bucchi, Doug Surber and members of the Apostolic Church of Appalachia. Pastor Henderson and members of the St. Charles Baptist Church conduct morning devotions each Tuesday.

Many of the residents attend the Sunday Church service, the Tuesday morning devotions and also the Friday evening worship services conducted by members of the Beacon Light Baptist Church.

Red Kirk entertained at the birthday party as he sang and played some of the residents favorite songs. Those celebrating birthdays were Pearlie Arwood, Dora Collier, Grace Galloway, Leonard Garrison and Nancy Hayes.

Wilma Goins played the piano and sang for the residents one morning. Some of the residents joined in for a sing-a-long.

Outings for the month included a trip to Heritage Hall in Big Stone Gap for games, a ride in the country to view the beautiful autuum colors, and a trip to Pennington for the Tobacco Festival Parade. The theme for the float entered by Carter Hall was "You Light Up My Life" and featured residents, Laura Courtney, Virginia Pace, Charles Coffman, Oscar Neely and children of the staff.

Lillian Hathaway brought her trained poodles by one morning for a dog show. The residents were delighted as the dogs performed tricks and visited with them.

Four employees were recently recognized at a party given in their honor. Those presented with engraved pens for five years service were: Alice Adams - Food Service Manager, Maudie Bragg-Nursing Assistant, Hazel Hester, Dietary Aid, and Diana Reasor -- LPN. Employee of the Month of October was Starr Myers, LPN.

Animal Health Today

J. Elliot McDaniel, DVM

Equine Rhinopneumonitis

An increase of Equine Viral Abortion was seen in the Tri-State area this year. It is estimated that at least 20% of all Equine Abortions are attributed to Equine Rhinopneumonitis.

You may not recognize the name rhinopneumonitis (pronounced rine-o-new-mo-ni-tis). In mares it's often called "equine viral abortion". In young animals it's generally referred to as "flu" or "cold". It kills the unborn. In young animals it seems to strike at the worst possible time: at weaning, the first week of training, the most important horse show, or just before the sale. Once an animal suffers a respiratory set-back from "rhino", it may take some time to regain the old speed and spirit. The virus which causes "rhino" opens the door to other harmful organisms waiting for the chance to strike. Animals weakened by the disease often fall victim to other infections. Rhinopneumonitis is highly contagious. Exposed animals, even though unaffected themselves, can carry and spread the disease. The "rhino" virus can live for months in bedding, equipment, and surroundings. Carrier horses often pass the disease to young animals in the herd, and young animals can expose pregnant mares. The disease is worldwide. While usually observed in mares and young stock, horses of all ages can become involved in an outbreak. It can strike just a few animals, or it can create an "abortion storm" and severely set back a breeding program of many years' standing.

Rhinopneumonitis may well be the most costly horse disease in the world, with losses running into the millions yearly. The worth of a horse is not measured in money alone. An aborted foal is a hope unrealized ... just as a set-back yearling is a promise unfulfilled.

As with other viral infections, no treatment has been established; but with proper vaccination schedule the risk of the disease can be virtually eliminated for a very modest expenditure. Your veterinarian can advise you concerning proper times to vaccinate.

Seventh Graders Make Homemade Bubble Gum

by Robert Hathaway

Buble gum doesn't have to come from the store anymore. You can make it at home or school if your teacher helps.

It's really true. You can make it in about an hour. It isn't very hard and not only will it look and taste as good as any you've bought in the store, it will probably have a better flavor and texture, and it's cheaper, too!

How do you go about making such a thing as homemade gum, and who else ever did such a thing?

Bob Hathaway, a teacher in the seventh grade elementary school at St. Charles made some with his students. He got the idea from a local TV show he caught a glimpse of at home this past summer. So he listened. They told you how it was made, and he wrote it down. Trouble was, the gum makers had one thing he couldn't find in Lee County or anywhere else in the area gum base.

So he went to Orville Kelly's General Store. There he wrote down the address and maker of every kind of gum there was and off he wrote to the gum manufacturers. His first attempts were not at all satisfactory But finally, after many letters, he indirectly found where he could obtain some gum base. The reply satisfied him completely. He received a history of gum from one manufacturer, from its origins in Greece where people chewed "mastiche" to the Mexican General Santa Ana, who introduced the substance, "chicle", from the Mexican sapodilla tree.

The class made the gum during the art class, where they also received and wrote down a history on gum, as it was received from the various manufacturers. The lunchroom cooks loaned him the use of the kitchen. While in the kitchen the students wrote, and listened and got more excited all the while the gum "cooked."

Hathaway and his class made two kinds of gum that day, cherry and strawberry. It passed the "kids approval test" with flying colors. Much pulling and twisting occured. Bubbles about 3-4" in diameter could be blown with either batch. Worth trying at home? You bet. Just ask the 33 seventh graders from St. Charles.

One pound of raw potatoes, unpeeled, makes about two cups when mashed.

Jonesville Bulldogs Edges Rich Valley Steers 10-6

The Jonesville Bulldogs went to Chatham Hill, Va. last Friday night, as the favorite over the Rich Valley Steers, and even though the Bulldogs managed to win, they had their hands full as they had to come from behind to win 10-6.

After a scoreless first quarter, the steers had their fans chanting as midway in the second quarter Bobby Tuell scampered 23 yards to pay dirt. The extra point effort failed. The score remained 6-0 in favor of Rich Valley, until in the third quarter, Andy Rosenbaum hit on a 30 yard field goal.

The Bulldogs offense was shut down completely by the Steers, so Greg Carroll picked off a Steer pass and rambled 16 yards to the end zone. Rosenbaum added the extra point for the final point of the game.

Rosenbaum has kicked three field goals this year, and he may be called on this Friday night to try some more, as the Bulldogs travel to Pennington to meet the Bobcats. The Bobcats have a kicker also in Tony Bailey. Jonesville will bring a 5-4 won loss record into the game while the Bobcats will have a 3-6 record. The winner will move on to the regionals, while the loser will hang up their uniforms until next year.

Jonesville 0 0 10 0-10
Rich Valley 0 6 0 0-6

RV - Tuell 23 yard run (kick failed)

J - Rosenbaum 30 yard FG.

T.W. Pioneers Come From Behind, Tops Gate City 61-58

Last Thursday night, the Thomas Walker Pioneers closed their regular schedule on a winning note as they came from a 32-20 halftime deficit to win the game 61-58.

The Pioneers used a big 27-13 third quarter advantage as a spring board to the win.

Thomas Walker finishes in third place in the Cumberland district regular season. The Pioneers had eight different players to score in the game with the agile Kim Davis showing the way with 19 points. Missy Brooks, a lightning quick guard scored 17 markers. Salley Bailey added eight points.

Gate City, a tough ball club closes the season at 16-4 overall. The Blue Devils got all of their points from four different players, with all scoring in double figures, Linda Harlan canned 23 to lead all scorers. Pam Brown was next with 13, followed by Tammy Mullins and Sherry Fields with 12 and 10 tallies respectively. The Blue Devils are involved in the Southwest district tournament this week.

Score By Quarters:
T. Walker 8 12 27 14-61
Gate City 13 19 13 13-58

Individual Scoring:

T. Walker [61] K. Davis 19, Brooks 17, Bailey 8, D. Davis 5, Wilder 4, Wolfe 4, Hensley 3, C. Davis 1.

Gate City [58] Harlan 23, Brown 13, Mullins 12, Fields 10.

Jonesville Rolls By Keokee In Tournament

The Jonesville Bulldogs just keep on winning! This past Monday was no exception as the Bulldogs eliminated the Keokee Mountaineers 74-28 in quarter final action of the Cumberland district tournament.

The Bulldogs who scored at will, led at every stop by at least nine points.

Jonesville 20-2 overall had nine players in on the scoring, with the talented Dee Dee Brooks pouring in 20 to lead the way. Cindy Terry canned 16 tallies, while Sandy Willis netted 12. Lisa Anderson and Sharon Jerrell added seven and six respectively. The Bulldogs shot 85% at the charity stripe, connecting on 12 of 14 shots.

Keokee finishes their season in a disappointng way. The Mountaineers failed to win a game this year. Keokee got 12 points from Beverly Collins. Rena Phillips had six and Felicia White four. They were two of two in free throws for 100%.

The Bulldogs will now have to face the Eagles of Flatwoods in semi final action.

Good luck to all the teams still involved in tournament play, and especially Jonesville at this stage, as the Cumberland district is counting on a state title this year. It can be done! Either by the Bulldogs or the other district representative!

Score By Quarters:
Keokee 4 10 6 8-28
Jonesville 14 19 20 21-74

Individual Scoring:

Keokee [28] Collins 12, Phillips 6, White 4, Adkins 2, Rutherford 2, Wade 2.

Jonesville [74] Brooks 20, Terry 16, Willis 12, Anderson 7, Poteet 6, Jerrell 6, Richmond 3, Livesay 2, Sutton 2.

Jonesville Routs Keokee, Wins Regular Season Title

On Tuesday of last week, the Jonesville Bulldogs traveled to Keokee, needing a win over the Mountaineers to claim the Cumberland district regular season crown. When the game was over, it was a rout, won by the Bulldogs 71-34.

After a close 12-10 first quarter, with Jonesville leading, the Bulldogs stretched their lead to ten at halftime, leading 29-19.

The Bulldogs put the game out of reach in the second half, winning 42-15.

For once in a game this year, Dee Dee Brooks led Jonesville with 20 points, but Keokee's Beverly Collins took the game's scoring honors with 23 markers. Cindy Terry scored 14 and Sandy Willis found the range for 10 markers. Jonesville finishes the regular season with a 13-1 district record. The Bulldogs hit 5 of 10 free throws for 50%. It would be a good bet to say that the Bulldogs haven't been eliminated by the time this is published.

Keokee finishes the regular season winless, even though they have played a few close games. The Mountaineers got six points from Becky Adkins, 4 from Cathy Rutherford, and Felicia White closed out Keokee's scoring with a single point. The Mountaineers hit 6 of 8 free throws for 75%.

Score By Quarters:
Jonesville 12 17 20 22-71
Keokee 10 9 6 9-34

Individual Scoring:

Jonesville [71] Brooks 20, Terry 14, Willis 10, Richmond 8, Jerrell 6, Anderson 5, Poteet 2, Livesay 2, Sutton 4.

Thomas Walker Eliminates Twin Springs 61-44

Thomas Walker who had the third best record in the district this year hosted the Twin Springs Titans on Monday evening of this week, and eliminated the Titans 61-44.

The Pioneers held a 30-23 halftime lead and then with practically the whole team getting in on the scoring, busted the game open with a 18-8 run in quarter number three. Both teams played on even terms in the final stanza.

Thomas Walker put nine players in the scoring column, with three in double figures. Kim Davis led the way with a game high of 22. Salley Bailey and Missy Brooks added 12 and 10 respectively. Kim Warf chipped in with six points. The Pioneers shot 71.3% from the free throw circle, hitting five of seven attempts.

Twin Springs finishes their season with the loss. The Titans got 16 points from Joann Begley and 10 from Teresa Sexton. Tiersa Laforce added seven points in the loss. The Titans hit 10 of 22 free throws for 45%.

Thomas Walker and Dryden will lock horns tomorrow night, and before the game starts, both teams will know whether a win puts them in just the tournament finals, or whether they will be forced to win the finals to make the regionals. Don't forget to go out and support all teams.

Powell Valley Vikings Rip Twin Springs 67-46

In a non-district encounter played on Monday evening of last week, the Powell Valley lady Vikings ripped the Twin Springs Titans 67-46, at Powell Valley High School.

Although the Titans had the game's high scorer, Twin Springs couldn't stay with the Vikings who stormed in front 24-10 after one quarter. They upped the fourteen point deficit to eighteen at the half, as four starters burned the nets. Powell Valley won the second half, by only three points.

The Vikings now stand 17-2 on the season. They placed four players in double figures with Angie Hamilton leading the way with 22 points. Paige Slagle found the range for 19, with Hope Gilliam and Rhonda Burke adding 12 and 10 points respectively.

Twin Springs got a fine 28 point effort from Joann Begley, but the Titans didn't have anybody else with more than five points. Michelle Donelson was held to four points.

Both teams are participating in tournaments now going on. The Titans are playing in the Cumberland district tournament which opened Monday at Flatwoods High, while Powell Valley is hosting the Lonesome Pine district, which also began Monday. The Vikings are also the big favorite to win the tournament while the Titans are one of the darkhorses in the Cumberland district.

Dryden Turns Back Pennington, Advances To Semi-Finals

The Cumberland district tournament got underway this past Monday at four different sites. One site was Dryden High School where the Crusaders turned back the gallant effort of the Pennington Bobcats 64-56.

The Crusaders grabbed a 17-10 first quarter lead and then padded it by five more in the second stanza to enjoy a 31-19 halftime lead. The Bobcats took the last two quarters by a margin of two points each, not enough to overcome the 12 point deficit.

Pennington closes the season out with an overall record of 4-18. The Bobcats were led by Sandra Ely's game high 28 points. Linda James was the only other Bobcat in double figures with 10 points. Kim Roberts was held to seven points. Pennington hit 8 of 16 free throws for 50%. The Bobcats who were forced to foul late in the game connected numerous fouls, as the Crusaders attempted 42 free throws, making 26 for just short of 62%. Dryden by winning, will be in action tomorrow night against the Thomas Walker Pioneers at Flatwoods, site of the semi finals. The Crusaders were led by Joyce Swain with 25 points. Swain was also a standout on defense as she pulled down 12 rebounds. Robin Woods was next with 17 points. Cheryl Reasor, whom the Crusaders are glad to have back, scored nine points.

Dryden, loser of only three games this year will have to be at their best tomorrow night as the Pioneers are playing good ball now. Thomas Walker has already beaten Dryden once, while Jonesville has beaten the Crusaders once, and Pound has done the trick once. But all three losses came at the time when the Crusaders were banged up.

Good luck to both teams tomorrow night, and to all area fans, make your way to Flatwoods to watch this shootout.

LMU Basketball Champs Of 1939-40 Plan Reunion

The 1939-40 basketball team of Lincoln Memorial University will be holding a reunion and planning some special events during the LMU Homecoming on November 13, and 14. The team was the first to win the Conference Title Championship in the Smoky Mt. Conference. A luncheon is also planned for the team on Saturday, November 14 at 12 noon in the Lincoln Dining Room.

The members of that outstanding team were: Robyn Walker, Turner (Doc) Summers, Lloyd Hudson, Hartsell Morrell, Terry J. Nidiffer, Arnold Mountain, J.B. Johnson, Robert Walters, Emerson Watson, Ralph Stout, Gleason Bowman, Dan Thomas, Bedford Chapman and Roy Bowen (deceased).

The team will receive special recognition at the Alumni Banquet and also at the basketball game during halftime.

Wise Indians Scalp Pennington Bobcats 74-48

Last Wednesday night, the Pennington Bobcats went to the Indians reservation in Wise, and got scalped 74-48.

The Bobcats fell behind early at 19-9 and then got the deficit down to eight points at the half, but couldn't get any closer, as the Indians poured in forty three second half points, while Pennington managed only twenty-five.

Wise placed three in double figures with Tammy Gardner leading the way with 19 points. Teresa Taylor ripped the nets for 18, and Coleman tallied 11. The winners are participating in the Lonesome Pine district tournament which ends tomorrow.

Pennington was led by Sandra Ely with 17 markers. Kim Roberts and Sabrina Woodard, along with Tammy Moon all scored six points each in the loss.

The Bobcats have had a dissappointing year. They stand 4-16 overall, with three wins coming over winless Keokee, and the fourth win coming over Twin Springs by one point.

By the time this is printed, the Bobcats will either be in the semi finals of the district tournament, or will have been eliminated earlier in the week.

Flatwoods Eagles Fall To Gate City 50-29

The Flatwoods Eagles ventured into Scott County last week, and stopped in to pay the Blue Devils a visit at Gate City. Gate City must have had their first meeting with the Eagles on their mind, as they turned the tables this time and romped over Flatwoods 50-29.

Flatwoods failed to put a single player in double figures, which is one rare time that this has happened. The Eagles which lost every quarter, was held to four points in the opening stanza, and just twleve for the first half. The Eagle defense weakened as the game went on because after giving up 22 first half points, Gate City came back with 28 in the second half. The Blue Devils who are 15-3 overall, got a 25 point effort from Tammy Mullins. Linda Harlan chipped in with 11 tallies. Gate City shot just short of 52% at the free throw circle, making good on 14 of 27 tosses.

Flatwoods which handed Gate City their first loss of the year, earlier in the season, got eight points from Karen Glass, while Sherry Barber was also held under the double digit mark with seven points. No other Eagle had more than two points, with the exception of Brenda Graham who scored three points.

Flatwoods hit 11 of 20 free throws for 55%. The Eagles are hosting the district tournament which is now underway, with the finals slated for Saturday night. Go out and support your favorite team during the tournament, as the winner along with the regular season champion will both advance to next week's regional tournament.

Flatwoods Tops Rye Cove In Eagle Battle 52-44

In the final regular season game, in district play for both teams, the Flatwoods Eagles prevailed over the Rye Cove Eagles 52-44, played Tuesday evening of last week at Flatwoods.

It started out like a real Eagle battle was in the making for the night, as Flatwoods grabbed a slim one point lead at the first quarter buzzer. The winning Eagles stretched their lead to seven points at intermission. The second half proved to be closer than the first, but again with Flatwoods getting a one point second half advantage.

Flatwoods now 10-8 overall and 8-6 in the district got a 20 point night from center Karen Glass. Sherry Barber scored 8, while Brenda Graham and Loretta McNeil added 6 points each. The winners hit 14 of 22 free throws for 63%. Rye Cove stands at 6-12 overall and 6-8 inside the district. They got 18 points from Kim Tipton and 14 from Neysa Osborne. Karen Hobbs had six in the loss. The losing Eagles shot 70% from the charity stripe, making 14 of 20 shots.

Flatwoods finishes in fourth place in the district, while Rye Cove finishes in fifth. The Jonesville Bulldogs are regular season champions and they get an automatic birth in the regionals next week. The district tournament which is now underway at Flatwoods will produce a second team that also goes to the regionals. The team winning the tournament gets the second berth in the regionals, and should Jonesville win the tournament also, then the tournament runner up goes, so good luck to all the teams that are still eligible when this is published.

Jonesville Bulldogs 76, Appalachia Bulldogs 33

The Jonesville Bulldogs closed out their regular season schedule on a good note on Wednesday night of last week. They ripped the Appalachia Bulldogs 76-33 in front of the Jonesville fans.

Leading by 12-4 at the first rest stop, the winning Bulldogs started pouring it on in the second stanza with a 19-5 advantage. They won the second half of the game 45-24.

Jonesville put four players in double figures. Sandy Willis, playing in her last home game for Jonesville led the charge with 22 points. Dee Dee Brooks hit for 17, while Jerrell and Poteet added 13 and 10 respectively. Sandy Willis was given [illegible] at Jonesville, as well as her ability to lead her team. Sandy has been one of the players that the Bulldogs could have not won the crown this year without. The game was dedicated to her. Maybe she can help lead Jonesville through the regionals of which the Bulldogs have already gained a berth, and then possibly a state title and crown to Jonesville.

Appalachia got 16 points from Marshelle Brown. Princess Blair added 11, while Teresa Bartee and Pam Benson added four and two respectively, to close the losing Bulldogs scoring. Appalachia hit 1 of 5 free throws for 20%, while Jonesville hit 11 of 19 for just under 58%.

Score By Quarters:

Flatwoods Comes From Behind, Edges Rye Cove 28-26

At Flatwoods Monday night, the host Eagles came from behind to edge the Eagles from Rye Cove 28-26. Rye Cove came to Flatwoods with an upset on their minds, and after taking a one point lead at 6-5 and then winning the second quarter 16-8, grabbed a nine point lead at intermission. Then came the second half, which has to be the best defensive effort for any team this year, while Flatwoods held Rye Cove to a total of four points in the half, two in each quarter. The winning Eagles put in 15 points while their defense was working hard.

Flatwoods now 11-8 overall will have to face the tough and talented Jonesville Bulldogs, who was a 74-28 winner over Keokee, also on Monday night. But at least the Eagles will have them in Eagle country. The Eagles were led by Karen Glass with 10 points. Regina Lee bucketed six, while Sherry Barber was limited to three points. Flatwoods hit two of five free throws for 40%.

Rye Cove closes out their season at 6-13 overall. They were led by Neysa Osborne with a game high of 13 points. Kim Tipton chipped in with six. Rye Cove shot 28.4% at the charity stripe, making two of seven.

Flatwoods along with Dryden and Thomas Walker will have to play hard to make it to the finals and win it to make the regionals, or at least make the finals, if Jonesville is the opponent.

Score By Quarters:
Rye Cove 6 16 2 2-26
Flatwoods 5 8 8 7-28

Individual Scoring:

Pound Wildcats Upset Dryden In Overtime

The Dryden Crusaders went to Pound last Wednesday, and found the Wildcats hard to handle.

After grabbing a 12-7 first quarter edge, Dryden upped the lead to 24-17 at the half way mark. But then, here came the Wildcats roaring back with ten third quarter points, and their defense getting stingy, only giving up two, giving Pound the lead by one, to start the final stanza. With the scoring punch of Lisa Robinette and Dawn Long, Dryden took the fourth period by a 11-10 score, to send the game to overtime. After a 37 all score, to start the extra quarter, Pound turned Dryden away with a 9-1 advantage in the extra period, making the final 46-38.

The loss drops Dryden to 18-3 overall, and 12-2 in the district. The Crusaders got 14 points from Long, and nine from Robinette. Joyce Swain was held way below her average, scoring five points. Robin Woods had only four. Dryden shot 42.2% at the free throw circle, making 8 of 19 shots.

Pound got 20 points from Becky Rasnic and 12 from Amy Goss. The Wildcats were 12 of 22 at the charity stripe for 54%.

All three of Dryden's losses have come with Cheryl Reasor and Kirk both out of the lineup. If neither one returns, the Crusaders could be in trouble before the tournament ends. That is if they haven't already been eliminated prior to the printing of this week's paper.

Score By Quarters:
Dryden 12 12 2 11 1-38

Dryden Crusaders Trim Pennington Bobcats 55-52

Dryden's Crusaders came to Pennington last week and survived an upset, by trimming the Bobcats 55 52.

After falling behind by ten points at the first rest stop, the Bobcats mounted a little comeback, starting by edging the Crusaders by two in the second period, and then by five in the third to trail by only three to start the last quarter.

Although both teams played on even terms, scoring ten points each in the last stanza, it took some pressure free throws from Joyce Swain in the final minutes of play for Dryden to avoid the upset.

Dryden 18-2 overall and 12-2 in the district got 23 points from Swain. She hit four critical free throws to pull Dryden from defeat. The Crusaders are still surviving without the services of Cheryl Reasor and Vickie Kirk. Robin Woods and Lovie Quillen added 10 points each to the win. Dryden connected on 11 of 20 free throws for 55%.

Pennington had the game's leading scorer in Sandra Ely, who finished with 27. Linda James found the range for 12 points, with Kim Roberts adding eight points. The Roberts could have probably still won the game, had they not had such a poor night at the charity stripe. They managed to hit only 2 of 10 shots for 20%. This game closed out the Bobcats regular season district schedule.

Powell Valley Holds Off Pennington 72-62

The Powell Valley Vikings, winners of the Lonesome Pine district regular season crown, came to Pennington last week, and got a score for awhile, but prevailed in the end to top the Bobcats 72-62.

The Bobcats held the Vikings to a 11 all score in the opening quarter, and then was only down by two at 31-29 at the halfway mark. The Vikings pulled out by four at 48-44 to start the last stanza. Then with a 24-18 fourth quarter advantage the Vikings defeated the Bobcats for the second time this season. The Bobcats despite losing, played the Vikings a lot better game than they did the first time they met earlier in the season.

Angie Hamilton led the winning charge with a game high 35 points. Rhonda Burke, and Gilliam added 16 and 10 points respectively.

Pennington now 4-17 overall, and 3-11 in the district got a 30 point effort from Sandra Ely. Kim Roberts and Linda James chipped in with 14 points each. Sheila Byington rounded out the Bobcats scoring by tossing in four points

Powell Valley gains a berth in the regionals next week, and probably will face the Cumberland district runnerup in the opening round.

Jonesville Bulldogs Topple Pound Wildcats 48-34

The Jonesville Bulldogs toppled the Pound Wildcats last week for the second time this season. The score was 48-34, with the Bulldogs pulling away from the Wildcats late in the final quarter to record their 18th win against two losses.

When the first rest stop came up the Jonesville lassies were up 7-6, in a low scoring quarter for both teams. The Bulldogs forged into a five point lead at the half, and then after an eleven all third, iced the game with a 17-8 final quarter.

Jonesville 11-2 in the district hit 5 of 14 free throws for just short of 36%. The Bulldogs were led by Dee Dee Brooks game high of 16 points, which was under her per game average. Cindy Terry canned 12 points in the win.

Vivian Strouth led Pound with 13 points. Becky Rasnic, Amy Goss and Angie Rasnic all scored six points each for the losing Wildcats. Pound hit 8 of 12 charity tosses for 66 8%.

Joe Robinson's Bulldogs made the regionals last year, and looks as though his forces are headed there again. Coach Robinson has done a good job with the Jonesville Bulldogs. Keep up the good work, and you will be rewarded!

St. Paul Edges Twin Springs In Overtime

In a rare day game, played last week, the St. Paul Deacons slipped by the Twin Springs Titans 32-30 in overtime.

With St. Paul holding an eight point lead, the Titans took a 10-4 second stanza to trail by two at the halfway break. Then in the third the Titans scored six points (one of two six point quarters) while St. Paul got only four, tying the score at 22 22. After both teams scored eight in the fourth, the Deacons won the overtime 2-0.

St. Paul got 10 points from Goodson while Kilgore and Fugate had eight and six points respectively. The Deacons hit 4 of 7 free throws for 56.8%.

Twin Springs got 12 from Tiersa Laforce while Joann Begley was held to seven. Michelle Donelson was the only other Titan with more than two points, scoring five. Twin Spring shot just short of 37%, hitting 7 of 19 free throws.

St. Paul is involved in the Black Diamond district tournament, while the Titans are looking for better things to happen, involved in the Cumberland tournament, also this week

—Many people attended the annual Tobacco Festival at Pennington Gap, from Keokee. It was a day enjoyed by all.

—Kristi Grimes, the lovely nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Grimes of Keokee was chosen Second runner-up in the Junior Miss Contest. Her sponsor was Home Appliance Co.

—A Halloween party was held last Wednesday night at the fellowship hall at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church by members of the Church and Sunday School classes. They wore Halloween costumes, and there were witches, ghosts, and many other funny looking costumes.

—Marie Kennedy of Dayton, Ohio spent last week visiting with her mother, Ocie Morris and other relatives.

—Hagan Gilbert is a patient in a hospital in Dayton, Ohio where he is undergoing treatment. He hopes to leave the hospital Friday and spend a week with his daughter, Betty and her family in Dayton. Then he will re-enter the hospital. He has three sisters in Keokee, Virginia Barker, Mrs. Hubert Estep, and Eva Witt.

—A fellowship dinner was held recently at the Rawhide Missionary Baptist Church at Keokee. Rev. Ray Woody of Jonesville, Va. is pastor of the church.

—Mrs. Ordie Morris was pleased to have her son, Gary Morris and his wife, Arizona and grandson Dale, of Dayton, Ohio spend the week visiting. While they were here Arizona and Dale went to Berdine, Ky. and visited a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Linda Williams and family. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris and family at Exeter, Va. one day.

Ordie and Gary visited her brothers and sisters in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Flanary, Mr. and Mrs. Marquis Flanary, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Flanary in Appalachia on Monday.

Allen's wife, Mabel recently sustained a foot injury when she fell at her home.

—Dink Shackelford, Mary Ann Palmer, Iva Clarkston, and Virginia Barker of Keokee, also Mary Lou Bowman, Mrs. Woodard, Chester Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Gibson, and Mark Carter of Keokee, attended a meeting at the courthouse in Jonesville on Wednesday night, October 28.

—Ronda Jo Hansel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hansel of Keokee, and Mr. Alan Frey Collier, son of the late Curtis and Shirley Lois Collier were married Thursday, October 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the West End Baptist Church at Big Stone Gap.

—Ballard T. Short of Morristown, Tn., who is suffering from pneumonia is reported to be seriously ill in the Morristown Hamblen Hospital.

Mr. Short who is 88 years old is a former resident of Keokee and has many friends and relatives in this area. Those who wish to send him a card the address is as follows: Ballard T. Short, Room No. 411, Morristown Hamblen Hospital, Morristown, Tn.

—Noah Flanary under went surgery at the Medical Center in Johnson City, last Friday. His sisters, Clercie Breeding of Big Stone Gap, and Beulah Moore, also his brothers, William Flanary and Marquis Flanary all of Appalachia were at the hospital the day Noah had surgery.

—A household shower was given recently in honor of Vickie Ellis, bride elect of Allen Le Bindo at the fellowship hall at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church in Keokee.

Games and contests were the diversion of the hour. Hostesses were Pam Ellis, Judy Wilder, Terina Wilder, Donna Ellis, and Sharon Barnett.

—Aunt Irma Clarkston formerly of Seminary near Big Stone Gap who has been living in Kingsport, the past year recently moved to Garner, N.C., where she will reside. Her new home is located a short distance from her daughter, Rosemary.

On Saturday night, October 24, they took her to a concert at N.C. State Coliseum to hear the Zagreb Philharmonic Orchestra and it was great.

Dreaming Of 1984 Olympics

Donnie Ray Bement, the grandson of Mrs. Thelma Seals of Ben Hur, is an award winning roller skater. Donnie Ray is the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bement of Eldorado, Ill., was recently awarded the presidential sports award, a certificate signed by our president, Ronald Reagan, plus an arm patch.

For the past two years he has been skating at Reeds Skate Palace in Illinois, and has skated in both town and country parades in Harrisburg, Illinois, the past two parades that were held, going to Louisiana and Indiana to skate also other Illinois cities.

When Donnie Ray visits in Lee County he likes to skate on the Jonesville rink and the Cawood, Ky., rink.

In recent competition Donnie Ray was one of 150 contestants in a 500 mile contest, there were seven winners and he was the youngest and the only one to receive the presidential award. His dream is by working hard he will be able to compete in the 1984 Olympics to be held in California.

LIFE HEALTH

On-The-Job-Injuries

A terrific toll in suffering, pain and anxiety is exacted by on-the-job injuries.

Loss of income to the worker and loss of production to the employer are other tolls exacted by such injuries.

Dr. Don Rumbi Chiropractor

Because of the staggering losses attributed to job-associated injuries, continuing campaigns are waged by worker organizations, industry and the government.

Care and treatment which will return the workman to his job with the least possible loss of time and income are most desirable

Back injuries account for one-tenth of the total time loss injuries in American industry. It is in this field that chiropractic is rendering the greatest service to labor and management.

The chiropractor provides the most effective, least expensive methods for getting the injured person back on the job. Chiropractic adjustments employing modern scientific skills, reduce suffering, time loss, and the possibility of permanent injury. Progressive employers, labor organizations and state agencies realize the value of and depend on competent chiropractic care in cases involving on-the-job back injuries.

Cookies too brown and crisp ... pie crust not done enough or over done? If so, you might be surprised to learn that these problems may be the result of the cooking utensils you are using.

The type, size, shape, and even the color of the utensil, as well as where you place them in the oven can have a considerable effect on baking results. Here are some suggestions that can help improve the quality of your baked biscuits.

For best results, make sure you use trusted standard recipes. These recipes have been tested several times and the ingredients are measured to the exact proportions. Sometimes the ingredients in a traditional family recipe have been changed or forgotten as the recipe was passed down from generation to generation. So, if the traditional recipes are not turning out as you would like them to, compare them to smaller standard recipes to make sure the ingredients are correct.

The secret to golden brown cookies is a shiny aluminum cookie sheet without sides. The aluminum will spread the heat evenly, whereas dark tin cookie sheets absorb the heat and make the browning uneven. Using a cookie sheet that is too large can also cause uneven browning because heat is trapped under the sheet which prevents air from circulating. For best results, allow two inches of free space on all sides of the cookies sheet and bake one sheet at a time.

Glass absorbs the heat and bakes faster. So, if you use glass baking dishes for cakes, bread, rolls, or biscuits, reduce the oven temperature called for in the recipe by 25°. It isn't necessary to lower the oven temperature for casseroles, meats, or pies baked in glass dishes.

Baked frozen pies will look as tempting as homemade, if package directions are followed. The shiny aluminum foil pans used for pies reflect the heat and prevent browning, sometimes resulting in a soggy, underdone bottom crust. That's why manufacturers recommend placing the pie on an aluminimum cookie sheet. The cookie sheet helps to conduct heat to the bottom crust for browning. To be sure that your homemade pies are golden brown, use a pie pan that absorbs heat ... dark tin, anodized aluminium, or glass may be used. If the edges of your pie crust are too brown, form a collar of aluminum foil, 1 to 1½ inches wide, to reflect heat and slow browning. Remove the collar during the last 10-15 minutes of baking.

If you have purchased a range recently, your new oven is probably quite different than your old one. Very often old ovens are out of temperature adjustment and you may have changed the time and temperature accordingly. With your new oven, this will not be necessary. Use the temperature and estimated baking time recommended in recipes without making any changes. And follow the recommendations listed above for choosing the proper utensil.

For best results, always pre-heat the oven for your baked products, however, do not pre-heat longer than necessary Turn the oven on when your food is nearly ready and place it in the oven immediately after the oven signal light turns off.

Following these tips can help you use your range more efficiently and make you happier with your baking results.

Pennington High School Band News

On Saturday, October 31, the Pennington High School Band traveled to Alcoa, Tn. to participate in the Alcoa Invitation. This annual event is by invitation only. Only three bands from Southwest Virginia participated. Those being Pound High School, Castlewood High School, and Pennington High School.

The director of this event was Paul Davis and Assistant Director was Lois Fannon.

The PHS Flag Team received a Division I, the Majorettes a Division II and Drum Major a Division II.

Again Kathy Green did a fine job as Drum Major filling in for Karen Sage who still is unable to march. Kathy's scores were a two on marching, a one on conducting and a two on general effect.

Let us also mention Chris Fleenor for a fine performance on the Bass Drum. Chris kept the Drum section going due to a sudden illness of Jeff Suggs, the second bass drummer.

The PHS Band brought back a beautiful, huge trophy to add their collection of ten for this Fall alone.

Also let us say thanks to the chaperones who accompanied our kids. A special thanks to Earl Woodard and Jim Spurrier, our bus drivers, for their time, patience and concern for the safety of our children.

Let me say this was the last festival to be attended by our graduating seniors this year.

Veterans Questions

Q -- I am currently rated 40 percent service connected for my disability by the Veterans Administration, and I recently got married. Can I get additional money by claiming my wife as my dependent?

A -- Veterans who are rated 30 percent or more do receive additional funds for dependents. Contact the nearest VA office for details.

Santa Will Visit County

It's time --- to think and plan for Christmas --- 'tis the season for that warm, glowing, friendly, happy atmosphere. The lights of Christmas will soon line the streets of the towns in the county and best of all Santa has been invited to appear in each parade.

Jonesville

Santa will be coming to Jonesville on December 5, 1981 at 2 p.m. He will bring with him floats, riding units, bands, fire-trucks and many other interesting participants.

This parade is sponsored by the Jonesville Merchants and the Jonesville Lions Club. Three bands have already committed themselves to participate in the parade and many floats and other units have entered this event. There will be cash prizes for the best float entry.

If you are interested in participating in this years parade, please contact Charles Arney at 346-1196. Some float buildjng material is available free of charge, on a first come first serve basis.

Rose Hill

Again this year the Rose Hill Christmas parade is sponsored by the Thomas Walker Civitan Club to begin at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, December 19.

Santa will steal the show and lead the parade that will include bands, and floats entered by clubs, churches, merchants and individuals The entries planned exceed any previous year. You may contact Wade Wilson by calling 445-4094 days or 445-4683 after 4:30 p.m., if you need information.

Supervisors Select Acting Administrator; Table Lee School Site Selection

Edith Bowen, who has spent five years working as an accountant in the Lee County Administrator's office, was hired by the board of supervisors here Wednesday as acting county administrator

The board set her salary at $1,500 a month, and determined she would serve in that capacity until a permanent county administrator is chosen She will have an opportunity to apply for the position.

Mrs. Bowen worked two years for Odell Wilson, who recently resigned that position, and three years for former county administrator, Terry Estep.

She is married to Danny Bowen, is the mother of two children, and the family lives in Jonesville.

Whether Lee County supervisors will decide to acquire and develop 48 acres in the Woodway community for a school site is still unresolved The issue was tabled at last weeks board meeting The $525,750 grant through the Farmers Home Administration requires a local match of $175,250 Lenowisco director Bruce Robinette says the board must arrive at a decision by December 15

In other business, the board of supervisors.

Agreed to take action to inform the public it is illegal to set fires in county owned trash dumpsters, by ordering large metal signs placed at all the disposal sites

Decided to issue separate checks for each fire department or rescue squad the board supports, rather than one check for all to be divided by an organization. The practice will begin the first of the year

Attention Children --- Santa Wants To Hear From You

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus are making lists and studying advertising preparing for Christmas day

Boys and girls between the ages of six and ten make your wishes known early mail or bring your letter for Santa to the Powell Valley News no later than November 27. This year we have some special "Connections" and can pass your letter on, plus if your letter is interesting enough it just might be published in the Powell Valley News.

We are also inviting boys and girls who are ages eleven through thirteen to write about Christmas, choose your own idea. Keep your story no longer than two pages of notebook paper and mail or bring to the Powell Valley News no later than November 27. An effort will be made to publish as many stories as space permits.

Official Election Returns 1B

Discipline "A Must" In Schools

The matter of discipline seems to go hand-in-hand with the onset of each school year. Unfortunately for everyone concerned, this year is no exception.

Webster defines discipline as "mental or moral training; to train to obedience or efficiency; regulate; chastise." With the realization that the lack of discipline is a problem in schools, Virginia law gives teachers the right to discipline -- to use reasonable, corporal punishment, if warranted. Good behavior is imperative both in schools and on school buses. Distractions to the bus driver can endanger the lives of all who are involved.

Two recent incidents in Lee County schools have distracted students, teachers, principals and parents from their primary purpose of securing an education for area students.

One incident concerned the paddling by a teacher (before a professional witness) of a young girl. Reportedly, she was examined and considered to be physically unharmed. The second occurrence involved a 17 year-old girl who apparently entered a class to which she did not belong and slapped

Did You Vote?

It's your right and privilege. Sunny skies Tuesday left no excuse for Lee County registered voters to stay home . . . only 61% voted. This was a greater percentage than four years ago Register and vote · · · another election will be coming up soon be ready.

If you have not voted for four consecutive years your name will not appear on the voting list; you must re-register before you will be eligible to vote again.

Open House Sunday

The Jonesville Hospital for Animals will hold an "Open House" on Sunday, November 15th from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. The hospital is located on the four-lane (Highway 58A) between Jonesville and Pennington. Everyone is invited to attend.

Christmas Party For Handicapped

The Lee County Health Department will sponsor a Christmas Party December 5, at the Pennington High School Cafeteria from 1:00 - 3:00 P.M. All handicapped children in Lee County from birth to twenty-one years of age are invited. Santa Claus and a clown will provide entertainment. Gifts and refreshments will be given to each child.

Any individual or business interested in bringing Christmas joy to these children, who have not already been contacted, may call the Lee County Health Department at 346-2011 and donations will be picked up. Any donations of money, gifts or foods will be greatly appreciated. Make checks payable to Handicapped Christmas Party Fund.

T-O-B-A-C-C-O Spells Money For Lee County

Lee County is preparing for the sale of its tobacco crops, America's oldest industry, dating back to 1613 when John Rolfe exported the first crop from Jamestown. Virginia's tobacco is known and enjoyed throughout the world and Lee County is one of 50 counties to grow the golden leaf.

James A. Finch, Maysville, Kentucky, President of the Burley Auction Warehouse Association and Chairman of the Burley Sales Committee, announced that the Burley Sales Committee met in telephone conference at 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 3, to consider all available information concerning any need for opening the 1981-82 burley tobacco sales season earlier than Monday, November 23, 1981, which was the opening date set by the committee at their first meeting on October 15, 1981.

Mr. Finch stated that, after considering information from the growers, the buying companies and the two price support organizations, the committee voted to not make any changes in the resolutions they adopted on October 15.

When the chant of the auctioneers begins, we realize the value of tobacco to the economy of Lee County, according to the tobacco institute in Washington, D.C., based on a study made on the 1979 crops by Wharton Applied Research Center of the University of Pennsylvania, Lee County's golden Leaf alone provides employment for 314 people that is 4.9 percent of the total local employment. Tobacco generated employment is 6.9 percent of total employment with direct and indirect employment for Lee County 8.9 percent.

America's golden leaf provides jobs for 90,730 Virginians, more than one of every 20 jobs in Virginia exists because of tobacco. The industry itself accounts for about a third of these. The other jobs are created in non-tobacco sectors by spillover effects of the industry and the companies that supply it. The state of Virginia ranks sixth in supplier industry employment. Directly and indirectly tobacco generates 5.3 percent of all wage and earnings dollars in the Old Dominion, or more than $1.00 of every $20 paid in the state.

One thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven farmers, in the spring of 1980 observed the signs of new growth in the grass and timber on the hills of Lee County and sowed those tiny tobacco seeds in the well prepared "beds" that paved the way to a fall harvest. On the Pennington Gap Market last year 5,866,078 pounds of tobacco were sold bringing an average of $1.6585 per pound, a total of $9,728,985.

How the revenues from the 1981 crops will be spent is an individual matter, but we can be assured that if baby needs a new pair of shoes, if Santa is preparing to leave the north pole soon, the golden leaf will cure the financial needs for another year. Lest we forget tobacco's direct contributions to state and federal taxes in Virginia in 1979 were federal $182,989,000 and state $61,591,000. Income from the 1981 crops will pay Lee County taxes that are now due and payable.

Yes, Lee County is the southwest corner of Virginia, it's yours and mine, we're putting our best foot forward, preparing Lee County for tomorrow in an unselfish way.

Social Services Representative Speaks At HELP Meeting

About a dozen interested persons attended last Thursday night's meeting of the Help Education Lee Priority Committee in the Jonesville Elementary cafeteria.

Nancy Rowlett from the Department of Social Services addressed the group on the subject of child abuse. Her lecture and question-and-answer session of about two hours included defining the problem of child abuse, listing some statistics, and suggesting some ways to combat the problem.

"Child Abuse" is the repeated mistreatment or neglect of a child by parent(s) or other guardian resulting in injury or harm. This abuse may be physical, verbal, emotional or sexual. It can happen in any environment - poor, middle class, or well-to-do homes and early detection is essential to the well-being of the child.

Nancy Rowlett

Crises brought on by family problems, poverty and even the national economy contribute to the problem.

The idea of "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" has prompted authorities to try to educate the public about all aspects of the problem whether it be child, parental or spouse abuse.

About 1,000,000 cases are reported in the nation each year with one percent resulting in death and with sexual abuse being the hardest to identify. Pornography (photographing the child nude or partially clothed) is becoming a wide spread concern.

Statistics indicate that about 90% of these are treatable cases and families can be helped and kept together. In some cases it is more detrimental to the child's health to try to separate him (or her) from the family. The child may also be receiving loving care, with abuse being only a small part of the relationship, and separation could be traumatic.

The other 10% of abusers are believed incurable and are alienated.

In 1875 a shocking case in New York involving mistreatment of a mentally retarded girl revealed the need for services to abused children. In that case, the only help available was from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Since then, progress has been made.

The state of Virginia has defined its laws in the last 10-15 years, revising former policies in 1975.

The July '79-June '80 year saw 36,024 child abuse cases reported in Virginia with a ratio of about 58% unfounded risk cases and 40% founded. Of the 130 statewide localities reporting, Lee County stood 48th populationwise and 29th in complaints filed (neglect being most prevalent). Total cases reported in Lee were 217. Of those, 102 (nearly half) were found to be at risk cases.

Professionals in child related occupations are mandated by law to report cases of child abuse. Statistics show 55% of suspected cases reported by educators are found at risk.

Use caution and good sense in identifying child abuse. Every parent makes errors in judgment at some times ... but when it becomes plain that this is a pattern or is becoming one, then it's time for help...

Help is available for troubled families. The steps are detecting and reporting, immediate treatment, support services, extended counseling and sometimes temporary separation (a cooling-off period). Permanent separation is a last resort.

To report a suspected case (24 hours a day, seven days a week), contact Lee County Department of Social Services, P.O. Box 146, Jonesville, phone 346-1010 or the toll free hot line 1-800-552-7096. Anonymity is provided except in extreme cases.

Abuse of the infirmed, aged, disabled and mentally retarded can be reported to the DDS also.

The nearest emergency shelters for spouse abuse victims are located in Big Stone Gap and Bristol. Local sheriff's departments can be contacted.

Pat Fortner, spokesman for the HELP Committee stressed that although the group is taking the approach of community involvement and guest speaker engagements for their meetings, their emphasis is still on securing new school buildings for county students. A spokesman said the ability to teach and improve education is in the county but lack of quality housing is a hindrance.

Other discussion included the desire of the group to have 601 funds accepted, the need for reading programs at Jonesville schools, and possible modification of report cards.

Fortner also noted that the primary goal of the HELP Committee is to "promote the dignity, safety, health, and total development of the school children of Lee County, Virginia."

The December meeting of the HELP committee will be announced at a later date. The public is invited to attend these meetings and get involved in the attempt to improve education in Lee County.

Sheriff's Report

According to the Lee County Sheriff's Department, Mary Snodgrass of Hagan in Lee County reported her trailer was broken into on October 31. The offender reportedly forced open a back door and removed an electric stove.

Tammy Lee Lawson, 17, of Lovelady Gap was reported missing by her father, Kirt Lawson on November 3. It was suspected she may have run away to get married.

Police report of November 4 revealed open door at Ewing Equipment on Rt. 58 was probably the result of "somebody just forgetting to close it."

Troy Daniel Caudill, age 20, of Jonesville was admitted to the Lee County Community Hospital on November 4 as a result of a possible self inflicted wound (cut) to the left wrist. A definite explanation for the cut was undetermined.

Police discovered unlocked door, nothing bothered, at Driftwood Drive In at Stone Creek.

Pending investigation is the destruction of a wooden frame storage building near Caylor. The case has been listed as arson. The building belonged to T.S. Chadwell and was formerly known as the old Willis Store, a landmark in Lee County. It was believed to have been ignited from the rear.

Reportedly, George E. Sparkman was driving erratically around Dancelend late Saturday night and struck three cars. A fight ensued and it is believed the three car owners beat Sparkman who was admitted to Lee County Community Hospital with bruises and abrasions, and kept under observation.

Keokee High School was the scene of weekend vandalism. Principal James Mathews reported that it was discovered that small window broken on the east side of the building sometime between Sunday morning and Monday morning. It appeared the offender, who is unknown at this time, tried to reach in and unlock the window, but failed. No other damage or signs of entry were found.

Last week's arrest report included:

School Discipline

another girl. A fight ensued, prompting a teacher to step in to separate the two girls. Subsequent legal action was taken by family members of the two girls involved in the two incidents.

In both cases, the teachers were exonerated, the judge dismissing one case (declaring it a waste of the taxpayers' money) and the other case was dropped. However, in both situations, the teachers were embarrassed and forced to re-evaluate their actions.

Perhaps both cases could have been handled differently.

On Monday, a positive approach to suspected cases of child abuse was discussed by Lee County School Superintendent Robert G. McCoy and a Powell Valley News staff member.

Parents or guardians could call or go to the school, talk to the teachers and/or principals and discuss the details of the event. Frequently, problems can be resolved without any further measures.

There is no "magic formula" to deal with discipline, due to individuals involved and varied circumstances. A "make the punishment fit the crime" stance may help. Authorities, being human and many being parents themselves, realize there are "two sides" to every story and try to deal as fairly as possible with each instance.

Parents can teach children discipline in the home and stress to the child his need for an education. The need for excessive discipline in schools is an unfair waste of teaching time and the students are hurt the most by it.

Growing Child

More About Reading Readiness

A toddler's early development is important for getting him ready to read. Learning about left, right, up, and down inside his own body helps him learn about these same directions in the world outside his body.

Many children with serious learning problems have trouble reading because they never learned about left, right, up and down, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter. They cannot tell the letter "b" from the letter "d" because they don't know left from right. They are not slow or retarded in learning, they just failed to learn about directions in space.

Experts in learning disabilities see many bright teenagers who can barely read. Many of these young people are confused about their left right up-down directions both inside their own bodies and also in the world outside.

The real problem is that these children cannot organize relationships among objects in space. They may have very sharp vision, which means they can see each object "out there" very clearly. Their problem is that they cannot organize what they see They see, but they do not perceive accurately It's almost as if each thing they see is separate and distinct from all other things they have trouble perceiving patterns or relationships among all those things "out there."

Children with problems such as the ones just described have difficulty in organizing space Objects exist in space, and form patterns in space As you read this, stop for a moment and do a simple experiment. Look about you at all the objects in the room where you are sitting Now look at just one object (a chair, table, flower pot, etc.)

As you look at this one object, you know very well where all the other objects are with respect to this one object. Some are to the left or right, some are close to or farther away from you than is this particular object All the objects in the room are "there in space," and you can see where each is with respect to all the others, you can organize the patterns of all those objects in space

The reason you can do this is that when you were a toddler, you learned about relationships among the parts of your own body You also learned how to project your "body space" onto the world outside your body. For many children, this important "toddler learning" simply did not take place

Organizing space is a most important learning task for toddlers But they must also learn how to organize something else which is just as important They must learn how to organize time

This does not mean "organizing time" as adults do, rather, it means that a toddler must learn that some things happen "now", that other things happened "before", and that still other things will happen "later." Just as objects are "there" in space and form patterns, in a somewhat similar fashion events occur in time and form patterns.

A child needs to learn about "now" and "before" and "later" just as much as he needs to learn about left and right and up and down. To see how this basic organization of time affects reading, consider this example. Many bright children with severe learning problems will write "frist" for "first" when they are copying words or sentences. This particular mistake is actually an error in organizing time

Lisa Michelle Ramsey

Wedding Announcement

Lisa Michelle Ramsey and James Louis Swain will be married in an open church wedding at 5:30 p.m., November 25, 1981, at the Dryden Baptist Church.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramsey of Dryden. She attends Dryden High School.

The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughes of Dryden. He graduated from Dryden High School and is currently employed by M & R Trucking Company.

In The Service

Marine Cpl. Richard D. McDavid, son of James C. McDavid of P.O. Box 105, Pennington Gap, Va., has departed on an extended Mediterranean deployment.

He is a member of Weapons Company, 2nd Battalion, 6th Marines, 32nd Marine Amphibious Unit, based at Camp Lejeune, N.C. While deployed, his unit is embarked aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Saipan.

During the cruise, the 32nd MAU will be participating in training exercises with units of the U.S. 6th Fleet and those of allied nations. Port visits are scheduled in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

The 32nd MAU is the force-in-readiness for the 6th Fleet, on call to project combined air/ground forces ashore, if necessary.

A 1977 graduate of Pennington High School, McDavid joined the Marine Corps in August 1979.

Vera Ely

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.N. Ely, Jr. of Pennington Gap.

The bridegroom to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.B. Osborne of Pennington Gap.

PHS Teens For Christ Club

Teens For Christ Club met November 4 in the school lunchroom.

The club discussed sending bibles to other countries so that they too will be able to read God's word. They will be sending nine different families a bible.

They also voted on helping the school to raise the money for the new school sign.

Anthoney Robbins the guest speaker then conducted the rest of the meeting with the reading of the devotions and closed in prayer.

Juvenile Diabetes — Junior Women's Club State Project

The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, established in 1970 by the parents of diabetic children, is a voluntary agency which supports (1) research to develop a cure for the complications and the disease itself and (2) public education about the disease.

At the April, 1980 Convention, Virginia Junior Women's Club named Juvenile Diabetes as the Junior State Project for 1980-1982. Clubs throughout the state have helped by increasing public awareness of Juvenile Diabetes and raising funds to support further research and development in this area. Financial support remains a primary goal of the Virginia Junior Women's Clubs.

On November 3 members of the Jonesville JWC accepted donations in the Jonesville area. They received $100.35 to support further research and development in this area. Our club would like to say a special "Thank You" to each person who responded to this appeal.

JHS Speech And Drama Club

It's a fact that all fads and fashions are last to comé to Lee County. The Jonesville High School Speech and Drama Club changed all that with "Punk Rock" as the theme for their initiation. The club voted on best costumes. first was Alison Flanary and second place was Robin Barker

This year's club, consisting solely of Seniors, is planning an active year. Hopefully we will have many representatives in the various forensic contests and the play festivals

In the September meeting the following officers were elected: President-Betty Hines; Vice President Donna Dean; Secretary Martha Hines; Treasurer Angie Williams; Reporter-Alison Flanary; Parliamentarian - Teresa Watson; Committee Chairman-Steve Collins; Liaison Officer-Warren Estes and Sergeant At Arms-Scotty Baily. The club sponsors are Mrs. Debbie Harris and Mrs: Ruby Faye Barker.

IRS

Questions & Answers

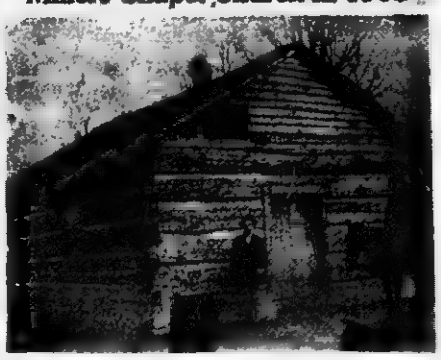
Q. Does the IRS really have a way of knowing that what I report is correct?

A. The computer system used by IRS matches most wage, dividend, and interest reports. For example, if you forgot to report interest you received on your savings account, you could receive a letter from IRS asking about your unreported income.

Q. Do IRS employees receive a commission on the money they collect?

A IRS employees, like other government employees, work on a salaried basis. The amount of money they collect has no effect on the amount of their pay.

Millers Chapel Church In 1900



[illegible] at Miller's Chapel Church when preacher D.V. York rode his horse to deliver the Sunday Morning sermon. C. R. Sprinkle, Sr., is standing by the doorway. We don't see the hitching post, but we can visualize Mr. Sprinkle leading the horse to the post as an extra courtesy for the preacher.

This building as most church buildings in the early years doubled as the local school. William P. Miller donated the land, making the deed on May 22, 1880.

Veterans Administration

Questions And Answers

Q -- Are Veterans Administration benefits subject to taxation

A -- Almost all veterans benefits are non-taxable. However, there are two exceptions. One is interest paid on accrued GI insurance dividends left on deposit. The other is death settlement proceeds.

Q -- I am a widow of a Korean War veteran who died as a result of a service connected disability before using his GI home loan entitlement. Am I eligible for this benefit?

A -- Yes. If not currently married, widows of veterans of World War II and later periods who died of service connected causes are eligible for this benefit.

Dryden Forensic Club

Recently, the Dryden High School Forensic Club went to LMU to see a one-act play "The Night of January 16th." The invitation was a result of the club's excellent one-act play record in the Cumberland District.

Accompanied by two advisors, Ms. Morgan and Ms. Porterfield, and an assistant advisor, the fifteen students who attended the play were (not in order): Tony Russell, Kim Kelly, Angie Baker, Jeanine Kilgore, Sheliah Allen, Brian Gilbert, Stephen Day, Joe Ball, Benjie Adams, Jaleen Zion, Agness Waddell, Pam Artrip, Mike Hamilton, Renee Blanken, and Sharmin Clevette.

The club has also been invited to ETSU to a seven-state invitational friendship meet in December but may not be able to attend due to conflicting dates with the Christmas Festival.

Fuel Assistance Program Applications Now Being Taken

The Virginia Department of Welfare says applications for the fuel assistance program are now being taken by local departments of welfare and social services.

Households should expect to receive less benefits from this year's program than they obtained last year. This program is not intended to cover an annual fuel need or the fuel need during the heating season. It is only designed to assist households in their fuel needs

Anyone wishing information about the program can call the Virginia Department of Welfare, toll free, at 1 800 552 3431 during normal business hours

Under this year's program, the maximum benefits level for households with the highest need has been set at $600 per household

Households applying for the program will need to verify income with wage stubs, award letters if they receive social security, or income tax returns if they are self employed or seasonal workers.

Maximum income limits will vary according to geographic locations in Virginia. Three different standards will be used

Metropolitan Washington
One person $5,387.
Four persons $12,675.
Other Metropolitan Areas
One person - $5,387.
Four persons $12,087.
Rural Areas
One Person $5,387;
Four persons $11,286.

Households will also need to verify cash resources such as savings accounts, checking accounts, life insurance policies and other specific resources

Limits for cash resources are:

*$1,500 for households with no members who are aged 60 or disabled

*$3,000 for households that include a person over 60 or disabled

Households may have real property not counting the home and lot, with equity of up to $5,000.

A number of factors will be used in determining a household's fuel needs. These include the household's *geographic location in Virginia,

*size (number of persons),

*total income, and

*energy source (kerosene, fuel oil, electricity, wood, gas or coal)

Only one application will be needed for the program this year under most circumstances. Once a household is determined eligible, it is provided with a notice that shows the maximum fuel assistance it can receive Additional fuel bills are submitted to the local welfare or social services agency until the total amount of the household's fuel benefit has been used. Fuel payments will be made, in most instances, directly to the vendor.

Applications for the program will be processed within 30 days. In emergencies, when a household runs out of fuel or receives a cut off notice, applications will be expedited.

The fuel program will end March 31, 1982, or earlier, if all funds are exhausted

For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this newspaper.

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent – and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the promise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1216.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

Notice To Classified Advertisers

All advertising for the Classified section should be in this office, with payment, not later than Monday noon for publication.

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS
of the
ROSEHILL, STICKLEY WATERWORKS, INC.
Public Water Supply
Rose Hill, Virginia

Stickley Waterworks, Inc., owner of the Rose Hill public water system has been advised by State Health Officials that the subject public water system is in violation of Virginia Waterworks Regulations because water being served to the customers in Rose Hill did not comply with a Primary Maximum Contaminant Level during the Third Quarter of 1981 (July, August and September).

The State Health Department is concerned because the bacteriological standard has been exceeded before: during the 4th Quarter of 1977, the 2nd Quarter of 1978, the 2nd Quarter of 1979, the 3rd Quarter of 1979 and the 3rd Quarter of 1980. The Health Department has advised us of certain improvements that are needed on the chlorination facilities that they feel will ensure the water is properly treated and will prevent future violations. We hope to have the improvements completed in the near future.

Further violations, however minor, will be reported to you as part of new Federal and State Waterworks Regulations aimed at increasing consumer awareness of condition that exist in public water systems.

This notice is in keeping with new State Waterworks Regulations.

Gibson DAR Inspired By Yorktown Bicentennial Celebration

"Word From Yorktown" was the title of a short drama presented at a meeting of the Major George Gibson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution on Saturday afternoon, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Oscar W. Smith in Rose Hill.

The setting of the drama was the living room at Mt. Vernon on October 19, 1781, with the cast of characters being Martha Washington, played by Mrs. William Munsey; Mrs. Henry Lee, enacted by Mrs. Charles Emmett; Nellie Custis, daughter in-law of Mrs. Washington, played by Mrs. Willard Davis; and Lucy Knox, wife of Brigadier General Henry Knox, enacted by Mrs. John Seale.

The drama portrayed the ladies sewing and knitting while discussing the events of the War of the Revolution, in which their husbands were engaged, and especially the campaign at Yorktown from which they were anxiously awaiting some word.

They also spoke of their admiration and gratitude for the French Officer, Lafayette, and Count Rochambeau, who were supporting the Colonies in their fight for freedom.

The drama ended on a note of joy and triumph as word was received of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis and the British Army to General George Washington, Commander in chief of the Continental Army; and also to the French, the first Ally of the Colonies.

But this joy was mixed with sadness at the news of the wounding of Mrs. Washington's son, Jacky Custis

The characters of the drama were introduced by the hostess who also shared with the group, pictures sent by a member of the chapter, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Jennings, that she had made while attending the four day Yorktown Bicentennial Celebration in Yorktown, Va., and also several newspapers recording the events of the celebration

Mrs. Smith related that an estimated 18,000 people traveled from far and near to witness history come alive, and to feel themselves a part of that history. No person could see it all as there was so much going on, but she mentioned the pageantry as being spectacular, and the scenes so expansive and colorful that it was difficult to describe For most persons attending, a sense of patriotism had been renewed, and new faith in America

More than 5,000 soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines were part of the parade, and among the cadets from VMI at Lexington, Va was one young man from Rose Hill, Whitney Owens, son of Dr. and Mrs B H Owens

At a special service of naturalization, 139 people became new Americans. They were people of German, Pakistani, Vietnamese, Korean, and Indian origin, and had taken their oath of citizenship beneath the towering battlefield monument.

The present of President Mitterrand of France and President Reagan of the United States added depth and meaning to the celebration, and was a milestone in the long relationship of France and the United States.

For Americans, President Reagan's speech climaxed the 4 day Yorktown Bicentennial. In part, he said, "We have economic problems at home, and we live in a troubled and violent world, but there is a special [illegible] that makes us strong enough to face the tasks ahead. We can look at our past with pride, and our future can be whatever we make it We only have to act worthy of ourselves."

But with a word of caution, he had stated, "Let the struggle that took place here remind us that the freedom we enjoy has not always existed, and it carries no guarantees." He also spoke of the need for a strong defense "We have been entrusted with freedom" he stated, "and we must ensure it for our children, and their children We are restoring our defenses so that our sons and daughters need never go to war." And he added, "Military inferiority does not avoid conflict it only invites one, and ensures defeat."

President Mitterand of France spoke of the aspirations of the people of our world today as being as legitimate as those of our ancestors, and stated, "We who govern our nations in this difficult time must understand those aspirations, and act before it is too late." He also said, "My American friends, I have come here today to tell you, that in any struggle, I hope we find ourselves just like Yorktown side by side."

Mrs. Jerry Hounshell, Regent of the Major George Gibson Chapter, presided at the meeting and introduced visitors, Mrs. Walter Spangler and Mrs. Walter Justice, both members of the Lovelady Chapter DAR Miss Gene Grabeel, a member of the Mustus Gabriel Duval Chapter, Laurel, Md. and Miss Florence Bayless of Rose Hill

She also welcomed Mrs Hugh Phillips of Lexington, Ky., a member of the Major George Gibson Chapter, who does not get to meet with the chapter very often

Devotional thoughts with Scripture and Prayer, were shared by Mrs Grace C Davis, Chaplain, on the topic Praising the Lord through Joy and Happiness, and the group then in unison, pledged allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and sang The Star Spangled Banner. This was followed by the American's Creed, led by Mrs. Charles Emmett, Flag Chairman

Mrs. Will A. Fugate brought a message from NSDAR President General, Mrs Patricia W Shelby, in which she spoke of the Yorktown Bicentennial as a time for celebration, and also a time for renewing our commitment to the American Dream that has sustained our nation for over two hundred years

Mrs. Shelby had acknowledged the invaluable assistance of France and all our allies for their support dufing the War for Independence, and told of the plans of the NSDAR to dedicate a bronze and granite marker at the formal Bicentennial Ceremonies at Yorktown on October 19, 1981, in memory of the men of the French Fleet who lost their lives during the crucial battle in 1781, making it impossible for Lord Cornwallis to escape by the sea.

The marker was described as being similar to two plaques honoring the American and French who died during the land battle, and were dedicated by the National Society during the Sesquentennial in 1931.

She also spoke of another DAR highlight at Yorktown as being the presentation of American and French Flags to the National Colonial Historical Park during the Opening Ceremony. Mrs. Shelby had asked also that we be ever mindful that "the past is incomplete unless the present sustains it."

Speaking on National Defense, Miss Mary Stickley gave excerpts from an address by the Honorable John O. Marsh, Jr., Secretary of the Army, pertaining to the significance of the observance of the Bicentennial of the Battle of Yorktown. According to Mr Marsh, Yorktown was a bridge between the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

After giving a very sobering picture of global instability and tension, and the many forms of aggression and violence that threatens our security today, he had stated that America needs to be reminded of our Victory at Yorktown which made possible the founding of this great Republic, the defense of which is the duty of every American, and which material wealth and progress alone will not secure survival.

"The Continental Soldiers", he stated, "redeemed the pledge as stated in the last line of the Declaration of Independence which reads, 'And for the support of the Declaration, with a firm reliance of the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor."

The individual is responsible for his own health and sickness

The power for both is in the human body It is the inalienable right of every man, woman, and child to be healthy and happy

The science of chiropractic has revealed to mankind that "the power that made the body is the power that heals the body "

The generated life impulse flowing through the nervous system free of obstruction and interference, will produce the perfection which we call "good health" in the body

When interferences exist in the nervous system, the same nerve power which generates good health can just as easily, through the lack of it create sickness and disease in the body

Knowing these irrefutable facts, it becomes the duty of the individual to keep his body free of harmful nerve interferences

By living according to the chiropractic principle and practice, mankind can accumulate good health in his body

"The power that made the body is the power that heals the body " That is the Law of Life Another Life and Health Article from the Office of

Thursday Night Fire Destroys Chadwell Property

A Thursday night fire destroyed a storage building near Ewing that once belonged to Sheriff R.V. Chadwell's uncle, T. S. Chadwell.

Although the Lee County landmark, formerly known as the old Willis Store was being used for storage, damage loss was estimated to be near $12,000. Furniture, antiques and auto parts were among the contents of the wooden frame building.

In January, another fire leveled a barn near Rose Hill belonging to the sheriff, who said he believes the two incidents are related Investigation revealed that both fires were deliberately set.

Virginia State Police Arson Investigator Billy Livesay concurred that it was a "definite case of arson there was no heating source or electrical power in the building." No robbery was involved.

The fire appeared to have been ignited in the rear of the building where a gas can was discovered.

In spite of numerous suspects, no arrests have been made in connection with the blaze. A $5,000 reward is being offered leading to the arrest of the persons) responsible for the fire that occurred about 11:50 p.m. November 5

Chadwell grinned in agreement that "somebody must be mad at him."

Jonesville Bulldogs Down Dryden, Win District Tournament

The Jonesville lady Bulldogs broke open a tight game early in the second half of the game last Saturday night, in the district tournament finals to down the Dryden Crusaders 49-37

Leading only by four points at the half, the Bulldogs came out in the second half with Brooks ripping the nets for 16 straight points to take a commanding lead. With the Bulldogs continuing to take the ball inside, they won the second half by a 26-18 total.

Dryden now 20-4 overall on the year also goes to the regionals. The Crusaders were led by Joyce Swain with 15 points. Robin Woods scored 12 in the loss. The Crusaders will take on the Powell Valley Vikings tomorrow at 7:00 p.m. The Vikings are led by Angie Hamilton, an outstanding basketball player, but everyone will be pulling for the Crusaders. Don't let up Dryden, get tough with them!

Jonesville now 22-2 overall was led by Dee Dee Brooks' 32 point effort. Cindy Terry and Sandy Willis had eight and six respectively. The Bulldogs receives a bye in the opening round, and will be in the semi finals on Friday night. Go get them all Bulldogs! We know you can do it.

A host of area fans should and probably will be following both Dryden and Jonesville. This could, if the fans get out and push for them, help both teams.

The Junior Varsity championship was also won by Jonesville, 32-13, over Thomas Walker.

Score By Quarters:
Jonesville 11 12 10 16-49
Dryden 8 11 8 10-37
Individual Scoring:
Jonesville [49] Brooks 32, Terry 8, Willis 6, Richmond 2, Sutton 1.

Dryden [37] Swain 15, Woods 12, Quillen 4, Reasor 2, Long 2, Robinette 2.

1981 Cumberland District All Tournament Team

Dee Dee Brooks - Jonesville, Cindy Terry - Jonesville, Joyce Swain-Dryden Cheryl Reasor, Dryden, Kim Davis - Thomas Walker, Missy Brooks - Thomas Walker, Karen Glass - Flatwoods, Sandra Ely - Pennington, Neysa Osborne - Rye Cove, and Joann Begley - Twin Springs.

Dryden will play Powell Valley, the Lonesome Pine District champ, on Thursday. Jonesville by winning the tournament will get a first round bye.

Dryden Crusaders Eliminate Thomas Walker 49 - 48

In a semi final game of the Cumberland district tournament played last Thursday night at Flatwoods, the Dryden Crusaders came from a twelve point halftime deficit to edge the Thomas Walker Pioneers.

Thomas Walker who had beaten the Crusaders once in the regular season looked as though they might have had their running and gunning act together early, as they grabbed an 18 11 first quarter lead. And after the Pioneers took the second stanza 12-7, the Crusaders mounted their comeback effort by winning the third quarter 16 9 and the fourth 15 9. The play of Joyce Swain and Dawn Long was the key to Dryden's comeback

The loss sent the Pioneers home for the season. They were led by Missy Brooks and Kim Davis with 13 points each. Sally Bailey added 10 in defeat.

Dryden is now 20-3 overall. The Crusaders were led by Swain with 17 points and Long with 12. Robin Woods and Lisa Robinette chipped in with seven points each, while Cheryl Reasor rounded out the Dryden scoring with six. The Crusaders by winning assured themselves of a spot in the regionals which begins tomorrow at St. Paul. The Crusaders will either play the Powell Valley Vikings in the opening round, or will receive a bye, depending on the outcome of the district tournament finals against the Jonesville Bulldogs If Dryden defeats Jonesville, then the Bulldogs will play the Vikings. Good luck to both teams in their bid to win the regionals

Score By Quarters:
Dryden 11 7 16 15-49
T. Walker 18 12 9 9-48

Individual Scoring:
Dryden [49] Swain 17, Long 12, Robinette 7, Woods 7, Reasor 6.

T. Walker [48] K. Davis 13, Brooks 13, Bailey 10, Warf 4, Wilder 4, Hensley 2, E. Davis 2.

Jonesville Routs Flatwoods Eagles In Semi - Finals

The Jonesville Bulldogs reached the finals of the Cumberland district tournament by virtue of their 56 31 rout of the host Flatwoods Eagles last Wednesday night.

The Bulldogs enjoying only a 22 21 lead at the half, opened the lead to 13 points to start the last quarter. They outscored the Eagles 16 4 in the third stanza. The fourth wasn't any better for Flatwoods as they were on the short end of a 18 6 score. Dee Dee Brooks scored all of the third quarter points for the winners.

Flatwoods closed out their season at 11-9 overall. They were led by Sherry Barber's 10 points. Karen Glass and Loretta McNeil both had six points each in defeat.

Jonesville is now 21-2 on the year. The Bulldogs got a 23 point performance from Brooks to lead the win. Cindy Terry canned 18, while Sharon Jerrell scored nine and Sandy Willis six to round out all of the Bulldogs scoring.

Brooks is the heart of the Bulldogs team. If it wasn't for the fine all around team effort though, it is or would be hard to say where the Bulldogs would stand, or what their record would be. Brooks has carried the Bulldogs practically all season. If a vote was to be taken for most valuable player for the year, then she would definitely get the sports writers vote from the Powell Valley News.

Both the Bulldogs losses came at the hands of Dryden. Go get the state crown Bulldogs! All area fans are pulling for you to go all the way.

Score By Quarters:
Jonesville 11 11 16 18-56
Flatwoods 10 11 4 6-31
Individual Scoring:
Jonesville [56] Brooks 23, Terry 18, Jerrell 9, Willis 6.

Flatwoods [31] Barber 10, Glass 6, L. McNeil 6, B. Graham 4, S. Graham 2, J. McNeil 2, Scott 1.

Dryden . . . Second in tournament.

Jonesville Tops Pennington, Wins District Crown

The Jonesville Bulldogs came to Pennington last Friday evening needing at least a tie to win the trip to the regionals. They got Chadwell. more than a tie, the Pennington got the Bulldogs got a 9-3 win, scoring started early as the behind the passing of Joey Bobcats drove the ball to the Bulldog ten yard line. Jonesville held on a third down play, and then Tony Bailey booted a 27 yard field goal. Andy Rosenbaum who has good range in field goal kicking, hit from 35 yards out in the second period to tie the score. Both team's field goals came with a strong wind to their kicker's back.

It was still 3-3 in the third quarter when Rosenbaum missed a long field goal attempt, this time kicking into the wind. His kick was wide to the left of the uprights. Then came the biggest play of the night in the fourth quarter, when Chadwell launched a 10 yard strike to Gary Oaks in the left corner of the endzone. Chris Bowen defending on the play, appeared to intercept the pass, but Oaks wound up taking the ball from him. The extra point was no good, due to a bad snap from the center.

The Bobcat's defense held the Bulldogs' Tim Baker to just 73 yards. Chris Bowen, the Bobcat quarterback was Pennington's leading rusher. He also gave a strong effort, trying to bring the Bobcats from defeat as time ran out. He completed a long pass play deep in Bulldog territory, with only seconds remaining. The receiver got out of bounds to stop the clock as the Bobcats were out of timeouts. A last chance at a win failed, when Bowen's long pass into the endzone was knocked down incomplete as time ran out.

The Bobcats close out their season at 3-7, while the Bulldogs at 6-4 will host the Garden Green Dragons Saturday at Jonesville. Game time will be 2:00 p.m., so let's all get behind the Bulldogs. The Wise Indians will meet the winner the following Saturday for the regional title.

Jonesville	0	3	0	6-9
Pennington	3	0	0	0-3

Scoring:

P - Tony Bailey 27 yard FG.

J - Rosenbaum 35 yard FG.

J - Oaks 10 yard pass from Chadwell (kick failed)

State Champion Hickory Found Near Jonesville

Harold Jerrell, Chief Forest Warden, and Clark Boyer, Forester with the Virginia Division of Forestry recently received confirmation from the Virginia Forestry Association that a shagbark hickory tree that they located near Jonesville will serve as the new state champion. The tree is 8 ft. 1 in. in circumference and 120 ft. tall.

Besides the hickory, Jerrell and Boyer also have three other state champions to their credit which are located in Lee County. They are a yellow buckeye in Blackwater, a virginia pine near Gibson Station, and a scarlet oak near Olinger. The list of state champions is kept by the Virginia Forestry Association, and a list of national champions is kept by the American Forestry Association.

If you know of any large trees that might be a champion, contact the Virginia Division of Forestry, P.O. Box 798, Big Stone Gap, Virginia 24219. Nomination forms may be obtained from the Virginia Forestry Association, One North Fifth St., Richmond, VA 23219.

Season's Greetings Strata

French bread, sliced ½-inch thick
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
2 cups (8 Oz.) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese, divided
2 cups milk
Parsley sprigs, optional
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ teaspoon curry powder
6 eggs
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1½ cups chopped cooked chicken or turkey
OR 2 cans (5 oz. each) boned chicken, undrained

Grease a 12x7½x2-inch baking dish or pan. Line with enough bread slices to cover bottom. Combine chicken, 1½ cups of the cheese, green pepper and onion. Spread over bread layer. Top with enough additional bread slices to cover chicken mixture. Combine eggs, milk, curry powder and mustard. Pour over bread slices. Sprinkle with remaining ½ cup cheese. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Bake uncovered in preheated 325° oven until golden brown, about 45 minutes. Garnish with parsley sprigs, if desired.

Angel Food Cake

12 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 cup sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons cream of tartar
¾ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
1¼ cups confectioners' sugar

In large mixing bowl, beat egg whites, cream of tartar and salt at high speed until foamy. Add granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating constantly until sugar is dissolved* and whites are glossy and stand in soft peaks. Beat in vanilla and almond extract.

Sift flour and confectioners' sugar together twice. Sift about ½ cup of the flour mixture over egg whites and gently fold just until flour disappears. Repeat, folding in remaining flour mixture ½ cup at a time. Pour into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Gently cut through batter with metal spatula.

Bake in preheated 375° degrees F. oven until top springs back when touched lightly with finger, 30 to 40 minutes. Invert cake in pan or funnel or bottle neck. Cool completely, about 1½ hours. Loosen cake from pan with narrow spatula or knife and gently shake onto serving plate.

*Rub just a bit of meringue between thumb and forefinger to feel if sugar has dissolved.

Jonesville JWC Meets

On October 20, the Jonesville Junior Woman's Club met for their regular monthly meeting at the home of Ernestine Wright, with Nancy Britton serving as co-hostess. The club welcomed Wandaleen Adams and Annette Tomlinson as guests.

Debbie Harris, president, called the meeting to order, and the devotion was given by Angela Turley. Committee reports were given by department and division chairmen. Club members were reminded of the following upcoming projects; Children's Shopping Day; preparing refreshments for Jonesville High School visiting committee, Super Skate '81; bake sale; project for juvenile diabetes; taking baked goods to the poll workers on Election Day; and Federation Sunday.

Members also responded to three GFWC International Policy Division Opinion Polls on key international issues.

Visual Arts Chairman Nancy Britton presented a program on art appreciation, which featured slides from the National Gallery of Art

Veterans Administration

Q -- What is the current interest rate on a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?

A Effective September 14, 1981, the interest rate was increased to 17½ percent for home loans.

Q -- My father is a World War I veteran and he recently had a stroke that left him totally helpless and unable to care for himself. Will the Veterans Administration place him in a nursing home and pay for it?

A The VA cannot bear the expense of private nursing home care for veterans with non service connected disabilities unless the veteran is transferred directly from a VA hospital to the nursing home. When such a transfer is made, the VA authorized care normally may not exceed six months.

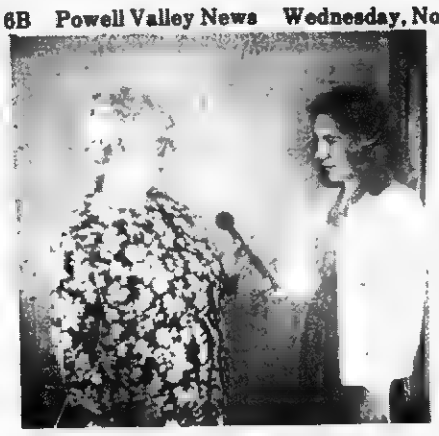
Lee County EHC Council Report



Wallens Creek Selected Outstanding EHC Club

Mildred Freeman, left, is accepting a gavel from Nettie Mae Hopkins, County EHC President, for the Wallens Creek Extension Homemakers Club for being selected as the outstanding EHC Club in Lee County. The presentation was made at the annual achievement day hosted by Flatwoods.

By: B. B. Brooks

Extension Homemaker Regional and Area Officers from 13 Southwest Virginia Counties, met October 28 in Abingdon for lunch and a Fall planning meeting.

Beatrice Jones, from Washington County, the outgoing EHC Director of the S.W. Region welcomed everyone, then introduced the new S.W. Region Director, Hazel Edens, who lives in Lee County. She will take office January 1, 1982.

Mrs. Jones instructed the assembly as to the duties and responsibilities of each officer, she also stressed the importance of each level of work meeting its deadline for reports.

Dates were set for each area's Spring Rally. The Spring meeting of area 1, (Lee, Scott and Wise) is to be held in Scott County, April 27, 1982.

The money from "Nickels in November" to be used in the S.W. Region for leadership training, is sent to the area treasurer.

Attending the meeting from Lee County were Hazel Edens, Bess Brooks and Lee Extension agent, Betty J. Moore.

EHC Achievement Day

A Harvest of Lee County Cultural Arts was the theme of the Achievement Day Program, when County EHC members met October 31, at the Flat woods School Cafeteria, for a covered dish lunch, crafts exhibit, a review of the year's work, and the outstanding club award

Mrs. Nettie M. Hopkins, County chairman presided at the meeting.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Bertha Taylor, Flatwoods EHC President.

Inspirational thoughts, "The Beauty and Peace of Prayer" were given by Mildred Freeman.

The group enjoyed singing many old favorite songs, led by Mildred Freeman, and accompanied by Golden Gilley on the auto harp.

Mrs. Hopkins awarded reading certificates to members who had read five or more books, some had read over 200 books.

The Flatwoods High School Drama Club entertained the assembly with a skit on "A Modern Date."

Speaker for the program was Betty J. Moore. She said, "Extension Homemakers are achievers, they are a friendly, devoted, hard working people, interested in their community, county, state and nation and were to be commended on the work they accomplished."

Each club in the county did many things to carry on a continuous educational program. To reach out and serve their community. But Wallens Creek Club excelled and won the "Outstanding Club Award". Congratulations, Wallens Creek, well done!

The EHC December program will be Decorating with Natural Plants, Berries, and Greenery. Contact your local club for time and place.

Keokee School News

The Lady Mountaineers, Varsity and Junior Varsity, finished out their season with a winless record. They played good ball all season with only five players.

They would like to say good bye to two of the five, Beverly Collins and Felicia White, seniors who will soon leave our school They have each contributed five years to the Lady Mountaineers.

The Keokee High School hosted their annual fall festival Saturday, November 7 There were over 400 people present

The marchers for King and Queen were Mandy Grimes and Kevin Grimes, Kindergarten Misty Barker and Michael Snodgrass, First Tiffany Thomas and Glen Lee, Second Stephanie Lawson and Keith Maggard, third Kristi Grimes and Darrell Holdway, fourth Theresa Tripplett and Joe Rogers, fifth, Melissa Johnson and Chris Pennington, sixth, Wendy Stough and Gary Bowman, seventh, Loretta Collins and Tim Woodward, eighth, Terina Wilder and Luther Davis, ninth, Becky Wade and Joey Tomlinson, tenth Mary Maxfield and Tim McElyea, eleventh, Beverly Collins and Scott Robbins, twelfth

The winners were: K 3 Mandy Grimes and Kevin Grimes, Kindergarten; 4 7 Kirsti Grimes and Darrell Holdway, fourth; 8 12 Terina Wilder and Luther Davis.

There were lots of thrilling activities such as: fish pond, cake walks, basketball throw, dish throw, grab bags, bingo, fortune teller, dart throw, bean bag throw, toss across, ring toss, food, drinks, spook house, and the pup pet shows

Everyone had a wonderful time and we hope it will be as good next year.

This is a telephone.

It may look a little strange. But it does everything your phone does. And more.

We designed it for people who can't move their legs to walk to the phone. Or lift their arms to reach for the phone.

All they have to do is blow on the card to reach the operator. Then speak into the speaker. To call the fire department. Or talk to friends. Or take part in the world of business.

And it's only one of many remarkably designed phones that C&P Telephone offers.

We also have phones that can help the blind. The hard of hearing and the mute. Special phones for special people.

If you'd like to find out more about them, consult the Consumer Guide in the front of your White Pages. Just look for the number of the Telephone Service Center for Disabled People.

Then we'd like you to call.

Because no matter how strange some of our special phones may look, they're all designed to let people do one special thing.

Communicate.

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Marvin James spoke on the gardens in the Bible, the vegetable and flower gardens we now grow, and the garden that is our heart, at the Center's Monday devotional hour, and whether we let flowers or weeds grow and bloom. It is our purpose to keep the weeds out (hatred, envy, jealousy, etc.) and let the flowers (love) grow, especially in our hearts. Flowers and vegetable gardens need to have the weeds pulled from them if they are to flourish and look pretty.

—A business meeting was held at the Center, Monday, with Florence James presiding. Plans were made for a Thanksgiving dinner, a Christmas float, and a few other items.

—Mrs. Sue McPherson, Karen and Michael, and a friend, Morristown, Tn., spent the weekend with Sue's mother, Mrs. Ica Stewart, and other family members.

—Forty-three children, youth, and adults from Jonesville First Baptist Church took a trip to the Sand Cave Sunday afternoon. It was a lovely day for a trip and, although tired, everyone reported a marvelous time.

—Ruth and Marion Lipps, Lisa and David, Warner Robins, Ga., spent the weekend with Golden and Don Lipps. They were here for the funeral of Ruth's brother-in-law, Axley Moore, of Tolbott, Tn.

—Other out of towners that were here for the Axley Moore funeral were his two sisters, Annie Capps of Camby, Ind. and Clarice Scott of North Vernon, Ind. and their families. He was a cousin of Lillie Carroll, Cora Howard, and Ida Carroll.

—The Jonesville Lions Club held their regular meeting at the Senior Center, Tuesday night.

—Lee County Title I School teachers, with Phil Hensley, held a meeting at the Senior Center, Wednesday.

—The Jonesville Woman's Club held a bazaar at the Jonesville First Methodist Church on Tuesday. It was a huge success. Thanks are expressed to all who came.

—The Jonesville Woman's Club held their regular meeting Thursday night. After dinner, the president Judy Davidson conducted the business meeting. Plans were made for Thanksgiving and Christmas activities.

—Sunday guests of Sue Sutton were Mary Walton, Corda Sprinkle, and Ella Mae Marlowe.

—Taking part in the Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer, at Jonesville First Baptist, were Patsy Bledsoe, Nell Bush, Syble Collins, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Ethel Chadwell, Golden Sanders, Frances Clendaniel, and Lorene Terry. The topic was "Free to Receive," and was held Monday afternoon.

—Jonesville WMU Baptist Organization held their Prayer Group meeting Tuesday at the First Baptist Church with Urgent Medical Personnel Needs as the study topic.

—Mrs. Johnnie Church, Robbie and Teresa, of Upton, Ind. spent last weekend with her father, J.E. (Ezra) Sexton, and her husband, Charles Church.

—Some patients in Lee County Community that you may like to know about: Patience Eldridge, Ray Bryant, Ruby Hammonds, Cephes Russell, Evelyn Daugherty, Mary Pankow, Walter Huff, Una Mae Carrier, Eliza Pennington, Rosa Shirks, Elizabeth McNamara, Bessie Gilliam, Faye Chance, Renee Cooper, Clinton Moses, David Stapleton, William Combs, Timothy Jones, Audrey Hensley, Mary R. Excitment is building for the Juniors as they patiently await the arrival of their class rings on Thursday.

The Drama Club at PHS presented their first play of the school year, Tuesday morning. The activity period was held in the gym with an admission charge of fifty cents. The play was entitled, "Great Smokies", starring - Jeff Parsons, Pa; Ursula Snodgrass, Ducky Bell; Rebecca Allen, Emmy Sue; Jill Evans, Dottie; Jeff Moore, Hiran; Rebecca Carpenter, Daisy; Brian Stapleton, Dillie; Teresa Mullins, Lizzie, and Martin Yates, Zebe.

Plans for the intramural volleyball tournaments are now being made. All ladies and gentlemen of PHS have been urged to sign up for the games coming up November 13. The matches will be held during the activity period of each week

Dryden Future Homemakers Of America

The Dryden FHA held their November meeting in the home economics cottage. The opening ceremony was given by Angie Baker, President

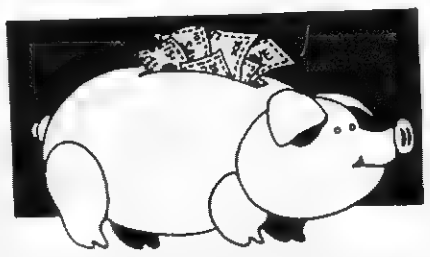
Mary Beth Gibson, Treasurer, gave the treasurer's report. Kathy Kelly, Secretary, had roll call and gave minutes from last meeting. She also gave the first year members their Membership Certificate into the Dryden Future Homemakers of America, then she gave the sticker to second, third, fourth and fifth year members.

Angie Baker presented Dena Waddell a gift for being the best dressed during initiation. Angie also encouraged the girls to sell their fruit cakes and Crusaders Buttons.

Refreshments were served in honor of new members. Angie Baker closed meeting.

JUNE FULLER THE COUPON CLIPPER

Build your proof-of-purchase collection



By June Fuller

One of the secrets of successful refunding is never to throw away an empty package until you have used it at least twice

This means that after I cut out the box top from a package of raisin bran to take advantage of a refund offer, I put the remainder of the box back in my proof-of-purchase file The chances are that the manufacturer will soon make another offer asking for a different proof that I can cut out from the same package'

Does this happen often? Yes it does For smart refunders proof-of-purchase lightning" can strike the same package two, three and even four times' (Four is my record)

That's why I save every possible proof of purchase

Many refunders don't have the space for a vast collection of box tops and labels Here are my tips for cutting your collection down to appropriate size

– Instead of saving the whole package cut out the important proofs such as the box top, the net-weight statement, the Universal Product Code symbol and the proof-of-purchase seal (if there is one)

If you decide to cut out the individual proofs, be sure to write the brand name and size on the back of each of them I keep small proofs in see-through plastic bags so that I can look them over without having to remove them

To reduce your space requirements further, carefully peel the label portion of the proof away from the cardboard backing

– Some refunders who don't mind being outfoxed now and then save only the popular proofs ' These are the proofs that the big companies are requesting currently Green Giant, for instance, almost always asks for ingredient statements, so you may only want to save these proofs from the Green Giant packages

– You can make up your own list of "popular proofs" by recording the proofs mentioned in my refund listings Within a month or two you will have a good idea of what the major companies are asking for and you can save accordingly

But be warned' The only sure way to have the proofs that a new offer may require is to save everything'

In my next column, I'll tell you about the wonderful time I had at the Rochester Refunders' Convention

Today's Super Shopper is Lee Murphy of Beverly, N J He tells of purchasing all the Scott paper products needed for the company's "$5 Worth of Coupons" offer using store sales and double coupons for a total cost of less than $5 When the $5 worth of coupons arrived, a local store was offering triple-value coupons So, he really cashed in

Murphy and other readers whose smart shopping experiences appear in my column received a copy of the refunding magazine, The National Supermarket Shopper Write to me in care of this newspaper

Here's a refund form to write for Purina Special Dinners Refund, P O Box PL-14112, Belleville, Ill 62224 This offer of a $1 refund or $1 50 worth of coupons expires July 31, 1982

Here is this week's list of refund offers Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below Remember some offers are not available in all areas of the country

Today's refund offers are worth $17 75

There's No Place Like Home . . .

... nobody loves you like your hometown merchant!

If we asked you, "to whom are you most important?", your answer would have to be ... "Why, the people at home, of course!"

Have you shopped away from home recently? Did you feel like a stranger? Had to show 3 identifications before they'd cash your check? Gave your questions a brush-off, etc.?

Here in Lee County, our businessmen are your neighbors and friends.

They're interested in your needs, work with you on local projects. You always come first with them because you're a home-town customer.

Why not shop at home more and, by adding to the trade volume, make our communities and Lee County Stronger.

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

In 1980, legislation was passed by the Congress and signed by President Carter requiring young men to register for a future military draft should one become necessary to deal with an emergency. A recent report has indicated that as many as one-quarter (300,000) of those eligible to register have not done so.

It is disturbing that so many young Americans would fail, for whatever reason, to comply with the law. They are doing a disservice to the Nation, as well as to themselves. If they fail to register within thirty days of their eighteenth birthdate, they risk a penalty ... a fine of up to ten thousand dollars and a prison therm of up to five years. Disagreement with an existing law is not license to ignore it.

The draft registration law was born in controversy. In 1975, President Ford suspended the existing registration system, pending study of a new, less expensive procedure. No replacement system was ever established until President Carter called for immediate registration as a response to the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan in December 1979. The President already had the authority to register men, but the funds needed to conduct the registration required Congressional approval.

Consideration of the plan by Congress lasted more than five months. It was opposed by many on the grounds that it was preliminary to reimposing a draft. On the other hand, a strong argument in favor of registration was that it would substantially cut the time required to mobilize the nation's armed forces in the event of a crisis. In addition, it was thought it would demonstrate to the Soviet Union that the United States was prepared to defend its interests. After much debate, a majority in Congress was convinced that registration is necessary, and in the best interests of the nation.

There is no draft at this time, and none is anticipated. Nevertheless, the present strength of the all volunteer armed forces is not sufficient to sustain a possibly protracted conflict, nor to adequately defend our vital interests in a shaky world. Our vulnerability preceding World War II should have taught us a lasting lesson. A nation must be prepared for any contingency. It is time, in my opinion, for the Congress to require more strict enforcement of the registration law.

Melanie G. Wallen

In The Service

Airman Melanie G. Wallen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Wallen of Route 2, Pennington Gap, Va., has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

She is a 1980 graduate of Pennington High School.

LPH Observes OR Nurse's Day

To inform the public about the operating room, its staff and the care they deliver, Lonesome Pine Hospital will have OR staff available in the Hospital main lobby on Friday, November 13, 1981, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. to display equipment and supplies used in the Operating Room. Everyone is invited to stop by to see the display and direct questions to the OR staff.

National Operating Room Nurses' Day is November 14, 1981, in recognition of the registered and licensed practical nurses, and operating room technicians who utilize special nursing skills in the field of surgery. Lonesome Pine Hospital invites you to join in recognizing the OR nurses on staff and to stop by the Hospital on Friday to view the display.

Family Notes

Many people are still weatherizing their homes for winter. If you are a do-it-yourselfer and plan on installing fiberglass insulation, take the following precautions to protect yourself from those irritating glass fibers.

1. Wear long pants and long sleeved shirt or jacket.
2. Wear workshoes, not canvas type shoes.
3. Button the collar or tie a scarf around your neck.
4. Wear a hat.
5. Use a respirator.
6. Wear rubber or leather gloves, not cloth gloves.
7. Wear goggles.
8. Use hand cream or petroleum jelly on your face and neck before hand.

Need For Educational Facilities Still Priority Of School Board

Lee County School Superintendent Robert G. McCoy noted Tuesday that "no additional information has been received from the Board of Supervisors concerning the '601' grant, or any official suggestions concerning the school improvement program."

Last week's school board meeting agenda included the following reports of the superintendent:

*All principals submitted the Individual School Planning and Management Objectives for 1981-82.

*Good start on a career education curriculum which has been integrated into the regular curriculum ... all high schools have a career education program.

*As previously reported, the dropout rate and percentage of attendance has improved over the previous year ... have also completed the follow-up of graduates and dropouts for the previous year.

*In the special remedial program all students in grades K-3 and 8-9 who have scored low on standardized tests are receiving additional instruction in reading and math.

*Have completed the implementation of our Basic Learning Skills program and are giving the highest priority to reading and math. However, the program is being changed and will be referred to as the Standards of Learning.

Actions of the board also included the hiring of Ella Mae Patterson as substitute cook at St. Charles and the hiring of substitute teachers.

St. Charles Plans For Santa

The St. Charles Fire Department has plans underway for the Snow Queen Beauty Pageant and the Christmas parade.

Veterans Day Observed

The American Legion Post 185 and their ladies auxiliary were joined at Jonesville High School by DAV Chapter 54, VFW Post 10298, Det. One 1031 Engineer Company presented the colors and CSM James R. Flanary of the 1030 Engineer Battalion, Army National Guard, a Korea-Vietnam veteran was the guest speaker. His outstanding talk was heard by school students and other observers of veterans day.

Jonesville high school band, chorus, and faculty taking part in the observance, plus the wreath donated by a Flower Shop in Pennington Gap was appreciated by the group of veterans

Spelling Bee Plans Begin

The annual Lee County Spelling Bee sponsored by the Powell Valley News, cordially invite the students from each Lee County school to participate in this contest for prizes and to compete in the Knoxville News Sentinel Southern Appalachian Spelling Bee.

Each school must conduct its own contest for selection of a school champion. Any pupil who has not passed the eighth grade at the time of the Bee in his or her school and who will be under 16 years of age before the date of the national finals is eligible to compete.

Send the name(s) of your contestant to Betty B. Flanary, director of Elementary Education, Jonesville, Va., 24263 by February 12, 1982.

The Lee County Spelling Bee will be held on Tuesday, February 16, 1982, at 7:00 p.m., at the Lee County Vocational School.

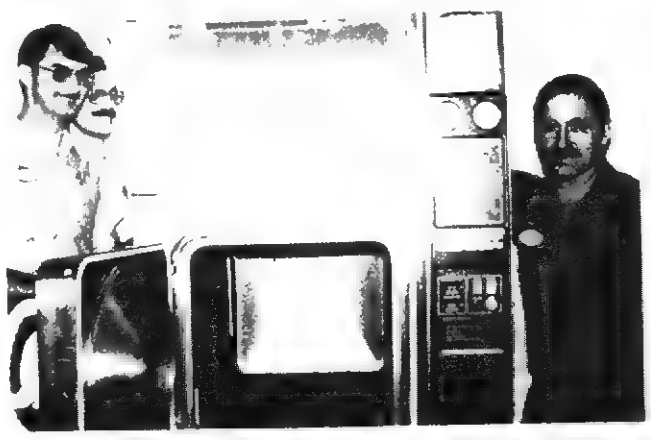
Hospital Installs New Equipment

Ronald Bodary, Administrator of Lee County Community Hospital announced today that the hospital has received some equipment purchased with funds donated by the Slemp Foundation. A major piece of this equipment is the Steam Sterilizer, which is used to sterilize surgical supplies and other items for patients. Cost of these two pieces of equipment is approximately $30,000.

The new electrosurgical instrument shown is utilized by the Surgical team to cauterize blood vessels and to minimize blood loss during surgery

Mr. Bodary explained that the new equipment would be utilized now and transferred to the new hospital upon its completion.

Many other items of equipment are needed for the new hospital and it was pointed out that donations to the hospital are tax deductible The hospital plans to expand its fund raising efforts in the near future for the purchase of equipment. Persons wishing to donate should call Mr Bodary at the hospital



Beryl Maness, Eddie Thomas and Jim Pridemore, members of LCCH's maintenance department, are "glad to get" a new autoclave and are in the process of getting it installed. Completion of electricity, plumbing and water supplies should have the pictured major piece of equipment "ready to go" by Thursday of this week.

Churches Urged Share Christmas

The happiest of seasons is upon us along with lots of bright expectations of good things to come Christmas in the churches, is an annual feature in the NEWS, this year we are inviting and expecting each minister in Lee County to share the program planned in his or her church.

Any minister who wishes to contribute a short article to be published in the Christmas edition may do so, space available will be used in an effort to celebrate the birth of Christ as well as food decorations and gifts.

This information must be in our office the first week of December.

Do Yourself A Favor --- Spend Your $$'s In Lee County

With Christmas just around the corner it's wise to remember all the benefits of shopping for the holidays right here in Lee County. You may be pleasantly surprised to find excellent merchandise plus a savings of time and gasoline expense.

Friday is "pay-day" at the Powell Valley News, so a few weeks ago I felt I should start Christmas shopping, muttering to myself that I wasn't going to receive a Christmas Club Check this year, I picked up my pocketbook and headed for the bank to cash my check. With money in my pocket, walking down the street I remembered some groceries that was needed if we had any "company" for Sunday dinner. I was hungry, (never buy groceries when you're hungry) so I left a goodly portion of my paycheck there.

All the time in back of my mind I was thinking, where should I start, then I remembered a family member that would like to own a new chain saw, a hardware store had advertised. I stashed the groceries in the car, and walked just a short distance, paid "cold" cash for the chain saw, my first Christmas gift, (as an extra courtesy the purchase was put in my car).

The hardware store used the money from my purchase to pay the sales clerk who wanted to save some of his payday, and buy a Christmas gift too. We, the sales clerk and I both were proud of ourselves, we were doing our Christmas shopping early.

The bank loaned some money (including that deposited by the hardware clerk) to local merchants who used the money to restock items that would increase sales. Business was much better, so they needed to hire new sales persons. One new helper used his paycheck to pay back his dad who had helped him financially while he was unemployed.

Dad, who had never really counted on getting the money back from his son, decided to use the money to splurge on a gift for his wife — splurge he did — bought a diamong ring at the local jewelers.

The jeweler was so pleased with the sale he decided to pay a bonus to the clerk who made the sale.

Now, the clerk had seen a beautiful cardigan sweater at the clothing store, it was advertised in the NEWS and she had gone to look last week, now she could buy it — A Christmas gift for her Mother, with the bonus money.

The store paid for the advertising that featured the sweater and by this time it was Friday again and time for another paycheck. Thinking about the way my own money came back to me, I decided to do all my Christmas shopping in Lee County. If I had bought my chain saw elsewhere none of my friends and neighbors in Lee County would have enjoyed the benefit of my well spent dollar.

The old adage, "Be it ever so humble — there's no place like home —" can be applied to Lee County. Doing business in your home county is very much like doing business with yourself. Your property values, community services, social environment and local taxes are favorably affected everytime you — or anyone else spends money in your own county.

The same dollar spent in another county or state buys the same merchandise, but all the fringe benefits go to the residents of that county or state, and the quality of life in your own Lee County suffers because you took away some of its dollars. Dollars serve as vitamins, to pep up the economy of Lee County.

Do yourself a favor — spend your dollars in Lee County — the biggest thrill you'll get is when you get to spend your dollar the second time around.

List Of Eligible Voters Is Posted For ASC Committee Elections

According to Charles M. Ingram, Lee County ASCS Director, a list of the names of all known eligible persons to receive a ballot in the upcoming annual ASC Committee election is available in the County ASCS Office.

ASCS operates under a farmer-elected committee system. This year's election will be by mail ballot between November 27 and December 7.

Anyone is eligible to vote in these farmer committee elections if they meet the following requirements: Any individual of legal voting age with an interest in a farm as owner, tenant or sharecropper who is eligible to participate in any ASCS program.

Several general provisions relate to ASC voter eligibility. A wife who operates a farm with her husband can vote if her name is on the deed of conveyance. Any person who is under legal voting age can vote if he or she runs a farm, and a legal guardian who runs a farm for a child can vote for the child. No person can be denied the right to vote because of race, sex, color, religion or national origin.

A ballot may be cast by any person who is eligible to vote in any county in which he or she is an eligible ASC voter but he or she cannot vote in more than one community in the county. If an eligible voter has separate farm interests in more than one community in the same county, special care will be taken to see that only one ballot is issued to that voter.

KEEP VIRGINIA CLEAN

Farmers Reminded Of Corn Low Yield Benefits

All corn producers who have an accurate acreage report on file at the Lee County ASCS office have insurance protection against all natural causes of loss to their crop. Producers who sustain a 40 percent loss or greater to their crops are eligible for low yield assistance.

According to Clay Jones, a member of the county ASCS Committee, producers who plan on destroying their crop should file a claim immediately with the county office. An ASCS representative must visit the farm and appraise the potential crop production before destruction. If the producer is going to sell the crop directly from the field, the farm will also need to be visited prior to harvest and the potential production appraised.

Producers who plan on harvesting their crop have 15 days after harvest to file a claim. They are reminded to keep their 1981 crop production separate from that of prior years and to also keep production from different farms separate.

U.S. corn production is forecast at a record high 8.08 billion bushels. Virginia growers are expecting to produce 51 million bushels of corn for grain. This figure compares with 32.7 million bushels produced in 1980 and 51 million in 1979.

USDA Sets Farm Export Value At $46 Billion

Farm exports for fiscal year 1981 are now valued at $46 billion, $5.5 billion more than last year's record, according to recent report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The total of $1 billion lower than the February estimate because of reduced volume and prices for feed grains and oilseeds.

Some factors that may affect farm exports for the remainder of the year include changes in general economic activity abroad and consumer demand for food, developments in livestock and poultry output and feed requirements, and potential developments following the lifting of the sales suspension to the USSR.

According to the report, farm exports in the first 6 months of the year amounted to $24.3 billion, compared with $21.3 billion a year ago. Grain exports are running 10 percent above a year earlier, offsetting a 14 percent decline in the export volume of soybeans and soy products.

USDA officials say Japan will remain the largest market for farm products in fiscal 1981, having brought heavily in the first half of the year. Exports of red meats, poultry, wheat, corn, and soybeans to Japan were unusually strong, bringing total agricultural imports from the U.S. to $3.8 billion. Mexico has already taken $1.6 billion in farm products from the U.S. this year and looks to take about $1.1 or $1.3 billion more, making it our second largest market.

Agricultural imports remain at $18 billion, 4 percent more than last year. As a result, the agricultural trade balance of an estimated $28 billion is nearly $5 billion more than a year ago.

Thanksgiving Program Held By Morgan Memorial Women

The prayer of Mrs. Oscar Smith opened the November meeting of the Morgan Memorial United Methodist Women which was held in the home of Mrs. Snyder Harris.

Following the program, "Praise For Light, Praise For Darkness", which was conducted by Mrs. Robert Gibson, Jr., a World Thank Offering was received. The purpose of the program was to make this occasion a time of reflection as well as praise: to acknowledge that life is made up of highs, lows and in-betweens, and to express gratitude for the whole of life. Mrs. Gibson was assisted in her presentation by Mrs. James Wright, Mrs. Robert Charles Smith and Mrs. Gladys Campbell.

Participants were invited to share aspects of their lives in the past year: events which were ordinary and unexciting, yet contributed to the richness of life; events which were difficult, yet were filled with "wonderful things" and events which brought special joys.

The World Thank Offering which was received gives United Methodist Women an opportunity for additional gifts for missions. These offerings along with pledge funds support all of the world and national mission programs of the church, as well as leadership development experiences for United Methodist Women.

Mrs. Georgia Hounshell presided over the business session in which the following officers for 1982 were approved: President, Mrs. Oscar Smith; Vice President, Mrs. James Wright; Secretary, Mrs. Snyder Harris; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry Campbell; Secretary of Program Resources, Mrs. Snyder Harris.

Others selected as coordinators were, Mrs. Van Grabeel, Christian Personhood, Mrs. John Hounshell, Jr., Supportive Community, Mrs Jerry Hounshell, Christian Social Involvement, Mrs Robert Charles Smith, Christian Global Concerns

Those selected for the Committee on Nominations were: Mrs. Van Grabeel, Mrs. Robert Charles Smith and Mrs. John Seale

Chairpersons of committees were: Reading Program, Miss Mary Stickley, Membership, Miss Bashie Kincaid; and Public Relations, Mrs. John Seale

Tentative plans were made for a Christmas dinner for members, their husbands, and other guests to be held at the church

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Henry Livesay wishes to express their sincerest gratitude to all who were with us in our time of bereavement.

Thanks to friends and relatives for all the beautiful flowers, good food and expressions of love.

A special thanks to Rev Dee Owens for a beautiful message and to Rev Ross Crider for his assistance

Also thanks to Sturgill Funeral Homes and the Lee County Rescue Squad

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

I recently joined with a number of my colleagues to introduce a Resolution expressing the sense of the House that the existing entitlement for General Revenue Sharing be maintained

A proposal has been introduced by the Treasury Department that would further reduce funding levels for revenue sharing This amendment would mean a loss of $550 million to County and Municipal governments

I am a strong advocate of reducing Federal spending at all levels However, revenue sharing was reauthorized by the 96th Congress through 1983 and is widely supported by State, County and Municipal Governments. It has proven to be a cost efficient and unrestricted method by which the Federal government shares its revenue with these local governments The State payment has already been eliminated effecting a substantial reduction in the total program. The entitlement payments to local subdivisions should continue

State and local governments have demonstrated their willingness to support the President's economic recovery program. To reduce revenue sharing now, when many of these governments are already into their budget year, would pose serious financial problems for County and Municipal officials. I do not believe that that is the President's intent

This is one federal program which has given the local governments the ability to determine their own needs The Federal government has made a commitment to local governments that revenue sharing payments will continue through 1983 They have made their own plans and commitments based on that criteria. Any further reductions, or a phase out of this good program would be a mistake, in my opinion, and could very well jeopardize the ability of County and Municipal governments to meet their own commitments, at serious harm to all within their jurisdictions

I shall remain committed to, and continue to work for further reductions in Federal spending But one segment of society must not be expected to sacrifice more than its share of the burden

Tips For Parents

Motivating Children To Read

It is important for children to read for pleasure and to develop a lifetime reading habit," says Dr Nicholas P Criscuolo, a member of the International Reading Association Board of Directors. Criscuolo suggests five specific ways in which parents can motivate reading in the home

1 Make books accessible Parents can consult many different lists to find books which are appealing to children of different ages

2 Provide time for children to read Setting aside a time when the whole family reads together can often motivate reading Books, newspapers and magazines can all be useful reading materials

3 Have children share reading experiences. "Books are friends and children need time to share their experiences with them"

4 Make a record of your child's reading or let the child keep a record Illustrating graphically how much leisure reading is done at home is often a way to motivate a child to read

5 Take advantage of television spinoffs. "Parents should notice which programs children like to watch and then suggest books with similar characters or themes."

Criscuolo adds "Reading is caught, not taught, and parents should seize every natural opportunity to see that children catch all the excitement and pleasure reading offers

Mrs. Fugate Hosts the W.O.C. of Mt. Carmel

The Women of the Church of Mt. Carmel Presbyterian met with Mrs. Tom B. Fugate on Tuesday afternoon for their regular Bible Study.

After the song, "God Will Take Care of You", and a circle of Prayer, a devotional message on Prayer was shared by president, Mrs. Charles Emmett. "Prayer makes even a child," she stated, "conscious of being close to God, and it's far more real than direct dialing by telephone, for prayer provides instant communication with God in Heaven."

The Bible lesson which was entitled "The New Testament - Promises Fulfilled" was discussed, with thoughts shared by Mrs. Emma Campbell on how Jesus reveals God's will for us. Mrs. Fugate gave ideas on how Jesus gives us power to do God's will, which was followed by thoughts on Jesus Fulfills the Promise, as shared by Miss Florence Bayless.

Mrs. Maud Bales then spoke on being good stewards. "Our life as Christians," she stated, "is really to be People of God who seek the Lord for our happiness and our joy. We find peace in doing God's will," she continued, "for He gives us courage to carry on each day by the assurance that His promises will untimately triumph, for God's Kingdom shall come!"

Mrs. Fugate, hostess, served refreshments during a period of fellowship.

MECC Receives Award From Consolidation Coal

Consolidation Coal Company of Pocahontas, Virginia has awarded $3,000 to Mountain Empire Community College. Gene F. Bailey, Manager of Manpower Services for the company, made the presentation to Dr. Victor B. Ficker, President of MECC, on October 26, 1981. The funds will be used for student scholarships and program development.

This marks the third year that Consolidation Coal Company has pledged its support to the College through monetary endowments. A number of graduates from the Mining Technology Program have been employed by Consolidation Coal.

Now 200 years old, the Iron Bridge over the Severn River in Shropshire, England, was the first bridge to be constructed entirely of iron.

CVC Announces Math And Science Contest

Students from forty area high schools have been invited to participate in the Eleventh Annual Sigma Zeta Mathematics and Science Contest, to be held at Clinch Valley College on Saturday, November 21.

Science tests for teams and individuals will be from 10:00 a.m. to noon, and mathematics testing from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. Exhibits and displays will be sponsored by various departments of the College in the afternoon hours, and the movie, "Black Hole" will be shown at 10:30 a.m. and again at 1:00 p.m.

The awards banquet will begin at 5:30 p.m. in the College's Jefferson Lounge. The winning teams will receive trophies or plaques to be displayed at their schools, and individual winners in both mathematics and science competitions will be given trophies and scholarships to Clinch Valley College.

The winner of the annual American and World History Contest, to be held during the afternoon of November 21, also will be announced at the conclusion of the banquet.

At the 1980 Competition, the Abingdon High School team captured the Grand Award; Whitesburg High School took first place in the mathematics team competition; and Abingdon High School took top honors in the science team competition. Scholarships for top individual scores were awarded to Tom Peake, J. J. Kelly High School; Jay Adams, Abingdon High School; Kim Arthur and Teresa Nichols, both from Whitesburg High School; Jon Cox, Jonesville High School; and Chuck Chaffins, Pikeville High School.

Fifteen other students won Honorable Mention and $100 scholarships. The Titration Contest sponsored by the Chemistry Department at the College was won in 1980 by Mike Wolfe, Pound High School.

The contest is sponsored by the Alpha Xi Chapter of Sigma Zeta and the Division of Mathematics and Science at Clinch Valley College.

Elk Knob PSTO To Sponsor Covered Dish Supper

Elk Knob PSTO will sponsor a covered dish supper Tuesday, December 1 at 7 p.m. The program will be presented by Mrs. Latton's and Mrs Thomas rooms and the band will perform.

The PSTO will furnish the ham and turkey and drinks. We would like to ask those who attend to please bring a covered dish of your choice. If in doubt on what to bring, you may contact Susan B Willis at 546 2100 for information on what is needed.

The Elk Knob PSTO has raised much money over the past years and used it for school related activities. However, it seems as the years go by the turn out for the meetings are somewhat decreasing. We encourage all parents and teachers to get involved in PSTO as it is to you and your children's advantage. We need ideas from the Woodway Community on how to improve the PSTO.

Please attend the December 1st meeting for a "get involved in PSTO" dinner, enjoy the program and share your ideas for a better PSTO.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Rev. Roger Johnson, pastor of the Lakeside Missionary Baptist Church at Mohawk about two miles from Keokee on the road to Lake Keokee, invites everyone to attend church and Sunday school.

Services are held every Wednesday night at 6:00 p.m., and at present Rev. Johnson and the members are enjoying book study on the Book of Revelations.

Sunday school is conducted at 10:00 a.m. on Sunday mornings, and church services at 11:00 a.m., the Sunday evening service at 6:00 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

—Brenda Donovan of Kingsport enjoyed visiting last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bobrosky, Jr.

Polly Deaton was pleased to have her son, Arlie Deaton of Augusta, Ga., visit with her recently.

—Ballard T. Short, who is very ill with pneumonia continues to be a patient in the Morristown Hamblen Hospital according to word received by his daughters, Pauline Allen and Deloras Short of Big Stone Gap. We hope he will be improving soon and wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Short who is now 88 years old was a former resident of Keokee and has many relatives and friends in this area.

—Mrs. Maxie Morris accompanied her son, Randy Morris back to his home in Norton, Va., on Friday evening where she was overnight guest of Randy and wife, Ann and family. She enjoyed spending some time with them and their children.

Rev. and Mrs. Rogers To Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary

Rev. James Rogers and wife, Amelia will celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Sunday, December 6, with open house from 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. at their home in the parsonage near the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church where Rev. Rogers is pastor of the church.

They wish to invite all their friends and loved ones to be with them on this occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

Members of the W.M.U. will be hostesses and serve the guests.

—Mrs. Maude Barker of Keokee and daughter, Barbara Cummings of Norton, were in Kingsport, last Thursday.

—Ordie Morris of Keokee, also her sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Moore of Appalachia, and brothers, Harvy Flanary, Jr., of Imboden, Va., and Alan Flanary of Appalachia, visited their brother and sister in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Flanary at Johnson City, last Wednesday.

Noah recently underwent surgery and is now convalescing at his home.

—A baby shower was given for Mrs. Trish (Moskol) Rogers on November 5, at the fellowship hall at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church.

Games and contests were the diversion of the hour. There were eighteen guests present. Hostesses were Mrs. James Rogers and daughters, Karen and Pam, and Mrs. Sandy Kelly.

—Mrs. Earl Russell of Fall Branch, Tn., was Saturday overnight guest of her brother and sister in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Clarkston near Dryden, her sister, Iva Clarkston, of Keokee joined her there and Mrs. M.J. Clarkston accompanied them to Keavy, Ky. near Corbin where they enjoyed spending the day Sunday visiting with their sister, Monette Wells.

—Vilder Bush and Carl Barker, Jr., of Dayton, Ohio were visitors in Keokee last weekend. Carl visited his mother, Mrs. Pauline Barker, and Vilder was a guest at the home of Elder and Mrs. Roy Flanary.

On Saturday Vilder attended church services at the Oak Grove Primitive Baptist Church.

Carl and Vilder stopped by for a short visit with Mrs. Echel Edens on Sunday before returning to Ohio.

Mrs. Eugene Dinsmore visited with Mrs. Edens on Wednesday afternoon.

—Mrs. Flo Wells of Stonega and Mrs. Margaret White of Big Stone Gap and her son, Joe Bill White and family of Wise, also other members of the White family of Big Stone Gap went to Greer, South Carolina last weekend and attended the funeral services of Lillian Haney on Sunday, November 15.

Mrs. Haney passed away on Friday. She was survived by her husband, Luther Haney and three sons. She was the sister of Flo Wells and Margaret White.

—Thanks to Thomas E. Clark, Sr., of Eagle Creek, Oregon for his nice letter received on Thursday. He is a native of Exeter, and his wife was reared at Keokee in the Mohawk area. He worked in the mines for many years and went west for the last time in about the year 1928. He is interested in relatives in this area and the book published about the Clarkstons and also book about Keokee Village.

He has a sister, Arkie Clarkston who is now in the Green Hill Rest Home at Dryden. They are the only living members of the family.

—Also recently received an interesting letter from Katherine Keister of Alabama who spent her early years in Keokee. She keeps in touch with friends and relatives through the newspapers. Thanks to her for her nice letter.

—Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Elsie Caroline Holbrook 81, of Nora, who passed away last Thursday in the Johnston Memorial Hospital in Abingdon, Va.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:00 p.m. at the Huff Cook Funeral Home Chapel with Elder Roy Flanary of Keokee and Elder Jennings Short officiating.

Carroll Family Reunion

The descendents of Hodge and Dora Covey Carroll will have their first reunion on Saturday, November 28, 1981 at Bethel, United Methodist Church; the church where Mr. and Mrs. Carroll attended with their nine children, eight of whom are still living. Evelyn, Herman, Tina, Harding, and Wilma Jean live in Lee County. Roxie lives in Portsmouth, Virginia, and Mable and Osia live in Mentor, Ohio.

All descendents of Hodge and Dora Carroll are asked to meet at Bethel Church on Sugar Run at 5:45 p.m. on Saturday, November 28, 1981 for a pot luck supper (drinks, bread, plates, etc. will be furnished). At 7:00 p.m. we will have a period of special singing, devotions, and fellowship.

MECC Hosts Virginia Lung Association Seminar "Stabilization And Transportation Of The Newborn"

On November 7 over 50 area health agency personnel attended a seminar co-sponsored by the Virginia Lung Association and Mountain Empire Community College. The purpose of the seminar was to educate area hospital emergency room personnel and life saving crew members as to the proper procedures in delivering an infant, where delivery of the infant cannot be averted, during transport. Complications in such emergency delivery cases was discussed by Marian Kathryn Solowy Myers, M.D., Professor of Pediatrics at East Tennessee State University. William Dykes, Jr., Neonatal Respiratory Therapist, presented procedures for preparing equipment and materials for management of the cardio-respiratory status of the infant.

In the afternoon session, Selman I. Welt, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the East Tennessee State University College of Medicine presented the proper delivery process of an infant during transport.

This seminar addressed a critical area of concern for Southwest Virginia medical personnel in that this area of the state is credited with the highest infant mortality rate in Virginia. Agencies participating in the Seminar included hospital representatives from Lonesome Pine, Big Stone Gap, Holston Valley, Kingsport, Tennessee, St. Mary's, Norton, Virginia, and Johnson Memorial, Abingdon. Rescue squad members from Lee County and Wise County were in attendance along with Lee County Health Department personnel.

Dr. Marian Kathryn Myers presents area health care providers with procedures for dealing with emergency delivery of infants during transport.

Dryden FBLA Attends Fall Conference

Saturday, October 24, Future Business Leaders of America from the Dryden Chapter attended the Regional Fall FBLA Conference.

The conference was held at Clinch Valley College from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and began with a General Session which was followed by refreshments.

The fourteen members and an advisor who attended were free to attend two of the five workshops that were offered.

The workshops included: "March of Dimes"; "What Do You Have to Offer an Employer?"; "Tests and Communication Skills"; "Preparation for Skills Tests"; and "Duties and Responsibilities of FBLA Officers and Members". Dryden FBLA members who attended the conference enjoyed the experience.

CVC Hosts LMU

The Clinch Valley Cavaliers will play the Lincoln Memorial Railsplitters on Saturday, November 21, 1981. The game will be held at Powell Valley High School in Big Stone Gap, Virginia, and will be sponsored by the Big Stone Gap Lions Club.

The game will begin at 7:30 p.m., and should feature some exciting basketball. LMU returns several players from their district championship team of a year ago, and are expected to place at or near the top of the VSAC again in 1981-82. CVC also returns several key players, so basketball fans can expect a repeat of last years exciting game, won by LMU by a score of 86-83.

Fort Lee Retirees Council Holds Open House

The Mobile Team of the Retiree Council from Ft. Lee, Va., held open house at the Radford Army Ammunition Plant on Saturday, November 14, 1981.

This open house was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wildel J.R. Canter of Jonesville. Wildel J. R. Canter is a member of the Ft. Lee retiree council, representing the retirees in all counties from Jonesville to Roanoke.

This open house was a huge success with some 700 in attendance. They received much needed information, and assistance.

The retiree council is set up to assist retirees, dependents of retirees, and their widows

The old saying that ignorance is bliss is not always true Many retirees who receive the publications put out by the DA, and Local retiree Council RSO's just discard the material they receive, and offer no help to anyone, but this is wrong, give as you receive.

One item of interest to all retirees, is the change in CHAMPUS. The forms submitted for payment by Doctors and hospitals are the users responsibility. The new and current address is Champus Service Center, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of South Carolina, P.O. Box 6119, Columbia, S.C 29260. Toll Free No. 1 800 845-2572. Any items of interest this council can use and/or help for retirees, dependents, and widows call 546 3497, or write Wildel J.R Canter, Route 4, Box 284, Jonesville, Va. 24263

"Gifts From Your Kitchen"

"Gifts From Your Kitchen" was the theme of the annual Holiday Foods program conducted November 9 sponsored by the Virginia Extension Service. Fighting inflation, reducing the cost of gifts for Christmas, and the importance of giving personal gifts made by individuals was stressed by Extension Agents Betty Jean Moore, Lee County; Jane Mullins, Wise County; and Donna Graham, Scott County; as they presented demonstrations on baking holiday foods and inexpensive ways to wrap them for holiday gifts.

Mrs. Harryet Blackwell, Educational Representative from Litton, gave a very informative program on the selection and use of microwave ovens.

Lovely Christmas wreaths and Christmas tree ornaments were exhibited by Lee County Extension Homemaker Clubs.

Cold Weather Tips Offered For People With Lung Diseases

"People with chronic lung diseases -- asthma, emphysema or chronic bronchitis -- should be careful about going out when it is very cold, very windy or very hot," says Mrs. Anne E. Hall of the Virginia Lung Association, Southwest Region. "And if leaves are being burned in fall clean-up, the smoke can start days of misery for people with emphysema or asthma."

Very cold air or windy weather can trigger asthma attacks and make breathing harder for the person with emphysema, she explained. Extremely hot weather saps the already low energy of the patient who cannot breathe easily.

If possible, she said, people with lung disease should stay inside during weather extremes. If leaves are being burned in the neighborhood, doors and windows should be kept shut and activity kept to a minimum so the lungs and heart are not strained.

"If you have lung problems and must go out, pick hours when temperatures are most moderate," says Anne E. Hall. "Walk slowly to conserve your strength for breathing. And if you need more information, contact your Virginia Lung Association, Southwest Region in Bristol."

Nature Facts

International Wildlife magazine reports that the sun is losing about 4,500,000 tons of its mass every second due to energy production. At that rate, it will probably start burning itself out in about 5,000,000,000 years

Growing Child

One cannot expect a small child to overcome fear just because someone says there is nothing to be afraid of.

Fear of a swimming pool full of water is a case in point, according to Grow ing Child, the monthly child development news letter. Nothing is more certain to produce lasting fear of water than a parent's determination that his or her child will overcome fear of getting in the pool -- immediately.

Such a fear is not a shameful thing to be forced out into the open and conquered. Water is a known quantity to the child - but it has been known up to now in the limited amounts of the bathtub or puddle. A pool is a new, large, and to him, seemingly endless amount of water. It is different. He wants to approach it gradually, to explore it on his own terms and in his own good time.

Thus, no matter how confident an explorer your child has become, he may be hesitant and wary when he finds himself in a new and strange situation. An unknown relative who snatches him up for an enthusiastic hug may re duce your child to tears and struggling. A large, noisy although friendly dog may panic a child whose previous experience with pets has been limited to a quiet, small dog

Such fears, trivial, though they may seem to an adult, are entirely sen sible and realistic from a child's point of view

If we are to help a child be brave, we must begin by respecting his worries and fears for what they are questions. "Will this hurt? What is this? What should I do?" Talk to him calmly. Don't pressure him to hug Aunt Mary or pet the "nice doggie." Give him a chance to recover his balance. Then over a period of time, give him frequent opportunities to learn more about the fear ed object or situation Work gently but persis tently to help him conquer any fear which may hobble his independence

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month by month. For more information on the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write to Grow ing Child, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, IN 47902. In clude child's birthdate when writing.

Winter Care For Houseplants

The type of care houseplants receive is dependent upon the seasons.

Those gardeners who brought their plants indoors after a summer outdoors have to change their habits of caring for them, said Virginia Tech Extension specialist in home horticulture, Diane Relf.

A plant indoors in the winter, with lower light levels, cooler temperatures and shorter days, requires much less water than it did outdoors all summer.

If the plant has become pot bound, either re-pot it in a larger container or prune the top and roots in equal proportion and pot in the same container with fresh soil.

Be sure to clean the windows from which the plant is getting light. The difference in the amount of light available to the plant can be significant, said the faculty member in Tech's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

"Home gardeners, who have the space and time, often build a wide shelf in front of a window for plants," she said. "It is lined with water proof material and filled with gravel. The plants are set on top of the gravel. This kind of location is excellent for the most delicate plants which require high humidity."

Job Options For Women In The 80's

Whether you're looking for your first full-time job after high school or a part-time job while school is still in session, the U.S Department of Labor notes that the outlook for the 80's will be good in many job fields.

A booklet aimed for women job seekers can be especially useful for career novices. For your copy of Job Options for Women in the 80's, send $1.75 to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 201J, Pueb lo, Colorado 81009

What is the job outlook for the 80's? Those born during the post war "baby boom" will be the largest group of job hunters. Many women in this age group had great difficulty finding their first jobs dur ing the 70's. And, although most are now employed, the competition for higher level jobs and promotions will continue to be stiff.

But good news for those born in the 60's. Low birth rates at that time will mean less competition and lower youth unemploy ment However, the lower birth rates will also cause some job areas to shrink like teaching This will be counterbalanced by the in creasing need to expand services for older people like health care

Young people out on their first job hunt can begin by making a list of what they do best, from fixing cars to babysitting, from a skill in music to a skill at mathematics or computers. Next, write down all of your job ex periences, including volun teer work.

If you are under 18 years of age, see your guidance counselor to find out how to get a work permit. And, if you don't have a social security number, call your local social security office to get information.

Then, begin making as many job contacts as you can it's really a full time job just finding employ ment. Start with friends, relatives, the classified ads, and call the personnel offices of large stores and companies Contact busi ness and professional or ganizations, trade associa tions, and community or ganizations that have in formation on job oppor tunities State employ ment services are another good source And, a num ber of states have em ployment resource direc tors for women - contact the state's commission on the status of women

Finally, your educational attainment can help you land a good position. In general, college graduates are more likely to be employed and hold higher paying professional posi tions. However, the sub ject you major in may make a difference Gradu ates with degrees in science and mathematics usually have little diffi culty finding jobs, while many humanities and edu cation majors may find it extremely hard to find work in their field

Please tell the Store or Firm manager you saw his ad in the Powell Valley News.

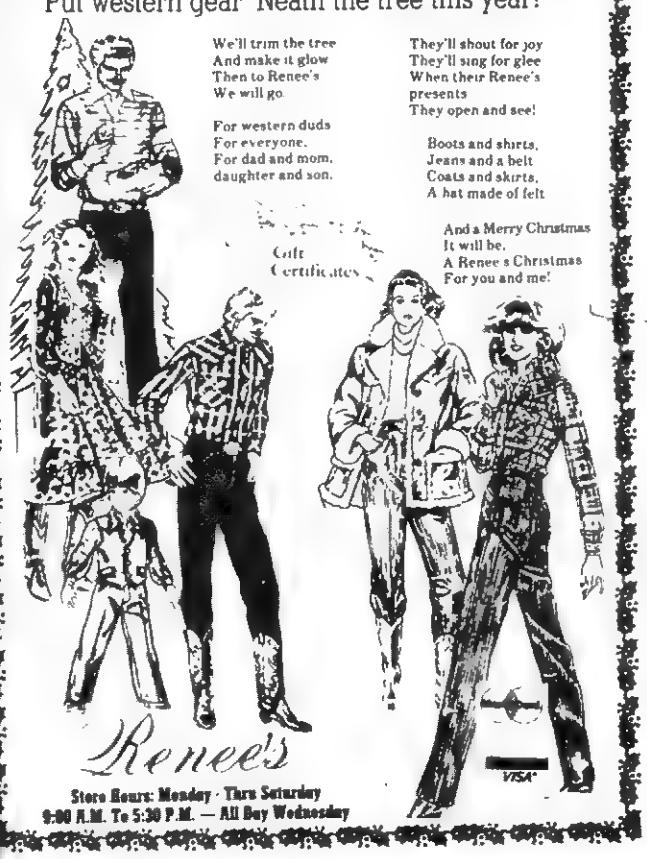
Put western gear 'Neath the tree this year!


We'll trim the tree
And make it glow
Then to Renee's
We will go.
For western duds
For everyone.
For dad and mom,
daughter and son.
They'll shout for joy
They'll sing for glee
When their Renee's presents
They open and see!
Boots and shirts,
Jeans and a belt
Coats and skirts,
A hat made of felt
And a Merry Christmas
It will be,
A Renee's Christmas
For you and me!

For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this newspaper.

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent -- and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the promise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1210.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

Notice To Classified Advertisers

All advertising for the Classified section should be in this office, with payment, not later than Monday noon for publication.

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS of the ROSEHILL, STICKLEY WATERWORKS, INC. Public Water Supply
How Bourgeoyer, Radio and TV

Stickley Waterworks, Inc., owner of the Rose Hill public water system has been advised by State Health Officials that the subject public water system is in violation of Virginia Waterworks Regulations because water being served to the customers in Rose Hill did not comply with a Primary Maximum Contaminant Level during the Third Quarter of 1981 (July, August and September).

The State Health Department is concerned because the bacteriological standard has been exceeded before: during the 4th Quarter of 1977, the 2nd Quarter of 1978, the 2nd Quarter of 1979, the 3rd Quarter of 1979 and the 3rd Quarter of 1980. The Health Department has advised us of certain improvements that are needed on the chlorination facilities that they feel will ensure the water is properly treated and will prevent future violations. We hope to have the improvements completed in the near future.

Further violations, however minor, will be reported to you as part of new Federal and State Waterworks Regulations aimed at increasing consumer awareness of condition that exist in public water systems.

This notice is in keeping with new State Waterworks Regulations.

Defendants

The object of this suit is to partition the land of Suza A. Lewis.

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs pray that the Court issue an order (1) adjudicating that partition of this real estate among the parties entitled thereto cannot conveniently be made; that none of the interested parties is willing to buy and pay for the shares of the other parties and that the interests of the parties entitled to share in this real estate would be promoted by a sale thereof; (2) directing a sale of the real estate in such manner as to yield the best price and directing that the net proceeds, after payment of the costs and expenses of the suit and sale, be divided among the parties according to their respective rights and interests, and (3) granting such other and further relief as to equity may seem meet and the nature of their case may require, including the allowance of a reasonable attorney's fee for complainant for services rendered to the parceners unrepresented by counsel.

An affidavit has been made and filed that the defendants are not residents of this State, that diligence has been used by or on behalf of plaintiff to ascertain in what country or city the defendants are without effect, it is ordered that they appear before this court on or before the 24 day of December, 1981 and protect their interests herein.

New Debt Collection Policies

The Social Security Administration is redesigning its debt collection system to bring it into compliance with the joint General Accounting Office/Department of Justice standards for debt collection by Federal agencies. These Federal standards call for aggressive collection to recover all monies owed to Federal agencies. The standards are a significant departure from Social Security's current debt collection policies, but are necessary because of the growing losses on uncollected debts being experienced by many Federal agencies.

Most of the debt owed to the Social Security Administration results from Social Security, supplemental security income, and black lung beneficiaries being paid more than they are due in monthly benefits. Although Social Security has been collecting outstanding debts, the more aggressive Federal collection standards are expected to result in a higher percentage of recovery.

The Federal standards offer several collection options. These options would permit Federal agencies to:

--collect interest on all overdue debts and debts that are repaid in installments.

-report overdue debts to commercial credit bureaus, and

- use private collection agencies to collect overdue debts.

These options would supplement the collection methods agencies currently use to collect debts

The style of Social Security collection letters may have to be changed to meet the Federal standards. Those standards require a series of letters using progressively stronger language as the first step in the debt collection process. And, a monthly bill for people who repay their debts in installments is also being considered as part of the revised collection process.

Teddy Roosevelt was the first U.S. President to intervene to settle a strike rather than break it.

LIFE HEALTH

Tired, Run-Down Condition

The pace of today's world, with its constant stresses and demands, is producing a generation of "tired" people"

Whether individuals are able to maintain the pace, depends on the condition of the nervous system

Vital nerve energy, flowing from the brain through the spinal column, maintains the peak efficiency of the human machine

That tired, run-down feeling can develop when anything happens to interfere with the flow of vital nerve energy to the organs, glands and muscles ... anything which interferes with the alignment of the spine or creates pressure on the nerves can interrupt or retard the flow of vital nerve energy The result fatigue.

The chiropractor, using scientific instruments, locates the areas of nerve pressure. With gentle, skillful hands he makes skillful adjustments which realigns the spine, relieves tensions and pressures, and allows nature to restore the body to health.

With the nervous system properly tuned, the tired, run-down feeling disappears and pep energy, and ambition return. Another Health and Life Article from the Office of

Virginia Crime Prevention Association Holds Fall Conference

The best way to control crime is to stop it before it can occur.

A common sensical approach to be sure, but one that was echoed repeatedly to some ninety participants of the Virginia Crime Prevention Association at their fall conference held in Roanoke today.

The day long conference, dedicated to the improvement of crime prevention programs in Virginia's localities, featured a series of presentations on the activities of various crime prevention groups both national and statewide.

Ms. Mary Beth Wilson of the National Committee on Crime and Delinquency reported that Virginia was one of the leaders on the national scale in developing effective crime prevention programs and should serve as an example to other states as to the effectiveness and efficiency of crime prevention as a tool for crime control available to localities.

The main address of the day focused on rural crime. Dr. Howard Phillips of the National Rural Crime Prevention Center at Ohio State University told the conference participants that rural crime in Virginia has increased almost 17% adding that vandalism and common theft, especially of fuel stocks, are the major criminal acts being committed causing thousands of dollars in losses to farmers and other rural citizens.

According to Dr. Phillips, the major obstacle in developing programs to combat rural crime is that it is estimated that more than half of the crimes committed in rural areas are never reported to the police. Because of this, rural law enforcement is deprived of vital information necessary to develop effective strategy to combat the problem.

Other conference sessions were held to inform participants on several current programs associated with crime prevention.

Mrs. Lorri Damron gave a presentation on a program designed to teach school age children responsible behavior and personal safety habits. The program known as TIPS is a double acronym for Teaching Individuals Protective Strategies/Teaching Individuals Positive Solutions) was developed to be introduced into regular classroom activities for grades K through 8.

Sessions were also held to discuss the use of volunteers in crime analysis and the use of crime prevention as a risk management tool for business.

In commenting on the activities of the conference and the purpose of the VCPA, Association President, H. Ernest Rorrer of the Virginia Beach Police Department said, "Those of us who are professional crime prevention practitioners are firm in the belief that the future of crime control must be found in the full commitment and cooperation of law enforcement, business and citizens, in other words the entire community, in removing the opportunity for crime to occur. This is because crime is not the specific problem of just the individual or of a particular group or organization, but crime is a community problem. And if there is to be found a solution to this problem, then it will have to come from all the resources a community can bring to focus."

Management And Labor Units To Promote American Coal

Formation of the American Coal Foundation, an organization to promote the use of coal, was announced today by leaders of management and labor in the coal industry.

The Foundation will be a way for the coal industry and its allies to assure the American public that "coal is a reliable domestic fuel that can be mined and used safely and cleanly," said Sam Church, President of the United Mine Workers of America and one of the four founders of the new group.

The Foundation will conduct a national advertising program to point out the advantages of coal, the United States' most abundant, strategic energy resource.

R.E. (Gene) Samples, chairman and chief executive officer of Consolidation Coal Co. and another founder, said "the American Coal Foundation provides an opportunity for all elements of the coal industry to work together to make the public more aware of coal and its role in the country's future a topic on which we all agree."

Other organizers of the group are Robert H. Quenon, president and chief executive officer of Peabody Coal Co., who said "the Foundation will symbolize the coal industry's determination to meet the nation's energy needs," and Gary Drummond, chief executive officer of Drummond Coal Co., who pointed out that the new Foundation would be reaching "beyond the coal industry to every segment of society interested in coal "for support of the effort. Church, Samples, Quenon and Drummond will be the Foundation's directors.

The Board will meet soon to elect officers, begin the process of raising funds, and appoint committees to begin the American Coal Foundation's advertising program.

Sheriff's Report

Reportedly, Arvil Skidmore told Lee County Sheriff's Deputies a Marlin 30-30 model and a Richardson 25-gauge shotgun were stolen from his home at Dryden. The incident is being investigated.

Lee County sheriff's deputies recovered a stolen pick-up truck from a barnyard in western Lee County Sunday. Vandals reportedly entered the home of Ben Sergent of Jonesville and removed the truck keys. The truck was found abandoned on Tyler Richmond's farm in Ewing. Still under investigation is the reported theft of three pistols and ammunition taken in the same incident.

A 1972 Gold Chevy (car) reported stolen on Monday and belonging to Harold Smith of Big Stone Gap was later recovered by Lee County sheriff's department at Long Hollow Junction 640 and 643.

Southern Railway of St. Charles reported the weekend theft of a 12 volt battery. The incident is under investigation and has been reported to railway authorities.

A concerned citizen phoned in a possible breaking and entering at the Arcade in Dryden yesterday morning. Police termed it "suspicious activity." The incident is under investigation.

The Virginia War Memorial Commission and the Division of State Parks announced today that the Vietnam Wing of the Virginia War Memorial, located in Richmond, will be officially dedicated on November 20, 1981, at 10:00 a.m.

Dedication speeches will be presented by the honorable John N. Dalton, Governor of Virginia, and retured General William C. Westmoreland, former commander of U.S. Troops in Vietnam and former U.S. Army Chief of Staff. Presiding will be Cecil W. Taylor, Vice Chairman of the Virginia War Memorial Commission.

The Wing, which honors the Virginians killed in Vietnam, bears the name of each casualty engraved on the two story glass panels overlooking the James River. In keeping with past precedent, Vietnam war artifacts are being installed in bronze coffers. The war memorial complex was originally dedicated in 1956 as recognition to Virginia's casualties of World War II and Korea. It is located on Belvidere Street (Routes 1 and 301) at the north end of the Robert E. Lee Bridge.

The ceremony will include a combined honor guard, a fly over by Virginia Air National Guard aircraft and echo taps performed by the 392nd United States Army Band.

Members of the families of Vietnam casualties and the public are invited to join the War Memorial Commission and other distinguished guests at the ceremony.

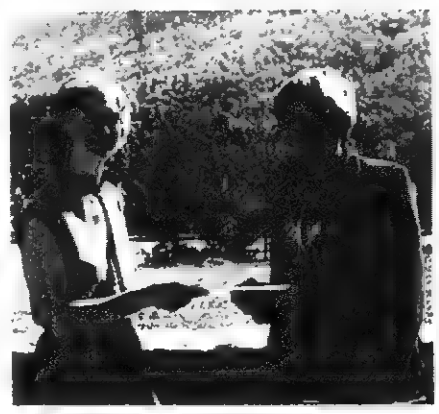
Secretarial Student Receives Scholarship Award At MECC

The Mountain Empire Chapter of the Professional Secretaries International awarded a scholarship covering tuition for fall quarter to Ms. Carmen Lockhart who is a student at Mountain Empire Community College. (College Accelerated Program-Secretarial)

The CAPS secretarial program was created for students who have achieved proficiency in basic secretarial skills before entering college. These students are awarded credit for their previously acquired abilities and placed in college classes accordingly.

The scholarship is given by the PSI local chapter in an effort to assist young people in their education and professional growth toward a secretarial career.

The presentation was made by Nila Jones, PSI Scholarship Chairperson at the annual Fall Seminar, "Nine to Five", on September 11, 1981 at the college.



Carmen Lockhart, MECC student from Jonesville, receives a scholarship award from Nila Jones, professional secretaries international.

Ms. Carmen Lockhart, the daughter of Paul and Thelma Lockhart graduated from Jonesville High School in 1980 where she was active four years in the Future Business Leaders of America Association and served as Miss FBLA for 1980. Ms. Lockhart is President of the Mountain Empire Chapter, Future Secretaries Association, and a second year honor student at MECC.

Livesay Will Direct Scout Program

The Sequoyah Council of the Boy Scouts of America recently named Arthur L. Livesay chairman of the 1981-82 fund raising campaign for the Lonesome Pine District. Mr. Livesay's scouting experience began as a Boy Scout when he attained the rank of Eagle. He was scout master and Explorer advisor for 25 years and served on the executive board of the Lonesome Pine Council.

Livesay served as scout leader to the 1957 National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., and in March 1971 received the silver beaver award, the council's highest honor, for distinguished service to scouting. He is presently employed as Director of Vocational Education by the Wise County School Board.

Arthur L. Livesay

Mr. Livesay says, "I feel it is an honor and a privilege to serve as chairman of this district. For 72 years the Boy Scouts of America has played a vital role in affecting the lives of boys throughout its program of character building, physical fitness and citizen training. In the long run, grooming good citizens for a role in society is more meaningful today than ever before. The need for able, dedicated, moral leaders for tomorrow is drastically clear in America, and I look forward to working with all the people of this district so that we may offer the best scouting program possible for our youth."

Jonesville Edges St. Paul In Overtime, Wins Regional

Last Saturday was a big day, or rather was suppose to have been, as the Jonesville lady Bulldogs won the regional tournament with a heart stopping 32-30 victory in overtime against St. Paul. But the day was spoiled earlier in the day, at least part of it, when the Jonesville Bulldogs football team dropped a 14 5 decision to Garden.

St. Paul took a 21 3 record into the game, and being the host of the tournament probably had a edge, playing on their own floor, but in the end it was the ability and determination of the Bulldogs that won the game. The Deacons grabbed a 14 10 first quarter lead, but then dropped the second period 13 6 to fall behind 23 20 at halftime. St Paul managed to score only four points in the third period but their tenacious defense held the Bulldogs to just one point. With the score tied at 24 all starting the final quarter, the Deacons probably had gained the momentum to win the game, had they defensed everyone else like they had Dee Dee Books the whole game, but when the fourth quarter ended, both teams had scored four points each and were still tied at 28

Jonesville won the over time period 4 2 on a big basket by Lisa Anderson After her shot gave Jonesville the lead 32 30, St Paul had one last chance to tie the game again. But with only five seconds remaining Cindy Kilgore's desperation shot missed

St Paul closes out their season at 21 4. The Deacons were led by Ellan Fugate with 18 points Faith Goodson, the Deacon's big scorer was held to four points. St Paul didn't have any other player with more than two points.

The win sends Jonesville to Marion, Va., this Friday for the semi finals of the state tournament. The Bulldogs were led by Sandy Willis' team high of 10 points. Lisa Anderson, playing probably her best game of the year, scored nine points including the game winning basket. Cindy Terry was next with six points. Dee Dee Brooks was held to a season low of two points. Jonesville has now won 21 out of their last 22 games Even though the Bulldogs have been winning with Brooks carrying the bulk of the scoring lead, this game shows that the Bulldogs can call on someone else to score, plus they can put their own defense to the test

The Bulldogs deserve the trip to Marion, and with the fans support, can win it all. There will undoubtfully be a host of area fans making the trip to Marion, and the Bulldogs can rest assured that the ones that can't make the trip will be pulling for them. Coach Joe Robinson has done a fine job with this group of girls. We at the Powell Valley News congratulate him and the Bulldogs on winning the regionals. Now Bulldogs, you only need two more wins, so work hard in practice until Friday and then play your game.

Jonesville Bulldogs Eliminate Clintwood In Regionals

The Jonesville Bulldogs traveled to St Paul last Friday evening, for their first encounter of the regional tournament It was Friday the 13th but it wasn't unlucky for the Bulldogs as they routed off the red hot Clintwood Green Wave 48 29 to advance to the finals against the St Paul Deacons, a 32 30 winner over the Powell Valley Vikings in the other semi final contest

Jonesville started the game by opening up a quick 8 0 lead before Teresa Hobbs hit a bucket to break a cold spell for the Green Wave When the first quarter ended it was 12 4 in the Bulldogs favor Dee Dee Brooks and Beth Richmond both had four points in the opening quarter while Angela Moore hit the lone basket, outside of Hobbs basket for the Green Wave The Bulldogs took the second stanza 14 10, behind some good free throws shooting Eight of the 14 points came on, six for six free throws by Brooks and two of three by Cindy Terry Clintwood hit four field goals and two of four free throws for their 10 second quarter points

The third quarter was all Jonesville, as the lady Bulldogs took the stanza 13 5 behind the nine points of Brooks Hobbs had four of Clintwoods five points in the quarter

Clintwood managed to win the fourth quarter 10 9 but it wasn't enough to overcome the big Bulldog lead Brooks hit five of the nine Bulldog points, while Hobbs and Barbara Murphy scored four each out of the Green Waves ten point total. Angela Moore, one of the Clintwood starters fouled out of the game with 5 15 to go in the game

Clintwood closes out their season at 7 14 overall The Green Wave was led by Hobbs 16 points Murphy, Moore and Lisa Rose had four points each in the loss

Jonesville with the win ups its overall record to 23 2 The Bulldogs were led by Brooks game high of 24 points Lisa Anderson and Sandy Willis chipped in with six points each Jonesville shot just under 67% at the charity stripe, connecting on 10 of 15 shots. Garden Defeats Jonesville 14 - 5

The Jonesville Bulldogs football team hosted the Garden Green Dragons last Saturday in the regional semi finals Both teams had met on the same field in the regular season with the Bulldogs winning 21 14 on a punt return by Tim Baker as time ran out But this time around the Bulldogs offense just couldn't get undertracked as the Green Dragons scored in each of the first two quarters The scoring started when Garden recovered the ball at the Bulldogs 16 yard line when the Bulldog center sent a bad snap to punter Tim Baker, who had to run the ball down behind him. By the time Baker got to the ball, a host of Garden players were on the scene to keep Baker from getting the punt off After two running plays moved the ball to the 12 yard line, Morgan Clifton circled the right end and raced into the end zone Roger Worley booted the extra point for a 7 0 lead

Jonesville trimmed the Garden lead to 7 3 in the second quarter when Andy Rosenbaum was perfect on a 10 yard field goal After Jonesville kicked off following the field goal the Bulldog defense came alive and held the Green Dragons deep in their own territory, forcing the Green Dragons to punt Tim Baker received the punt, and lost the ball on the fumble After a 15 yard penalty, Keith Miller hit Eddie Brown with a 32 yard pass The pass came off a perfectly executed triple reverse. Brown was hauled down on the play from behind at the Bulldog 17 yard line Rodney McNulty crashed into the end zone from five yards out after Garden gained twelve yards in four plays

Jonesville got their only other score in the third quarter when they pushed Garden back deep in their own territory and forced a punt The Bulldogs rushed the Green Dragon punter and Mike Crumley blocked the punt. Before the Bulldogs could get to the ball, it bounced out of the end zone for the safety

Garden rolled up 270 yards of total offense with 140 yards coming from Keith Miller's 8 of 16 completions through the air Joey Chadwell completed 8 of 20 passes to gain 95 yards for the Bulldogs in the air, who had 207 yards of total offense

Garden recovered three of five fumbles by Jonesville, which killed the Bulldog hopes

The win ups Garden's record to 8 3 and earns the Green Dragons the right to play Wise at 2 00 p.m Saturday at Wise for the trip to the state.

Powell Valley Eliminates Dryden From Regionals 44 - 42

The regionals got under way last Thursday night at St. Paul, and in the opening game the Powell Valley Vikings eliminated the Dryden Crusaders despite a valiant effort by Dryden to pull the game out in the last minutes of play

The Vikings took a 15 12 first quarter lead and paded it to 25 20 at the half, behind the play of three starters who all scored in double figures

The Crusaders began their comeback effort in the third quarter as they trimmed the deficit to three points to head into the last quarter Dryden also won the fourth, but only by a 10 9 score The Crusaders definitely had their chances to win the game or at least send it to overtime, but several shots at the end just wouldn't go through the hoop

Dryden closes out their season with a 20 5 won lost record The Crusaders were led by Joyce Swain with 14 points, which tied Angie Hamilton of the Vikings for game scoring honors, Cheryl Reasor had 10 points Dawn Long Robin Woods and Lisa Robinette rounded out Drydens scoring with 8, 6 and 4 points respectively

The Crusaders are to be congratulated on a fine season, in which injuries cost them a couple of games and probably was one of the main reasons that cost them a perfect season The Crusaders have been falling slowly ever since Cheryl Reasor and Vickie Kirk was first injured. Even though Reasor played in the last few games for the Crusaders, it appears she hasn't been at her best as she has seen her scoring average fall below what she usually scores before she was injured

Powell Valley now 22 2 overall advances in the regionals The Vikings were led by the trio of Hamilton with 14, Hope Gilliam and Paige Slagle with 10 points each.

Most Social Security Taxes Paid Out In Benefits

If you pay into Social Security, how much of each tax dollar do you think goes for administrative costs rather than paying benefits? A fourth? A half? Or even more?

A recent public opinion poll suggests that a majority of people believe it takes over half of each tax dollar to run the program. In fact, only six percent of those questioned said administrative costs are less than 20 percent. These responses indicate that many Americans feel there is inefficiency in this basic program that now pays retirement, disability, and survivors checks to some 36 million people.

The facts, however, prove otherwise: Last year, the Social Security Administration's total administrative costs were only 1.3 percent of benefit payments - an all-time low. This means that for every dollar you pay into the Social Security, about 98.7 cents goes toward paying benefits for those who are now eligible

Although operating costs have increased in actual dollars over the years as Social Security has grown in scope, the ratio of costs to benefits has steadily decreased. For example, costs were about two percent of benefits in 1970, and even higher in earlier years.

This increased efficiency (with a slight reduction in staff) is due to such factors as: use of the computer as a major working tool; simplification of many administrative procedures; and reduction of recordkeeping requirements. Costs for operating Social Security per unit of work has increased more slowly than for service industries in general

Administrative expenses include such items as salaries, rental of property and equipment, building operating expenses, and supplies. They also include payments to the U.S Treasury Department for collecting Social Security taxes and issuing checks as well as costs incurred by States in making disability determinations

One More Reason RJR Has Pride in Tobacco

When Mac Burnette won the title of World's Champion Tobacco Auctioneer, he declared his pride in the tobacco business, pride in his fellow auctioneers, in the tobacco farmers who grow the golden leaf and in everyone associated with our industry.

Like Mac, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company has Pride in Tobacco. We are proud to have sponsored the world's first tobacco auctioneering championship, proud of Mac Burnette, and proud to be the leader of an industry that provides jobs for more than 2 million Americans and generates over $60 billion for our nation's economy.

PRIDE IN TOBACCO
R J Reynolds Tobacco Company

On behalf of the 15,000 employees of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, I congratulate Mac for his achievement, and I salute all of those who share our Pride in Tobacco and help make our industry great.

Retired Teachers Meet In Jonesville

The American Legion building in Jonesville was the meeting place for Lee County retired teachers on Saturday, November 14. Mrs. Charles Emmett presided, with Harold Neff as program leader.

Robert Chadwell, Lee County sheriff was the guest speaker, using the theme, "Don't Hesitate To Call The Sheriff For Help."

He cited many instances of fraud and crime being committed on older citizens and discussed ways of protecting yourself from being a victim. Some suggestions were: Ask for identification from solicitors and other callers; Don't let a stranger into your home: Be willing to report a crime; Be suspicious of "get rich" schemes.

Make your plans now to attend the next meeting of Lee County retired teachers which will be held on April 3 at the American Legion Building in Jonesville.

Future Reader

Rev. and Mrs. Mike York, pastor and wife of First Baptist Church, Ewing, have a new son, born November 7, 1981 and he has been given the name of Jonathan Eli.

Mrs. York's mother from Mississippi is spending some time with the family.

Lee County Garden Club

The November meeting of the Lee County Garden Club was held in the attractive meeting room of the Western Lee County Health Clinic in Ewing.

Fred Boyles, historian with the Cumberland Gap National Historical Park spoke to the members and guests on "Creating Bird Habitats in Your Own Back Yard."

He showed slides of birds common to this general area He stressed the planting of natural foods for the birds such as dogwood trees, crab apple trees, holly trees, pyracantha bushes all of which have fruit liked by the birds common to this area.

Mrs Willard Davis conducted the brief business meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W.A. Justice and Mrs. Sherwood D. Williamson

WWW Report

On Tuesday, November 10 at an Open House of Women's Work World a number of area women came to meet the staff and learn about the organization. Discussion included some of the things they would like to see happen in Lee County, such as attending a class or training session related to securing employment in better-paying jobs.

Also discussed was the need for a shelter for battered women and their children.

Brenda Anderson, Coordinator of the Lee County office, said, "I was glad to see such interest in the activities of Women's Work World. We try to help women develop their potential and consider the options available to them in employment, education and training."

Planning is underway to meet with Lee County Head Start Parents, to see if women in this group are interested in using the services of Women's Work World. Staff from the Jonesville and Big Stone Gap offices develop programs in the response to the needs of women in Lee, Scott and Wise counties

These programs have included adult education classes for the GED (high school equivalency), work shops on divorce, vocational training, drug abuse and training sessions in such areas as career decisions, civil rights, and budgeting.

The next Jonesville Open House will be Tuesday, November 24 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m The office is located under the Jail House, next to Handicaps Unlimited. For more information, call Brenda Anderson at 346 2443 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

MECC students enjoy fall picnic sponsored by area businessmen.

MECC Students Enjoy Fall Picnic

Students of Mountain Empire Community College were recently treated to a picnic luncheon and musical entertainment by contributing businesses and banks. Faculty and staff of the College planned the affair and prepared the food for over 500 students. Mr. Jack Tottle, well-known recording artist, entertained the group with mountain songs accompanied by mandolin and guitar music.

Making contributions for the annual event were area banks and businesses including Farmers and Miners Bank of Pennington.

Animal Health Today

Canine Heartworm Disease

Heartworms is an extremely dangerous disease of dogs Although heartworm disease was once isolated to the Atlantic and Gulf coastal areas, it has spread inland and northward to infect dogs in every state east of the Mississippi River. (The number of dogs infected with heartworms in the Tri State area has increased dramatically in the last five years.) The mosquito which is the carrier of the young heartworm, serves as an incubator, thus the early stage of the heartworm has adapted to the colder temperatures of inland and northern America This gradual transition to cooler climates has caught many dog owners off guard Luckily, treatment and prevention of heartworms are available

What are heartworms? How do they affect dogs? Heartworms are parasites of dogs that are transmitted between dogs by the mosquito Dogs become susceptible to heartworms at the time of birth A dog becomes infected with a mosquito bite that deposits early forms of the heartworm in the dog. These early heartworms will go through two growth stages in the tissues beneath the skin before they finally migrate to the dog's heart by way of blood vessels This usually takes two to three months The heartworm "sets up house" in the right side of the heart by actually staying afloat in the bloodstream. While there, the male and female heartworms reproduce and deposit circulating "microfilariae" (baby heartworms) in the blood stream. This is the lesser of two evils, because as long as the adult worms remain in the heart, they begin a slow process of damage to the heart. If left untreated over months to years, they will produce irreversible damage and heart failure, which can be fatal to the dog

The lesser evil is that this dog also becomes a source of infection to other dogs. If another mosquito bites an infected dog, it takes up the baby heartworms in the blood, which in turn incubate and mature in the mosquito for two weeks. The baby heartworms then become infective when the mosquito bites and deposits them in another dog. One can easily see how rapidly the disease can spread in the dog population

Signs of heartworm disease in infected dogs usually are related to heart failure. These include a decrease in the animal's exercise tolerance (becoming short of breath easily), weight loss, swelling of the abdomen, and coughing (especially at night). Unfortunately, many times dogs infected with heartworms go undetected until presented at the veterinarian's office with signs of heart failure. One must remember that any damage to the heart, caused by heartworms, is irreversible

Heartworms can be detected in a dog by a simple blood test performed by your veterinarian While heartworm checks can tell if your dog is infected with heartworms or not, the easiest and safest way to deal with heartworms is to start your dog on preventative treatment and keep him on it. Heartworm prevention is easy, safe, and economical It consists of daily administration of a chewable tablet which most dogs readily accept as a treat, or it can be crumbled and mixed with the dog's food. Liquid preventative is also available Preventative works when given daily (throughout the year) by killing the young stages of the heartworm deposited under the skin by the mosquito before they are able to reach the heart Your dog must first be declared heartworm free before the preventative can be started Puppies less than six months of age do not require a blood test

While treatment is available for dogs who are infected with heartworms, the safest and most economical way of dealing with heartworms is through prevention'

Veterans Administration

A -- My husband wants to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery. What should he do?

A -- This cemetery is under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Army, and burial is limited to specific categories of military personnel and veterans, except in the case of cremated remains to be placed in the columbarium.

Q -- I'm planning to enroll in school this fall and I want to use the GI Bill. Where can I get information about the program?

A -- All Veterans Administration regional offices and veterans service organizations have complete information. For the location of the nearest regional office, look in your local phone directory under "U.S. Government" listings. Toll-free telephone service is also available nationwide.

Q -- I would like the government to furnish a monument for my husband's grave. How do I apply?

A -- Get VA Form 40-1330, "Application for Headstone or Marker," at a Veterans Administration regional office, from veterans service organizations, or from your local cemetery or funeral director. Complete the form and send it to Monument Service (42), Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Ave., N.W., Washington,

Q -- What is the maximum amount I can pay for a home using a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?

A -- The VA guarantees loans obtained by the veteran from private lenders. There is no established maximum purchase price for a home. However, no loan guaranteed by the VA may exceed the reasonable property value as determined by a VA appraiser.

Q -- Is there any time limit for using my certificate of eligibility for a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan?

A --No. There is no time limit for using your certificate of eligibility for the purchase of a home.

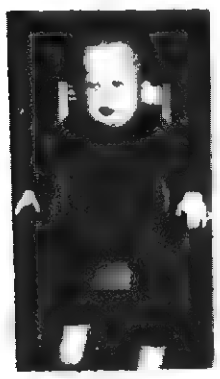
Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Monday's guest minister at the Center was Rev. C.C. Mize, pastor of the Jonesville United Methodist Church. His talks are always inspiring, and enjoyed by all that hear him.



Travis Justin Leedy

Happy Birthday

Travis Justin Leedy will celebrate his first birthday on Friday, November 20.

He is the son of Rufus and Diane Leedy of Dryden

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hoskins of Dryden and the late Mr. and Mrs. Millard Leedy of Jonesville.

Travis will celebrate his birthday with a party given by his parents with all the goodies for a little boy.

—Gaynelle Baumgardner and Lillie Carroll visited at Keokee Combined School on Monday where Mrs. Baumgardner made a talk on MS Read-a-thon and showed a film on The Inside Story of Multiple Sclerosis. There was good participation for the MS Read-a-thon.

—Mrs. Baumgardner went to St. Charles Elementary School Tuesday where she talked to the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grade pupils about the Read-a-thon, and the film was shown. Lots of the students had participated each year in the MS Read-a-thon. Other schools in Lee County are being visited this week.

—Mrs. Sallie Woliver and Mrs. Lynn Johnston made a trip to Kingsport last Friday.

—Guests of Sallie Woliver, on Monday, were her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Faircloth, David and Phillip, of Maryville, Tn. They attended the funeral of Wesley Spangler on Monday, also.

—The children of Mrs. Jerushia Burchett gave her a big birthday celebration at her home last Sunday. Mrs. Linda Fee, Mrs. Georgia Roy, and Buddy Burchett, with their families all joined in to make it a festive occasion. Mary Lou Martin was there. Another daughter, Mrs. Marvin (Bennie) Russell, Savannah, Ga. was unable to join them, but sent flowers and called her mother.

—Sue Sutton and Gaynelle Baumgardner visited with Lizzie Minor Wednesday.

—Clyde Poe conducted the prayer service Wednesday night, at Jonesville First Baptist, due to the absence of the pastor, Rev. K.S. Clendaniel. Rev. and Mrs. Clendaniel were in Charlottesville, Va. to attend the Baptist General Assembly. On their return trip home they stopped for a visit with Mrs. Clendaniel's mother.

—Mrs. Jerushia Burchett, daughter Georgia Roy, granddaughter, Sheryl Roy, were visiting in Middlesboro, Tuesday.

—Mrs. Lillie Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumgardner were in Big Stone Gap and Kingsport Thursday.

—Mrs. Linda Fee and son Chris visited her mother, Mrs. Jerushia Burchett, Friday. Mrs. Burchett spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Maude Warner, Wallens Creek

Lee County Chapter AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) held their meeting Wednesday at Lee County Library. All officers were present: President, Betty E. King; Vice President, Stella Kelly; Secretary, Gaynelle Baumgardner; Treasurer, Reba Reasor, Legislative chairman, James E. Cox, Chaplain, Lorene Terry, and other members: Anne Laningham, Lillie Carroll, Sallie Woliver, Mabel Skidmore, Annie Ingle, Mary Gibson, and two new members: Floyd and Lillian Hathaway. All business, reports and communications were conducted by Mrs. King. Lorene Terry read, "In God's Plan" and the 6th chapter of Galatians

—What a wonderful guest for the meeting, Mr. Red Kirk with his guitar and those songs we like to hear.

All of the songs were enjoyed by the members, especially Don't Forget To Remember. Red sang this song on his Thursday morning radio program and dedicated it to all the local AARP Chapter members. Thanks again, Red.

—Mrs. Lorene Terry was happily surprised Saturday morning to receive a call from her son, Philip Terry, from Rockville, Md. Philip had just arrived from Japan where he has been on duty. He will be going back to Japan when his special mission of duty is completed in the States.

—Thelma and Robert Miles of Fredrick, Md. spent several days with her parents, Viola and Milton James. They had spent five weeks touring the States between Maryland and California, spending time with a sister in California. They left Monday for a return trip to Maryland

—Mrs Catherine Higginson, Grace Davis, and Eva Rush motored to Abingdon Friday to help in the 13th birthday celebration of Jill Minor. Jill is the daughter of Rose and Ken Minor, the granddaughter of Mrs. Higginson, and the great niece of Grace and Eva. They had a busy delightful day, and the three sisters returned to Jonesville late at night, tired but happy

Cold Air Can Be Unhealthy

Exercise and hard physical work in subfreezing weather can bring illness and even death to people with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (emphysema, asthma and chronic bronchitis), according to E. Chandler Deal, Jr., M.D., of Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

Dr. Deal is one of 47 recipients of research from the American Lung grants from the American Lung Association for 1981-82. He is specifically studying "Effects of Cold Air in Chronic Bronchitis."

Cold air causes contraction of smooth muscle in the airway, thus narrowing the airway caliber, explains Dr. Deal. This can lead to obstruction in the breathing passages, he adds. Physical work or exercise brings on more rapid breathing and the inhaling of more cold air, thus exacerbating the threat.

Dr. Deal's research will also examine the effects of the drug, cromolyn sodium, and other inhaled agents to determine if they can counteract the airway obstruction caused by cold air.

The principal behind research sponsored by lung associations is to give "seed money" to beginning investigators. Such research usually stimulates further work and oftentimes leads to additional funding from government and other institutions. All research projects from lung associations must be reviewed and approved by a committee of scientists. The money spent by lung association on scientific research totals more than one million dollars.

Ocoonita News

- Earnest (Tommy) Oaks of Fresno, Calif., passed away Monday in Fresno. He was flown here for funeral and burial services. Funeral services were conducted Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Sturgill Funeral Home Chapel in Pennington with Rex Tomlinson officiating. Burial was in the Ocoonita Cemetery.

He was a former resident of this community having moved to California several years ago but spent his boyhood days in Ocoonita. He was the son of the late John M. and Tuta Oaks.

Merle Ingle, daughter Sandra and a friend from Marion, Ind. spent several days last week with his father, Herman Ingle and other relatives and friends.

Emma Burgan returned home Tuesday after spending three weeks in the Lee County Community Hospital at Pennington.

-Mr. and Mrs. C.M. (nee Patti Burgan) Massingill of Harrogate, Tn., and Susan Willis of Woodway visited one day last week with Patti's and Susan's parents, Kenneth and Charlotte Burgan and brother, Larry.

Palmer Blevins was the dinner guest Sunday of Floyd and Alma Baker.

Ruby Hammonds returned home Wednesday after spending several days in the Lee County Community Hospital at Pennington.

A number of folks attended the revival at Big Hill at the Willis Chapel Freewill Baptist Church last week. Palmer Blevins was the evangelist.

Vernon Pochodzay attended the fellowship meeting at the Stone Mountain Freewill Baptist Church near Hubbard Springs Saturday night.

Among those visiting with Ruby Hammonds at the Lee County Community were: Palmer Blevins, J.D. Kilgore, David Mullins, Evert and Rossalee Noe, Jackie Burgan, O.C. Combs, Mildred Dennison, Floyd and Alma Baker.

Turkey Project Begun

More than 1,000 former students of the Clear Creek Baptist School have begun the 15th annual Christmas Turkey Project for 104 student families of the theological school for adults.

The project is directed by Dr. Bill Whittaker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Murray. Funds are received from alumni and friends to provide a turkey and a gift of $20 to each of the student families.

The "Turkey Project" was begun by a former student, Rev. Donald Burnette, who died of a heart attack on Thanksgiving Day, 1970.

Whittaker, a close friend and former neighboring pastor of the late Rev. Burnette, was so strongly impressed with the needs for the campus families that he has continued to rally support for the distribution at the Christmas season.

Marvin Matlock of Jonesville, and Marion Howard of Rose Hill, will be among the students receiving a turkey and gift of money when the holiday recess begins December 19.

TW King, Queen To Be Chosen

A new Mr. and Miss Thomas Walker will be crowned on Friday, November 20, 1981 at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

Seniors chose Sue Ann Bales and James Mangus to represent their class. The Juniors chose Zelma Jerrell and Billy Lakins to represent their class. Debbie Chance and Randy Crockett were chosen by the Sophomore class. Freshmen candidates selected were Tammy Long and Brad Vass. Subfreshmen selected Mindy Warf and Carless Webb for their class.

The reigning King and Queen, Lisa Morrison and Mike Spade, will crown the new Mr. and Miss Thomas Walker.

TW students will present a talent show preceding the coronation. Butcher Hollow Girls, Belly Boy Act and Blues Sisters are just a few of the acts. TW Jazz Band will supply the music for the evening.

Tickets are $1 and may be purchased from any TW student before the program or that night at the door.

Following the program the Jr. Sr. Class will sponsor a dance featuring "The Pack." Proceeds will go to the Jr. Sr. Prom. Admission to the dance is $2 and may be paid at the door.

Wallens Creek Extension Homemakers Meet

The Wallens Creek Extension Homemakers met November 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Fields.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Betty Young. The Homemakers Creed was repeated.

The devotions were given by Margaret Sage and Bessie Hughes. Roll call was taken with each naming their favorite recipe of candy.

Everyone had a wonderful time. There was twelve members present. We were glad to have two visitors, Mrs. Phyllis Parsons and Mrs. Jean Rasnic.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Norma Miles, December 1, in which we will have our Christmas party, exchange gifts and have games.

We invite anyone interested to come and be with us.

The program will be on decorating with natural plants, berries and greenery.

The program was on cookie and candy making for gifts, in which Mabel Fields showed the club how to make hard candy. She also had other home made candy and cookies made.

A Nice Buck

Paul Pennington, Jr. of Jonesville killed this 8 point buck in Blackwater. The kill was made just after 7 a.m. on the first day of the season. Adam, Paul's son, helps dad with the deer.

Burley Tobacco Information

Lee County ASCS Director, Charles M. Ingram, states that persons who haul tobacco for a tobacco warehouse of privately as a commercial venture are required to maintain certain records. For each farmer's tobacco delivered to the market, the following records must be kept: (1) Name and address of farm operator: (2) Location where tobacco picked up: (3) Date tobacco picked up: (4) Pounds picked up. (5) Place to which tobacco was delivered and (6) Signature and complete address of trucker.

"These records are subject to inspection by ASCS," said Ingram.

Ingram also reminds tobacco producers that marketing cards must be picked up in person at the county office. Only those persons with written authorization will be allowed to pick up the card for another person.

Producers will also be required to certify to the tobacco acreage and pesticide application at the time the card is issued.

CVC Opens Season With Win Over Alumni

The Clinch Valley College Cavaliers opened their season in fine fashion Saturday night, November 14. The Cavaliers defeated an alumni team composed of former Cavalier players 111 to 75.

The alumni team was led in scoring by Barry Hamler, who led all scorers, with 30 points. He was the only alumni player in double figures. Other members of the alumni team were Willie Brown, State Smith, Roger St. Clair, Jackie Goff, Jerry Myers, Drew Johnson, Major Griffin and Greg Stewart The Cavaliers were led in scoring by Mike Hoskins with 23 points. Other Cavalier players in double figures were Tony Kolb, 18 points, Ernie Smith, 10 points, Kevin Short, 14 points, Reggie Bryant, 11 points and Terry Edwards with 17 points. Edwards also had 14 rebounds to lead both teams in that category.

JUNE FULLER THE COUPON CLIPPER

Organize your coupons for maximum savings

By June Fuller

Is it worth a half hour of your time each week to get back $1 for every $10 that you spend at the supermarket?

That's all it takes to organize your cents-off coupons and use them as a regular part of your smart shopping.

The first step is to empty out that shoe box or kitchen drawer into which you have been stuffing all your coupons. Divide your coupons into the following 12 product groups.

1. Cereals, Breakfast Products, Baby Products.
2. Dairy Products, Oils, Margarine, Diet Products.
3. Soups, Snack Foods, Candy.
4. Vegetables, Starches, Fruits.
5. Seasonings, Sauces, Syrup, Sugar, Salad Dressings.
6. Meat, Poultry, Seafood, Other Main Dishes.
7. Baked Goods, Desserts.
8. Beverages.
9. Miscellaneous Food Products.
10. Cleaning Products, Soaps, Paper Products, Bags, Wraps.
11. Health Products, Personal Products, Cosmetics, Beauty Products.
12. Miscellaneous Non-Food Products, Pet Products, Tobacco.

If you can't decide where a coupon belongs, file it in one of the miscellaneous groups (No. 9 or No. 12).

As you separate your coupons into the product groups, check the expiration dates. Throw out those that have expired. With a red pen, circle the expiration dates on all the others.

Now you have a choice. You may decide to keep your coupons in 12 separate envelopes. Many of my friends have purchased 12-pocket expanding check files.

A child's lunch box also works well if you make cardboard dividers for the product groups. One of my neighbors uses a hanging shoe tree she has attached to the back of her kitchen door.

Once you get organized, it takes only a few seconds to file away a coupon or to find it again when that item is on your shopping list.

This week's Smart Shopper Award goes to Helen Akers, of Campbell, Ohio.

Uncle Ben's Rice For Chicken usually costs 89 cents at her supermarket. But one day she found it on sale for 69 cents. The store doubled her 25-cent coupon, which brought her cost down to only 19 cents.

"I'm saving the empty box," she says, "because there's a good chance that I'll find a refund offer on this same item." With a little patience, she probably will.

Here is a refund form to write for: Baker's Coconut $1 Cash Refund Offer, General Foods Corp., P.O. Box 5107, East Court Street, Kankakee, Ill. 60901. This offer expires June 1, 1982.

Here is this week's list of refund offers. Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends. Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below. Remember, some offers are not available in all areas of the country.

Today's refund offers are worth $10.35.

Miscellaneous Food Products (File 9)

— Baker's Coconut $1 Cash Refund Offer, General Foods Corp. Receive a $1 refund and a 21-page recipe booklet. Send the required refund form and three front panels from any bags of Baker's Coconut. Expires June 1, 1982.

VA News

The Veterans Administration is now available to reimburse veterans suffering from service-connected ankylosis of one or both knees or hips, for the purchase of adaptive equipment which will enable them to drive their own automobiles or other vehicles.

The expansion of VA's automobile adaptive equipment program was made possible by recent Congressional action, according to VA regional director W.H. Highfill, Jr.

Under the program, VA makes available grants of up to $4,400 for some seriously disabled veterans to purchase an automobile or other conveyance, Highfill said.

The agency also pays for special equipment, such as engine and steering controls and wheelchair lifts, required for the operation of the vehicle by the disabled veteran.

The $4,400 one time automobile purchase grant goes to veterans or active duty personnel with service connected loss, or permanent loss of use of one or both hands or feet, or permanent vision impairment to both eyes to a prescribed degree.

Victims of ankylosis are not eligible for the vehicle purchase grant, but only for VA adaptive equipment.

VA will also pay for the repair, replacement or re installation of the special equipment in subsequent vehicles.

Veterans having questions concerning the purchase grant or eligibility for adaptive equipment should contact the nearest VA regional office.

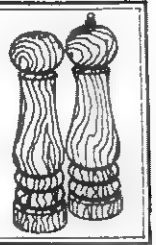
Cookin' Corner



Do you have a recipe for Vinegar pie? One of our readers from Florida has requested the recipe, she sent us another recipe for Black Forest Chocolate Cake, that will be used next week. You may give us your Vinegar pie recipe by dialing 546-1210. Thanks.

Black Forest Chocolate - Cherry Fudge Cake

1 cup butter
3 large or 4 small eggs
1 tsp. red food color
½ cup chopped walnut or pecan
2½ cups cake flour sifted 2 or 3 times
1¼ cup sugar
1½ tsp. vanilla
1 cup cold milk
½ cup cocoa
3 tsp. baking powder

Mix butter and sugar till fluffy. Add eggs, food coloring and nuts. Sift dry ingredients two or three times. Add alternating with milk. Mix about 3 minutes, but do not overmix, scrape mixing bowl so dry ingredients are mixed well. Pour into 3 - 8" or 9" cake pans. Bake in preheated 325° oven for 25" minutes or until done. Test with toothpick. Let cake cool.

FRUSTING

2 sticks butter
2 egg yolks
1½ lb. powdered sugar
4 oz. semi-sweet chocolate, melted

Beat butter and sugar in mixer till fluffy. Add egg yolks and melted chocolate. Ice cake between layers but not on top.

TOPPING

1 No. 2½ can dark sweet cheeries
2 tbsp. cornstarch
candied cherries
½ cup sugar
whipping cream
toasted almond slivers

Drain juice and place in saucepan. Add sugar, bring to a boil and thicken with cornstarch until thick. Remove from heat and let cool. Add cherries and put on top of cake. Garnish with whipping cream, candied cherries and toasted almond slivers

Visited Friends And Churches In Brazil

Mrs. Mae Taylor and Miss Beulah Johnson have returned home after a three weeks visit with friends and missionaries in Brazil, from October 5th to the 27th.

One family they visited was that of Dr. and Mrs Mack Shults in Feira de Santana. Rev. Shults had been Pastor in 1955 59 of Silver Leaf Baptist Church in Rose Hill during his College days at Carson Newman College, and it was at that time that he met the lady who became his wife, the former Audry Minor, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Minor, of Jonesville, Va.

Rev. and Mrs. Shults and their six children had gone to Brazil in 1966 by boat, and after attending language school for a year in Campinos, Brazil, they moved to Feira After being a teacher and Dean for a few years, Dr Shults became director of Baptist Bible Institute, which is similar to the Clear Creek Baptist School near Pineville, Ky There are twenty two different nationalities in the School at Feira Brazil

Dr Shults is also pastor of Camp Limpo Baptist Church and visits many congregations in the area where he and Mrs. Shultz according to Beulah, are doing a fantastic work among the Brazilians, who are a very loving, kind, and dedicated group of people

The visitors, Mrs Taylor and Miss Johnson, as they saw Missions in action were very proud of the Southern Baptist Mission work which is being accomplished at Feira and at other places visited

While they were visiting Rev and Mrs Clayton Hulet and family at Salvador, Mrs Hulet took Mae and Beulah to the First Brazil Church of Brazil, which had been organized in 1882 with five members, William and Ann Bagby, Zachary and Kate Taylor and an ex priest, Antonio Teixeira de Albuquerque

Plans have been made for Brazilian Baptists to meet during the week of October 15, 1982 to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of Baptist Church life in Brazil.

In Rio, Mrs. Taylor and Miss Johnson were guests of Cyrene Pereira, Betty Smith, Roselia Lima, and Miguel Gouveia, the latter being a relative of Dr. Mike Gouveia, a Dentist in Ewing.

Betty Smith, a former resident of Galax, Va., who is working at the Good Will Center in Rio, took her guests on an interesting tour of the Women's Missionary Union Building, the Training School, and the Seminary. Among those they met, one was Ida Mae Hays who attended Seminary with Bobbie Black, former Associational Missionary in Powell River Association of Lee County

They also joined their host and hostess for a tour of Sugar Loaf Mountain, and a party given at the home of Mr and Mrs Iuoody Jackson, where they met several Americans from the U.S. Consulate. The party was given in honor of the promotion of Mr Jackson, formerly of California, for his work at the Consulate

One of the Americans at the Consulate had earlier been working at the Embassy in Iran, but had been replaced before the Americans had been taken hostage

Before Mae's and Beulah's departure from Brazil, a regular meeting of the WMU of Campo Limpo Baptist Church turned into a real surprise for them, as the fifty in attendance gave them a farewell party, singing songs and dedicating favorite Scripture passages. Refreshments were served and going away gifts were graciously received by Mae and Beulah. Interpreter for the occasion was Mrs. Shults.

It can be said that Mrs. Taylor and Miss Johnson have a gift for making friends wherever they go, for on the flight from Miami to Rio, Beulah talked with Lucia Carvalho Rayburn of Colorado Springs, Colorado, who was formerly a resident of Campinos, Brazil

It was discovered that she had been the language teacher of Mack and Audrey Shults when they first went to Brazil in 1966

"It's a small world!" Beulah says. She and Mrs Taylor have been very busy sharing bits of their trip at their respective churches, Silver Leaf and Rose Hill First Baptist and with friends, also

They are quite eloquent in their praise for the work of the Missionaries there, and the need of the Churches to support them with their prayers, and financial giving, so that more people may be reached with the Christian Gospel.

Everyone seems to have lots of turnips this year. Here are instructions for freezing them. Select small to medium, firm turnips that are tender and have a mild flavor. Wash, peel, and cut into ½-inch cubes. Heat in boiling water for two minutes. Cool promptly in cold water and drain. Pack into containers, leaving ½ inch head space. Seal and freeze.

Try a dash of allspice in your cooked beets, squash, turnips, or carrots.

Top cooked carrots with grated cheese and bake until cheese bubbles.

Add grated cheese ratio: cup grated cheese to six eggs to beaten eggs before scrambling. This is delicious as a main dish for lunch or supper.

ASCS Community Committee Nominees Announced

The Lee County ASC Committee composed of Roy J. Myers, Chairperson; Max Graham, Vice-chairperson; and Clay Jones, Regular Member, recently met to complete the slate of nominees for the ASCS Community Committee elections. The elections will be conducted by mail ballot between November 27 and December 7. The incumbent County Committee was required to complete the slate of nominees for each community in which at least 5 nominations were not made by valid public petitions.

Lee County is divided into ten communities for ASCS Committee purposes. The communities and candidates are as follows:

Elydale- Hobert Bailey, Parks H. Bailey, Hoye L. Brooks, Thaniel Brooks and Fred Janeway.

Ewing-Rose Hill- Wayne Burgan, Boyd Moles, Carl Monday, Richard Wilson and J.B. Yeary.

West White Shoals- Charles L. Bacon, Maude Debusk, Dennis Graham, Harold Hedrick and Grover Jerrell.

East White Shoals- Hiram Burchette, W. G. Cope, Fred Roberts, Bernard Scott and Herbert Scott.

North Jonesville- J. Omer Eldridge, Ed Hines, G. E. Parsons, Roger Waddell and Harrison Wilder.

South Jonesville- W. F. Cox, Claude Jones, Joe P. Lyle, Ray Yeary and Barlow Newman, Jr.

Blackwater- Echol Bledsoe, Elmer Fisher, Onza Fisher, Tommy Lawson, and Roy Osborne.

Rocky- Millard Fannon, Lillie Jones, Clarence Laws, Elmer Miles and Hascue Slagle.

Yokum- Marshall Coomer, Deward Greene, Robert D. Reasor, Charles H. Slemp, Jr. and Ida Stacy.

Wallen's Creek-Stickleyville- Mitchell Cox, Cliva Lee Edwards, Millard Ray Hall, Margaret R. Miner, and Victor Rasnic.

"The ASCS system is unique", according to County Committee Chairperson, Roy J. Myers. "It attempts to place the responsibility of the administration of federal farm programs into the hands of local farmers. I encourage all of our Lee County farmers to vote in the election." Myers added.

License Expiration Date Emphasized

As a timely reminder, officials at the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries have called attention to the forthcoming December 31, 1981 date on Fishing Licenses. The Fishing Licenses currently valid have a longevity span which began on July 1, 1980 and are good until the end of this year

Virginia residents from age 16 to 65 are required to obtain a fishing license before fishing on the inland waters of the Common wealth

Are you looking for ways to save gas and money? One of the simplest solutions is to drive your car a little less. Here are six ideas you can use to keep your foot off the gas and more money in your pocket

(1) Call ahead to be sure you aren't wasting gas on an unnecessary trip. On the average, a wasted trip costs you a dollar's worth of gas

(2) Shop, bank, and pay your bills by mail. A 20 cent stamp is a lot cheaper than a gallon of gas

(3) Ride a bike or take a hike. You'll feel more fit, and you'll have more money to spend when you get where you're going since you didn't waste it on gasoline

(4) Ride to work with a friend or neighbor just one day a week and you can save at least $100 worth of gas every year

(5) Take public transportation as often as you can. You'll save gas and help reduce air pollution, too

(6) Set an example by not going over 55 mph on the highway

In these days of energy and money shortages, let us all economize where practical

Helpful Hints For Respiratory Illnesses

As the number of patients with chronic respiratory illnesses increase, we feel there are a few helpful hints that can be offered to help make their breathing problems a little more bearable. This article, one in a series to be presented for patients with lung disease, is being presented as part of the effort to provide helpful information to people who have Asthma, Bronchitis, Emphysema and/or Coal Worker's pneumoconiosis.

The following article is one excerpt from the educational materials that is being presented to individuals attending one of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia. Chronic respiratory illnesses are a significant and growing health problem in Southwest Virginia. The purpose of these articles and the clinics is to help inform individuals with lung diseases about their illness and to help make them feel better.

Deep Breathing Exercise:

More than anything, people with a lung problem want to be able to breathe fresh air deeply into their lungs. Learning to use the diaphragm to breathe better can be one of the most important ways you can help yourself.

Try following these easy steps.

A. Relax, let your neck and shoulders droop. b. Rest both hands on your abdomen. c. Breathe in through your nose and let your abodmen come out as far as it will. Keep your upper chest relaxed.

D. Breathe out slowly through pursed lips. If you feel dizzy, wait a few breaths before you try again.

REMEMBER To be sure your diaphragm is moving properly, ask your doctor or respiratory therapist to go through the exercise with you.

You should practice deep breathing with abdominal muscles and diaphragm every day as often as you can think of it. Do this whenever you become short of breath. Practice it first lying down or sitting then while you walk. The more you practice this the easier it will become.

Do this during normal activities, when you're talking, bathing, eating, dressing or working. The muscles you use should become stronger while you breathing becomes deeper and easier.

Remember the diaphragm is a large muscle under your lungs. As you breath out it pushes up on your lungs. As you breathe in the diaphragm moves down. As you breathe out it pushes up on your lungs. This helps push out stale air. You use your muscles in the abodmen to move the diaphragm.

You may be getting too little help from those muscles and relying too much on the upper chest muscles do your breathing.

Learn to use your diaphragm more, as you do it will give you more push power to empty your lungs, then you can breathe in more deeply than you did in the past.

Eating To Feel Better:

Good food, like good medicine, helps to heal and repair your body and make it stronger against disease. This fact is true for everyone but especially important to those who have a breathing problem because of your eating habits affecting the way you breathe.

Some foods put your body in better condition and can make your breathing easier while others can make your condition worse.

Are you missing some of the foods your body needs to strengthen and repair itself? Most of us choose our food from habit never giving a thought for what they do for us.

Most people could eat better by adding more fruits and vegetables to their diets and doing away with junk food.

You can lose interest in the best of foods if shortness of breath makes eating hard work for you. Here are some tips that may help improve your eating habits.

A. Eat six small meals a day instead of three large meals. This will help cut down on the oxygen you need to chew and digest food. b. Eat slowly and chew food well. c. Try to keep upright (e.g. recently wh[illegible] Relax and take a few deep breaths if. If you are extremely short of breath in the morning, it's better to have a liquid breakfast than to skip the meal. e. If you are overweight, extra body fat could interfere with your breathing and demand more oxygen. Ask your doctor for a safe weight reducing meal plan; f. Avoid gas forming foods. These foods cause your stomach to bloat, making it harder than usual to breathe.

This article has been presented with the help of the Better Breathing Clinic of Southwest Virginia, in conjunction with a Black Lung grant administered in association with the Virginia Department of Health.

Grandma Pearl Buchanan, and "Nee Naw", Shirley Newman, along with her parents Tom and Sharon Buchanan helped her to celebrate with cake and ice cream.

Family Dollar Reports Record Sales And Earnings

Family Dollar Stores, Inc. (NYSE symbol FDO), a variety discount store chain operating 468 stores in ten southeastern states, today announced all time record high sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1981, and for the fourth quarter of fiscal 1981.

Sales for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1981, were $181, 712, 931, or approximately 9% above sales of $166,854,381 for fiscal 1980. Net income for fiscal 1981 was $9,116,931, or approximately 9% above net income of $8.336,746 a year ago, and earnings per share, adjusted to reflect the three for two stock split effective September 15, 1981, were $1.47 as compared to $1.37 for fiscal 1980.

The fourth quarter of fiscal 1981 produced the high sales and earnings of any fourth quarter in the Company's 22-year history. Sales for the quarter ended August 31, 1981, reached $48,902,225, with net income of $2,459,445 or 39 cents per share (adjusted for the stock split), as compared to sales of $42,610,262, net income of $2,206,013 and earnings per share of 36 cents (adjusted for the stock split) for the fourth quarter of fiscal 1980.

The company also reported the declaration of a regular quarterly cash dividend on its Common Stock of 8.5 cents per share payable January 15, 1982, to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 15, 1981.

Leon Levine, Chairman of the Company, stated that fiscal 1981 marked another year in which Family Dollar continued its consistent pattern of growth in sales and earnings despite a general economic recession. While sales in existing stores were virtually flat during fiscal 1981 compared to fiscal 1980, the overall sales gains in each quarter of fiscal 1981 were attributable to the expansion of the number of stores in operation. The achievement of earnings increases in each quarter of fiscal 1981 reflects the Company's continuing ability to effectively control expenses and maintain budgeted profit margins under adverse economic conditions.

In addition to the record sales and earnings, fiscal 1981 was highlighted by the opening of 42 new stores.

Lewis E. Levine, President of the Company, announced that Family Dollar plans to open approximately 55 new stores in fiscal 1982, to bring the number of stores in operation by August 31, 1982, to approximately 510. Such plans are subject to change depending on developments in the economy. Since the end of the fiscal year on August 31, 1981, Family Dollar has added 13 stores to the chain, and expects to open 12 more stores prior to Christmas. The Company currently operates 468 variety discount stores located in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky and Mississippi.

Family Dollar Store opened in Pennington Gap on October 29, 1981.

Dryden P.T.O. Meets

The Dryden P.T.O. met on Monday, November 9, for their regular meeting. John Collier, principal addressed the ladies present. He brought them up-to date on the sports, happenings, meetings to be held dealing with various school problems, and he also presented the price list for the cost of the lockers, that the P.T.O. planned to purchase for the halls in the high school.

The floor then became available for election of officers. Ruby Woods was unanimously voted as president. Vice president, Darlene Light, secretary reporter; Peggy Brannon; Wise County P.T.O. Representative: Wanda Maggard and Sandra Bowman and Hilda Orick remained in office. Sandra is our high school representative, Hilda Orick is the club treasurer.

Plans were made for a Christmas Carnival and the meeting was adjourned until December 7. We would like to thank everybody that helped in any way with the successful bake sale at the Tobacco Festival!

Armour Star U.S.D.A. "Grade A" Broth Basted Young Turkey 10 to 14 lb. avg. 59¢ lb.

Not all turkeys are the same. Read the label carefully to determine what to expect from each particular brand. For instance, does it say "USDA Grade A" or "USDA Inspected"? "USDA Grade A" rating ensures that the turkey has no broken bones, bruises or cuts or missing parts at the time of inspection. "USDA Inspected" does not mean Grade A. What size is the turkey? Generally, the smaller the turkey, the more tender it is likely to be, since less poundage indicates a younger fowl. Is the turkey self basting? Self-basting turkeys contain ingredients which meld with turkey's natural juices during cooking to create a more flavorful, juicier bird. Please keep these points in mind when comparing labels to determine just which turkey is perfect for your special dinner.

St. Charles Community Center Synonymous With "People"

Located in the heart of St. Charles (almost directly across the street from the Post Office) is a relatively small brick building, formerly a hardware store. It has no sign up front (except a small notation about the mayor's office being inside) and it's a little hard for an out-of-towner to find ... but "they're" working on it.

"They" are a dedicated and devoted group of area citizens with the sole purpose of helping St. Charles become a better place to live.

The building has been the proud home of the St. Charles Community Center, Inc. for about three weeks now. In the last few years, the center has been both ravaged by flood and razed by fire but the spirit is stronger than ever. Guided by Sister Terry Martin, who is ever present "to offer good, sound advice," the volunteer corps includes Eliza Parsons, Vern Scott, Shirley Newman, Opal Herron, Elsie Elliott, Hazel Disney, Cecila Burgan, Ruth Scott and Lucy Maddle.

In the past, the center (about seven years old) was rented. It's a well-known fact, however, that ownership usually donates pride. That sense of pride was never greater than is currently felt by all involved with the new center. It is being bought by the people, for the people and is an effort to lead the people to become more community-minded.

Definitely a favorite service to the people at the center, by Sister Terry, is the adult education program. She speaks movingly and lovingly of the "beautiful" people of the area - insisting that they be allowed to live happy,

This group of dedicated volunteers at the St. Charles Community Clinic are shown enjoying a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. This Thanksgiving meal was served on a lovely set of china (donated from a friend in New York) as a gesture to the workers that "they are special, too."

Sheriff's Report

On Sunday, Officer Clayton J. Laurain arrested Clyde "Buck" Vester Cottrell, 42, of Rose Hill. Reportedly, Cottrell gave no statement as he "gave himself up" at the Lee County Jail in Jonesville. Warrants issued against Cottrell stemmed from incidents happening last July in the Martin Creek Road area. Charges included hit and run, using firearm in commission of a felony, the malicious wounding of Officer Kenneth Rouse, breaking and entering, reckless driving, destruction of private property, and capias (failure to report to probation officer.

Other items that came to the attention of the Lee County Sheriff's Department this week included the complaint from Shirley Williams, of Erving, that a car had parked in her drive and then sped away early Sunday morning. Then, later, she saw someone at her window. Investigating officers found foot prints in the snow under the window.

A roof fire was reported at VFW Gibson Station early Sunday morning. Windows were reportedly shot out and gas was around the building. An unidentified person was reported to be causing a disturbance outside the building Sunday morning but when officers arrived, he had already left. He was believed to live in the Middlesboro area.

Tobacco Selling Time

The cars and trucks of hundreds of tobacco growers lined about ¼ mile (on both sides) of Rt. 58A at the Grower's Warehouse west of Pennington Gap, slowing traffic on Monday, as this season's tobacco sales begin.

Town Council Approves Water Rate Hike

In their regular monthly meeting Friday night the Pennington Gap Town Council approved a raise in the rates for residential and commercial customers

This raise will be effective in January 1982 and will appear after the first meter reading after the first of the year

This means residential customers will pay a minimum of $6 as compared to $5 flat rate. The sewage bill will add on a $3 charge (sewage is based on ½ the amount of the water bill)

Mayor Ralph Smith stressed the increase was only the third since 1964 Up till now the water and sewage fund has been able to stand on its own but costs of chemicals, man hours, etc. have caused a steady drain, leaving the water department with a $15,000 deficit. Hopefully, the proposed increase should produce enough revenue so the water department will not have to borrow from the general fund again as it has been forced to do

Bill Edwards, an engineer with Dewberry and Davis of Marion, told the council a two phase plan is needed to correct the problems of the water system. The first phase (remedial) could cost about $4,000 next year maximum estimation of about $8,000. Some of the most urgent problems have been already corrected by the mayor at little or no cost.

The cost of the second phase, "long term", which includes major water treatment plant improvements, cannot be estimated at this time.

The matter of fluoridation was continued til next year, considering the costs of chemicals and the need to hire at least one more operator at the plant.

In other discussion of the council, a question was raised concerning the budget. Mayor Smith noted that a formal budget had not been used in Pennington, but in view of the controversy in nearby

VEC To Open Jonesville Office

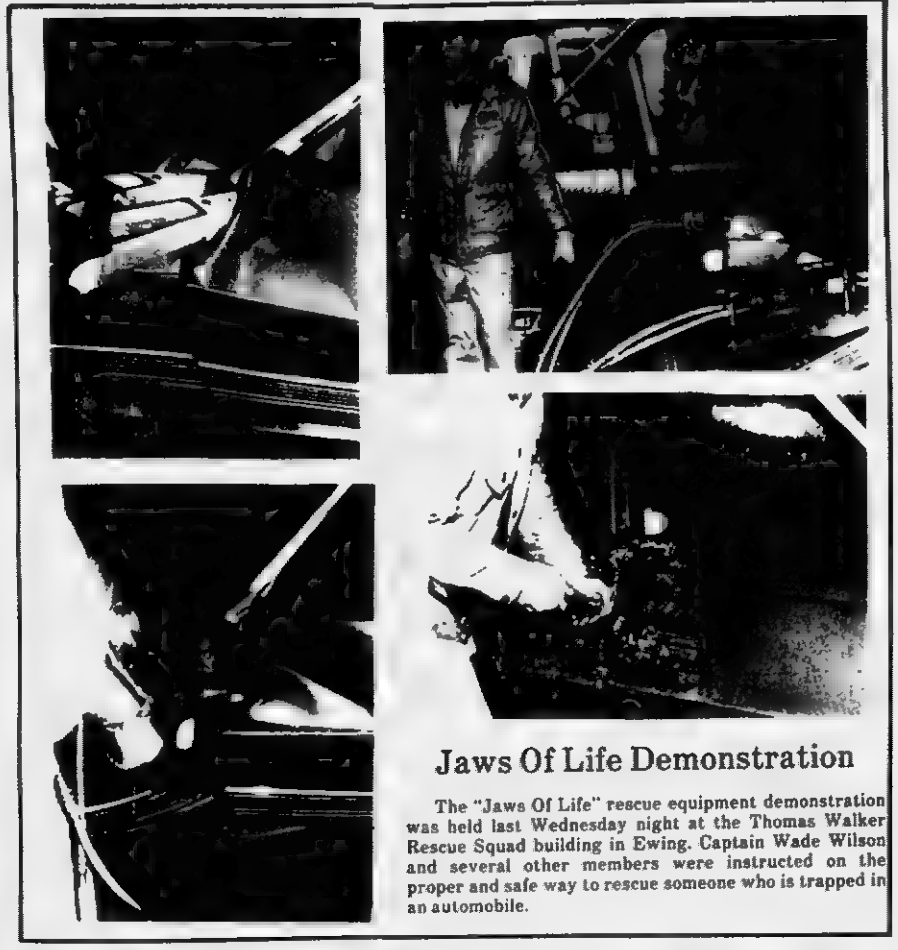
Gary Hale, Manager of the Virginia Employment Commission in Norton has announced the opening of a sub-office in Jonesville. The new office will be located on the third floor of the court house and will be open each Friday, beginning November 27, 1981, from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

With the exception of Unemployment Insurance, the new VEC office will offer all services currently available in the Norton office. Some of these services include: Employer services, job counseling, special program services, labor market information, and regular job seeking services. Those people and businesses requiring Unemployment Insurance Information will still need to contact the VEC in Norton.

Hale states the offering of employment services has stemmed from a growing awareness by the Virginia Employment Commission for a more direct involvement in the employment needs of the people and businesses of Lee County. He further states the continuation of these services will depend a great deal on the demand for them and he encourages everyone to take full advantage of this service.

Fire Destroys Home

A fire destroyed the East Pennington Gap resident of Ralph Ely. The fire was reported at 11:40 a.m. Friday. The fire apparently started from the chimney.



Jaws Of Life Demonstration

The "Jaws Of Life" rescue equipment demonstration was held last Wednesday night at the Thomas Walker Rescue Squad building in Ewing. Captain Wade Wilson and several other members were instructed on the proper and safe way to rescue someone who is trapped in an automobile.

Thanksgiving service for Jonesville and the surrounding area will be held Wednesday, November 25, at 7 p.m. at the Jonesville First Baptist Church.

Music will be under the direction of Mrs. Carlotta Bush. Special music will be presented by the choirs of the Methodist and Baptist churches. The messages will be brought by the Rev. C.C. Mize, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Jonesville.

The host pastor, the Rev. K.S. Clendaniel, of the Jonesville First Baptist Church extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend.

Federal Crop Insurance policyholders are reminded by the ASCS Office that December 31 is the final date to cancel their policy for 1982.

Farmers who have not leased their tobacco quota may contact the ASCS office and have the quota posted on the bulletin board as being available for lease.

All farmers are encouraged to vote in the ASCS Community Committee elections between November 27 and December 7.

Social Security
Questions And Answers

Q. After I was exposed to hepatitis, my doctor insisted that I receive an immunization shot. Will this be covered by my Medicare protection?

A. Routine immunizations are not covered, but since you were in risk of infection, your treatment may be covered by Medicare medical insurance.

Q. My doctor refuses to submit my bills to Medicare. How do I go about doing it myself?

A. Ask any Social Security office for Form 1490S, "Patient's Request for Medicare Payment." You should complete the form and send it to the Medicare carrier for your area. You can find the carrier's address in "Your Medicare Handbook." Be sure to send your itemized bills with the form. If you have any questions, contact your Social Security office for assistance.

Q. When my father had open heart surgery, he received many blood transfusions. Will Medicare pay for all the blood?

A. Hospital insurance does not cover the cost of the first three pints of whole blood or the equivalent quantities of packed red blood cells but will cover any other related expenses such as administration and storage. Most providers will not charge for blood if you arrange to have it replaced. Medicare excludes the first three pints from coverage in order to encourage blood replacement.

Q. Will my company pension have any effect on the amount of my Social Security benefits?

A. No. Pensions and annuities do not count as earnings for Social Security purposes.

PHS-DECA Presents Shoplifting Bad Check Workshop

At the regular November meeting of the Pennington Gap Chamber of Commerce, Pennington DECA Student of the Year Candidate, Sabrina Woodard presented a program of Shoplifting. Her presentation included ways to prevent and reduce shoplifting thefts. A brief presentation was also made on how to handle bad checks. After the program, materials concerning both topics were passed out to the Chamber members who were present.

One key point was made during the presentation, "SHOPLIFTING IS A CRIME".

IRS

Unfortunately, many taxpayers have come to believe as fact some misconceptions about the Internal Revenue Service, and because of this, have caused themselves needless worry and apprehension. To clarify some of these issues, and hopefully to allay the doubts these misconceptions may have caused, the IRS has prepared the following Questions and Answers:

Q. Is it true that if I use the peel-off address label, my return will more likely be examined?

A. No. The coded symbols on the address label have nothing to do with the examination process. They simply speed up the processing of the return.

WORD of GOD

Old Testament

And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

Joel 2:28

In memory of GMG 3 USN, Lonnie B. Evans.

Fourteen long years have passed Lonnie, since God called you away, and we believe if we could talk to you now, that we would hear you say, Thank God for counting me worthy to give my life, for the good old USA.

It is said that time heals wounds, and memories pass away, but missing you grows greater with every passing day.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Brothers, and Sisters

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Mrs. Jimmy (Norma Fleenor underwent heart surgery on Thursday, November 12, at the Holston Valley Hospital in Kingsport. She is reported to be doing fine at this time.

Norma's brother, Jimmy Dale Barker came from Loveland, Ohio to visit his sister before she had surgery. Jimmy Dale remained in Keokee a few days and visited with his mother, Lelia Barker and other relatives a few days. He visited his aunt, Verda Thompson awhile on Saturday. He returned to Ohio on Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cooper and son, Matthew of East Stone Gap visited Tom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack G. Cooper on Sunday. They also stopped for a short visit with his aunt, Louise McDaniel.

—Members of the WMU of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church held a book report on Africa at the church last Tuesday morning.

—Dorothy Arnette was the program leader and all members participated in the book study about Africa. It was very interesting as a Missionary from Africa had visited at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church last summer and while here was a guest at the home of Louise McDaniel

At the conclusion of the book study members enjoyed a delightful luncheon during the social hour.

Present for the meeting were Jean Glover, Helen Johnson, Ora Christian, Amelia Rogers, Louise McDaniel, Hazel Richardson, Sandy Kelly, Dorthy Arnette, and Willie Richardson.

—Mrs A.T. Collier of Big Stone Gap and her aunt, Verda Thompson were recent visitors in Johnson City, Tn., and they were also in Kingsport, Tn., one day last week.

—Iva Clarkston and I were pleased to have our cousin, Louise McDaniel visit with us last Wednesday afternoon.

—Virginia Barker and Eva Witt attended the Johnny Cash Show at Hiltons, Va., last Saturday and they enjoyed the show

—Mary Rainey of Big Stone Gap spent last Thursday visiting with Mrs. Bill (Freda) Bowen. Also visiting at the home of Mrs. Bowen on Wednesday were Virginia Perry and Barbara Parsons of Big Stone Gap.

—Happy birthday to Tammy Gardner who will celebrate her third birthday on November 24. She is the daughter of Marilyn Gardner of Dryden, Va. and Hiram Gardner of Bristol, Va., and Stacey Leann Quillen of Gate City, Va., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quillen of Gate City will celebrate her second birthday on November 29.

Both are granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs Marion J. Clarkston of Dryden, Va. Tammy's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mansey Gardner of Bristol, and Stacey's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Quillen of Gate City.

—Several sportsmen of this community have been enjoying deer hunting the past week. Mike Holmes of Keokee called on Tuesday evening and reported that he had killed a deer at High Knob. Young Mike was thrilled because it was the first deer he had ever killed and it was a seven pointer. Accompanying Mike on the deer hunting trip was his brother, Mark Holmes and also Ken Huffman. They planned to go hunting for turkeys one day and we hope they had good luck finding some of these birds. Anyway hiking through the woods I know they will have a good time observing nature in the Autumn season.

—Fred Hilton of Kingsport, Tn., underwent surgery one day last week at the Holston Valley Hospital. He is reported to be improving at this time.

Fred is the husband of Margaret Riddle Hilton of Kingsport and they have a number of relatives in this area

—I was pleased to receive a telephone call last Tuesday night from Ruby Orr Lewis of Pennington Gap. She is the wife of the late Neal Lewis formerly of Keokee who spent his early years here. Ruby is also interested in the Clark family history as Neal's mother was a Clark before her marriage.

Ruby Orr Lewis has two sons and she is very proud of them. Her son, Jack Lewis of Indianapolis, Ind., participated in the Marathon race held Sunday, November 8, in Louisville, Ky. He clocked less than nine minutes a mile. Jack is a former Lee Countian. His wife, Peggy and daughters, Lucy and Beth gave him much encouragement.

—Ansel Bush of Clover Fork, Ky., is reported to be on the sick list. His brother, Emerson Bush, Jr., of Keokee visited him one day last week.

—Luncheon guests last Thursday at the home of Verda Thompson were her granddaughter, Robin Tackett of Cox's Creek, Keokee, Rhonda Lawson, and Ruby Morris. They enjoyed a delightful time.

—As reported Jack Lawson and wife, Rhonda and family plan to leave Keokee some time soon and move to the state of Wyoming to reside.

It's A Boy

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Flanary of Shelbyville, Ky, are the proud parents of a new baby son born Tuesday, November 17. The new arrival weighed 8 lb. At the present time he has not been named.

The paternal grandparents are Elder and Mrs. Roy Flanary of Keokee. The maternal grandmother resides in Shelbyville.

"Congratulations to Pat and wife, Charlotte on the birth of their baby son."

In The Service

Pvt. Keith E. Laurain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton J. Laurain of Rural Route 2, Rose Hill, has completed advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Armor Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

During the training, students learn the duties of a tank crewman, including the firing of the bank's armament and small weapons. They also received instruction in field radio operation, map reading and tank maintenance and repair.

He is a 1981 graduate of Thomas Walker High School, Ewing, Va.

Good Hunting

David Allen of Pennington killed this 178 pound seven point buck in Grayson County. The deer was killed about 10:30 a.m. on opening day.

TW Citivan Club Meets

The Thomas Walker Civitan Club met in Cumberland Gap, Tennessee, November 12 for their Monthly Meeting.

Mrs. Philip O'Dell, newly installed president, called the meeting to order, then requested an open discussion of the two, most pressing items of business; namely, the Club's fund raising fair to be held at the Rose Hill Elementary School, December 5, and tentative arrangements for the annual Christmas Parade at Rose Hill, December 19.

Wade Wilson, Club Secretary Treasurer, reported to the members that the annual sale of Civitan fruitcakes was doing well.

The next club meeting will be held at Johnson's Restaurant, Rose Hill, on December 10.

All members are urged to be present in order to complete plans for the Christmas Parade.

Career Informational Services Available To Lee Countians

Lee County Virginians are very fortunate this year to have access to a new comprehensive occupational information system through their local high school guidance counselors and career centers.

Cindy Tucker, counselor at Pennington High School and Sue Rosenbalm, counselor at the Lee County Vocational School, recently returned from Staunton, Virginia where they attended the annual meeting of the Virginia's Counselor's Association. It was during this conference and other workshops that the Virginia View, a microfiche system was distributed free (via a federal grant) to some 1500 career-related counselors. Virginia View (Vital Information on Education and Work) contains microfiche files on 150 occupations in Virginia representing the major occupations in which most Virginians are employed, a financial aid file, an apprenticeship file, a military file, and a post school file. An additional 150 occupations will be added to the system in 1982 and the system will be updated annually.

At Pennington High School the Virginia View Microfiche System is located in the school's career center where it is managed by the career center managers. The managers are on duty during each week day from approximately 9:00 until 3:00. Pennington's guidance counselors, Bitsy Carico and Cindy Tucker also look forward to working individually with any student or community resident who would like to obtain career information or seek help in the career decision-making process.

Also included in these free services is a toll-free Virginia Career Information Hotline. The hotline number, 800-542-5870 provides answers to questions related to post education, and job training opportunities (in-state and out-of state), occupational licensing in Virginia, financial aid, job placement information, as well as general occupational and educational information. In the first six months of service, the hotline has been used by approximately 1200 persons throughout the State. The hotline hours are from 8 12 and 1-5 o'clock, Monday through Friday, except for holidays. Call toll free 1 800-542-5870.

November 22 - 28
National Family Week

Thanksgiving is a family time, when Americans gather to give thanks for abundant blessings made possible by a generous Creator, and by the toil of those who have built and defended this mighty nation.

This Thanksgiving, we honor America's mothers and fathers - the unsung heroes who have conquered overwhelming challenges in this unprecedented saga of human progress. Their homes have produced the vigorous exploring and pioneering spirit, inventive genius, hard work, service, and sacrifice - that have brought remarkable progress in every imaginable field of endeavor.

Today, each family can and must play a key role in building a strong and dynamic nation for the rising generations. Home is the best place to nurture the strengths we need most: faith in the future, hard work, honesty, integrity, unselfishness ... and all other qualities that have served us well in the past.

But it takes a commitment of quality time to build these strengths. Therefore, Jonesville Junior Woman's Club urges you to remember the week of Thanksgiving, November 22-28, 1981, as Family Week. We urge all Americans to share family time this week - and every week during the coming year - in a dedicated effort to build strong family ties, which are essential to a strong and vital nation.

Elected by the membership and installed as the 1981-82 officers of the Mountain Empire Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association are: Lisa Gilley, historian; Sherry Mosier, treasurer; Debbie Carroll, corresponding secretary; Lisa Wynn, recording secretary; Tanna Rutherford, Vice president and Carmen Lockhart, president.

Future Secretaries Association Officers Installed By PSI

The Mountain Empire Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association held their Installation of Officers Ceremony on Thursday, November 12, 1981, at Mountain Empire Community College. The Faculty Advisor for the FSA Chapter is Mrs. Leah Hicks, Secretarial Science Instructor at Mountain Empire Community College. Elected by the membership and installed as the officers of the chapter were: President, Carmen Lockhart; Vice President, Tanna Rutherford; Recording Secretary, Lisa Wynn; Corresponding Secretary, Debbie Carroll; Treasurer, Sherry Mosier; Historian, Lisa Gilley.

Janet Hampton, President of the Mountain Empire Chapter of Professional Secretaries International, performed the ceremony for officers and new members. Eligibility for FSA membership is determined by above-average scholarship, unquestionable character, and an interest in and an aptitude for secretarial work.

Q. Will "thinking metric" be difficult?

A. Not really. Most of us will need to know the terms meter, kilogram, liter and degrees Celsius. Even then, few people will have to use these with great precision on an everyday basis. For example, "thinking metric" means associating 20 degrees Celsius with room temperature or 37° C with body temperature.

Farm Marketings Totaled $1.5 Billion

Virginia farmers received $1.5 billion from their 1980 farm marketings, up from the $1.4 billion received in 1979.

The 1980 cash receipts included $949 million from livestock marketings, $510 million from crop marketings and various net amounts from Commodity Credit Corporation loans, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's income and balance sheet statistics for 1980.

The Virginia State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has announced that federal payments to Virginia farmers in 1980 amounted to $13.3 million, compared with $5.9 million in 1979.

The USDA report showed that for the U.S. the open market sales component was higher in 1979 than total cash receipts as CCC loans were negative. Open market sales in 1980 were lower than total cash receipts as CCC loans were postive. While most crop receipts increased, cattle receipts declined, hogs remained about the same, poultry was up slightly, and dairy products rose by 13 percent.

Net farm income declined from $32.7 billion in 1979 to $19.9 billion in 1980, according to the national report. Returns to operators also declined about 50 percent and cash income from farming dropped from $38.4 billion to $32.6 billion.

Total farm assets, including farm households, passed $1 trillion for the first time as the value of farm real estate increased from $756 billion on Jan. 1, 1980 to $829 billion on Jan. 1, 1981. The farm debt went from $158 billion to $175 billion, according to the report.

NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS of the ROSEHILL STICKLEY WATERWORKS, INC. Public Water Supply Now Newspaper Radio and TV

Stickley Waterworks Inc., owner of the Rose Hill public water system has been advised by State Health Officials that the subject public water system is in violation of Virginia Waterworks Regulations because water being served to the customers in Rose Hill did not comply with a Primary Maximum Contaminant Level during the Third Quarter of 1981 (July, August and September)

The State Health Department is concerned because the bacteriological standard has been exceeded before during the 4th Quarter of 1977, the 2nd Quarter of 1978, the 2nd Quarter of 1979, the 3rd Quarter of 1979 and the 3rd Quarter of 1980 The Health Department has advised us of certain improvements that are needed on the chlorination facilities that they feel will ensure the water is properly treated and will prevent future violations. We hope to have the improvements completed in the near future.

Further violations, however minor, will be reported to you as part of new Federal and State Waterworks Regulations aimed at increasing consumer awareness of condition that exist in public water systems.

This notice is in keeping with new State Waterworks Regulations

Defendants

The object of this suit is to partition the land of Suza A Lewis.

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs pray that the Court issue an order (1) adjudicating that partition of this real estate among the parties entitled thereto cannot conveniently be made; that none of the interested parties is willing to buy and pay for the shares of the other parties and that the interests of the parties entitled to share in this real estate would be promoted by a sale thereof, (2) directing a sale of the real estate in such manner as to yield the best price and directing that the net proceeds, after payment of the costs and expenses of the suit and sale, be divided among the parties according to their respective rights and interests; and (3) granting such other and further relief as to equity may seem meet and the nature of their case may require, including the allowance of a reasonable attorney's fee for complainant for services rendered to the parties unrepresented by counsel.

An affidavit has been made and filed that the defendants are not residents of this State, that diligence has been used by or on behalf of plaintiff to ascertain in what country or city the defendants are without effect, it is ordered that they appear before this court on or before the 24 day of December, 1981 and protect their interests herein.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Of Surface Mine Blasting Schedule

As required by the Federal Register, Volume 42, Number 239, "Surface Mining Enforcement Provisions", Section 715.19e dated Tuesday, December 13, 1977, Meadow Fork Coal Company, Permit Number 2741, located in the Meadow Fork section of Lee County, Virginia shall set from 8 a.m. until 12 noon and 1 p.m. until 5 p.m., November 24, 1981 through February 24, 1982, Monday through Saturday as the regular blasting period. Only during emergency situations will there be any variance from this scheduled time, and in such an event, all residents within one-half mile of the blasting area will be notified.

During a blast, mine personnel shall be stationed at a safe distance from the blasting area to prevent unauthorized entry. And the following signals and procedures shall be used.

1. Prior to blasting of explosives, an official shall sound three long blasts on air horn that is audible over the entire surface mine area, then clear area of personnel or place personnel within adequate shelters.

2. Official returns to signaling device and sounds two more long blasts on air horn, waits two minutes, sounds one long final blast, then shoots.

3. Personnel are to remain in clear until blasting area can be checked for burning holes or unfired shots. After this check, an all clear signal is given by sounding three short blasts on air horn.

Blasting will not be conducted at times different from those announced in the blasting schedule except in emergency situations where rain, lightning, other atmospheric conditions or operator or public safety requires unscheduled detonation.

LIFE HEALTH

The Way to Happiness

Man's eternal search is for an everlasting youth filled with the joy of healthy, happy living.

No means has been found to extend life beyond the mechanical limitations of the human body. When the body ceases to function, life ebbs away.

Dr. Ben Rasnic Chiropractor

Disorder and disease rob man of many years of useful and happy life. Simple care of the body, preventive maintenance, can prolong the time when normal wear and tear will destroy life.

Regular chiropractic care to assure that the nervous system is functioning efficiently in response to nerve impulses from the brain through the spinal cord to the millions of tiny nerve fibres throughout the body is an excellent "preventive maintenance" program.

Through scientific examinations and competent adjustments, the chiropractor maintains the nervous system and permits efficient operation of the nervous system. Nerve energy reaches its proper destination, and nature is able to perform her healing miracles in the body.

With efficient bodily functions maintained, the flow of happiness remains, unhampered and undiluted. Another Life and Health Article from the office of

JUNE FULLER

THE COUPON CLIPPER

How to win the grocery game

By June Fuller

My supermarket-shopping goal is to buy the national-brand groceries I need for as close to $0 00 as possible

It's a tremendous challenge to see how close I can come to my objective using all the discount opportunities provided to me by the supermarkets and the manufacturers

First, I start with supermarket advertisements and circulars Most advertised specials can save me at least 15 percent to 20 percent They are especially good on meat and produce — items for which there are few coupon or refund offers

As I look through the supermarket advertisements, I try to find a bargain-priced special for almost every item on my shopping list I do my shopping once a week and usually visit three stores in my area I find this to be well worth the time and the extra dollar or two of gas

The next step in my search for free or almost free food is to match my coupons with the supermarket specials on my shopping list This is easy and quick to do since my coupons are organized by product groups

My resourceful searching for coupons — including trading those that I can't use for others that I can — provides me with an inventory of more than 1 000 to select from when I make up my shopping list

Each coupon that I match with a store special gives me a "double play" discount that saves me 30 percent or more

The final step is my search for bargains is to take advantage of my refund opportunities. If, for example, I need one more proof from paper towels to send for a $5 refund, I'll search for that brand in the supermarket ads and in my coupon file No. 10 (paper products)

Combining a supermarket special with a coupon and a refund offer on the same item is the ultimate achievement in couponing and refunding We call it a "triple play." These discounts usually save me 70 percent to 80 percent

When I wind up making a profit, I give myself credit for a "home run"

I hope that this series of columns on the basics of couponing and refunding has been helpful to the many beginners who are interested in getting organized and taking advantage of all the money-saving opportunities that supermarket shopping offers

Here is a "home run" discount scored by Diane Simons of Appleton, Wis She has only been refunding for two months, which shows that even a beginner can win the supermarket game

Her supermarket regularly charges $2 99 for the 3-ounce jar of Nestea But she found it on sale for $1 37 The store doubled her 75-cent coupon, so she got the jar free When she got home, she sent in the label for a $1 Nestea refund

Ms Simons and other readers whose smart shopping experiences appear in my column receive a copy of the refunding publication, The National Supermarket Shopper Write to me in care of this newspaper.

Tips For Parents

Encouraging Teenagers To Read

Reading is important for adolescents as well as for younger children However, social commitments and heavy homework assignments often take away much of a teenager's leisure reading time. Adolescents often need extra encouragement to read, and parents can help by supplying materials that touch upon the teenager's special needs and interests. Here are some subjects that interest most adolescents.

1. Relationships. Many teenagers go through changes in their relationships with family and friends. For this reason, books dealing with love, friendship and family relationships are popular among teenagers.

2. Career Adolescence is the time when youngsters begin to think about the future Therefore, materials about colleges and careers may be welcome" In addition to providing reading practice, these materials may help the teenager make important decisions regarding the future.

3. Music. Most adolescents are interested in popular music. Parents can use this interest to spur reading by encouraging the teen to read about favorite groups or singers in books or magazines.

4. Cars. Teenagers who are at or near the age of learning to drive may be interested in information about cars. Books or magazines on car selection, car care and driving regulation may be interesting and useful to the teenager.

SET Presented To PHS-DECA

Charlotte Moore, Instructor for Mountain Empire Community College, presented a talk/slide presentation on "Sales Effectiveness Training". Ms Moore explained the importance of believing in the product you sell and being genuinely interested in the needs and wants of your customers. Another key point of her presentation was that sales people should not be afraid of being told "no." The program explained the steps to the selling process and gave tips on how to better handle each step

The students enjoyed Ms. Moore's presentation and will be better employees and students after hearing this program

We would like to thank Ms Moore for taking time from her busy schedule to make this interesting and educational presentation to Pennington DECA

First Thanksgiving Celebrated In Virginia By Pilgrims And Indians

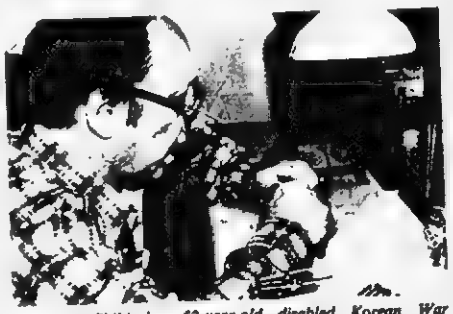
Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day in the year of 1981, how different from the first Thanksgiving Day so many years ago that was celebrated by the Pilgrims.

As we study the history of the early settlers we think of the hardships the Pilgrims went through getting new homes established in the New World. They had been here for nearly a year and the springtime planting had taken place. They watched the fields with great anxiety, because they knew that their lives depended on the coming harvest. It was a good season and God sent plenty of rain, their summer crops came to a fruitation of richness much more than they had expected. One day in late fall when their abundant harvest had been gathered Governor Bradford said, "We will have a harvest feast on Thanksgiving." He sent four men out into the forest to kill wild birds. Then he invited the Indians who had been friendly to strangers the white men. The Indians came bearing gifts of venison and the feast lasted for three days. According to history the Indians also brought a deerskin bag full of popcorn for a gift at the first Thanksgiving feast.

So, that was the first Thanksgiving Day celebrated in America, and as new colonies were settled on the land it became a yearly custom.

General Washington perfectly expressed the spirit of the day in his Thanksgiving proclamation in 1789. He recommended and assigned Thursday, November 26th to be observed as Thanksgiving Day.

Until the Civil War the celebration was merely a state affair. Then in the year of 1864, President Lincoln issued a proclamation appointing the fourth Thursday in November as thereafter as a National Thanksgiving Day....



Burton Skibinsky, 52-year-old disabled Korean War veteran, repairs from six to 10 watches a month in his apartment workshop. Suffering from multiple sclerosis that has rendered his legs useless, Skibinsky trained as a watchmaker under the Veterans Administration's vocational rehabilitation homebound program.

Thanksgiving Day in our present time is still a special holiday when families gather home for the holiday feast. It is a time to count our blessings and give humble thanks to Almighty God for his care and protection for all the people of this country.

areas, a document was drawn up for this year.

The town council voted and passed the 1981-82 budget on July 10 this year. Present were Mayor Ralph Smith, and councilmen F. Ely, Les Bailey, and S.T. Carson, F. Ely made the adopting motion and S.T. Carson seconded it. The affirmative vote was unanimous.

Any questions about the budget be cleared up with a visit to a regular monthly meeting of the town council. The group meets every third Friday night at 7 p.m. at the mayor's office. These meetings are usually attended by the mayor, five councilmen and the town attorney. The auditor may be contacted at Norton.

A lot of time has passed and weeds have grown since the community center burned about two or three years ago, but the spirit is still "fired up" as the center's members continue to grow in their new building in St. Charles.

productive, healthy lives . that their high values and culture be preserved. It is especially rewarding to her to watch adult faces light up as they learn to read, as they gain confidence and self-esteem.

Suggestions for other activities are welcomed by a myriad of ideas already abound at this happy gathering place, making each day a special one. Stated simply: "This building belongs to the people of the St Charles Community ... it is a place for all persons to come, meet and share meals, time and talents."

Some of the suggested activities to be held in it are: adult education classes, sewing classes, pickin' 'n grinnin' sessions, story-telling time for tiny tots, ladies' day, men's day, games, tutoring (adults), arts and crafts programs, recreational activities, birthday parties, anniversary parties, showers, community meetings (if approved by the group), and teen programs.

Several plans are in the offing to bring in revenue to pay for the center, which is the primary concern of the group at present.

A C-B Coffee Break (time to be announced) is scheduled for December 5. This fund-raising day will include music, games, etc.

Clothing sales are held every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. with volunteers manning the store

Donations toward a "brick" for the center may be made by anyone interested and may be made "In Memory..." Each brick will be labeled with the person's designated name or inscription and placed prominently on the wall in the center. Amounts of contributions will not be listed on the bricks but will be recorded in a "Builders of St. Charles Community Center" booklet which will be available for confirmation.

Persons wishing to donate time, services, talents or to just share in the goodwill are welcome to contact the center. It is an excellent opportunity for former residents to invest in a St. Charles that is positive and progressive.

The kitchen is being painted and readied. Furnishings are needed.

St. Charles Community Center, Inc. may be contacted by writing to Box 253, St. Charles, Va. 24282 or call Elsie Elliott at 383 4211

Fluvanna Ends Jonesville's Season 49-41

The Jonesville Bulldogs traveled to Marion, Va., this past Friday to compete in the state semi-finals. Their opponent was the Flying Flucos of Fluvanna and fly they did, as they soundly beat the Jonesville lassies 49 41.

Fluvanna took a 13 4 first quarter lead as they converted most of twelve Bulldog turnovers into points. The game started out as though the Flying Flucos could score when they wanted to, plus they could take the ball on steals or whatever they wanted, as when the Bull dogs inbounded the ball, it would be stolen

The lead was upped to 27 17 at the half. The Bulldogs seemed to be gathering momentum as the half ended, as they were trailing by some 18 points only to come alive and scored eight points, six on free throws to trim the end to 10 at the half But to start the third stanza, the Flying Flucos scored 12 unanswered points to lead by 22. Jonesville again showed signs of coming alive late in the fourth quarter as their defense held Fluvanna to seven points while scoring eighteen themselves, with Dee Dee Brooks playing the key player in trimming the lead to seven with time running out. A final spurt by Fluvanna gave the Flu cos the win 49 41, sending the Bulldogs home for the year

Jonesville has now been to the state tournament three times and lost The Bulldogs end the season at 21 3. They were led by Brook's game high of 19 points Cindy Terry added 12 points Both Brooks and Terry pulled down a dozen rebounds Sandy Willis scored four points in her final game as a Bulldog.

Fluvanna 23 0 was led by Jovce Waddy with 18 points She grabbed 14 rebounds and had a couple of blocked shots plus she was the key to holding Brooks to only eight points through three quarters of play Lisa Haney, the Flu cos leading scorer was held to 10 points, but her assists and steals made up for her point production.

Jonesville Basketball Team

The Jonesville Girls Basketball team, left Jonesville at 9:00 a.m. Friday for Marion. The girls were defeated 49-41 by Fluvanna County. Jonesville had an excellent season and finished the season with a 24-3 record.

Congratulations to Joe Robinson and his Bulldogs on a fine season. They'll be back next year despite the loss, as most of the team will return

Score By Quarters:
Fluvanna 13 14 15 7-49
Jonesville 4 13 6 18-41

Individual Scoring:
Fluvanna [49] Waddy 18, Haney 10, Bruce 10, Cousins 8, Winston 2, Melton 1

Family Notes

By Betty Jean Moore

Virginia Tech Extension Service agents provide continuing education - programs, information, services - for everyone, Miss Moore is with the Lee County office at 346-1522.

Turkeys, especially those that are stuffed, had best be cooked immediately before they are served.

There are no short cuts -- no methods that permit it to be partially cooked and then finished later -- that are safe.

Old tales often surface at this time of year about how to cook the turkey, but the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommendations are the best and the safest.

Those who are going to stuff a dressing in the turkey for any of the holiday meals need to prepare the turkey by cleaning it, rinsing out the internal cavities. Once the stuffing is prepared, put in the turkey and place the turkey in the oven. Stuffing also can be baked in a regular baking dish in the oven. It doesn't have to be inside the turkey.

If a meat thermometer is being used, insert it in the thick part of the thigh so that it is in about the center of the meat and not touching a bone. A turkey should be placed in a 325 or 350 degree Fahrenheit oven for the length of time recommended based on the weight or until the internal temperature is 185 degrees Fahrenheit.

The temperature of the oven needs to be kept at about 325 350 degrees Fahrenheit because if it drops below that it allows conditions that permit bacteria to grow.

The rest of the routine safety practices should continue as always. Holidays should not be spoiled by food-borne illnesses.

Keep the refrigerator at 40 degrees Fahrenheit or below. Refrigerate all food immediately after eating or cooking. Leaving food at room temperature for more than two hours (including preparation time) allows bacteria to multiply rapidly.

Keep hot food hot and cold food cold.

When shopping do not purchase bulging, leaking, or damaged cans Discard cracked jars or those with loose lids.

Select meat, dairy products, and frozen food last at the market, then return home quickly after purchasing food Immediately put the perishable items into the refrigerator or freezer on arrival home.

Wash hands before handling food and cooking. Keep hands away from mouth, nose, and hair. Cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue.

If you must sample food while cooking, use a clean eating utensil each time. Don't use the stirring utensil and don't put a utensil back into the food after it was used to taste the food

Wash cooking utensils and surfaces thoroughly. It is important to clean pots and cutting boards used for raw foods before using them for cutting cooked foods. This prevents cross - contamination between the two.

After the dinner, store the left over stuffing and the meat in separate containers. Remove the stuffing from the turkey cavity as soon as possible after the meal

Thanksgiving Proclamation Presented At Rose Hill Homemakers

The Rose Hill Home makes Club held a delightful meeting on November 13 at the home of Mrs Snyder Harris in Rose Hill

Mrs C. Willard Davis, president, welcomed the group of eighteen, including three guests, Mrs Mollie Edens and Mrs Bob Graham of Jonesville, and Mrs Jim Harris of Ewing

After Scripture reading by Mrs Tom B Fugate, she shared thoughts through poems and prayer on Giving Thanks and the Blessing of Gratitude This was followed by pledging allegiance to the flag of the United States by the group, and the recitation of the Virginia Homemaker's Creed in unison

Miss Bashie Kincaid, program leader, made an informative talk on our national holiday, Thanksgiving, preceded by a bit of history concerning our early settlers, and of the many times they held days of fasting, imploring God's mercy and help

"In all known history, she stated, "the concept of giving thanks to a Greater Power has always been practiced, and on our own continent, Thanksgiving began with the earliest settlers whose first observances were of praise and thanksgiving to God for an abundant harvest and for survival

She pointed out that in the First Thanksgiving Proclamation made on October 3, 1789 by George Washington, president of the United States, that the joint committee of both Houses of Congress had requested their President to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and prayer.

It was also noted that President Washington, in the Proclamation, had affirmed his belief in God, and acknowledged his guiding hand in helping the people to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness

In closing, Miss Kincaid suggested that we today should recognize the things for which we can truly be thankful our freedoms, our confidence in the future, and the ever endu ring basic strength of our nation, One Nation under God indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Among other club business, with Mrs. Willard Davis, presiding, was the presentation by the Nominations Chairman, Mrs. R.D Fugate, of a slate of Officers for the year 1982. As there were no nominations from the floor, the list selected by the committee were elected unanimously They are as follows

President, Mrs Ocie McMellan; Vice president, Mrs Marilyn Davis; Secretary, Mrs. Verna Grabeel, with assistant, Mrs. Mollie Grabeel: Treasurer, Mrs Minnie C. Smith: Reporter, Mrs Viola Emmett, with assistant, Miss Florence Bayless.

Those responsible for projects and committees were: Christmas Lights, Mrs. John Seale, Mrs. Snyder Harris, Mrs Claude Glass; Gifts for Civic and other projects, Mrs. Kathleen Carter, Mrs E.S. Grabeel. Beds and Chairs for the Sick, Florence Bayless and Bashie Kincaid; Telephone, Mrs Dorothy Chance, Mrs Willie Beaty

The officers are to be installed by Mrs. Bess Fugate at the December 11 meeting at 11:30 which will be a pot luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Loraine Davis

After recreation conducted by Mrs. F.L. Grabeel, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Pauline Harris.

A Consumer's Guide To Food Labels

According to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, every product label must have the name of the product, the net weight, and the name and place of business of the manufacturer, packer, or distributor.

And, on most food, the label must also list the ingredients starting with the main ingredient (according to weight) and followed in descending order by the other ingredients. So sugar, citrus, and food coloring listed in that order on a juice label means that sugar is the main ingredient, and citrus is the second ingredient.

The only foods not required to list all ingredients are what is known as "standardized" foods. FDA has set "standards of identity" for some foods that require them to contain certain ingredients. Under the law, the mandatory ingredients in standardized foods need not be listed on the label. Some examples of standardized foods are catsup and mayonnaise.

Any food that makes a nutritional claim, like "high in vitamin C" or "high in protein" must also have the nutritional content on the label. This will tell you how many calories the food has per serving, the number of servings per container, the amount in grams of protein, carbohydrate, and fat per serving, as well as the percentage of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance (U.S. RDA) U.S. RDA's are the approximate amounts of protein, vitamins, and minerals an adult needs each day to keep healthy. For example, a label on cereal might say it contains 35 percent of the RDA for vitamin C and 25 percent for iron.

What does "imitation" mean? Under the FDA regulation, whenever a product is not as nutritious as the product it resembles, it must be called "imitation" on the label--like "imitation margarine."

Other products look like one thing but really may be another. For example, a beverage that looks like orange juice but actually contains very little orange juice must use a different name on the label, such as "diluted orange juice drink."

Some packaged foods expect you to add something to complete the recipe. The label must tell you, for example, "you must add chicken to complete the recipe."

Finally, look for open dating. Although not officially required by FDA, many manufacturers will date a product to help consumers buy food that's fresh and wholesome. For example, many canned and packaged foods tell the pack date (the day it was manufactured, processed or packaged); cold cuts, ice cream, and milk give a pull or sell date (the last day the product should be sold); baby formula and yeast state the expiration date (the last day it should be eaten or used); bakery products have a freshness date (like the expiration date plus a short time allowed for home storage).

When you order Consumer's Guide to Food Labels (free), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Catalog lists over 200 consumer publications on everything from automobiles to health care.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gerald
(Lisa Louise Garrett)

Garrett, Gerald Exchange Wedding Vows

Lisa Louise Garrett and Larry Wayne Gerald were married September 5 at 2 p.m. at the Trinity Baptist Church, Christiansburg, Va. The Rev. Monroe Hedrick, uncle of the bride officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garrett of Jonesville. The bridegroom is a son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Gerald of Christiansburg, Va.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white formal gown of all Val Spray lace designed with a sheer yoke, a lovely lace stand up neckline and a sleeveless flounce bodice. The gently falling skirt hemmed in Schiffli embroider fell from a natural waist. The back of the gown was enhanced by bridal buttons and an attached train fell from the yoke of the gown. The bridal hat of Schiffli embroider was centered in the back by a silk rose and from which fell the bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, baby's breath and ivy with white satin ribbons.

Special music was provided by Mrs. Pam Hines, cousin of the bride, of Jonesville. Gary and Karen Gerald, brother and sister of the groom, and Greg and Suzanne Hedrick, cousins of the bride, all of Christiansburg

Dena Allen of Jonesville was maid of honor Other attendants were Sue Watson of Christiansburg Nancy Marcee of Harrogate, Tenn., sisters of the bride; Debbie Harris of Jonesville, and Tammy Perdue of Christiansburg

Junior bridesmaids were Laurie and Holly Watson of Christiansburg and Stephanie Garrett of Jonesville, nieces of the bride. Flower girl was Amy Turner of Christiansburg and ring bearer was Andy Hines of Jonesville, cousin of the bride The attendants wore dresses of pink, lavender, yellow, green, and blue eyelet

Mark Creasy of Christiansburg served as best man Ushers were Greg Linkous, Wayne Akers Kess Chafin all of Christiansburg, and Stephen Garrett, brother of the bride, of Jonesville

The bride is a dental assistant for Dr's Thompson and Schneeker of Blacksburg The groom is a survey chairman for Public Service Authority of Montgomery County The couple will reside in Christiansburg

Virginia Environmental Awards Grant

Gerald P. McCarthy, Executive Director of the Virginia Environmental Endowment (VEE), announced a grant award of $34,780 to the Virginia Water Project of Roanoke, Virginia.

In providing grants and loans for the development and implementation of innovative programs, the Endowment wants to encourage new ideas that enable citizens, government, and business to improve the environment. Since the first grant was approved in December of 1977, VEE has appropriated $1,708,396 for 60 projects with a total worth of $4,237,650 through October 31, 1981.

The Virginia Water Project (VWP) will use the grant to study the public information needs of a community during a water contamination event Based on these findings, a public information guidance manual will be developed and distributed to appropriate community personnel and agencies

The study commences in November with the development and mailing of a questionnaire to all publically owned water suppliers in the state. This questionnaire will ascertain contamination occurrences and public information actions taken

VWP is a nationally recognized leader in water and wastewater reform for rural communities in Virginia and the southeastern United States. According to Theodore J. Edlich, III, Chairman of the Board of Directors "The public information aspect of public water supply contamination is a critical problem in Virginia as well as the rest of the country

VWP believes that uniform procedural recommendations and guidelines must be established and implemented by towns potentially facing a water supply contamination crisis in order to minimize adverse secondary effects to the populace

The public information recommendations resulting from this study will not only better prepare a community for an emergency of this nature, but also elevate the issue of availability of adequate, safe, clean, and affordable water to all Virginians.

Yule Concert Materials Is Revealed

Moving toward the third annual weekend of concerts, December 4 and 5, the Big Stone Gap Community Chorus announces this week material which has been programmed. Following a traditional format of three sets, the sacred secular and Christmas spectacular the forty-two voices will move to fill every person who comes near. The chorus hopes to repeat its past great triumphs.

In set one the concert opens with the classic to music entitled Prayer Before Singing. Husted introduces God's Love to All the World. Bach's Praise Jerusalem Mendelssohn. Wonders in Your Name Schubert. Lord of Hosts Mozart. The Lord's Prayer Malotte. Set one closes with the songs: Ringwald's arr of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" will close the set.

Set two will feature a SMILE sing a long of old favorites after the choral ensemble kicks off with Another Opnin, Another Show' Porter. A Grand Night For Singing Rodgers. A specialty dance group will do NEW YORK, NEW YORK routine which promises to be a winner. Closing the set the Ensemble and full chorus will do a Ringwald arr of Carousel the Rodgers and Hammerstein great musical.

Following intermission the stage will be set for the cathedral pageantry of the magnificent music of Christmas. Silent Night, Gruber; Christ Lay to Worship Hal; Gloria from Mass in Bach Gounod, The Seraphic Song"; Rubinstein: "O Holy Night"; Adam...

SCC Halts Coal Contract Sales By Enjoining Virginia Firm

The State Corporation Commission (SCC) has enjoined an Arlington firm for violations of Virginia securities law in selling coal contracts as investments.

North American Coal Exchange, Inc., Lawrenee Morris, Capital First Financial Corp., Bill Parsons and Mike Thomas are defendants in the SCC action.

Robert G. Lewis, deputy of the SCC's Division of Securities and Retail Franchising; Max R. Zoeckler, investigation coordinator, and Joseph L. Turner, Jr., securities investigator, said in a report to the SCC that no security issued or sold by the Coal Exchange or any of its brokers or agents has ever been registered under the Virginia Securities Act.

The Commission was asked by the Securities Division in the November 13 report to issue a temporary injunction and the SCC acted promptly.

Lewis, Zoeckler and Turner have been investigating the company for six months and the investigation is continuing. Their report described how a Virginia resident was telephoned by Parsons and Thomas and deposited $4,816 for 1,000 tons of coal to be held for sale in a year. Parsons made unsubstantiated projections indicating large increases in the price of coal, but never mentioned additional payment or coal delivery.

Lewis reported that the contract purchased by the Virginia resident, coupled with the circumstances and representations surrounding his purchase, constitute the offer and sale of a security in the nature of an investment contract.

Inquiries concerning securities in Virginia may be made to the SCC Securities Division by using the SCC toll free number 1-800-552-7945, or by calling 786-7751 in Richmond or by writing to the Division of Securities and Retail Franchising, P.O. Box 1197, Richmond, Va. 23209.

Black Forest Torte

A rich chocolate cake with cherries from the scenic Black Forest along the Rhine River and with Kirsch, distilled from the cherries.

2 15-to-16 oz. cans pitted tart cherries drained
⅓ cup kirsch (cherry brandy)
2 tb kirsch (cherry brandy)
12 maraschino cherries, well drained
1 pkg. chocolate cake mix for 2-layer cake
2 cups heavy cream
½ cup confectioners sugar
3 sqs semi-sweet chocolate
2 tb. kirsch (cherry brandy)

Place tart cherries in bowl; cover with the ⅓ cup kirsch. Let marinate for about 4 hours at room temperature; stir occasionally. Prepare cake mix according to label instructions, except pour batter into 3 round greased and floured cake pans. Stagger pans on 2 racks in oven. Bake at 350° for 20 to 25 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in center comes out dry. Cool layers on racks 10 minutes. Remove from pans and cool for 2 hours so they are completely cooled. Prepare chocolate curls and grated chocolate for garnish.

In slightly warm oven or Microwave, soften 2 chocolate squares. With vegetable peeler, shave chocolate into curls. Grate the remaining square of chocolate. Set aside in a cool place, but not in refrigerator. Using a fork, all over the top of each cake. Drain cherries well; reserve the kirsch liquid. Sprinkle the liquid over the cake layers. In a small bowl, beat at medium speed the heavy cream, combined with the confectioners sugar and 2 tablespoons kirsch.

To assemble: place one cake layer on a cake pan. Spread with ¼ of the whipped cream mixture. Top with ½ of the tart cherries. Place second cake layer on top and spread with ¼ of the whipped cream mixture and balance of tart cherries. Top with third cake layer. Frost sides of cake with half of remaining whipped cream mixture. Gently press grated chocolate onto the cream. Use rest of cream mixture to form 12 dollops around the rim of the top layer. Garnish each dollop with a maraschino cherry. Pile chocolate curls in center. Refrigerate. 10 to 12 servings.

Fitness Challenge In Later Years

Growing old doesn't have to mean becoming inactive. You can be full of energy and enthusiasm as long as you stay actively involved in some kind of regular exercise. So, the way to keep lively as you get older is to be lively.

The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports and the Administration on Aging have a booklet that gives you solid advice on how to build a program to maintain youthful health and energy. For your copy of The Fitness Challenge in the Later Years, sent $2.25 to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 145J, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Fortunately, even if you've let years slip by while your good intentions of keeping fit were sacrificed to other demands of life, you can still pick up at some level of physical performance and gradually work toward increasing your fitness.

Should you bother striving for fitness if you're already in those "later years"? The answer is "Yes". Most medical authorities believe--and most active people know--that exercise helps a person look, feel and work better. Various organs and systems of the body, particularly the digestive process, are stimulated through activity and as a result work more effectively.

Physically active individuals are less likely to experience a heart attack or other forms of cardiovascular disease than sedentary people. And there is evidence that an active person who does suffer a coronary attack will probably have a less severe form and will be more likely to survive the experience.

Also, physical activity is as important as diet in maintaining proper weight. And being overweight is more than a matter of individual discomfort. It's related to several chronic diseases, shortened life expectancy, and emotional problems. Medical authorities now recommended that weight reduction be accomplished by a reasonable increase in daily physical activity, supplemented, if neces sary, by proper dietary controls.

Exercise can't prevent the stresses of life, but it can help you cope with them. For many individuals, frequent involvement in some sort of physi cal activity helps to reduce mental fatigue, tension, strain or boredom produced by our highly technical and sedentary way of life.

Periods of vigorous activity (like jogging) should be alternated with periods of lesser stress (like walk ing). Put the pressure on for a while and then release it. By gradually increasing the stressful in terval and reducing the less vigorous interval, you improve your physical condition. This principle of interval training can be applied to many forms of exercise and is especially suitable to walking and jogging, slow bicycling and brisk bicycling, and swim ming.

When you order The Fitness Challenge in the Later Years ($2.25), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Adminis tration, the free Catalog lists over 200 selected free and low-cost federal con sumer booklets.

Letters To The Editor

The Cookin Corner

In last week's paper you said a reader wanted the recipe for Black Forest Cake. This was published in the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate so I'm sending it to you, if you could pass it on. You might get a slice.

I do enjoy the paper so much and the cooking corner also. I'm from Rose Hill, Va. been here for 25 years but still cook mountain cooking. I can't go rice and gravy and the natives down here can't figure out what a stack cake and pinto beans are.

Have a nice Thanksgiving. I know I will for I'm coming to Rose Hill.

Thanks
Mrs. Rusty Dillmon

JWC Meets

The home of Peggy Willis provided the setting for the November 17 meeting of the Jonesville Junior Woman's Club.

Using "crime prevention" as his theme, Sheriff R.V. Chadwell proved to be an interesting guest speaker. After testing members of their knowledge of crimes and how often they are committed, Chadwell suggested different ways to protection. He then answered questions from the group on a variety of topics.

President Debbie Harris called the meeting to order, and the thoughts for the day were given by Angie Turley. Committee reports were then given by department chairmen.

The Arts Committee discussed Children's Shopping Day to be held from 10 2 p.m. on December 5. Members will be selling crafts, plants, baked goods and hot dogs, and Santa Claus will be there to greet the children.

Education Department members reminded the club of American Education Week November 15 21, and reported that apples had been taken to the teachers at Jonesville Elementary and Jonesville High School in recognition of their many contributions to American education.

Members of the Home Life Committee collected fruit to fill a Thanksgiving fruit basket for the residents of Green Hill Nursing Home. They also reminded club members to observe National Family Week and National Bible Week November 22-28.

The Executive Committee discussed plans for the Christmas dinner to be held at the arena on Saturday, December 5.

Following the business session, delicious refreshments were served by hostesses Patty Kirk and Peggy Willis.

Dear Mr. Watson:

I wish to say thank you for such an interesting paper. I can hardly wait each week for the next copy. Reading it is like sitting down with your best friend for a chat. The style in which it is written is so indicative of the people in the area and yet it is very informative. There is something in your paper for everyone to enjoy--everything from the new arrivals and who visited who, to the most important things happening in our local government. I especially like the Cooking Corner and the new Health Life article.

A few weeks ago I was very pleased to read about the opening of the Lee County Chiropractic Center, 131 E. Willow Rd., Pennington Gap. The people of this area are fortunate to have a chiropractor close by. He will save much considerable time and money in getting medical attention; since, they will no longer have to travel to Middlesboro to see Dr. Taylor or go to Kingsport.

To some of the people a chiropractor may be a new kind of Doctor. As the September 30, article mentioned, a chiropractic practice is "A system of therapeutics based upon the claim that disease is caused by abnormal function of the nerve system. It attempts to restore normal function of the nerve system by manipulation and treatment of the structures of the human body, especially those of the spinal column."

For every symptom (headache) there is a cause, such as a pinched nerve. Our society today takes two aspirin or tylenol for the headache (symptoms) without ever thinking about the cause. Consequently, as soon as the aspirin wears off we get the headache again. We have become a pill popping society and getting worse unless you get a doctor who cares to treat the problem instead of the symptoms.

Diabetes, cancer, heart trouble, and high blood pressure are on the rampage today. Pills and medications will not CURE these disease. Our people must be educated to the fact: A person's body will reflect what they put into it! What we eat and the medicine we take does make a difference!

I am not an expert but have learned from experience; and I'm sure many join me in saying, "Welcome, Dr. Rasnic."

Thank you for letting me express my views.

Sincerely,
R.E. Taylor

Mr. Don Watson, Publisher
Powell Valley News
Pennington Gap, Virginia

Dear Don:

The following is an open letter to all of the business and professional people in Pennington Gap.

To begin, let me quote an old British saying, "If we don't hang together, we will surely hang separately". On Tuesday, November 10, the full Chamber of Commerce for Pennington Gap held their regular meeting and we were blessed with the attendance of thirteen people. Six of these people were husband and wives combinations and two of the guests were there to present a program.

Last Tuesday night on the Seventeenth, the Chamber Board of Directors met to begin the planning of the Christmas promotions. I personally made fifteen or twenty phone calls and several personal calls to businesses here in town inviting them to join us and to help by giving us input and ideas that the executive group could enlarge on and make a huge step toward making Pennington Gap truly a good place to shop and hopefully to encourage the people that live around here to keep their money in Lee County where it is needed greatly.

This meeting drew four merchants, two other members and two guests who were there on another matter.

Two years ago, before I became a merchant here in town, I didn't have any idea of the problems and if I had been asked what I thought of the possibility that the downtown merchants might lose the major part of their business, I probably would have replied "thats tough, let that bunch down there clean up their mess and get the prices in line and maybe business will stay down there." I confess now that would have been a bad answer. Our problem is even greater, our business is not just going out to the suburbs, it is going out of town and even into another state.

If you begin counting at Rasnic's West End Market there are at least eighty-five business and professional people from there to Cas Walkers on the other end of town. Around 65 of these people belong to the Chamber and I find it hard to believe that this many people would be willing to leave the important business needs of this town and the necessary decisions that have to be made in the hands of so few people. I can't believe that all these business and professional people would want the entire Christmas programs handled by Four people.

It would appear then that we are all hanging separately, since we sure aren't hanging together. Another wise old saying is "In union there is strength". This also applies to our situation.

The time has long since passed when we the merchants can afford to let personal feeling interfere with good judgment and the need to work together to try to save what little we have left.

Let me say a few words here to the merchant who feels that he has all the business he needs. There is one thing that everyone can bet on and that is change, and if you feel that you are riding high and have it made forever, I would invite you to study the statistics that are quoted in the news almost daily on bankruptcies. During our present recession the bankruptcies are out-running new business starts by an effective percentage.

So let me urge all of the involved parties to reconsider your priorities. Make your determination, will you join with the rest of us and become an active member. If you're not a member, join now. I feel that any interested party should be a member. After all if Pennington Gap doesn't prosper as a whole, then the individual business and professional people can't prosper singly.

Dillard L. Graham, President
Pennington Gap, Chamber of Commerce

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

Congressman William C Wampler today announced that the House Senate Conference tentatively approved amendments he sponsored to the 1981 Farm Bill, which strengthen agricultural research and education throughout the nation

Wampler, who authored the National Agricultural Research, Extension, and Teaching Policy Act of 1977, stated "These amendments to the 1977 Act will guarantee a continuation of America's world leadership in production of food fiber and forest products to meet future demands into the year 2000

The amendments tentatively approved by the House Senate Conference provide for the appointment of an Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Research and Education, to manage the research, extension and teaching programs in the food and agricultural sciences This long needed move will consolidate strengthen and coordinate efforts in agriculture research and education

Provisions to strengthen the state federal partnership in the food and agricultural sciences include an increase in the representation of scientists and extension specialists from land grant colleges, such as VPI & SU, on the USDA Joint Council on Food and Agricultural Sciences The amendments also provide for expanded animal health and disease research and extended teaching programs in the food and agriculture sciences at state land grant schools Other major provisions would allow the federal government to loan excess federal property to state or county extension services state agricultural experiment stations, and state forestry and veterinary schools A new provision to establish an aquaculture research and extension program to increase production and marketing of food produced from fish farming was also provided

The Wampler amendments constitute a major title in the 1981 Farm Bill which is now being considered by a House Senate Conference Upon approval of the Conference Report by the House and Senate the bill will be sent to the President

Wampler said These measures will benefit Virginia's agriculture industry and consumers by providing an abundant wide scope of food fiber and forest products"

Pennington FHA/HERO Attend Holiday Fashion Show

A high light of the Pennington FHA/HERO chapter activities for this month was attending the Holiday Fashion Show recently in Kingsport. The fashions consisted of sport, dressy and evening ensembles, modeled by children, teen agers and adults. One half of the participants were boys and or men.

Another event of the month was the Fall Federation meeting. Twenty four members attended this meeting which was held in Jonesville. Lisa Bledsoe gave the response and Patricia Sanders along with the other Federation officers gave a two minute talk on "How FHA/HERO has helped me."

The chapter invited Mr Ronald Bodary, administration of the Lee County Community Hospital, to speak at the regular monthly meeting.

He discussed health careers and the need for more nurses.

Questions were asked concerning job openings in our local hospital and salary scales.

MECC Offers Mandatory New Miner Training

Mountain Empire Community College will be offering a new miner training class for anyone now employed or planning to be employed in underground mines, surface mines, or rock quarries who has not previously received the mandatory training

This training will be offered beginning December 7, 1981 at 7:00 p.m at Mountain Empire Community College in Room A211

Upon completion each student will receive a certificate of training that is required for new miners and approved by MSHA.

The tuition cost is $43.00 for underground and $21.50 for surface training. A $5.00 application fee is required for any student who has not previously attended MECC.

For more information regarding this class, call the mining department at Mountain Empire Community College, phone 523 2400, ext. 210 or 211

Project Completed ... Their Pride Is Showing

The morning and afternoon building trades I classes, under the supervision of their instructor Bill Dunsmore, have completed their creek bank wall construction on the Lee County Vocational - Technical School campus. The wall serves a two-fold purpose: it will prevent flooding of the campus following heavy rainfall and adds significantly to the beauty of the campus. Affectionately called the "Canal Crews", the young men are pictured above.

Elydale PTO

The regular PTO meeting of the Elydale Elementary School was held Monday night, November 16 at the school. The Elydale faculty and staff extended a "thank-you" to the parents, neighbors, and friends who have donated and helped in promoting a better school year for the students. The third grade class won a banana-split party for getting the greatest percentage of members in the membership drive.

The students of Elydale school publish a school newspaper under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Preece, coordinator. The children are the reporters and editors.

The Elydale basketball teams are participating in the tournament at Rose Hill, sponsored by the PTO.

The Elydale Eaglettes have been participating with the Thomas Walker Band in the Fall Parade.

Market Trends

At the Virginia auctions veal prices were 25 cents to $1.00 higher as estimated receipts were down 13 percent from the previous week. Choice & Prime veal brought $61-75; good $50-65.50, and standard $42-58.50. The wide range in prices is due to the wide range in weights and locations of markets throughout the State

Lamb prices were $1-1.50 lower as estimated receipts were down 50 percent from the previous week. Sales with official State grading sold the Choice & Prime, 95-125 lbs., lambs at $45.50-48.50, and the Choice lambs, 85-125 lbs., at $40-45.25. Yard graded lambs, 90-125 lbs., $45-46, and the 85-125 lb. lambs at $42.75-44.

Hog prices were uneven $1.00 lower to 50 cents higher as estimated receipts were up 50 percent from previous week Barrows and Gilts, 1-3's, 200-240 lbs. at $43.50-45; 240-270 lb $43-43.75; 180-200 lb. $40.50-43; Sows, US 1-3, 300-500 lbs. were $35.50-42. The Southeast Virginia hog market closed mostly 50 cents lower compared with Tuesday's trading. At Smithfield the No. 1-2, 200-230 lbs. were $42.50-43, and the 1-3's, $42 42.50 In the Courtland - Franklin area the No. 1-3's were $42 43 Total receipts for the week were 14,474 head.

Slaughter cattle prices were too few on steers or heifers for a comparison and slaughter cows and bulls were 25 cents 75 cents higher as estimated receipts were down 11 percent from the previous week. Good steers, 2-4, 1000-1200 lbs., at $51.75 55.75, and good heifers, 2-4, 850-1100 lbs., $41.25-45. Utility and Commercial cows 2-4 ranged $30.50-41.50, and bulls, 1 2, 1000 1500 lbs., at $38.25-48.75

At the Virginia auctions feeder cattle prices were steady to $2.25 higher as estimated receipts were down 14 percent from the previous week. The Medium Frame No. 1 steers, 300 500 lbs., at $62-64, and the Medium Frame No. 1 steers, 500 700 lbs. were $50.50-60.50. The Medium Frame No. 1 heifers, 300 500 lbs., were $42 51.25, and the 500-700 lb. heifers at $40 50 49.00

A special tel-o-auction slaughter cattle sale was held at Dublin, Va. on November 20, 1981. A total of 36 head sold on USDA grade standards and sold by carcass weight basis. Steers: Choice, 2-4, 950 1600 lbs., $96 95; Good, 2 4, 950 1600 lbs., $95 45.

USSR Resumes Grain Purchases

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said today he is "extremely pleased that the Soviet Union has returned to the U.S market for corn - the first Soviet purchase of U.S grain since President Reagan lifted the embargo April 24."

Private exporters today reported sales of 450,000 tons of U.S. corn for delivery after September 30.

"These purchases are consistent with the U.S. USSR consultation held in London June 8-9, when it was agreed that the Soviets could make additional purchases under the existing long-term agreement both before and after the agreement expires September 30

"The United States has worked hard to develop the Soviet market, as well as to expand farm product sales in other parts of the world," Block said "American farmers have invested their own labor and capital in producing for export. It is right and fair that they have the opportunity to compete for those markets, including the Soviet Union, and to benefit in terms of income The resumption of grain sales to the USSR is most gratifying. This gives me reason to be very optimistic that the door has been opened on additional grain sales."

The present five-year agreement, which became effective October 1, 1976, provided for purchases by the USSR of a minimum of 6 million tons of U.S. corn and wheat each year, with purchases above 8 million tons requiring prior consultation between the two governments. The Soviets bought 6.1 million tons the first year of the agreement, 14.6 million tons in the second year, and 15.5 million tons in the third year

In October 1979, after a short crop in the USSR, the Soviets were told they could import 25 million tons of U.S. grain the subsequent 12 months. However, on January 4, 1980, President Jimmy Carter announced an embargo on the export of agricultural products and certain other items to the USSR, except that the United States promised to honor the existing 6-8 million tons commitment on corn and wheat. As a result, shipments in the fourth year of the agreement amounted to only 7.9 million tons

By April of this year, the Soviets had completed purchases and shipments of the 8 million tons permitted in the fifth and final year of the agreement. Without further consultations between the governments, no additional purchases would have been permitted under the agreement.

However, at the June 8-9 consultation in London this year, the United States agreed the Soviets could purchase without further consultation up to 3 million tons of U.S. corn and 3 million tons of U.S. wheat for delivery before October 1. It was also agreed that the USSR could proceed to purchase "reasonable quantities" for delivery on or after October 1. The understanding is that if these purchases approach 3 million tons of wheat and or 4 million tons of corn, the United States will communicate further with Soviet authorities

Social Security Administration Disability Benefits Reviewed

People who receive Social Security disability benefits can look forward to having their cases reviewed periodically, R. L. Kelly, Social Security manager in Norton, said recently.

The purpose of the review is to ensure that people getting benefits because of disability are still eligible and that their disabling condition continues to meet the requirements of the law.

To become eligible for disability benefits, a person must have a medical condition so severe that it prevents him or her from doing any substantial gainful work for a year or longer.

Studies have shown that while many people had such a condition at the time their claim was decided, there has been medical improvement during the intervening months or years. As a result, they are no longer disabled within the meaning of the law.

The decision as to whether a person is still disabled is made by an agency in the State in which he or she lives. A person found still to be disabled during the review will continue to receive checks. A person found to be no longer disabled during a review has the right to appeal that decision. Checks to a person found not to be disabled will stop after a 3-month adjustment period.

More information about disability claims can be obtained at the Norton Social Security Office.

(Denise Thompson)

Double Ring Ceremony United Thompson, Vowell

First United Methodist Church of Pennington Gap was the scene of the wedding of Denise Thompson and Mark Vowell. The couple was united in marriage in a candle light ceremony on Saturday, October 17 at 2.00 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas (Tom) Stanley of Bluefield, Va.

The bride given in marriage by her mother and grandfather, was escorted to the altar by her grandfather chose a gown of white organza appliqued with flowers and chantilly lace featuring a full skirt, long full sleeves were gathered into tight lace trim cuffs at wrist and chapel length train.

Her veil was sprinkled with seed pearls and attached to a bridal cap of Alencon lace The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations, daisies and baby's breath with white streamers tied in love knots

Matron of honor was Jessie Pennington, friend of the bride

Bridesmaids were Sheila Thompson, sister of the bride and Deanna Robbins, cousin of the groom. The attendants wore floor length peach colored dresses and carried arm bouquets of white and peach carnations

Jimmy Brummitt served as best man

Groomsmen were Anthony Fee and Kent Henderson

Heather Robbins, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a long dress of peach and white and carried a white wicker basket trimmed with peach ribbon filled with rose petals

Ray Robbins, cousin of the groom was ring bearer.

Special vocal music was presented by Lisa Brewer and Sabrina Woodard

Wedding director was Mrs Ruth Jessee

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall

The guest book was kept by Linda Laningham, friend of bride

Several out of town guests attended.

The bride is a senior at Pennington High School and is the daughter of Linda Thompson of Pennington and G.C Thompson of Dayton, Ohio.

The groom graduated from Pennington High School, attended Mountain Empire College and is employed by Powell Mountain Coal Co

After a short wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tn , the couple are residing in Pennington Gap

VA Eligibility Explained

The Veterans Administration is reminding veterans and their dependents that they shouldn't let a lost document prevent them from applying for VA benefits.

VA regional director W.H. Highfill, Jr., reports that some veterans who can't locate a birth or marriage certificate do not apply for benefits because they think these documents are essential.

VA will accept certified statements from applicants in instances where documents needed to establish eligibility for benefits are lost, Highfill noted.

In the case of a marriage, this policy applies only to the first marriage for each partner, and there must be no contradictory information on file with the agency

In year past, VA has required formal documentation to support claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children

More recently, however, the agency has accepted a certified statement regarding the birth of a child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases.

Veterans or dependents with questions about eligibility for benefits are urged to contact the nearest VA regional office or a representative of one of the national veterans organizations.

Pennington Elementary PTO

The Pennington Elementary PTO held their regular meeting November 9. President Connie Nunley led the group in finalizing plans for the big Fall Festival on November 13. Guest speaker, Fred Herndon gave a slide presentation on 4 H which was very informative and helpful to the parents and teachers.

Then later in the week on Friday night, the PTO sponsored a Fall Festival for the students. It was a big evening with activities and plenty of food. The PTO would like to thank the parents for their donations of food and time spent in making this event a success and a hardy thanks to all the teachers at Pennington Elementary who were so cooperative in providing their time and talents.

Parents are urged to support the PTO by coming out to the regular meetings on the second Monday night of each month.

ASCS Election Ballots To Be Mailed November 27

Roy J. Myers, Chairman of the Lee County ASC Committee, urges all farmers to vote in this year's community committee election. A ballot will be mailed to all known eligible voters on November 27. The ballots must be voted and returned to the County ASCS Office no later than December 7. Ballots postmarked after December 7 will not be counted.

For ASCS Committee purposes, Lee County is divided into ten communities. The communities are: Elydale, Ewing Rose Hill, West White Shoals, East White Shoals, North Jonesville, South Jonesville, Rocky Yokum, Blackwater and Wallen's Creek-Pickleyville.

Each voter is asked to vote for not more than three of the six candidates listed on the ballot for his community. The ballot should be placed in the blank envelope provided and sealed. The blank envelope should then be placed in the return envelope. Voters are reminded to sign the certification on the back of the return envelope.

Myers encourages any person who feels he is eligible to vote but who does not receive a ballot to contact the county office.

Any person who is of legal voting age and has an interest in a farm as owner, tenant, or sharecropper is eligible to vote. Also, any person who is not of legal voting age but supervises and conducts the farming operations on an entire farm is an eligible voter.

"All persons are urged to participate by voting for the fellow farmers of their choice to represent them on their ASC Community Committee," Myers added.

Rose Hill Homemakers Club News

—Visiting Mr. Jess Owens last weekend was his nephew, Carile Fletcher from Ft. Pierce, Fla., who attended Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church with him for Sunday School and Morning Worship Services.

After Church, Mr. Owens, with Mrs. Lola Lee, his nephew, and Mrs. Pearl Bales, went to Knoxville.

After returning to Rose Hill, they spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Mrs. Bales.

—On Wednesday night, November 18, the Rose Hill First Baptist Church with Silver Leaf and Vanhuss Grove Baptist WMU joined in with them for a mission study class, studying about the people of French West Africa, with Beulah Johnson teaching the book, "Ten Buck Two." The hostess church served refreshments to thirty-one members and guests.

—A special "thank-you" is extended to the Thomas Walker Fire Department and Rescue Squad. As you know, all services by the T.W. Fire Department and Rescue Squad are provided by volunteer people, and operation costs are met by donations. The only way they can operate is by the people giving donations. It is especially appreciated when people who need the services send a donation to help cover expenses. Many hours of work are given by the volunteer people who operate the departments.

—A revival is in progress at the First Baptist Church of Ewing. Nightly messages are brought by the pastor, Rev. Mike York. Services begin at 7 p.m. with special singing every night.

—The Walnut Hill Baptist Church Choir was invited to sing in the revival at the Pleasant View Baptist Church, Tazewell, Tn. on November 18. Rev. Claude Brooks is pastor of the Walnut Hill Church at Gibson Station.

How Much Did Your Tobacco Crop Bring?

Tobacco growers of Lee County gathered at the warehouses on the Pennington Gap Market with great expectation for their 1981 crops.

On Monday, November 23 at Growers Warehouse the opening day of burley sales were fast, with excitement climbing when 576,112 pounds sold for $1,032,726.00, an average of $179.26 per hundred pounds, this was $14.70 per hundred pound more than the $164.56 per hundred average on the Lee County Market for the 1980 81 sales season.

When sales resumed on Tuesday, November 24 at Tri-State Warehouse the auctioneers sold 569,687 pounds for $1,038,305 00 with $3.00 per hundred pounds more, or an average for the day of $182 26 per hundred pounds.

Moving to Rasnic Warehouse No. 1, for the third sale day Wednesday, November 25, the average was $181.36 for 662,886 pounds selling for $1,202,205.00

The next sale day, following Thanksgiving day, Friday the twenty seventh, sales resumed at Rasnic Warehouse No. 2, where buyers spent $1,167,637.00 for 640,424 pounds of burley bringing an average of $182 32 per hundred weight

Shelburne's Warehouse, the first warehouse on the Pennington Gap Market completed the order of sales on Monday, November 30, from this floor 583,334 pounds of the golden leaf was sold averaging $182.97 per hundred pounds or $1,067,304.00.

When the total of 3,032,443 pounds of tobacco sold the first five days of the 1981 82 season putting $5,508,177 00 in

Santa To Visit Jonesville Saturday

Jonesville merchants, Lions club and Womens club have joined efforts to bring Santa to town at two o'clock Saturday -- Many hours has been spent by those in charge, to assemble a parade worthy of your traveling to Jonesville to view

The floats, are mostly in keeping with the Christmas season and some are outstanding when it comes to beauty. Don't miss the excitement of the hands and eager little children looking for Santa.

You're invited to be in town early for the Lion's Club auction to take place on Church Street. Toys, tools and clothing will be among the many items offered. You have time yet to donate to this effort by calling Jack M. Gilley, 346-3021 or Charles Arney, 346 1996.

The proceeds from this effort will go on the debt of the senior citizens building.

Contribute, attend, enjoy Saturday, December 5 in Jonesville.

Radcliff Addresses Dryden Students On Drug Abuse

Marvin Radcliff, Lee County Police Investigator, addressed Dryden students on the subject of drug abuse Tuesday morning

About 150 fourth through seventh grade students and teachers listened to 45 minute lecture and then joined in a 25 minute question and answer session.

Radcliff presented the problem of drug abuse to the students on their level, first listing well known types of drugs, then identifying them by appearance and matter-of factly teaching their effects on the body

Drugs mentioned were marijuana, heroin, LSD, cocaine, PCP, alcohol and pharmaceutical drugs. The latter drugs look like the real thing but are, in fact, only sugar and give only a psychological high plus they sell for $1.25 to $1.50 With marijuana being phased out growers can't sell as easily as they could previously more hard drugs are expected to come into the county.

Students were cautioned to not touch anything suspicious but rather report it to a teacher or parent. Reporting drugs is not to "rat on someone," said Radcliff He reminded the students that even though they might not take an available drug, their sister, brother or best friend might. Reporting drugs is "keeping somebody alive."

An unsettling remark by Radcliff was that at least one of the group present would become a drug addict before becoming 22 years of age, half would have smoked marijuana at

St. Charles Health Clinic Plans Expansion, Fundraising

The need for additional medical services to the people of Lee County has prompted the St. Charles Community Health Clinic to make tentative plans for expansion

Donations from the C. Bascomb Slemp Foundation, the Presbyterian Church of the United States in Atlanta, and other sources present a challenge to county residents for matching fundraising

Riding a coal boom economy in the 1940's and early 1950's, St. Charles was once a bustling and prosperous community However, like many single industry communities, harder times lay ahead as the demand for coal declined, and mines were either mechanized or closed Hundreds of jobless miners joined the migration north in search of work As many other coal mining towns scattered through out Appalachia, St. Charles has continued to face problems of high unemployment, high poverty levels, inadequate housing and education, and health care

The St. Charles Health Council, incorporated in 1973, is a non profit organization. Bake sales, auctions, raffles, skits, and lots of elbow grease brought enough money to purchase land in St Charles and begin building The clinic proudly opened its doors to patients in February, 1976. The practice has grown steadily since then, having in excess of 26,000 patient encounters since 1976 and over 4,500 active medical Expansion space has been readied beside this building presently housing the St. Charles Community Health Clinic. Public support can help to materialize this much-needed health facility for Lee County.

Christmas In The Churches

Christmas in the churches, has been an annual feature of the NEWS near Christmas time, this year will be no exception. All ministers in the county are invited to furnish information on any special activities that are planned for their church or churches,

This information will be published before the date of the event, possibly on December 16 for any pre Christmas activity.

Since this is the happiest of seasons - with lots of plans of good things to come, each minister is urged to contribute a short article on the religious side of Christmas, or you may have a favorite story that means Christmas to you. Would you share this with us to be published in the December 23 issue? If so, we need this information by December 8.

Church Visits St. Charles

United Mine Workers President Sam Church visited St. Charles last Sunday to join in an organizing rally and talk politics with the crowd dominated by pensioners.

One topic Church vowed not to discuss at the afternoon event was union politics. But at the end of a 30 minute speech, he relented.

Church said he would announce his expected candidacy next year, "when the time is proper to speak about politics."

Until then, the president said, he has "too much work for me to go and get involved in politics."

On Friday, union militant Richard Trumka of Nemacolin, Pa., a third-generation coal miner with degrees in law, accounting and economics, announced that he had formed a ticket to challenge Church, who acceded to the union's top post in 1979 when then-UMW President Arnold Miller retired due to poor health.

A second potential candidate to oppose Church is Willard Esselstyn, the current secretary-treasurer of the UMW.

Church's speech was dominated with themes he often repeats and which have one underlying similarity — politics.

"I see our political program starting to take shape," Church said of the union's political arm, COMPAC The union head cited two instances.

One was the election of Democrat Charles Robb as governor. Church hinted that state troopers would not sweep down on the state's six coal-producing counties during labor strikes in the Robb administration, as has been the case with Gov. John Dalton. His one message to the outgoing governor was "Goodbye, I'm glad to see you go."

Church said he hopes the departure of Dalton will bring about another change — the job of the state's chief mine inspector now held by Dalton appointee McLynn Sharpe. Church and Sharpe have battled off and on over the state's mine fatality rate since Church assumed the union's top position almost two years ago

Church said he believes Sharpe will be replaced, which will "come about because of our political action."

Fuel Assistance Program
Now Accepting Applications

Client Centered Legal Services of S W Va would like to inform all low income people that the Fuel Assistance Program is in process now through March 31, 1982 unless funds are depleted earlier than this date

According to the Virginia Fuel Assistance Program Manuel applications will be taken from November 1, 1981 until March 31, 1982 unless funds are depleted earlier Opportunity to apply must be given to all individuals at the initial contact with the agency An individual cannot be required to make an appointment to receive an application

Applications must be dispensed during all agency working hours. Requests for applications may be made in person, by telephone, by mail, or by a third party. If an applicant is homebound, the agency may need to make arrangements for a home visit by the agency or someone else to get the application completed. The application may be completed by the applicant or an authorized representative and left at the time of initial contact or returned at a later date

An authorized representative is defined as a person authorized by the client to act in his/her behalf This authorization shall be in writing. The person making the request shall be given leaflets on the Fuel Assistance Program Nondiscrimination, and Weatherization if the locality has a weatherization program. The date of application will be the date the signed and dated application is received in the agency. To avoid depleting the local agency's supply of application forms, the State Department of Welfare will fill directly any request for 25 or more applications from an individual or organization The person wanting the forms should be given the hotline number 1-800-552 3431 to make the request. The Fuel Assistance Application will be used for all households.

The FAP is only intended to be a supplement this year because of Federal Budget cuts

Beta Induction Ceremony

On Thursday, November 19, the Beta Club at Pennington High School conducted an induction ceremony to welcome its new members

The new members were given certificates and pins, symbols of their hard work to achieve good grades. To be a member of the Beta club one must have an 88 or above average with no failing grade on record.

The Beta Club officers, President Brenda Peters, Vice president John Cheek, Secretary-Angela Wilson and Reporter-Debbie Cosby, presented speeches urging the student body to strive to obtain good grades that they may become members of the Beta Club.

Following the ceremony, Beta members and parents of new Beta members and faculty were invited to participate in a reception.

The Beta Club at PHS offers tutoring services to students needing help with their studies. The Beta Club at PHS would like to thank Mrs. Lisa Phipps, the Beta Club sponsor, for the time and effort that she put forth to make the Beta Club and the induction ceremony a success.

Dr. Ficker, President Of M.E.C. College Is Guest Speaker At DAR Luncheon

A Thanksgiving Luncheon Meeting of the Lovelady Chapter and the Major George Gibson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held on Saturday, November 21, with Mrs. Fannie Hatcher, member of Lovelady Chapter DAR as Program Chairman.

Miss Anna Ford Kelly, Regent of Lovelady DAR, while presiding, introduced and welcomed the ten visitors present, which with members from both chapters, numbered fifty attending.

The tables were beautifully decorated in the Thanksgiving motif, and at each place setting was a miniature pillow pin cushion of quilt design, and a printed story of Our American Heritage concerning quilts of Colonial Days. These lovely gifts were made by Marguerite Kelly, and complimented a framed Sampler, identical to those made by young girls in Colonial times.

Fall flower arrangements made an attractive table setting for the delicious meal which was preceded by devotional thoughts and prayer by Mrs. Tom B. Fugate, Lovelady DAR Chaplain.

The group joined in pledging allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and reciting the American's Creed, led by flag chairman, Mrs. Charles Emmett, and the singing in unison of the Star Spangled Banner, with autoharp accompaniment by Mrs. Oscar W. Smith, both of the Major Gibson Chapter DAR.

Dr. Victor B. Ficker, President of Mountain Empire Community College, Big Stone Gap, who is a native of Brookfield, Illinois, was introduced by Miss Kelly, Regent, as guest speaker, who addressed the group on the topic, Our Need to Perpetuate Independence.

Dr. Ficker, in his timely and stirring address, spoke of America as a country that is only as free as the people in it. He suggested that a people dedicated to a search for Truth is more important than politicians and guns, for "It's the People", he said, "that keeps America Free".

But he emphasized the fact that no one is free to do anything he chooses, for no one is free who tramples on, or abuses others, and has no right to do so. "Unbridled freedom", he said, "or freedom without trained minds, is anarchy".

President Ficker also spoke of our basic freedoms of speech, of the press, and of religion, which must not be taken away from us, but at the same time he suggested that "the freedom I demand for my own children, I must also want and demand for others. If I want the best teachers and best libraries for my own children, I must also desire and work to get them for others."

He related a story of talking with an elderly man in Harlem who had been told to be patient and wait, that things would work out. But the man replied, "My boy can't wait, for his life is now, and waiting will be too late for his growth and development."

President Ficker then recommended that education should be supported to the fullest, so that all students shall have freedom to develop, to expand, and to think "It costs much more to keep a person in prison," he stated, "than to educate one, and while anarchy closes the mind, education opens it."

Dr. Ficker commended the DAR for their patriotic interest in history and education, and their efforts to preserve the values of the past. "It is important to preserve what is good from the past, and disregard the other", he stated. "We haven't always been right", he added, "and we have all made mistakes, but we must continue in our search for truth and right. That is what will make us free, and keep us free," he concluded.

Mrs. Jerry Hounshell recognized Mrs. G. C. Wharton, who is Director of District IV in Virginia DAR, and expressed delight in having her at the meeting, and also Mary Henry, both of whom are members of the Boone Trail Chapter DAR in Wise.

Mrs. Buford Rhea of Lovelady Chapter read a Thanksgiving message from Patricia Shelby, President General of NSDAR, and the meeting closed with all singing the theme song for the year, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past, Our Hope for Years to Come."

Helpful Hints For Respiratory Illnesses

As the number of patients with chronic respiratory illnesses increase, we feel there are a few helpful hints that can be offered to help make their breathing problems a little more bearable. This article, one in a series to be presented for patients with lung disease, is being presented as part of the effort to provide helpful information to people who have Asthma, Bronchitis, Emphysema and/or Coal Worker's pneumoconiosis.

The following article is one excerpt from the educational materials that is being presented to individuals attending one of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia Chronic respiratory illnesses are a significant and growing health problem in Southwest Virginia The purpose of these articles and the clinics is to help inform individuals with lung diseases about their illness and to help make them feel better

Walking:

Walking is one of the most useful and enjoyable ways to strengthen your body

Here are a few tips on how to build your strength by walking:

a. Start with short daily walks as far as you can go without getting short of breath. Outdoors is best if weather conditions are good, but you can walk in the house or inside a shopping mall or large store when weather conditions are not suitable

b Always walk with your arms hanging loosely with your chest and shoulders relaxed

c Breathe slowly, using your diaphragm while you walk Try to breathe out twice as long as you breathe in d Find an even, easy speed. Take the same number of steps for each breath Find the number best for you, they may change from day to day

e. Try to walk a little farther each day, even if it's only a few feet. Do not push yourself too hard, if you become short of breath, stop and rest and use pursed lip breathing

This article has been presented with the help of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia, in conjunction with a Black Lung grant administered in association with the Virginia Department of Health.

Virginia Tech Extension Service agents provide continuing education programs, information, services for everyone. Miss Moore is with the Lee County office at 346-1522.

The joy of the holiday season often seems to find some persons with an overwhelming sadness These individuals suffer from depressions more during and after the holidays than at any other time

There are ways to combat this depression if the individuals are aware that it can happen and they want to avoid it

First, plan ahead to budget time and energy as well as money

Decide what you are going to do and try to start ahead on it If it is shopping for gifts, try to go when the stores are not the busiest, so you won't be rushed and hurried

Those planning extra special cooking can get started early on it Make things that can be frozen and kept until needed

Plan meals to be made now, then make at least two batches and freeze some for use later Then the frozen meal can be used to get you more time as it gets closer to the holiday itself

Plan ahead about the finances of the holiday season too Decide on a budget and stay with it This way relieves some post holiday difficulties, too

Continue daily decision making and problem solving Postponing difficult decisions until after the holidays only makes the task more difficult and accumulating those problems until after the holidays may be aggravating post holiday depression

Saving some quiet time each day for yourself is also a good depression fighter Get away from the hustle and bustle of the holidays away from the noise and stimulation A few quiet minutes can refresh an individual for several hours

Don't look for miracles or change to begin next year This hope, part of the New Year tradition may be an element of post holiday depression too To make life different, each individual has to make a real effort all of the time

Surviving the holidays involves a realistic look at time energy, and financial resources and a willingness to stay within the limitations

USDA Charts Conservation Course

First Of A Series

America will face reduced agricultural productive capacity and increased production costs unless the critical soil and water resource conservation problems of the nation are addressed. This is the conclusion of a three-year study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The study was required by Congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), according to Fred Copenhaver, Soil Conservation Service (SCS) district conservationist in Lee County.

Specifically, the RCA study revealed that:

-One-third of America's cropland is eroding faster than the soil can rebuild itself through natural processes. Unless corrective actions are taken, the acreage of this excessively eroding land will increase further.

Floods threaten human life, cropland and other property, livestock and crops in upstream watersheds. Greater damage is likely in the future.

--Depletion of ground water threatens the continuation of irrigated agriculture in extensive areas of the West.

--Deterioration of water quality may limit the use of water for irrigation, municipal and industrial supply, fish and wildlife habitat, and other purposes.

These RCA findings are based on the most intensive and accurate appraisal of the country's nonfederal natural resources ever conducted. "Much of the data came from onsite examinations at about 200,000 sample points provided information for the United States. In Virginia, over 5,292 sample points provided information for the national summary."

The information gathered included data on land uses, soils, erosion, prime farmland, cropping sequences, and crop residue treatment.

Beside the SCS inventories and other USDA studies and evaluations, the RCA process drew on studies made by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Fish and Wildlife Service, Enviromental Protection Agency, Water Resources Council, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and others.

RCA Appraisal Part 1, the first of three major documents, containing detailed information on the resource base -status, conditions and trends. A reference copy of all three major RCA documents is available for use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state.

Copies of a short leaflet summarizing the RCA findings and proposed conservation program are also available at the two USDA offices. It contains a preaddressed, postage-paid response form that people may use to comment on the program.

Market Trends

At the Virginia auctions veal prices were 75 cents to $2.00 higher as estimated receipts were down 28 percent from the previous week. Choice and Prime veal brought $63-74.50; Good $52.50-66, and Standard $45-59. The wide range in prices is due to the wide range in weights and locations of markets throughout the State.

Lamb prices were 25 cents lower to 25 cents higher as estimated receipts were up 11 percent from the previous week. Sales with official State grading sold the Choice and Prime, 95-125 lb. lambs, $47.25-47.50, and the Choice lambs, 85-125 lbs., $41.25-43.20. Yard graded lambs, 90-125 lbs., $46-48.

Hog prices were 25 cents to 75 cents lower except sows were $1.75 higher as estimated receipts were down 38 percent from the previous week. Barrows and gilts 1-3, 200-240 lbs., $43-44.50, 240-270 lbs. $43-43.60, 180-200 lbs. $39-43. Sows, US 1-3, 300-500 lbs., were $37.40-45.50.

Slaughter cattle prices, not enough steers and heifers for a test. Cows and bulls were steady to 50 cents higher as estimated receipts were down 14 percent from the previous week. Good steers 2-4, 1000-1200 lbs., at $50-53. Utility and Commercial cows, 2-4, brought $32-44. Bulls, 1-2, 1000-1500 lbs., at $38.50-49. No prices for good heifers.

Feeder Cattle prices were 25 cents to $2.75 higher as estimated receipts were down 17 percent from the previous week. The Medium Frame No. 1 Steers, 300-500 lbs., $53-64.50 and the 500-700 lbs. $50-63.50. The Medium Frame No. 1 Heifers, 300-500 lbs., were $42.25-51.00, and the 500-700 lbs. at $42.50-50.50.

A special computer slaughter lamb sale was held at Dublin, Va. on Friday, November 27, 1981. A total of 847 head sold on USDA grade standards and by the cwt. Choice & Prime, 95-125 lbs., wooled and shorn lambs ranged from $49.25-51.25. Take up points are: Dublin, Seven Mile Ford, Va., Danville, Lexington Ky., Warsaw and Wilmington, Ohio.

Defendants

The object of this suit is to partition the land of Suza A Lewis.

WHEREFORE, plaintiffs pray that the Court issue an order (1) adjudicating that partition of this real estate among the parties entitled thereto cannot conveniently be made, that none of the interested parties is willing to buy and pay for the shares of the other parties and that the interests of the parties entitled to share in this real estate would be promoted by a sale thereof, (2) directing a sale of the real estate in such manner as to yield the best price and directing that the net proceeds, after payment of the costs and expenses of the suit and sale, be divided among the parties according to their respective rights and interests; and (3) granting such other and further relief as to equity may seem meet and the nature of their case may require, including the allowance of a reasonable attorney's fee for complainant for services rendered to the parceners unrepresented by counsel

An affidavit has been made and filed that the defendants are not residents of this State, that diligence has been used by or on behalf of plaintiff to ascertain in what country or city the defendants are without effect, it is ordered that they appear before this court on or before the 24 day of December, 1981 and protect their interests herein

Questions And Answers

Q. Does it really matter which Social Security number appears first on the return?

A. Yes, it is very important to show the Social Security number in the same order you show first names. Failure to list them in that order can result in a delay in processing the return.

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

The very first sentence of the Constitution recognizes the need for our government to "provide for the common defense" of the people of the United States The means for so doing have changed from the musket to the intercontinental ballistic missile and sophisticated manned bombers over the past two centuries, but preserving our strength in the world to insure our peace and freedom at home remains the fundamental test of our government.

Nowhere is that test more challenging today than in dealing with spending plans for defense programs for this fiscal year. Those programs will set the stage for decade-long policies needed to rebuild America's defenses. America faces hard economic decisions in the months ahead. In voting for a change last year, the people gave their government a mandate to reverse the economic decline caused by years of freespending The defense appropriations bill before Congress last week recognizes that need for cuts, the need to wipe out waste, and the need to delay and slow all but absolutely crucial new programs. Those cuts must be made with a scapel, not an ax, however. We must trim waste and fat without cutting needed muscle

In today's world, it is impossible for our nation to secure that sound economy if we are weak and insecure in our defenses, unable to defend ourselves and our interests, or if we face enemies who are uncertain about our willingness to do so.

The threat to the United States from the Soviet Union and other unfriendly nations is real. During the past three years, the Soviet Union has put into place one new SS-20 missile every week. The Soviet Union has four other ICBM production lines in operation, while the United States has no ICBM production lines now working. I strongly support President Reagan's move to reduce nuclear armaments in Europe and ease tensions throughout the world as a result But we cannot overlook immediate needs as well

Less than one year ago, President Reagan came into office and found a shrinking Navy charged with foreign policy doctrines demanding massive naval capabilities He found a strategic weapons system stocked with fast aging weapons. And he found a fighting force on which this burden fell, uncertain of the support it would receive in a time of increasing, not decreasing, threat

The foreign and military policies of this nation have been forced to halt that decline and reverse that trend That decline has been halted Now those trends must be reversed There should be no doubt in the world today about America's resolve to protect its freedoms and its interests, and those of its friends Congress must do its part by providing the funding needed to put that resolve into clear and unmistakeable form

Five Phases Of Recovery

Restoration Of Nerve Flow

An individual suffering from disease or bodily disorder goes to his chiropractor for trained, competent care.

Dr. Ben Rasnic
Chiropractor

The chiropractor uses scientific equipment and his training in the function of the body's nervous system as it relates to the spine. He locates the course of the disorder and determines the proper adjustment procedure to correct the cause of the disorder.

The chiropractor knows that impingement of one of the spinal nerves is the cause of the bodily disorder. The impingement, or pressure, on the nerve interferes with the flow of nerve energy to the affected part. Once the adjustment realigns the spine, and removes the impingement, the vital nerve energy is restored to the body, and recovery begins almost at once.

The chiropractor says "the power that made the body is the power that heals the body," and restoring the efficient flow of nerve energy gives nature her power to heal. Another Health and Life Article from the Office of:

B. Willard Barker —

Quiet Genius

By Louise Carver

I knew right away the Barkers of Route 2, Pennington Gap are a unique couple. Mr. Barker's name is B. Willard Barker; hers is Laura B. Barker. In his case the "B" stands for Barney; hers stands alone. Laura's momma named all her children with a given name and a stand-alone initial.

Mr. Barker came to my attention when he told my editor he had built an unusual apparatus for cracking hard-shelled walnuts. On my way home from work last Monday, I swung around by the Barkers' homeplace.

The first thing I saw was a cinder block building that Barker attests to building himself. He started laying the floor on his birthday, October 10, 1947 and finished the building about 1949 or 50. The neat white house with its enticing porch swing and carefully groomed tree-lined yard dominate the picture.

However, they, by no means, complete the scene. Near the left side of the house are: a hand-built well-house, cellar, derrick, garden, and a green house. But, I'll get back to that later.

As I stepped from my car onto the sidewalk, I couldn't help noticing an inscription on the sidewalk that read "B. Wallard Barker May 19-73."

I knew then I'd stepped into a world not unlike that of my own father in West Virginia. My dad is a "jack-of all-trades" and I was sure Mr. Barker would be my friend if he was any thing like dad.

...I was greeted at the door by Laura Barker who was a very gracious hostess, putting me at ease while displaying family pictures and answering a few questions about Willard, such as age, etc. It seemed Willard was in the basement cleaning the furnace.

After Laura finished straightening the sofa and apologizing for an already immaculate living room, we ventured on into the kitchen where she tended a pot of chicken that was spreading a delicious aroma through the house. The kitchen is insulated with foot thick concrete walls - built inch by inch by Willard. A concrete floor supports the kitchen. Laura says she was right beside Willard helping when she could.

The addition to the house, completed in 1975, also sports two bathrooms both large -- one, nice and showy for Laura and company -- the other designed for the retired miner that Willard is. It has an open shower ... and .. the entire wall facing the door is covered with a painting. A second cousin of Willard's painted an outdoor fantasy right on the wall depicting an aura of tranquility -- an old bridge, trees, a horse grazing by the creek.

To reach the comfortable bedroom nooks upstairs, it's a pleasure to climb the knotty pine steps (fashioned with materials "from the woods"). The threat of the expense of carpeting led Willard to sand and varnish the floors upstairs a definite asset as the results are sparkingly beautiful. Laura pieces quilts and the beds were draped lovingly with some samples of her handiwork. She said that all the kids had a favorite bed when they visited. She confided that the upstairs addition was just what her children would have enjoyed when they were young but they had to struggle then to keep the "wolf from the door." The grandchildren enjoy it now.

The back porch, off the kitchen, has the nostalgic look of an old fashioned bean-stringing, apple peeling setting ... quietly awaiting the next session.

As I stepped into the back yard, a table caught my eye. An ordinary table with four legs and a top? No way -- the top is a large slab of limestone (rolled from the front yard on two logs) and the legs are fashioned by furnace pipes filled with concrete. As Laura said "...it's there to stay."

And finally, I met the "quiet genious." With a smile on his face, he dusted himself of the remains of cleaning the furnace, and proceeded to show me the walnut-cracking machine that has provided him with a lot of entertainment.

Willard has about 20 bushel of walnuts from Dryden spread out to cure -- some on the porch some on the basement floor. The sheller (fashioned from ½" and 1¼" water pipes, a truck bearing, threaded rod, a wooden frame with a screen to catch the kernels, etc.) allows Willard to shell a bushel of nuts in about 4½ hours. The kernels usually come out in quarters but there is still some time involved in "picking" the remainder of the nut meats. A bushel of walnuts produces five to six pounds of ready to eat nut meats.

When asked how he invented the mechanism, Willard said he mashed his fingers so much with a hammer he laid awake nights till he "skunked it out."

Another invention folds tarpaper patterns into flower pot boxes. They are then stapled at the sides.

The house sets on free form rock, which Willard took advantage of, and using some concrete, built a "see more" shower (as Laura calls it.) The form for the shower is remindful of the ideas we have of the way Roman baths may have looked. Of course, the tub under the shower has a plug and a drain.

Now back to the cellar outside the house. Stored there are a colorful array of onions, turnips, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes and canned foods. A thoughtful touch there is a drain hole in the floor "in case I want to wash the cellar" says Willard and a hole directly overhead for air circulation - "you don't want an air tight room of any kind" says Willard The shelves are pegged strategically with nails to enable them to be moved easily

The rock walled well house holds an 80 gallon water tank the pump has given good service for 30 years. That's where the unusual ends and the exceptional begins. The roof of the well-house has been carefully shaped into a bird bath, complete with a water faucet. Even with a half inch covering of ice on the bath, the birds still came so Willard thaws the pond for his avian friends who also, by the way, feast on the walnut shells he discards

The side yard is the site of a derrick and wench used to move large stones (some as much as 500 pounds) to be used to build the 250 foot rock wall that is a current project under way.

Willard's four acres include a garden spot and a strawberry patch, the fruits of which he is anticipating, come spring.

His green house, once used to grow gardenias, now mostly houses garden plants, tomatoes, peppers, etc. But, a stroke of genious appears there, too, as an opening in an underground ditch allows fresh air into the greenhouse.

The Barkers will soon celebrate their golden anniversary, and with the exception of about a year spent in Kentucky, they have lived on Route 2. They have two sons, in Ohio, and a daughter who lives at Dryden

Willard worked as a coal miner for about 20 years and some people in the area may remember him as a taxi driver in the Pennington Gap area. He feels good except for the aggravation of an arthritic hip

Willard's daddy was a blacksmith and carpenter Willard says he started as a young boy building rabbit boxes, chicken coops, etc

The question was posed to me "... why does he do all that?" I answered, "You tell me He's 74 years old"

I left Willard's home with a bag of turnips in my hand (I have a feeling no visitor leaves empty handed) and a wall come invitation in my ear. Shucks I forgot my bag of walnuts

American Legion Plans Meeting

American Legion Post 185 will hold a meeting on Tuesday, December 8, at 7:00 p.m., at the post home in Jonesville. Your annual membership dues are to be paid before January 1 to remain in good standing.

An extra attraction at this meeting will be a copy of the March 30, 1944 special service edition, of the Powell Valley News, featuring information and pictures of Lee Countians serving in World War II. This special edition will be displayed, you can look, you can talk, but you can't take it home.

See a young J. Evan Skaggs in his sailor uniform, or Lt. John Laningham or the wedding of Pfc. Wayman Burden on March 3, this is just a few of the many items of interest.

You will probably find yourself pictured, and if you're interested in obtaining a copy of your very own, you may do so by notifying Wendell Canter. If enough interest is shown this paper can be reprinted, but first the number copies needed will need to be determined.

Where were you March 30, 1944?

Serving Your Country.

Sheriff's Report

The Lee County Sheriff's Department has arrested one juvenile and issued warrants for the arrest of two adults, charging them with the breaking and entering of a private home

Dewey Lark of Route 1, Keokee, reported that his trailer had been entered and some articles stolen on Sunday evening while the family was gone to church

Entry was reportedly obtained through the rear trailer door (which was damaged in the incident); a jack handle was found near the door

The worth of the items taken and damaged was listed at $1360. Items taken included a weekend case, knives, a 12 gauge Smith and Wesson shot gun, a bag of pennies from 1958-1882 a 22 caliber 2" barrel pistol Ruger and a 3 cell flashlight

Sheriff R.V. Chadwell would like for the public to know something is being done about incidents such as this. Officers involved in this case were Bartee Wallen and Glen Owens.

Church Visits

On the national level, Church again chided President Reagan for his budget slashing

"We have to continually fight just to maintain what we've got," said Church in reference to the federal black lung entitlement program and the U.S. Mine Safety and Health Administration.

Concerning the black lung fund, which is subsidized by the federal government and is $1.5 billion in the red, Church suggested the operator's tax that funds the program be doubled. This would boost the contribution from deep mines to $1 per ton and 50 cents from strip mines

Church also warned that administration amendments to the black lung program — designed, he said, to vastly decrease the number of miners and their widows eligible for benefits by strengthning requirements — could seriously harm the UMW

While Church spoke only briefly about union recruitment, the UMW's head organizer, Danny Estep, informed the crowd that a second election at Paramont Mining Corp in Wise County is expected in 1982

St. Charles Health Clinic

charts

The building of the facility was actually accomplished through the efforts of the people - retired miners with expertise in electricity, carpentry, etc. Services were enlisted of anybody who could drive a nail or lift a board, rendering the facility truly a "community clinic."

Lee County has been designated as a Medically Underserved Area and the ratio of physician to population is 1:4,500 whereas the Health Systems Agency's ideal ratio is 1:2,500.

Currently, Dr. Art Van Zee and Family Nurse Practitioner Sister Linda Szocik, with the help of several personnel and Administrator Randy Provence, are "holding down the fort." The services they provide include well child care, acute and chronic care for children and adults, laboratory services, pharmacy services, nutrition counselling, family planning services, and prenatal care

Proposed plans for expansion include adding a second physician, and making available more treatment rooms and office space. X ray and dental services are hopefully in the offing.

Property has been purchased and readied for building, blueprints proposed and initial funding is available. Additional funds are promised pending response and support of the people of the area

Board Visits

Pringle, Jr., of Bassett; Kenneth S. White, of Lynchburg; and H. Ronnie Montgomery, of Lee County Three members of the board Dr Mark Fravel, of Norfolk, Henry W. Tulloch, of Waynesboro, and Thomas R. Watkins, of Hampton, were unable to make the trip

The itinerary for December 2 includes a visit to Wise Primary School and Carnes Middle School in Wise County The following day, Wednesday, December 3, the board will visit Pennington Elementary School, Jonesville High School, and Jonesville Elementary School in Lee County The trip will conclude with a visit to Duffield Elementary School in Scott County.

Title I funds are provided by the federal government to finance compensatory education projects for educationally disadvantaged children throughout the state. During the current school year Wise, Lee, and Scott Counties will receive approximately $2,047,000 in Title I funds to provide instruction for about 8,000 students.

Tips On Use Tobacco Marketing Card Offered

With tobacco sales in progress, Lee County ASCS Director, Charles M. Ingram offers tobacco producers several tips on the proper use of their marketing cards

(1) Check the card carefully when it is issued. Make sure the name, address, farm number and quota is correct

(2) Leave the card with the warehouse from the time the tobacco is weighed in until it is sold and your check is received. If you are going to have tobacco for sale at several warehouses at the same time, you will need to request to be issued multiple cards in order to have a card at each warehouse The removal of the card in order to lease is permissable.

(3) Check the card after each sale against the sales bill. Be sure the poundage balance on the card is correct. Report any error immediately to the marketing recorder or ASCS Office.

(4) Tobacco must be sold on the marketing card issued for the farm upon which it was grown The 1981 penalty rate for falsely identified tobacco is $1.24 per pound

(5) Promptly return the card to the ASCS Office once your sales are completed

Governor Dalton Declares December 6 As Virginia Federation Sunday

Governor John N. Dalton declared December 6, 1981, as Virginia Federation Sunday, to signify the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs' special, one day, neighbor-to-neighbor campaign for the construction of Camp Easter Seal East. On that day, VFWC members will be going door-to-door and holding special events to raise funds for the building of the camp for handicapped children and adults. In one afternoon, the VFWC hopes to raise one-half million ($500,000) dollars toward the project.

For the past four years, Camp Easter Seal East has been the statewide project of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs. Their efforts have already raised over $200,000 for the project.

Camp Easter Seal East, located near Bowling Green, Virginia, is an expansion of the programs for handicapped children and adults offered at Camp Easter Seal in Craig County. Facilities at the 517 acres of Camp Easter Seal East will allow recreation and education programs to be offered year-round.

The VFWC efforts on Federation Sunday should enable construction to begin on the first building, a Central Lodge, at Camp Easter Seal East. The Central Lodge would house 64 campers and staff, providing dining, kitchen, activity and office space, and permit immediate operation of the programs. As cabins and activity buildings in the Master Plan are added, the Central Lodge would continue to house the dining hall, administrative offices, meeting rooms, and guest rooms. Hayes, Seay, Mattern and Mattern (Roanoke) is designing the central lodge, with construction planned to begin in summer or fall, 1982.

For further information on Federation Sunday or Camp Easter Seal East, please contact the Virginia Easter Seal Society at 800-542-5900.

least once before the age of 15, and at least three would be alcoholics before 40. Statistics show this to be the "sad truth."

The special investigator, previously an undercover narcotics agent in another city, closed his speech with a plea to the students to stay away from drugs - to "do it for his parents, his family, his teachers - but mostly for himself."

Some questions posed by the students were: how serious is the drug abuse problem? very serious; will pot kill? - yes, mixed with volatile media and it leads to hard drugs; how to locate marijuana? - Virginia police aid with infra-red cameras on helicopters, investigate search, and public informers; can you go to jail for having marijuana? - yes, for a very long time if caught; overdoses in Lee County? - not from hard drugs but from alcohol mixed with other medications; what's the difference in smoking cigarettes and marijuana? - cigarettes cause only mild reactions, coughing, breathlessness and in some cases, heart and lung disease - marijuana causes a high similar to alcohol with the same consequences; youngest child caught smoking marijuana? - five year old girl.

Coach Holland Basketball Shout-Out

The Coach Terry Holland Basketball Shoot-out for Easter Seals is being conducted during December and January for Virginia boys and girls, 18 years or younger, to see how many baskets they can shoot in a timed 3-minute period.

The winner of this statewide event for the benefit of Easter Seals will be the guests of Coach Holland and the Cavaliers at a basketball game at University Hall in February, receive a trophy and a basketball autographed by the UVa team and coaches.

The winner will be accompanied by his or her parents and coach or physical education teacher to the game and a complimentary dinner at the Ramada Inn in Charlottesville.

Trophies will be awarded to the top shooters and money raisers in each region of the state and a plaque will also be awarded to the school, group or recreation department which collects the most money in the region for the Easter Seal Society.

Jonesville High Students Win At CVC Competition

At the Eleventh Annual Math-Science Contest held November 21 at Clinch Valley College in Wise, several students from Jonesville High School were awarded prizes. About 110 students participated from seventeen high schools in Southwest Virginia and Eastern Kentucky

The science team of Jimmy Matlock, Jon Cox and Tracy Garrett, students at Jonesville High School, took second place honors in team competition. First place in science went to the Abingdon High School team, and third place to Pound High School. In mathematics competition, Abingdon High School also won first place, Battle High School's team took second place honors, and third place was won by the team from Whitesburg (Kentucky) High School. All team winners received plaques to be displayed at their respective high schools

Students who won Honorable Mention in science are Jimmy Matlock and Jon Cox, Jonesville High School; Geoff Metcalf, Matthew Hall and Jill Ryland, Abingdon High School; Mike Wolfe and Mark Kiser, Pound High School; Randy Fields, Patrick Henry High School, Eddie Talbott and Jeff Dunlap, Grundy High School; Jeff Vicars, Twin Springs High School, and Anthony Spivey, Honaker High School

All Honorable Mention awards are $100 scholarships to Clinch Valley College

Other activities on November 21 were a movie, "The Black Hole," exhibits by various departments of the College, and the opportunity for visiting students to work on computer terminals. An awards banquet capped the day.

The Math Science Contest is sponsored by the Alphi Xi Chapter of Sigma Zeta and the Mathematics and Science departments at Clinch Valley College.

Cavaliers Win Two Games

The Cavaliers opened their season in fine style with wins over Milligan College and Lincoln Memorial University on Tuesday and Saturday nights respectively. The Cavaliers defeated Milligan by a score of 78 to 62 in Fred B. Greear Gymnasium on Tuesday night. Clinch Valley enjoyed a 10 point half-time lead and went on to expand that to 16 points by the end of the game. The Cavaliers were led in scoring by Tony Kolb with 22 points, and also in double figures were Mike Hoskins with 16, Terry Edwards with 15, and Ernie Smith with 12. Leading rebounders for the Cavaliers were Jim Murney, Reggie Bryant and Terry Edwards, with 5 rebounds each. Ernie Smith had 6 assists to lead in that category. Tony Kolb had 3 steals in addition to his 22 points. The Cavaliers shot very well for the game, hitting 31 of 52 from the floor, for 59.6% and 16 for 20 from the free throw line for an even 80%.

On Saturday night the Cavaliers travelled to Big Stone Gap, Virginia, to play the Lincoln Memorial Railsplitters at Powell Valley High School. This was the second game of the season for the young Cavaliers and they responded playing extremely well in the second half to defeat LMU 82 to 70. The Cavaliers had led at half time 38 to 32 and again expanded their lead in the second half to win by 12. Clinch Valley was led in scoring again by Tony Kolb with 23 points, Mike Hoskins with 19, Terry Edwards with 18, Reggie Bryant with 13, and Ernie Smith with 9 points completed the scoring. The Cavaliers were led in rebounding by Edwards with 10, Bryant with 8, and Hoskins with 7. In the game, the Cavaliers overcame a tremendous height disadvantage by the tall, excellent jumping Railsplitter front line. The Cavaliers again shot very well from the floor, hitting 33 of 53 field goal attempts for 62.3% and 16 of 23 from the free throw line, for 70%. This 2-0 start is the best by the Cavaliers in a number of years.

They began their conference schedule last week with games at Thomas More on Monday, November 23, and at Georgetown on November 24. The Cavaliers' next home game will be on December 1 against the evastly improved Alice Lloyd College team.

VA Announces Health Care Guidelines

The Veterans Administration today announced proposed guidelines for carrying out provisions of the "Veterans' Health Care, Training, and Small Business Loan Act of 1981" which was signed into law on Nov. 3, 1981. The act, Public Law 97-72, authorized the Veterans Administration to provide certain health care services to any veteran of the Vietnam Era (Aug. 5, 1964-May 7, 1975) who, while serving in Vietnam may have been exposed to dioxin or was exposed to a toxic substance in a herbicide or defoliant used for military purposes.

The guidelines which VA will furnish to its medical facilities, on an interim basis, will be published in the "Federal Register" and public comment will be invited.

Health care services may not be provided under this law, the guidelines point out, for the care of conditions which are found to have resulted from a cause other than the specified exposures.

Health care services authorized under this provision of the law are limited to hospital and nursing home care in VA facilities, and outpatient care in VA facilities on a pre- or post-hospitalization basis or to obviate a need for hospitalization. These services will be provided without regard to the veteran's age, service connected status or the inability of the veteran to defray the expenses of such care. Veterans furnished outpatient care under this authority will be accorded priority ahead of nonservice-connected veterans and equal to former POW's receiving care for nonservice connected conditions.

Congress made it clear that this law provides for health care only. A determination that a veteran is eligible for such care does not constitute a basis for service connection or in any way affect determinations regarding service connection.

VA guidelines provide also that a complete medical history, physical examination and appropriate diagnostic studies will be developed for each veteran who served in the republic of Vietnam and who requests VA medical care. For those who have been examined within the prior six months, only those procedures which are medically indicated by the current circumstances will be repeated. Where the findings reveal a condition requiring treatment, the responsible staff physician shall make a determination as to whether the condition results from a cause other than the specified exposure. In making this determination, the physician will consider that the following types of conditions are not ordinarily considered to be due to such exposure:

A. Congenital or developmental condition: e.g., spina bifida, scoliosis; B. Conditions which are known to have preexisted military service; C. Conditions resulting from trauma; e.g., deformity or limitation of motion of an extremity; D. Conditions having a specific and well established etiology; e.g., tuberculosis, gout; E. Common conditions having a well recognized clinical course; e.g., inguinal hernia, acute appendicitis.

"On occasion," the guidelines continue, "the responsible staff physician may find that a veteran requires care for one or more of the conditions listed (above), but that the case presents complicating circumstances that make the provision of care under this authority appropriate. In such instances, the physician should seek guidance from the Chief of Staff regarding authorization for treatment. If treatment is so authorized, the reasons will be clearly documented in the medical record. Veterans who are not provided needed medical care under this circular may be furnished care if they are eligible under any other statutory authority.

Spring Semester At Clinch Valley Beings January 20

Schedules of courses to be offered in the 1982 spring semester at Clinch Valley College are now available. Pre-registration for all students, full- and part-time, will be accepted at the Office of the Registrar, room 134, Administration Building.

Registration and payment of fees are set for January 18 and 19, and classes begin on January 20

In addition to classes offered during the day, more than thirty evening courses will be offered Monday through Thursday nights

Course schedules may be obtained at the Office of the Registrar, Clinch Valley College.

A Nice Deer

Roger Gates of Dryden killed a four point buck on Big Hill on Monday, November 23. The deer, field dressed weighed 90 pounds.

In 1794, the use of powder on men's hair went out of fashion after being worn for over 100 years.

VA Questionnaire Must Be Returned

More than a million and a quarter Veterans Administration pension recipients received reminders this month that it's time to take a look at their income for this year to make certain they still meet the legal eligibility rules.

The annual questionnaire required by law, was sent with November checks, and, with certain exceptions, VA pensioners must complete and return it by Jan. 1, 1982, or face suspension of their payments, according to VA regional director W. H. Highfill, Jr.

One excepted group includes VA pensioners over 72 years of age who have been receiving pensions for the last two years. Also excepted are children under 23 receiving pension under laws in effect prior to Dec. 31, 1978.

Instead of income questionnaries, these groups received with their November pension check a reminder that they must report any changes in the number or status of their dependents and any increase in their annual income which puts it over VA limits.

Highfill said these pension recipients need not report the June 1 cost-of-living increase in their social security since VA automatically records this information.

Help on completing both the annual income questionnaries and the reminder cards is available from VA regional offices and from major veterans organizations.

Cookin' Corner

Every family has a favorite dish they prepare sometime during the holidays – would you like to share yours with our readers, if so call 546-1210. If you would like us to find a recipe for you, let us know – our readers have been kind enough to answer requests.

Vinegar Pie

1 ½ cups vinegar
2 egg whites
1 baked pie crust
2 heaping tablespoons corn starch
1 cup sugar

Beat two egg whites with corn starch, add sugar to mixture beating until smooth. Let the vinegar come to a boil, then add sugar, eggs and corn starch mixture, stirring constantly until thick. Pour into baked pie crust.

Pie Crust

½ cup shortening
3-6 t. cold water
1 ½ cup enriched self-rising flour

Cut the shortening into the flour until the size of peas. Sprinkle with 1 t. water at a time, mixing until the dough begins to stick together. Press into a ball. Roll on slightly floured surface. Place crust in pan, prick bottoms and sides with fork. Bake in preheated oven at 460° for 3 minutes. Let cool before filling.

Filling For Vinegar Pie

2 eggs
¼ cup butter
1 t. cinnamon
1 t. cloves
¼ cup vinegar
1 cup sugar
6 t. enriched self-rising flour
1 t. allspice
2 cups water

Cream together sugar and butter. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir together flour and spice. Blend into the creamy mixture. Combine water and vinegar. Gradually stir into creamed mixture. Cook stirring constantly over boiling water until mixture thickens about 10 minutes. Put into shell. Bake at 350° from 45-50 minutes or until toothpick or knife inserted comes out clean.

Doug Long killed this eight point deer on Thanksgiving Day on Stone Mountain near Rose Hill. When dressed the weight was 130 pounds.

Thomas Walker Royalty Crowned

Debbie Chance and Randy Crockett, representing the sophomore class, have been named the new Mr. and Ms. Thomas Walker.

Reigning king and queen, Mike Spade and Lisa Morrison, crowned the new royal couple during coronation ceremonies on November 20 in the high school auditorium.

Junior class representatives Zelma Jerrell and Billy Lakins were the first runners up followed by seniors Sue Ann Bales and James Mangus, sub-freshmen Mindy Warf and Carless Webb, and freshmen Tammy Long and Brad Vass.

Thomas Walker Jazz Band, under the direction of Johnnie Beavers, provided the music for the ceremony.

The coronation was the highlight of the Annual Fall Program which began at 7:30 with a talent show.

Crowd favorites included the "Butcher Holler Girls" with Missy Brooks, Pam Hensley, Mary Edds, Johnny Edds, and Sally Bailey. "The Pack," a rock group consisting of James Mangus, Riley Littrell, Tom Howard, Alden Payne, Mike Grabeel, Jim Miracle, and Scott Bledsoe also delighted the crowd.

Dressed as "Kermit the Frog," Lora Wilder gave her rendition of "The Rainbow Connection."

Other talent show participants included Elaine Davis who sang "The Rose," "The Pink Ladies" (Valerie Hensley, Lucretia Ayers, Penny Hensley) who did a pantomime routine to "Freddie My Love," and Tracy Jones who sang "Love the World Away."

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Jerry Skeen.

Fall Program sponsors are Rosanna Cavin and James M Graham Ushers were Sherry DeBusk, Janet Wilson, and Missy Wiggins

Gary Collingsworth of St. Charles killed this 15 point buck in Blackwater on Thursday, November 16 at 8:00 a.m.

Pennington High unleashed a new club this year-The Forensic Club The club is full of members eager to participate in the upcoming school forensic meet which will be held December 10.

All of the members were urged to compete on school level and put forth their efforts and attempt to advance to the District meet shortly following.

Last Friday the second edition of the Cat Tribune was revealed to the school. The journalism class of PHS along with Mrs. Jo Ann Miller, the sponsor.

Faulty Filter On Columbia Shows Need To Change Oil

The space shuttle Columbia, which was grounded when a filter in its hydraulic system clogged, serves to underscore the importance of a clean oil filter and oil in your automobile, says the Automotive Information Council (AIC)

While the space shuttle's lubricating system is much more complex than your automobile, the principle is the same. An oil filter can clog when it has been doing its job too long, and without proper lubrication metal parts can come in contact with each other, causing premature wear

The Columbia's filter is fashioned much like the oil filter on an automobile Its filter cleans the oil which lubricates the gears that transmit power from the turbine to the hydraulic pump, which operates the maneuvering rockets of the space shuttle The oil that lubricates these gears is about the same weight as 10w 30 motor oil

The oil and oil filter in your car are easy to change, unlike the Columbia's failed filter Regular oil and oil filter changes don't cost much whether you do the work yourself or take it to an auto repair facility

The filter in your automobile should be changed at least every other oil change. Some people prefer to change the filter each time they change the oil.

If you aren't sure how often the oil in your vehicle should be changed or you don't know what class or viscosity of motor oil to use, consult the car's owner's manual, says AIC

A few dollars spent on a filter and fresh oil can save hundreds later on, adds AIC

Tips For Parents

Help Your Children Use TV Wisely

Parents should take an active part in helping determine their children's television viewing habits says Mary Boehnlein of the IRA Parents and Reading Committee She makes specific suggestions for things that parents can do:

1 Set limits on the amount of TV your child watches One hour a day is enough for the preschool and school age child

2 Watch the child's favorite shows and evaluate them Do these shows present ideas, behavior and attitudes that you would want the child to copy?

3. Discuss the content of shows with your child especially those that might confuse or frighten him or her

4 Help children choose a well balanced TV diet Some families find that it helps to select programs through a family discussion

5 Encourage the child to make other uses of free time to engage in hobbies, active games, reading, playing with friends or doing household chores

6 Set an example by limiting your own television viewing

7 Spend time with your children Chances are that they would really rather spend time with you than watch TV all evening

Brian Crisp, age 15, of Pennington Gap killed this 130 pound doe on Saturday, November 18 in Wythe County. Brians first hunting trip and he got a nice deer.

Freddie Crisp of Pennington killed a 13 point buck weighing 180 lbs. on the first day of season Monday, November 16. It was killed in Augusta County.

Hunters Safety

Each year Virginia's newspapers carry stories about persons who are killed or wounded in hunting accidents

Many of these mishaps could be prevented if hunters followed good safety rules, said Peter T. Bromley, Virginia Tech Extension specialist in wildlife

Between July 1, 1961, and June 30, 1977, Virginia game wardens completed 972 Uniform Hunter Casualty reports Of these 972 hunting accidents, 49 per cent were caused by errors of judgment. In 194 instances, victims were mistaken for game animals or birds

How many of these tragedies could have been prevented if the victims had been wearing blaze orange hunting clothing is not known, but we suspect a marked decrease in risk would have resulted,' Bromley said

Victims were out of sight of shooters in 136 instances. The trajectory of the bullet or shot beyond the target animal was not considered adequately by the shooters

In 99 accidents, the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences faculty member said, the victims were shot when shooters fired at moving game that passed between the shooter and the victim. In 46 instances the victims moved into the line of fire

Many, but not all of these accidents, could have been prevented if the shooters had heeded the cardinal rule of hunting be sure of your target before you shoot

In addition to the accidents through errors in judgment, shortcomings in the skills of hunting accounted for 22 percent of the mishaps. Shooters stumbled, fell and discharged their firearms, injuring themselves or companions 99 times during the period.

"One wonders how many of these shooters had proper footwear or had spent days before the season scouting the woods and getting into good condition How many learned how to handle a firearm during a fall?"

In 61 other accidents, the trigger caught on an object, causing the unexpected discharge of the firearms

Bromley reminded hunters that the safe hunter guards the trigger, keeps the safety on and points the firearm in a safe direction

Twenty nine accidents occurred during loading and unloading firearms These were due both to lack of skill and unsafe barrel direction

The final category of causes was the violation of safety rules and laws. The unsafe acts of removing or replacing loaded firearms from vehicles and riding with loaded firearms were responsible for 61 accidents

Loaded firearms fell from insecure rests, causing 29 casualties. Crossing obstacles, such as wire fences, with loaded firearms resulted in 27 injuries

Horseplay with loaded firearms caused 21 accidents. Clubbing cover or game with firearms caused 11 tragedies

"By avoiding these violations of safety rules," the specialist said, "the safe hunter can reduce his probability of causing an accident by 15 percent."

Only 29 accidents during the period could be traced to mechanical failure of firearms

'Even here, the safe hunter is so familiar with the normal operation of his firearm that he will take corrective action at the slightest sign of malfunction," Bromley said

Approximately 10 per cent of the hunting accidents were due to unusual or unknown causes and were not analyzed.

Bromley concluded by observing that the risks involved in hunting can be reduced greatly if the hunter pays conscientious attention to target identification and background safety before shooting, develops the necessary skills needed in handling and moving in the field with firearms, and is committed to legal, safe handling of firearms

—Each senior citizen took part in the devotional hour Monday, at the Center. They told what they were thankful for this Thanksgiving Season. Readings and poems were by Marvin James, Grace Davis, Martha Mink, Mae Bledsoe, Vesta Muncey, Golden Lipps, and Golden Gilley. Songs were sung with Golden Gilley at the piano. A sentence prayer was given by each one.

—Following this meeting, everyone trooped down to Woodie's Old Fashioned Sweete Shoppe for a Thanksgiving dinner: turkey and all the trimmings, pumpkin pie and ice cream. Those for the dinner: Florence and Marvin James, Maude and Odie Allen, Willie and Birg Sergent, Elizabeth and Burt Cody, Gay Allen, Ida Pendleton, Jerushia Burchett, Golden Gilley, Grace Davis, Hattie Johnson, Lorene Terry, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Golden Lipps, Pearl Ross, Sarah Smith, Nettie Mae Hopkins, Martha Mink, Ica Stewart, Mae Bledsoe and Vesta Muncey

—A community Thanksgiving service was held at Jonesville Baptist Church Wednesday night. The Rev C.C. Mize, Jonesville First United Methodist Church, delivered the message. Music was by the Baptist Adult Choir and the congregation

Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mrs. Lillie Carroll was a happy one, as usual Having her children home is enough in itself without the loaded table of food, and catching up on what everyone is doing Enjoying the day were Jim and Charleen Carroll, Johnson City, Tn., Ed and Faye Carroll, Knoxville, Lorene Terry, Gaynelle and Carl Baumgardner, Jonesville, Ida Carroll, Pennington Gap. Ida visited with her sister, Cora Howard, and the Joe Napier family in the afternoon

-Sunday guests of Sallie Wolver were Mrs Claude Jones and son Billie Visiting Mrs Wolver was her nephew, Tim Quinley

Paul Carroll, the son of Sandra and Fred Carroll, underwent surgery in the University of Virginia Hospital, Charlottesville, and is home recuperating

Mrs Vesta Muncey spent a week visiting her daughter, Mary Lou Howard, and family in Harlan, Ky Vesta's grandson underwent surgery at the Appalachian Regional Hospital

A community wide prayer meeting was held at the Church of God of Prophecy in west Jonesville. The pastor is Charles A Cress The meeting was well attended with people from all over Lee County The next meeting will be in January at Pennington Gap This type of prayer meeting was started in 1976 by Pearl Wade and is now in its 6th year.

Mrs Golden Gilley was a Thanksgiving guest of her sister and niece, Nell and Lois Glass

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Everett Noe He died while on a hunting trip at Tell City, Ind. His son, E.C. Noe, of Phoenix, Ariz. was with him. Everett Noe is the father in law of Mrs. E. C (Wanda Terry) Noe of Phoenix. Wanda is the daughter of Lorene Terry, Jonesville.

M/Sgt. Philip Terry who is stationed at Frederick, Md., on special duty from Japan arrived Friday night to spend a few days with his mother, Lorene Terry.

—Lillie Carroll received calls from her children who could not be home for Thanksgiving. Doris Kooch, Seattle, Wash. and Elaine and John Carroll, Aberdeen, Md.

—J.E. (Ezra) Sexton spent a week in Lonesome Pine Community Hospital, Big Stone Gap, but was able to come home Thanksgiving Day. What a Happy Thanksgiving for his family!

All Farmers Encouraged To Vote

Chairman of the Lee County ASC Committee, Roy J. Myers, says that by now all farmers should have received their ballot to vote in the ASC Community Committee election. The ballots must be voted and returned to the county ASCS Office no later than December 7.

Each voter should vote for not more than three of the five candidates listed on the ballot for his community. The ballot should then be placed in the blank envelope, sealed and then placed in the return envelope. The certification on the back of the return envelope should then be signed before mailing.

The votes will be tabulated on December 11 at the County ASCS Office beginning at 8:00 a.m and will be open to the public.

All farmers are urged to participate by voting for the farmers of their choice to represent them in the administration of Federal farm programs

By Eula Clarkston

—My sister, Iva Clarkston and I had a happy surprise last Friday morning when our cousins, Eliza Thompson of Bristol, Va., her daughter, Imogene Carrier of Bristol, Tn., and Charles R. Cox and his wife, Ellen of Lansing, Ill. came to visit with us. They had not been back to Keokee for several years and found everything quite changed here. They had moved to Bristol to reside sometime in the year of 1920.

Eliza's first husband was the late David Cox, and she later married Joe Thompson who passed away last summer. Her daughter, Imogene married Herbert Carrier of Bristol, Tn., and they have two children, Jeffery Lynn and Jennifer Leann.

Charles and his wife, Ellen only have one son, Dr. David Cox and he and his wife have three children, Aimee, Angela, and Amanda. They also reside in Lansing, Ill.

We enjoyed their visit Friday morning talking of old times gone by. While in Keokee they stopped and visited a short while with another cousin, R. P. Cooper, Jr., at the Cooper Shopping Center in Keokee.

—Verda Thompson of Keokee, was in Big Stone Gap to enjoy Thanksgiving day dinner at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Thompson, Jr., other guests were their daughter, Jill and her husband, Gerald Greene and their sons, Chris and Andy of Middlesboro, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Snodgrass and son, Jeff Snodgrass of Dayton, Ohio, also Ray's mother, Audrey Baker of Big Stone Gap.

—Louise McDaniel spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Strevel, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thomas and their families in Strawberry Plains, Tn.

—Congratulations to our cousins, Louise and Keith Bybee of Memphis, Tn., who celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary on Friday, November 27.

Mrs. Bybee was formerly Louise Slemp of Seminary near Big Stone Gap.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Clarkston of Dryden was a scene of activity on Thanksgiving day as all their family gathered to enjoy a bountiful dinner with turkey and all the trimmings. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quillen and children, Craig, Brad, and Stacey Leann of Gate City, Va , Mr. and Mrs. Denny Haynes and children, Jason and Elizabeth, also a friend, Steven Wallie of Woodway, Marilyn Gardner and children, Eddie and Tammy of Dryden, Iva Clarkston and I from Keokee —Congratultions to Rev and Mrs. James Rogers of Keokee who will be celebrating their silver wedding anniversary with open house at their home in the parsonage near the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church where Rev. Rogers is pastor on December 6 from 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. in the evening.

They invite their friends and loved ones to be with them on this special occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

—Mrs. Echel Edens was happy to have her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Henry and their son, Charlie and daughter, Patricia, also their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Booth of Cookville, Tn., spent Thanksgiving day with her. Also her son, Echel Edens, Jr., and his wife, Patsy and son Michael of Bristol, joined the family group and all enjoyed a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner together.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris and sons, Kevin and Eric, and their friend, Shawn of Exeter, Va., visited with Wayne's mother, Mrs. Ordie Morris last Sunday.

—Mrs. J.R. Barker, Mrs. Eva Witt, and her sister, Mrs. Virginia Barker were visitors in Kingsport, Tn., last Thursday.

Virginia complained with a severe headache before returning home She later became very ill and was taken to the hospital in Wise, Va., where she continues to be a patient.

—Dawn Long of Dry Branch near Dryden, Va., escaped serious injury on Tuesday, November 24, when a truck crashed into the back of her car when she was turning in the driveway at her home She was taken to the Lonesome Pine Hospital for treatment and no serious injuries were reported —Belated birthday greetings to Ordie Morris who was 72 years old on her birthday Friday, November 27. Her brother, Noah Flanary of Johnson City, Tn., celebrated his 74th birthday on November 15.

—Mr. and Mrs. Randy Spears and daughters, Tracey and Grista of Dayton, Ohio have returned home after spending a few days here with Mrs Spears' mother, Mrs Mildred D. Dinsmore and sister, Devonna

While they were here on Saturday members of the Dinsmore family enjoyed a delightful dinner at the home of Mildred Dinsmore Those present were her son and daughter in law, Mr and Mrs Dane Dinsmore and family of Dryden, Va , Mr. and Mrs David Horner and daughter, Melanie of Seminary near Big Stone Gap, Devonna and the Randy Spears family.

—We are pleased to note that Neal Long, age 19, who had been a patient in the Holston Valley Hospital in Kingsport, Tn., is now back at the home of his parents at Dry Branch, near Dryden, after being in the hospital for about eleven weeks as reported. Neal was seriously injured in a motorcycle accident the latter part of the month of August.

He is reported to be getting along nicely at this time. We wish for him a speedy recovery. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolpus Long formerly of Keokee.

—Ballard T. Short of Morristown, Tn., who has been a patient in the Morristown Hospital as returned to his home. He formerly resided in Keokee and has several relatives and friends in this area.

—Get-well wishes to Mrs. James H. Russell of Duffield, Va., who is on the sick list at this time.

Farmers Lung

The 34-year-old Virginia farmer had a severe cough, fever and complained of shortness of breath. Doctors at the hospital first thought it was pneumonia, but later diagnosed the problem as "farmer's lung," a disease caused by tiny mold spores.

"The mold spores grow in moist hay and grain stored with little ventilation," said Glen H. Hetzel, Extension safety specialist at Virginia Tech. "When once-wet bales are opened in the winter, the dangerous spores are set free to pollute the environment and expose farm workers and livestock to serious risk."

When the farmer inhales the "white dust," his lungs may become abnormally sensitive to the tiny organisms and he may develop "farmer's lung."

"Some people are more susceptible to the disease than others," noted Hetzel. "Ideally, these farmers should stay totally away from the hay or grain. If this is not possible, they should wear a good respirator with a cartridge labeled for molds."

Typically, the first attack of "farmer's lung" is signaled by general discomfort with a splitting headache, pronounced shivering and a temperature which might rise to 103 degrees Fahrenheit.

Other symptoms include difficulty in breathing, watery eyes, itchy, runny nose, wheezing sounds when breathing, and itching up the middle of the back. "These symptoms usually occur suddenly, some six to eight hours after exposure to the dust of moldy hay or silage," the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences faculty member said.

Perhaps the most characteristic symptom of the disease is shortness of breath. This is usually accompanied by a phlegm-producing cough. Although the other symptoms subside quickly, the breathlessness may persist for several weeks.

According to the Virginia Tech Extension specialist, "farmer's lung" has been on the increase in recent years. "The reason we have seen more cases is a simple one," Hetzel said. "Silos are bigger than they used to be. They average now between 24 and 30 feet in diameter, as compared to between 6 and 20 feet a few years ago."

Because of their larger size, it takes a farmer longer to remove the moldy material from inside the silo. Exposure time is greater than in previous years.

"Virginia farmers need to be aware that 'farmer's lung' really does exist and is a potential working hazard to them," advised Hetzel. "Then they can take the necessary precautions to guard against the disease."

Guest Speaker 3-Day Revival

Leon Kilbreth

The First Baptist Church of Pennington Gap will hold a Sunday School revival beginning at seven o'clock the evening of December 4 also Saturday evening the 5th and at the eleven o'clock morning worship service on Sunday, December 6. Herb Meadows will be the guest singer bringing his messages in song.

Leon Kilbreth the speaker, is known as Mr. Sunday School USA, having conducted over 1200 Sunday School Revivals. America's only full time Sunday School Evangelist.

Mr. Kilbreth is a man of various talents, abilities and experiences, which adds to his richness. He has been a successful business man, a top flight athletic official, president of a professional baseball league, Mayor of a City, a Civic leader and president of a Board of Education. He has been a Baptist Deacon for thirty five years, a faithful leader in Southern Baptist churches and his denomination. A man equipped with natural humor and wit which adds a sparkle to his messages and gives him the ability to hold the attention of his audience.

The members and pastor, Douglas Clem extends a special invitation to all who wish to hear the inspiring messages.

Virginia Community Colleges Reported To Be Ready ... Willing ... Able To Meet Educational Needs

Dr. James H. Hinson, Chancellor of the Virginia Community College System, recently addressed the VCCS 1981 Annual Meeting in Richmond, Virginia. In his speech titled "Ready ... Willing ... Able," Dr. Hinson presented the following evaluative report on the past effectiveness of the System and an optimistic insight as to the future role of the Community College System.

"The Virginia Community College System has operated now for fifteen years. The 1980-81 year was another eventful one. For the fifteenth consecutive year, our twenty-three colleges provided valuable services to a record number of citizens. The Annual Report released today indicates that 277,093 people were enrolled: 187,746 in credit courses; 2,670 through industrial development contracts; 86,677 in community service, non-credit activities."

"Enrollment continued to exceed projections. The oft-predicted decline in collegiate enrollment again failed to materialize as fourteen of our colleges gained enrollment over the preceding year. It is gratifying to note that 17,538 more Virginians were accomodated in 1980-81 compared to the previous year."

"The System is engaged, in response to a request from the State Council for Higher Education, in a special study of developmental (remedial) education. While it is true that some individuals failed to learn in their earlier years due to personal indifferences or other circumstances within their control, it is just as true that these people will tend to require more costly social services until their educational needs are met. In recognition of the key role of the community college in this sensitive area, the VCCS is making a comprehensive study of the characteristics of successful developmental approaches. Few studies have more potential significance."

"I am pleased to report that our fiscal and operational affairs are in good order. Vice-Chancellor Billy Kittrell's staff, the college presidents and their deans of finance and administration have closed out the 1980-82 fiscal year with the best efficiency and control ever in terms of lapsed funds. This is a tribute to both leadership and staff development. Since resources are scarce, it is important that every possible dollar be utilized and this requires both efficiency and creativity in relating to the state system of accountability."

"Dedication to personal approaches in delivering instruction to all individuals who might benefit and relating programs of study to current community needs continue to set the community college apart as a unique entry into the arena of higher education."

"I have had the privilege of becoming thoroughly acquainted with the VCCS since my appointment in 1980. My pledge to visit each of the colleges was fulfilled. This experience, together with a year of meetings with members of our state and local boards, the Council of Presidents, the Faculty Advisory Committee, many other college groups and members of the system office staff, qualifies me to pronounce the VCCS as alive and well. I believe that we merit our reputation as one of the nation's most outstanding community college systems. To reach such a conclusion is in no way insignificant. The community college has become a great American enterprise, representing an annual expenditure of $18,000,000,000. We operate twenty-three of 1,200 community and junior colleges in America. Nationally, and in Virginia, the community college is a major part of the economy."

"Follow-up studies indicate that more than 90% of our students were satisfied with us; that our students are highly employable in jobs directly or indirectly related to their course of study. We have enrollment analyses which show that we are reaching the mid career person, women and minority students in equitable numbers. We know that our students tend to remain in the community to work instead of fanning out across the nation, and this is vital in sensitive jobs such as nursing."

"We know that our employees are stable and that they spend dollars in the community. A study in Illinois indicates that for every $1 invested in a community college, $3 of economic activity is generated through purchases, bank deposits, etc. Other national studies show higher lifetime earnings for college trained people compared to high school graduates, and these additional earnings produce additional taxes."

"It is no accident that this Annual Meeting emphasizes the close relationships of the VCCS with Virginia's business and industry. Business and industry are the beneficiaries of much of our programming in a very direct way, so it is logical they should be among the first to understand and respond to our circumstances."

"The corporations of America seem ready to support community colleges. This open acknowledgment of our importance to them is a way certain to bring government and the general public along. B.F. Metler, Chairman of TRW, Inc., speaking at a recent assembly of chief executive officers of major corporations called the Business Roundtable, called for a major national effort to address the problems of structural unemployment. He was referring to the growing shortage of technicians and its effect on productivity. Alexander F. Giacco gave a similar message to New River Community College graduates this year. Mr. Giacco is President of Hercules, Inc in Radford. He recounted a national defense mobilization meeting where executives from RCA and IBM and others agreed that a major problem was training technicians to back up their managers and engineers. He concluded that there would be more and more dependence on the two year community colleges to fill the gaps."

It is important for business and industrial leaders to know that community colleges are desirous of responding to their needs. The spirit is willing. It is in our mutual interest for the community college-business and industry partnership to be enhanced. We believe that there is great potential for sharing resources, including space, personnel and equipment, and realizing savings which can help underwrite the additional activity that is generated."

"The community colleges of Virginia are in place and well established throughout the Commonwealth. No one questions the need for economic stimulation through increasing productivity, expansion of existing operations or attraction of new industry. Likewise, few question the need to reduce governmental expenditures, especially in areas which yield little or no return on investment. We are a high yield investment. We are ready ... willing ... able to produce.

"We are ready to design and implement new thrusts toward target populations. Challenge us to serve the unemployed and we will reduce their number; challenge us to serve those on welfare and we will move some of them to self-sufficiency; challenge us to serve the elderly and we will sustain their period of usefulness and preserve an outlook that will discourage dependence on medical care. Make an investment in Virginia's community colleges and specify the desired return. We are ready, willing and able to produce.

Veterans Administration Questions And Answers

Q -- I attended school under the GI Bill four years ago and I still have two years before my 10-year time limit expires. When I quit school before, I had an overpayment with the Veterans Administration. I would like to return to school, but I am afraid I cannot re-enroll without paying the overpayment first. I keep getting letters from the VA about this debt. What should I do?

A -- You do not have to pay back the overpayment to re-enroll, but your VA benefits will be withheld until the overpayment is recovered. If you do not re enroll, you should contact the VA to arrange a repayment schedule in order to avoid possible legal action that could be taken against you.

Q -- I am 72 years of age and did not receive an annual income questionnaire from the Veterans Administration, although I have always received them in past years. Should I have received one, or do I no longer need to report my income?

A -- Claimants age 72 or older who have been receiving VA pension benefits for the last two years under the law in effect prior to Dec. 31, 1978) are not being sent an annual income questionnaire. Any change of income other than cost of living increases in social security benefits should be reported to the VA by claimants.

Per capita consumption of process pickles rose from 3.3 pounds in 1947-49 to eight pounds in 1977.

Former Lee County Couple Celebrates 55th Anniversary

On October 2, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Garrett (Bill and Mae) celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary. Formerly of Lee County, they spent most of their lives here until moving to Ohio in the early 50's

Mr. Garrett is a retired painter. Some may remember him as "The One Arm Painter". He has spread his skills and talents on some of the more prominent homes in Pennington, such as the S.G. Hill home, the J.O. Gibson home, the W.D. Harr home, just to mention a few, as well as the First Methodist Church, of which he was a faithful member.

Mrs. Garrett is the daughter of the late Lloyd S. Pridmore, founder, pastor, and builder (Physically and Spiritually), of the Calvary Baptist Church in west Pennington.

Bill and Mae have seven children, Mary (Sylvester) Collier, of Parma, Ohio, Harold (Norma) Garrett, of Hopedale, Ohio, Walter (Faye) Garrett of Mentor, Ohio, Joyce Eldridge of Grafton, Ohio; Shirley (Edward) Quillen, Hammond, Ind., Martha Garrett at home, David (Cookie) Garrett, Strongsville, Ohio. They have twenty-one grandchildren, and eleven great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Garrett

In September Bill celebrated his 81st birthday. Mae will celebrate her 73rd birthday in January.

They reside at 4406 Spokane Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, and are both very active. Bill keeps busy with his flowers and gardening, home maintenance and repair, and walking the dog everyday. He enjoys fishing, entering sweepstakes, and deer hunting of which he is looking forward to his annual trip this year with his sons and grandsons.

Mae keeps busy doing all her housework, home canning and freezing, or cooking a big family dinner. She enjoys jigsaw puzzles for relaxation

Still faithful church members, they attend the Pearl Road Methodist Church regularly.

Their anniversary was spent quietly with the family. The highlight was being taken out to dinner by one of their granddaughters, Mrs. Bernice Hanzel and her family

Pamela Marie Ayers and Charles Ray Snodgrass

Engagement Announced

John Wm. Ayers of Texas and Lorraine Ayers of Jonesville would like to announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Marie to Charles Ray Snodgrass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Snodgrass, Jonesville. An open church wedding is planned for December 18 at 7:00 P.M. at the Friendship Baptist Church. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lundy

Anniversary Open House

Mr and Mrs Doyle Lundy of 917 Ann Eliza, Pekin, Illinois celebrated their Golden wedding anniversary at an open house in the home of their daughter, Mrs Jerome (Diane) Smallwood of 809 Mary St Pekin, from 2 to 4 p.m Sunday, November 8

The former Miss Clark and Mr. Lundy of Virginia were married November 11, 1931, in the home of her parents

They are the parents of seven children, Kathryn Reynolds of Kentucky, Roland, Olin, Larry, Diane and Darlene Mills, all of Pekin, and Stanley Lundy of Texas They have 15 grandchildren

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Biggs

50th Wedding Anniversary

The children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and the families of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Biggs of Woodway held open house on October 24 at the home of Mr and Mrs Fred Wolfver, in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs Fred Wolfver, Mrs. Jim Wolfver, Mrs Phoebe Nichols and Mrs. Golden Bruner

Mr Biggs was united in marriage on October 27, 1931, to the former Frankie Johnson by the Rev. J B. Smith, Harlan, Ky.

They are the parents of five sons of whom four are living Bob, James, Douglas and Jimmy, all of Noblesville, In

The refreshment tables were covered with beautiful linens trimmed in gold braid

Cut glass and silver appointments held punch, mints, nuts, sandwiches, ham and biscuits, cheese and crackers, vegetables with dip The three tier anniversary cake was topped with a 50-year motif, and was baked and decorated by Mrs. Glen Parsons of Pennington.

Mrs. Biggs was presented a corsage of pink carnations touched with gold. Mr Biggs received a matching boutonniere. The esternul couple received many beautiful and useful gifts, among them a beautiful gold anniversary clock, a gift from their sons and wives. The many floral arrangements were gifts from friends. President and Mrs Ronald Reagan sent congratulations to the happy couple.

Those attending from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs Bob Biggs, Douglas Biggs, Chris, Kim and Terry, James Biggs, Vickie L. Stevens and Danella; Jim Biggs, Robert Allen Biggs and Sherrie, all of Noblesville, Ind

Mr and Mrs Mike Leas, Lillia, Jimmy, and April from Ashely, Ind. Mr and Mrs Jim Wolfver and Jimmie of Tucker, Ga

JUNE FULLER

THE COUPON CLIPPER

Savings like these make our efforts worthwhile

By June Fuller

Couponing and refunding are the best supermarket "game in town."

When you learn to play this game, you will find that it is far more profitable than trading stamps, supermarket bingo or gold register tapes.

Just ask the many readers who have written to me about their double-play and triple-play discounts.

Kim Chappell from Steelville, Pa., saw Oscar Mayer hot dogs on sale for $1.09. The usual price at her store is $1.89.

She found several 15-cent Oscar Mayer coupons in her coupon file and looked forward to making her double play discount.

When she got to the store she found that the Oscar Mayer packages were specially marked with a $1 refund offer for three proofs of purchase.

So she paid less than $2 for $5.67 worth of quality hot dogs.

If only the store had been offering double coupons too," she says, "it would really have been a bonanza. Good refunders are never satisfied.

Wanda Engle from West Fargo, N.D., had a 25-cent Wisk coupon as well as a $1 Wisk refund form.

I kept my eye on the supermarket ads for several weeks until I found a special advertising the 64-ounce Wisk for $2.69," she says. The regular price is $3.82. My triple play gave me the Wisk for only $1.44.

Savings like this make all my clipping, filing and sending worthwhile.

Anyone who wants more proof that it pays to play the couponing and refunding game can take lessons from Carol Noeller of Round Lake Beach, Ill.

She found Duncan Hines cake mixes on sale for 79 cents each; they are regularly priced at 99 cents. Her coupon, worth 60 cents on the purchase of two boxes, brought her cost at the cash register down to 98 cents for both.

But her savings weren't over. When she got home she cut the two net-weight statements off the boxes and sent them in for a $1.80 refund.

After taking into account the postage, they paid me 64 cents, so that my family could enjoy two delicious cakes," she says.

We call it a home run when we combine discounts to make a profit the way Ms. Noeller did.

Betty McCord of Brick town, N.J., scored a home run on Pepsodent Tooth brushes.

The regular price of the toothbrushes is 89 cents each, but she found them on sale at $1 for three. She used 35 cents' worth of coupons to bring the cost down to 65 cents. Then she sent in the three proofs of purchase for a $1 refund.

Every time I brush my teeth I have to smile when I remember that I made a profit on the brushes," she says.

You'll smile too - all the way to the bank — when you join the millions of smart shoppers who have become organized couponers and refunders.

These readers and others whose smart shopping experiences appear in my column receive a copy of the refunding magazine, The National Supermarket Shopper. Write to me in care of this newspaper.

Here is a refund form to write for: Miles Vitamins (Flintstones, Bugs Bunny One-A-Day) Back-to-Cool Offer, P.O. Box 9063, St. Paul, Minn. 55190. This offer is good for a $1 refund and $2 in coupons. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Your request must be received by Jan. 5, 1982.

Here is this week's list of refund offers. Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends. Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below. Remember, some offers are not available in all areas of the country.

Today's refund offers are worth $13.25.

First Baptist Church Has Mission Study

The theme of the Foreign Mission Study this year for Southern Baptists is "French Speaking West Africa", and the First Baptist Church at Rose Hill held two interesting and informative sessions recently on Sunday and Wednesday evenings.

Mrs. Wilma Hendrix was in charge of the study for the GA's and RA's on Sunday, November 15 concerning "West Africa Up Front". As an introduction to the French speaking people, Mrs. Hendrix used a film strip, and also included stories of Outstanding West African Christians, which demonstrated many ways that the Gospel is shared in the area.

Later, on Wednesday evening, the church in Rose Hill was joined by members from Silver Leaf and Vanhuss Grove Baptist Churches for an adult study, which was led by Beulah Johnson.

She used information from the novel, "The Way to Timbuktu", which traced the spiritual pilgrimage of a young African, Jean Marc, in his struggle with two loves. Jean Marc's own faith and that of Christian friends enabled him to prevail over cultural and personal conflict.

Other sources of information were shared, including a filmstrip "People of French West Africa", and both the Sunday and Wednesday sessions were well attended.

From November 29 to December 6 also marks a time when the Baptist Churches will be observing the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions, and the Rose Hill church will be having special services on Sunday, December 6, at 7 p.m.

Members and visitors are invited to attend and hear Ethel Harmon, who is a retired Missionary from the country of Nigeria in Africa.

As she shares from her wealth of experience in working with the people of that area, there should be created in those attending, a great appreciation for our own country, and a greater desire to be an active participant in the foreign mission program of the church.

Beacon Light Baptist Church Commended

The congregation of Beacon Light Baptist Church, St. Charles, Va., is one of the top ten churches in the Baptist General Association in per capita gifts to the 1980 Annie Armstrong Easter Offering. This announcement was released last week by Dr. William G. Tanner, president of the Home Mission Board, Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Tanner commended the pastor, Ray Bowlin, and the leadership of Beacon Light Woman's Missionary Union, and stated that they had set an example for every church in the state of Virginia.

A personalized volume from the Human Touch Series was presented to the church library as a commemorative symbol of achievement.

Supervisors Fail To Act On 601 Grant

Lee County's Board of Supervisors met last Wednesday in Jonesville for that regular monthly meeting. The threat of higher taxes was one factor that influenced the board in their failure to approve a $625,750 grant agreement through the Farmers Home Administration for the purchase and development of a school site in the Woodway community.

The FmHA 601 Energy Impact grant program was intended to help areas affected by rapid coal mining expansion. Whitewood High School in Buchanan County is third in priority to receive the federal grant and will probably benefit from Lee County's decision.

With cost estimates for building new schools or adding to existing facilities ranging in the millions of dollars, the board of supervisors reiterated their contention that the county cannot afford any building program at this time.

Predictably, the Lee County School Board is bitterly disappointed in the probable loss of the ray of hope for better schools provided by the grant offer.

Other items addressed by the board included:

-changes in redistricting. A proposed change would place the Jasper Community in District 5, rather than 4. A public hearing concerning these changes is set for Decem-

Handicapped Children Enjoy Christmas Party

About 1:00 o'clock on Saturday, nearly a hundred children, along with their parents, registered for a Christmas party at Pennington High School

This second annual gathering for all Lee County's handicapped children from birth to 21 years of age was an occasion filled with warmth, laughter, food, presents and most important of all companionship An event such as this lends parents of handicapped children a morale boost in the knowledge that they are not alone

Nurses, clerks all members of the Lee County Health Department along with the people of the county, helped sponsor this special event

These members were pleased with the huge attendance, noting that there was also a Christmas parade in Jonesville about the same time

A skit, "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," was presented by a group of Jonesville High School students

Marvin James, a retired Ohio businessman, enjoyed his birthday by pretending to be a child again with his clown antics Assisting him was his grandson, Keith Herron from Oceonita.

Civic clubs and local churches provided a table laden with goodies that included a Santa cake and orange sherbet punch.

Donations from merchants and civic clubs provided funds for toboggans, gloves, and Bibles received

Santa Claus listens intently to the wishes of three of the nearly 100 children who attended Saturday's Christmas party at Pennington High School for Lee County's handicapped children. Members of Lee County Health Department helped sponsor the gala event and were on hand to enjoy the festivities with the children and their parents.

Santa Visits Jonesville

Santa Claus was riding on the last float in last Saturday's Jonesville Christmas parade. The weather was a "little cool" but the large crowd appreciated the many floats, bands, organizations and Santa.

Sheriff's Report

A joint effort of the Lee County's Sheriff Department and the Pennington Gap Police Department, a drug raid was made at a residence at 320 E. Morgan in Pennington Gap early Tuesday morning

Arrested were Timothy Wayne Cress, age 21, and his brother Bill Cress, age 23. Both were charged with possession of controlled substances. Marijuana and other drugs confiscated are to be sent to Richmond to be analyzed for identification

Several complaints prompted the 1:40 A.M. raid. Officers involved in this case were: Charles Janeway, Steve Wallen, Bartee Wallen, Warren Stidham and Curtis Middleton

Vol's Bowl Game Moves Wacks Show

The Virgil Q. Wacks Variety show on WKPT TV seen Sundays at 12:30 to 1:00 p.m., will be moved to 5:00 to 5:30 p.m. this Sunday only at the request of the ABC Network

Wacks will present two Lee County stories of importance Sunday featuring the new Live Stock Market at Jonesville that opened this week with large numbers of farmers and lots of cattle, and the story of the Kemmer Gem Coal Mines at St. Charles that has changed ownership and will start preparation for a new Unit Train system of coal expansion and distribution

The ABC Network is moving the Wacks show so they may televise the Tennessee Vol Bowl game

Furnishing A Room . . .

The Lee Hospital Auxiliary is proud to be the first to donate money from their T.V. rental services to furnish a Semi-private room in the "new" Hospital. Mr. Bodary, the Administrator, accepts a check for $3,000 from Lucile Orr, who is in charge of T.V. rentals. Other officers taking part were Bee Carroll, Louise Woodard, Pat Maggard, and not pictured, Gaynelle Baumgardner.

Mr. Bodary explained the Hospital is beginning a Fund Raising Drive in order to furnish the new hospital with electric hi-low beds and other matching room furniture. The cost to furnish a semi-private room is $3,000. The cost to furnish a private room is $1500. A plaque will be placed on each room furnished. The room may be furnished by individuals, groups, or families. Those persons interested in furnishing a room should contact Mr. Bodary at the hospital. 546-1440, Ext. 238.

Oil And Gas Subcommittee Announces Area Meetings

Virginia State Senator Rick Boucher (D-Washington County), Chairman of the Oil and Gas Subcommittee of the Virginia Coal and Energy Commission, announced this week the Subcommittee's schedule of public hearings in Southwest Virginia on legislation designed to protect property owners against uncompensated drainage of oil or gas from under their land by operations on a neighboring tract.

Hearings will be held on Monday, December 14, 1981, at the Scott County Public Library in Gate City and on Tuesday, December 15, 1981 at 10:00 a.m. in the Pulaski County Board of Supervisors Meeting Room in Pulaski. Senator Boucher indicated that in addition to receiving public comment the Subcommittee will offer an explanation of the proposed legislation and provide answers to any questions posed by members of the public.

"The principal purpose of the proposed Virginia Oil and Gas Act is to insure that all persons owning an interest in an oil and gas pool under development will receive a proportionate share of the net proceeds of production," Boucher said. He indicated that landowners have been concerned that the present law does not provide adequate protection against uncompensated drainage of oil or gas. Current statutes require an offset well agreement if a well is located within 500 feet of a property owner's boundary, however, the property owner is essentially without a remedy under current law if a well situated more than 500 feet from his property drains oil or gas from under his land.

"Our proposal will remedy the problem by insuring that all landowners having an interest in oil or gas under production receive a proportionate share of the net production proceeds. Simultaneously, by insuring utilization of only the number of wells which are needed to drain oil and gas pools efficiently, the bill addresses a major concern of the oil and gas industry."

"One of the principal problems with the present law is that landowners whose boundaries are situated more than 500 feet from an oil and gas well will be tempted to drill their own well in order to capture a share of the oil or gas. The drilling of excess wells reduces pressure throughout the field which results in a waste of the resource to the detriment of all concerned. Accordingly, adoption of the proposal will enhance production by assuring that natural field pressure is not dissipated through the drilling of more wells than are needed," Boucher added.

The Subcommittee's proposal also addresses a number of concerns of the Virginia coal industry which arise from the development of oil and gas in coal bearing lands. "The bill requires that wells drilled through coal seams be plugged from the bottom to prevent the escape of flammable or toxic gases into coal mines," Boucher continued. "Our Subcommittee has been assured by both the coal industry and the oil and gas industry that the plugging and abandoning provisions of the proposed legislation incorporate state of the art technology and that a subsequent mining of coal seams through wells plugged in accordance with the requirements of the bill will be safe," he concluded.

During previous public hearings on the Oil and Gas Act, support for the measure was expressed by the Virginia Farm Bureau which has worked closely with the Subcommittee during the construction of the legislation.

The Subcommittee's proposal will be introduced for consideration by the 1982 Session of the General Assembly which convenes in January.

Hopewell Senior Receives Award

Ronald Hann, Jr.

Ronald Hann Jr. son of Bruce and Patsy Catron, Hopewell, Virginia (formerly of Pennington Gap) was the winner of the 1981 "Outstanding Young Citizen's Award," presented by the Hopewell Optimist Club.

This award is made annually by the club to a senior boy and girl of Hopewell High School.

Hann received a trophy and a $100 savings bond.

Ronald was nominated by two of his teachers Sarah Jones and his history teacher, Jerrell Sober.

Mr. Sober had this to say for Ron:

"Ron has always reminded me of the "All-American Boy" because of his clean, robust personal appearance" "But he has more of the characteristics of the all-American boy than just his appearance." "His excellent home background and training have made of him a gentleman." "His church background and training have made of him a Christian gentleman" He further states "I would like to see Ron Hann become Hopewell's man of the year because I would love to point to him as a product of Hopewell's schools, churches, family life, and as a young man whose character and personality is an inspiration to all of our youth."

Hann is a member of the wrestling team, chess team, National Beta Club, Student Exchange Service and the stage, concert and marching bands. He is also involved in the order of Demolay, National Honor Society and U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corp.

He has participated in Boys State, is a member of Who's who among American High School Students and a member of Wesley United Methodist Church.

At the church, he has been an active member of the United Methodist Youth Group.

Young people like Ron Hann affirm our confidence in the future.

Gibson Promoted To Resident Engineer

Robert J. Gibson

Robert J. Gibson, assistant resident engineer for the Franklin residency has been promoted to resident engineer and transferred to the Jonesville residency the Virginia Department of Highways and Transportation said today. Gibson succeeds Henry F. Phipps, who entered private industry after 16 years with the department.

Gibson, a native of Norton in Wise County, joined the Wise residency as a construction inspector trainee in 1956 after graduating from John I. Burton High School. He became a project engineer in 1966 and transferred to the Christiansburg residency three years later. He was named assistant resident engineer at Franklin in 1974.

Gibson, 43, has completed International Correspondence School courses in highway and civil engineering. He is married to the former Barbara Bloomer, also of Norton, and they have a daughter, Rita Jo, 20.

The Jonesville residency is responsible for the construction and maintenance of highway and related transportation projects in Lee and Scott Counties.

Lee County 4-H Share The Fun Is Saturday

Saturday night, December 12 Flatwoods Combined School will be the host for the annual Lee County 4-H Share the Fun talent show.

Beginning at 7 p.m. the show will feature junior school winners who competed against their fellow classmates during November.

From the 618 4-H'ers participating as talent contestants, 20 acts were chosen to appear in the county event. These acts will be competing in different divisions for 4-H Camp scholarships.

The public is cordially invited to attend this fun filled event at no cost.

Hunting Accidents Summarized

James N. Kerrick, Safety Officer for the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries has summarized the hunting accident statistics for the period beginning July 1, 1981 and ending December 1, 1981. To date there have been 34 reported accidents in the Commonwealth Six of which resulted in a fatality.

As has been the case in the past the shotgun is most frequently the gun involved in (incidents) or injuries. Although five of the six fatalities involved rifles, and the sixth a shotgun, more than half of the reported accidents were shotgun related.

Ten of the accidents occurred at a distance of less than 10 yards and eleven between 11 yards and 50 yards and six at distances between 51 yards and 100 yards.

Four of the fatalities resulted when the victim was mistaken for game and nearly ½ of the injuries were the result of the same mistake. Better than half of the persons injured had never taken a Hunter Safety course and four of them were fatalities.

Kerrick stated that "There is no way in the world that we can legislate common sense in this hunting business so we do our best at thoroughly training as many folks as possible. To date we have trained more than 285,000 students and the safety record with those persons is one that we can be proud of."

CARD OF THANKS
To Thank You

Perhaps you sent a lovely card,
Or sat quietly in a chair
Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
If so we saw it there
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say,
Perhaps you were not there at all,
Just thought of us that day
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

We wish to thank all our relatives and friends for their prayers, foods, flowers and cards. A special thanks to Rev W L. "Dub" Henderson and Rev. Don Jones for the beautiful service, to the Christianaries Quartet, thank you for the lovely songs and music. Also we would like to thank Sturgill Funeral Home and the Lee County Rescue Squad. A very special thanks to the pallbearers (P.D.'s closest friends) Thanks to every one for all their kindness and concern shown to us at this most difficult time of our loves ... the loss of our beloved son and brother, P.D. Nelson.

God bless all of you.
Taze and Dorothy Nelson
Lela, Malinda and Anita

If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

Keokee School News

The Christmas season has arrived and with it comes many activities and much excitement.

Miss Edwards and Miss Trammell's third grade classes are planning a Christmas program. The glee club, sponsored by Janet Clouse, will be singing in the program.

The Keokee seniors are planning a gong show on December 14. All people wishing to perform should get in touch with Patsy Davis.

The junior and senior 4-H clubs had their annual Share-the Fun show. The winners from the Junior Division were Tommy Woodward, 6th grade and Wendy Stough, 7th grade. Senior winners were Imelda Joyce who played "The Rose" on the piano, and David Hansel, Lisa Wade, and Michele Wilder who sang "I Believe in Music", David, Lisa and Michele went to Pennington to perform on county level.

The fifth grade at Keokee Combined School, under the tutelage of Mrs. Rose Kelley, recently made an excursion into the mountains. The purpose of the field trip was to collect, assemble, and identify the numerous leaves of this area. Those pupils assorting and completing excellent leaf collections include the following boys and girls: David Gilly, Jack Herron, Brit Partin, Chris Parsons, Rhonda Campbell, Angela Clark, Tammy Ferrey, Jennifer Holmes, Vickie Huff, and Lisa Huffman.

On December 11, the Mountaineers take on the Twin Springs Titans at Keokee.

A carrot weighing 11 pounds was grown by Bob McEwan of Beeac, Victoria Australia, in September, 1967.

JUNE FULLER THE COUPON CLIPPER

Refund offers help stuff the stockings

By June Fuller

DEAR COUPON CLIPPER — This Christmas my nephew will get a Texas Instruments digital watch free thanks to an offer I sent for from Polaroid. Children of friends will receive free baseballs from Kellogg's

My holiday giving will include terry towels from Ziploc, Rubbermaid Mix 'n' Measure pitchers from Scottowels, a Better Homes and Gardens Cookbook — a very beautiful one, I might add — from Viva Towels and a Flip 'n' Sip thermos from Glad

I also have lots of items that will be just perfect for stocking stuffers, such as Campbell's Kids spoons, Smucker's Fox and Hound Cups, Texize Products' Little Golden Books and the Bama coloring book and marking pens

Even after refunding for more than a year and a half, I am continually amazed and excited by all the good offers being made and the creative ways to cash-in! — Elsie W from Pineview, Ga

DEAR ELSIE — I hope that your letter will be read by refunders who pass over the offers for gift items that are made all year long Many of them forget about the gifts they will need to buy in December and concentrate on the cash and the coupons

Then at this time of year they have to dip into their special savings to pay for all those presents and stocking stuffers This year the prices on some of these gifts have really gone up

It's too late to send for gift offers for the approaching holidays, but starting to send for gift offers now will insure that there will be a closet full of presents for the 1982 holiday season

Smart Shopping Award. This week's award goes to a smart refunder who knows that we never throw away an empty national-brand package until we have used it twice — to send for at least two offers.

Mrs. V. Schmidt of Brookfield, Ill., purchased 10 boxes of Scottissues and used the seals from the plastic overwrap to get two free decks of playing cards Then she used the Universal Product Code symbols to send for a coupon organizer filled with Scott coupons

Finally, she used the "Safe for Septic Systems" red flags from the same packages to send for a set of free Christmas cards

"Refunding is in my life to stay," says Mrs Schmidt.

Readers whose smart shopping experiences appear in this column receive a copy of the refunding publication, The National Supermarket Shopper Write to me in care of this newspaper

Here is a refund form to write for Tylenol Free Soft Drink Offer, P.O Box 4132, Monticello, Minn 55365 This offer of a soda coupon worth up to $2 expires Jan. 31, 1982.

Here is this week's list of refund offers Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends. Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below Remember, some offers are not available in all areas of the country

Today's refund offers are worth $8.98

Personal Products

Safety Tips

If you're considering using a space heater in your home or farm shop this winter, keep the following safety tips in mind, said Glen H. Hetzel, Extension safety specialist at Virginia Tech.

- Leave enough clearance between the heater and furniture, drapes, magazine racks, etc.

If an extension cord is needed, be sure it is a heavy duty cord rated for the expected electrical load (rating in watts).

Cookin' Corner

Fifteen days from now until Christmas — how can busy homemakers, or working housewives prepare for the holiday — special foods that are so much a part of the festivities. Try the simple mouth watering recipes, shared by our readers. Good cooking, good eating.

Swedish Nut Cake

1-20 oz. can crushed pineapple
2 cups all-purpose flour
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups white sugar
2 teaspoon baking soda
½ cup chopped walnuts

Mix all together and stir well. Bake at 350° for about 45 minutes.

Frosting

1-8 Oz. Cream Cheese
1 stick butter
1 ¾ cups confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix well and spread on cooled cake.

Baked Chicken

1 chicken, cut-up
1-10½ oz. cream of celery soup
1 tablespoon mustard
1 tablespoon garlic powder
2-10½ ozs. cans of cream of chicken soup
⅛ tsp. vinegar
3 tablespoons butter

Combine all ingredients except chicken. Simmer 20 minutes. Pour over chicken that has been floured and bake at 375° until done. About 1 hour. Sprinkle with paprika the last 20 minutes of baking.

Fruit Salad

1 can strawberry pie filling
1 can crushed pineapples, drained
1 can fruit cocktail
2 bananas

Mix and serve cold.

Thomas Walker School News

The Thomas Walker High School newspaper, the TALKER, has been awarded a first place rating by the Virginia High School League for the 1980-81 school year.

Under the leadership of Editor Jerry Skeen, the TALKER earned 900 out of a possible 1000 points.

Evaluation categories included content and coverage, writing and editing, make-up, management and production, and general.

"Your editorial content is particularly strong," "Photography looks very professional considering your limited facilities," "Great art work," and "Nice consistency of design," were among the favorable comments received.

"Congratulations for an excellent effort. You can be proud of the TALKER," was the evaluator's summation.

In addition to Editor Skeen, staff members from last years' TALKER included News Editor Tammie Britton, Feature and Art Editor Mitch Williams, and Sports Editor Patrick Houck

Shannon Gibson was head typist and circulation manager and Nancy Hopkins was in charge of lay out.

Mark Rowlett and Patrick Houck were in charge of photography and Kim Bales and Mary Edds were advertising managers.

Advisor is Carol P Skeen.

Local Volunteer Heads Gift Program

Mrs. Tilda Pope of Pennington has been appointed chairman of the American Heart Association's "A Time To Remember" program for Lee County, Virginia Affiliate Chairman of the Board Hampden F. Collier, announced recently.

"The Time To Remember program is a method for recognizing special people, events, holidays and achievements through a gift to the American Heart Association," said Mrs. Pope. Contributions to the "Time To Remember" program are used to support research, education and community service programs in Lee County and throughout Virginia. In 1979-1980, $216,000 was raised statewide through "Time To Remember" contributions.

The American Heart Association has spent $350 million over the last 32 years to pioneer new methods of preventing premature death and disability from heart disease. A significant amount of those monies came through public contributions raised in Virginia. Over the last decade, there has been a dramatic 20% decrease in deaths from heart disease.

To get more information about the "Time To Remember" program or to make a contribution, contact Mrs. Tilda Pope, P.O. Box 250, Pennington Gap, VA 24277. The "Time To Remember" contribution is tax deductible and will be acknowledged with a special note, regardless of the amount contributed.

by each child. A local restaurant donated free meal tickets.

Of course, the highlight of any Christmas party is the emergence of Santa Claus. As the children made their way through the smorgasbord line, Santa visited them on his way to the decorated trees, one of which had a new dollar bill on it for each child.

Visitors who looked closely at Santa could see a smile in his face that may have denoted the happiest person there.

choruses selected members will perform various solos and recitatives. The Community Chorus has been in existence since October 1980. It is composed of approximately 33 members who devote one night a week for rehearsal.

Accompanying the chorus for this performance will be Dr. D. Micheal Donathan, assistant professor of music and chairman of the Department of Performing Arts at Clinch Valley College at Wise, Va.

The Chorus is under the direction of Robert Widener.

Everyone is invited to attend this musical event. There is no admission charge.

Black Lung Association To Meet

Hobart Grills announced a joint meeting of the National, Kentucky and Harlan County Black Lung Associations will be held to discuss the Reagan Administration proposals to cut back black lung benefits for future applicants. The Reagan plan calls for the elimination of many of the presumptions in the current law that favor miners getting the benefits of the program.

The meeting will be held Saturday, December 12, at the Evarts Multipurpose Center, Evarts, Ky., at 1:00 p.m. Sam Church, President of the UMWA, and Richard Trumpka, announced candidate for UMWA President have been invited to attend and discuss the proposed cutbacks and their position on them.

For additional information, contact Hobart Grills at (606) 837-3150.

tock; Mrs. Avis Pringle, of Bassett, Kenneth S. White of Lynchburg; and H. Ronnie Montgomery of Jonesville. School Superintendent Robert G. McCoy led the tour of the Lee County schools on Thursday.

When asked if they observed great needs for facilities improvements, the board members were in general agreement that although there's always room for improvement, their main concern was with the actual programs which include math and reading. The students having materials to work with was a prime concern.

Dr. Davis was impressed with the quality and dedication of teachers involved with the programs.

Title I funds are provided by the federal government to finance compensatory education projects for educationally disadvantaged children throughout the state. During the current school year about 8,000 Wise, Scott and Lee County students will benefit from their share of the state's Title I funds.

ABC First Quarter Profits

Profits generated by the Virginia Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control for the first quarter (July through September) of the 1981 82 fiscal year have resulted in distribution of $5,650,819.65 to Virginia's counties, cities and towns.

The figure represents two-thirds of the Department's profits for the period following statutory adjustments and a one third distribution to the General Fund of the Commonwealth.

Profits come largely from the sale of distilled spirits, cordials and wines at state operated ABC stores. ABC profits are distributed on a per capita basis at the rate of $1.06 for the current period

Counties and cities will also share on a per capita basis $690,881.83 that was generated from the sale of wine. Under the liter tax, 22 percent of the total tax collected from the sale of wine is earmarked for distribution to counties and cities, and 66 percent of the tax goes to the State General Fund. The remainder is retained by the ABC Department as operating revenue.

Distribution of ABC Profits for the first quarter 1981 1982 Fiscal Year - Lee County $24,442.27; Town of Jonesville $923.78; Town of Pennington Gap $1,813.74.

Distribution of Wine Liter Tax Revenue - Lee County $3,354.21.

For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this newspaper.

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent – and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the promise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1210.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

Notice To Classified Advertisers

All advertising for the Classified section should be in this office, with payment, not later than Monday noon for publication.

Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church

Each year the people of the Ewing and Rose Hill area look forward to the Community Thanksgiving Service which is held annually at one of the churches in the surrounding area.

The worship service is conducted by the pastor of the host church, which this year, was the Rev. James Wright at the Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church in Rose Hill. Piano and organ music was rendered by Mrs. Henry Campbell and Mrs. Snyder Harris, with congregational singing being led by the choir of the host church.

Special music was furnished by the Rose Hill First Baptist which included two beautiful vocal duets, being sung by Mrs. Wilma Hendrix and her daughter, Mrs. Jim Haley, and by Lela Johnson and Eddie Grabeel. Both vocal duets were accompanied with piano music by Beulah Johnson

A timely and challenging message was brought by Rev. Alonza Dixon, pastor of the Silver Leaf Baptist Church, on the topic of What a Blessing it is to give thanks to God.

His scripture lesson contained the story of ten lepers who were healed, and the question asked by Jesus, when one returned to thank Him for His healing, "Where are the other nine?"

The opening prayer was given by Rev. Tommy Thomas, president of the Ministerial Association, and pastor of First Baptist Rose Hill, and the closing prayer by Rev. Mike York, pastor of Ewing First Baptist who is relatively new in the area, but gave encouraging words about his ministry here.

During the service a monetary offering was received from those present to be used through the year for special community needs, and for those who may be in transient and have needs while in the area. The offertory prayer was given by Rev. Bill Porter, pastor of Morley Memorial United Methodist Church in Ewing.

Plans are for a cooperative service again in April when the congregations will join in an early Sunrise Service on Easter Sunday

Veterans Administration

Questions And Answers

Q--I bought a home recently with a GI guaranteed home loan. I have now discovered some defects which the seller refused to fix. Can the VA help me?

A--The Veterans Administration cannot compel a seller to remedy defects or to fulfill a contract on an existing home. However, there is a one-year guarantee on a newly constructed home. Contact the nearest VA office for details.

Q--I am rated 10 percent disabled due to service connected disabilities. Am I eligible for preference in civil service jobs?

A--Yes. Veterans rated as having service connected disabilities receive ten preference points.

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH

Children And Chiropractic

It's tough enough being a parent today, trying to raise a child to responsible, healthy adulthood. Yet many parents are overlooking one of the common causes of future health problems—not because they are indifferent parents, but simply because they are unaware of the potential problems. Children are going to be children, and they'll jump and fall and engage in rough and tumble play.

More often than most people know, one or more of these acts can cause one of the spine's moveable vertebrae to be moved out of it s normal position. This in turn can interfere with the message-carrying function of the nerves that extend out from between the vertebrae to serve body organs.

Sometimes this mis alignment of a vertebra or vertebrae may not be recognized for years, and even then it can manifest itself as something quite different from a back pain. Often because the body, without help, cannot move the vertebra back to where it should be, warning signals are produced. These can show up as fatigue, sleeplessness or even susceptibility to various illnesses.

A direct result of the vertebra being out of position can also be a compensating action (distortion) in the skeletal structure of the body, and this too can become more pronounced as time passes.

We all know it's extremely important for a young tree to be kept straight during the formative growth periods, the same principle applies to children.

Rather than risk problems in the future, take your child for a professional chiropractic examination soon.

It's relatively easy to start a tree growing straight when it s young.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Mrs. Mossie Snodgrass of Dittmere, Mo., died Thursday night, November 26 after a long illness. Mossie will be remembered by many friends in this area. She and her husband, Clifford Snodgrass resided in Keokee during the years of 1920 and they later moved to Big Stone Gap where they lived for several years before moving to Missouri.

Her sister, Mrs. Allen Flanary of Appalachia, and brother, Nick Herron and wife, Rose of Imboden, went to Missouri to attend the funeral services held on Sunday —Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Elbert T. Edens, Sr., 82, of Exeter, Va., who died Saturday night, November 28, of smoke inhalation after a fire in his home

Thoughts are with his family in the loss of their loved one

Elbert had resided in Exeter, Va., many years and had many friends in this area.

—Mr. and Mrs. R.P. Cooper, Jr., were pleased to have their daughter and son-in law, Martha and Bruce McDaniel of Wise, Va., also their daughter, Susan and her husband, Perry Brown and their family of Jefferson City, Tn., visit with them during the Thanksgiving holidays and all enjoyed dinner together.

—Mrs. A.T. Collier of Big Stone Gap accompanied her aunt, Verda Thompson to Kingsport, Friday.

—Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Buelah Estep were her son, Bob Estep and his wife, Deloras and their children, Stevie and Robert, Jr., from Shreveport, La. Also while they were here Mrs. Estep's brothers, Frank Duncan and James Duncan of Bristol, visited on Sunday. Her sister and brother in law, Lois and Howard Carter of Gulf Breeze, Fla., spent two weeks visiting relatives in this area. They also visited Howard's mother, Mrs. Ida Carter at Norton.

While they were here Mrs. Ida Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carter, and Buelah Estep attended church at the Hoover Hill Baptist Church at Cox's Creek in Keokee.

Mrs. Ida Carter and family were former residents of Calvin, Va., during the years of 1930 and they enjoyed the trip back to the area.

A Son Is Born

Doris and Don Bush of Kingsport, Tn., are the proud parents of a new baby son born November 29th. The new arrival weighed 8 lbs., 5 ozs., and he has been named Jonathan David.

The new little one has a sister, Donna and a brother, Jeff to welcome him home.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Moore of Appalachia, Va., and the paternal grandparents are Mrs. Elbert Bush of Big Stone Gap and the late Mr. Bush.

Congratulations to the happy family, Mr. and Mrs Don Bush on the birth of their son.

—Dink Shackelford has been a patient in the Indian Path Hospital in Kingsport, the past week

—Ballard T. Short who is 88 years old continues very ill at his home in Morristown, Tn During the Thanksgiving holidays his family of twelve sons and daughters were home to visit with him One son, Harold Short came from Portland, Oregon, a daughter, Anelle and her husband, Bob Hall came from Doraville, Ga., a daughter, Inez and her husband, Merrill Morris came from Dayton, Ohio, also two daughters, Deloras Short and Pauline Allen were from Big Stone Gap, and other members of the family resides in Morristown

Also present was a daughter in law, Patsy Short from Titusville, Fla., other relatives, Mrs. Sallie Short and son, Merrill Short of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Flanary of Lynch, Ky., and also Mr. and Mrs. Victor Craft of Kingsport, Tn

Ballard Short formerly resided in Keokee

—Linda and Thomas Stalakis and daughters, Angela and Christna came from Arlington, Texas during the Thanksgiving holidays and visited with Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barker, Jr. While they were there Linda's grandmother, Mrs. Ordie Morris planned to join them there but she was unable to go to Dryden. However, she was very pleased with a telephone call when her great-granddaughters, Angela and Christa sang happy birthday to her over the phone.

—Mrs. Nancy Bush of San Bernardino, Calif., will celebrate her birthday on December 12, she will be 85 years old. Happy birthday wishes to her.

Nancy formerly resided in Keokee and Big Stone Gap before going to California to make her home.

—Mrs. Jimmy (Norma) Fleenor who recently underwent heart surgery at the Holston Valley Hospital in Kingsport, has returned home where she is convalescing. Get-well wishes to Norma.

—Maxie Hurst Green of Kingsport, Tn., Verda Hurst Thompson and a friend from Westland, Mich., visited Verda Thompson at Keokee last Tuesday.

Maxie's husband, Roy H. Green of Kingsport passed away at a Veterans Hospital on Saturday, November 28.

Verda Hurst Thompson and friend came from Michigan to attend the funeral services of her brother in law. They visited in Keokee before returning home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lawerence Snodgrass were happy to have their daughter, Janice Russell of Labca, Ark., spend the Thanksgiving holidays with them. Also a son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Snodgrass and family of Robbins Chapel, Keokee joined them on Thanksgiving Day and all enjoyed dinner together

—We are pleased to note that Virginia Barker has returned home after being a patient in the hospital in Wise, Va., the past week

—Mary A. Morris had surgery on her foot at a Kingsport hospital recently and is reported to be getting along nicely.

While in Kingsport she visited at the home of her daughter and son in law, Mr and Mrs. Victor Craft

—Mr. and Mrs William Flanary, Kenny and Margaret Flanary and little grandson, also Deloras and Jimmy Morris and their children, Justin and Jimmy of Appalachia, have returned home after vacationing a week at St Petersburg, Fla

—Josie Napier of Pennington Gap visited Mary Rivers in Appalachia last week She also visited her brother, Robert Napier one day at the Holston Valley Hospital in Kingsport We hope Robert will be feeling better soon.

—Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Hubert Partin, 74, of Dayton, Ohio who died Sunday night, November 29, after a long illness.

Hubert spent his younger years in Keokee. He was known to his friends as "Chap" Partin a name given to him while he attended school in Keokee many years ago. His wife is the former Edith Living ston of Blackwater, who came to Keokee in the years of 1920.

They resided here until the years of late 1930 then moved to Dayton, Ohio to make their home. They had three daughters.

—Those enjoying Thanksgiving day dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris and family at Exeter were Mrs. Morris' mother, Julie Jones, her sister, Nell, also her niece and nephew, Donna and Less all from Bristol, and Wayne's mother, Mrs. Ordie Morris of Keokee.

—Louise McDaniel has returned home after enjoying a visit with her daughters, Mrs. Keith Strevel and Mrs. Larry Thomas and their families in Strawberry Plains, Tn.

Ida Faye Johnson

85th Birthday Celebration

T. W. Pioneers Topple Jonesville, Wins Tournament

The Thomas Walker Pioneers and Jonesville Bulldogs met in the finals of the classic tournament held at Jonesville last week, and the verdict was 55-43 in favor of the Pioneers. It marks the fourth time out of five years that Ronald Skeens troops have won the classic.

The first and second quarters both were won by the Pioneers, by identical 14-10 scores. Both teams shot poorly from the field in the first half, and when the second half began, it was no different as Thomas Walker took the third stanza 8-7. The Pioneers never trailed in the game and on a couple of occasions the Bulldogs had the lead cut down to six or seven points, but then Johnny Edds would come up with some clutch baskets for the Pioneers to keep the lead intact.

Thomas Walker 3-0 on the year was led by Edds 20 points, with Jim Miracle canning 10. Bob Bryant who left the game by way of the foul route scored eight markers. The Pioneers hit 5 of 7 free throws, good for a 71.3% clip. Of 35 fouls called in the game, 20 went against the Pioneers. Jonesville 2-1 with the loss was led by Gary Oaks' 15 points. Winston Terry who has been a big surpurise for Jonesville this year hit for 12 tallies. The Bulldogs hit 19 of 25 free throws for 76%. Jonesville which shot less than 30% from the field only connected for 12 field goals.

A tournament team was chosen following the finals. Making the team was Gary Oaks from Jonesville, Randy Anders and Greg Peters from Dryden. The Pioneers put Jim Miracle and Johnny Edds on the team.

Jonesville Takes Second Place In Classic

Dryden Wins Consolation Bracket

Jonesville Bulldogs Edge Dryden In Overtime 67 - 65

The Jonesville Bulldogs and Dryden Crusaders met last Thursday in semi-final action in the classic tournament, and the result was the bulldogs coming from behind to bite the Dryden team 67 65.

The game started out as if Dryden would blow the Bulldogs out of the gym, but each time the Crusaders built a lead, here came the Bulldogs barking. Dryden opened up a 13 point lead midway of the first stanza only to have it trimmed to eleven at 18 7 at the end of one quarter. A couple of times during the second quarter Jonesville managed to trim the lead to one point but could never grab the lead.

Each time Dryden would go back up to a six to eight point bulge. Finally Jonesville behind the play of Gary Oaks cut the lead to 31 28 at halftime. Dryden took the third quarter 16-15, to set the stage for the fourth quarter which the Bulldogs managed to win 18-14 to tie the score at 61 all. Dryden grabbed the early lead in overtime only to see the Bulldogs come back again. Finally Jonesville went ahead by four points. With some eight seconds to go, Randy Anders missed a shot for Dryden, but got the rebound and scored as the clock ran out, handing the Bulldogs a 67-65 win.

Jonesville which scored first in the game for a 2-0 lead, never led again until the overtime. The Bulldogs also had a chance to win the game in regulation when Winston Terry put up a shot with some four seconds remaining, but the ball bounded off the rim, and Joey Chadwell's attempted tip in fell short of its mark.

The Bulldogs are 2 0 on the year. They were led by Gary Oaks with 21 points followed by Winston Terry with 20. Andy Rosenbaum also had 14 in the win. Terry came off the bench to gather his points and helped his performance by grabbing four rebounds.

Dryden 1-1 on the year was led by Anders 22 Greg Peters had 17 points, coming mostly from long range. Ronnie Rhoton added 10 points in the loss.

Score By Quarters:
Dryden 18 13 16 14 4-65
J 7 21 15 18 6-67

Individual Scoring:
Dryden (65) Anders 22, Peters 17, Rhoton 10, Wampler 8, Milam 6, Gibson 2.
Jonesville (67) Oaks 21, Terry 20, Rosenbaum 14, Chadwell 7, Spence 3, Crumley 2.

Jonesville Tops Flatwoods In Tournament Opener

The Jonesville Bulldogs and the Flatwoods Eagles opened the classic tournament at Jonesville on Tuesday night of last week, with the host Bulldogs topping the Eagles 52 41

The game started out with Jonesville scoring the first points of the contest, with Joey Chadwell connecting on a jumper from the left wing. The first quarter saw both teams exchange leads several times, but both sides missing numerous shots. Jonesville took a 13 10 first quarter lead and extended it to 21 18 at the half as both sides continued to turn the ball over with neither team cashing in on the others mistakes.

On several occasions the Bulldogs pulled out to leads of seven to nine points but the Eagles who started to work the ball inside, chipped away at the lead to get back into the game. The third quarter was where the Bulldogs took the game as they outscored the Eagles 17 9. Both teams scored 14 each in the final period.

Jonesville 1 0 on the year was led by Gary Oaks 16 point effort. Chadwell canned a dozen. Andy Rosenbaum and Winston Terry both scored eight points each. Terry who came off of the bench, to help spark the Bulldogs also pulled down six rebounds. Jonesville was out rebounded 42 38. The Bulldogs shot 66.6% from the charity stripe, hitting 6 of 9 shots.

Flatwoods is 0 1 on the season. The Eagles were led by Brian Denson's 13 points. Kevin Cope also had 12 in the loss. Campbell Cope and Lawrence Greer both scored six points each. The Eagles could have been in better shape, had it not been for their poor free throw shooting. They managed to hit only 3 of 11 for 27 3%

Both teams will get better as the season rolls on, as both probably had opening game jitters. Both schools show signs of good potential to produce winning seasons, so if your fans of these two teams, go out this season and pack their gyms full to capacity when they're at home, as good fan support will help both in more ways than one

Thomas Walker Topples Keokee

Thomas Walker won their second straight game of the tournament at Jonesville last Friday night It was also the second straight win for the Pioneers with ease.

The Pioneers never trailed to Keokee as Ronald Skeen's played the entire team, running players in and out, with all getting into the action. The fast breaking Pioneers took a 17-6 first stop lead and poured it on in the second period with a 15-5 advantage. The third wasn't any better for the Mountaineers as Thomas Walker behind some scoring from their bench upped the score even farther, with a 17 9 margin. Keokee had their best stanza of the night in the fourth when they outscored the Pioneers 13 8, but the deficit was too big for Keokee to catch up. Thomas Walker again could have ran the score up on the Mountaineers like they could have against Flatwoods, but instead Ronald Skeens, a veteran coach elected to give his whole team some playing time.

Keokee 0 2 on the year was led by Jimmy Bailey with 11 points. Bailey had only one point in the second half of the game. Tim McElyea had 10 points in the loss. The Mountaineers shot just short of 26% from the field, and made 9 of 22 free throws for 40%. Keokee will be at home this Friday for a district game against the Twin Springs Titans.

Thomas Walker 2-0 on the year was led by Jim Miracle with 20 points Johnny Edds scored 11 points, all coming in the first half. He sat out most of the second half. Bob Bryant chipped in with seven points. Eight other Pioneers scored in the game. Thomas Walker by ripping Keokee, earned the right to face Jonesville for first place in the tournament.

Score By Quarters:
Keokee 6 5 9 13-33
T.W. 17 15 17 8-57

Individual Scoring:

Dryden Rolls By Keokee 67 - 46

The Dryden Crusaders started their season out on the right foot, as they opened with a convincing 67 46 win over the Keokee Mountaineers in the tournament held at Jonesville last week.

Both teams started out running and gunning for the basket with Dryden taking the opening quarter 14 8. The tempo of the game remained the same in the second quarter, with the exception of once when the Crusaders behind the clutch shooting of Randy Anders and Greg Peters went up by eleven points. But with some two minutes remaining in the first half, here comes the Mountaineers back, cutting the lead to 26 20 as the half ended Cold free throw shooting in the half cost Keokee. Better shooting from the line could have reversed the score

Keokee lost the second half of the game 41 26. The Mountaineers remained fairly close and within striking range until the final quarter when they were outscored 23 11. Tim McElyea was the key to the Mountaineers staying close as he ripped the nets for 20 points. But in the end Keokee's defense just couldn't stop the hot hands of Anders and Peters

Keokee coached by Roger Morris is 0 1 on the year. They were led by McElyea's 20, followed by Dwayne Phillips and Jimmy Bailey with eight markers apiece The Mountaineers hit from the charity stripe at a 50% clip, hitting on 15 of 30 shots.

Dryden 1 0 on the year, gave coach Pat Jervis his first win as a head coach The Crusaders led by Anders 22 and Peters 18, also got eight points from Mark Johnson. Dryden made 9 of 14 foul shots, good for 64 4%

Score By Quarters:
Keokee 8 12 15 11-46
Dryden 14 12 18 23-67

Individual Scoring:
Keokee (46) McElyea 20, Phillips 8, Bailey 8, Snodgrass 4, Kelly 2, Parsons 2, Woodard 2.

Dryden Tops Flatwoods For Third Place 59-45

This past Saturday night saw Dryden's Crusaders top the Flatwoods Eagles 59 45, a win that gave Dryden third place in the tournament

The Crusaders behind the scoring punch of Greg Peters and Randy Anders took a 15 6 lead at the first rest stop. They enjoyed a 32 20 halftime lead that was trimmed to nine points after three periods. Pat Jarvis' team got the margin of difference in the game 11 points, when they took the fourth quarter 18 13

Flatwoods 0-3 on the year got Campbell Cope and 10 each from Kevin Cope and Lawrence Greer The Eagles who lost most of all its star players last year committed fourteen fouls in the game They hit 9 of 14 free throws for 64 4%

Flatwoods will face Dryden again this Friday night at Dryden, only the game will count in the district

Dryden 2 1 on the year got a combined total of 39 points from Anders and Peters. Peters scored 25 and Anders 14. The Crusaders who fouled 16 times, hit from the charity stripe at a 64% clip, making 11 of 17 shots.

The Crusaders besides being at home Friday, will also play at home, Saturday, when Evarts, Kentucky comes calling.

Score By Quarters:

Gate City Rips Rye Cove

Gate City from the Southwest district traveled to Rye Cove last Friday evening, and after reaching the Eagles nest, found a win 80-66, spoiling the Eagles home opener of the season

The Blue Devils who are expected to challenge Graham High School for first place this season in the Southwest district took a 21 17 lead in the first period and saw it trimmed to three at 38 35 at the half. But after a 18-16 Blue Devil advantage in the third quarter finally subdued Rye Cove in the final eight minutes of play with a 24 15 advantage

Both teams had eight different players to score in the contest, with Gate City placing three in double figures and Rye Cove having four to reach the double digit mark. The Blue Devils 1-0 on the year were led by the trio of Joey Salyers, Chris Fugate and Jackie Vermillion with 23, 20 and 15 points respectively. Rye Cove 0-1 was led by Jimmy Gilreath and Randall Spears with 13 tallies each. Roy Lane scored 11 while Randy Hunter netted 10 points. Both teams will see each other again on January 19th at Gate City for a rematch.

Gate City will tangle with Patrick Henry at home Friday, while Rye Cove will travel to Jonesville to face the Bulldogs in what should be one of the interesting matchups in the Cumberland district Friday. Rye Cove will return home next Tuesday to meet district foe Twin Springs.

Score By Quarters:
Gate City 21 17 18 24-80
Rye Cove 17 18 16 15-66

Individual Scoring:

Twin Springs Dumps St. Paul Deacons 59-48

The Twin Springs Titans rolled to their 20th straight regular season win last Friday as they dumped the Deacons of St. Paul 59-48.

St. Paul gave Twin Springs a scare early as they took a 11-9 lead into the second quarter and stretched it to six points with a 15-11 spurt. But the second half of the game all belonged to coach Jerry Field's Titans as they grabbed the lead heading into the final quarter with an 18 9 drive in the third. The Titans who lost only to Coeburn in the regionals last year coasted to the win in the final quarter when they padded the lead to win by a margin of eleven points.

St. Paul stands 0-2 overall. The Deacons were led by Ted Johnson's 14 points. Danny Sifford and Tommy Kilgore canned 12 and 10 points respectively. The Deacons will go on the road to face the Hayai Tigers this Friday.

Twin Springs 2 0 on the year was led by Mike Penley's 17 points. Gary Wolfe and David White bucketed 14 each. The Titans will be at Keokee Friday and then at Rye Cove next Tuesday. Twin Springs won't return home until January 5th when they face Flatwoods. The Titans will also be playing in the Powell Valley Invitational tournament on December 17th, probably against Gate City.

Score By Quarters:
St. Paul 11 15 9 13-48
T.S. 9 11 18 21-59

Twin Springs Titans Defeat Castlewood 46-34

Twin Springs who lost only one game all year long last season, opened their season with a 46 34 non district win over Castlewood's Blue Devils on Tuesday of last week.

The Titans opened with a 11-4 first quarter advantage, and stretched the lead to 24 11 at intermission. The Titans who probably are going to be tough again this year, despite the loss of Kevin Short who led the district in scoring last year, has a host of talented lads who can find the hoop, as freshman David White led the win with 16 points. The Blue Devils won the second half, but only 23 22, way short of the margin needed to overtake the Titans lead

Following White in scoring for Twin Springs was Mike Penley with 14 tallies. The Titans will be counting on the trio of Penley, Craig Short and Gary Wolfe to lead them to a winning season.

Castlewood was led by Abo White with 11 points. Both teams will meet each other again later in the season, next time at Castlewood.

Score By Quarters:
Castlewood 4 7 15 8-34
T. Springs 11 13 13 9-46

Individual Scoring:
Castlewood (34) White 11, Grizzel 6, M. Dingus 4, Hayes 4, Pentka 4, Linkous 3, A. Dingus 2.

Norton Black Raiders Edge Pennington 54-52

Pennington's Bobcats opened their season last Friday night at Norton. The Bobcats which led practically the whole game dropped a 54-52 decision to the Black Raiders.

Jerry Myer's in his third year coaching the Bobcats, saw his team jump to a 14-4 first quarter lead. But after the Bobcats went to the dressing room at the half leading 31-22, saw Norton come back in the third quarter and outscore the Bobcats 17-8 to tie the score at 39 39. There was a total of 28 points scored in the fourth quarter with Norton getting the big end of the score with 15 to 13 for Pennington.

Frank Gravely and Jerome Etter combined for 30 of the 54 points, and also were the key players in Norton's comeback. Both players also led the defense by pulling down 27 rebounds between them.

Both teams will meet again in the final game of the season on February 19th in the Bobcats den. The Norton Black Raiders will be on the road to face the tough Coeburn Blue Knights this Friday, while Pennington will be at home to tangle with the running and gunning Thomas Walker Pioneers. The Bobcats will also be in action next Tuesday when they travel to Flatwoods. Go out and see the Bobcats as they try to give coach Myers his first winning season at Pennington. Against Norton, the Bobcats top gun was Kent Henderson with 18 followed by Billy Byington with 15. Billy Byington is the only senior on the Bobcats team. His brother Tim is in his first year on the varsity team and has showed signs of making a fine ball player for Pennington. Tim scored five points against Norton.

Score By Quarters:
Pennington 14 17 8 13-52
Norton 4 18 17 15-54

Individual Scoring:
Pennington (52) Henderson 18, B. Byington 15, Belcher 8, Collier 6, T. Byington 5.

Norton (54) Gravely 16, Etter 14, McCray 9, Robinette 6, Stallard 4, Tate 3, Hughes 2.

T.W. Pioneers Defeat Flatwoods Eagles 77-32

The Thomas Walker Pioneers started their season off with a tournament win last Thursday evening, by routing the Flatwoods Eagles 77 32.

Flatwoods went into the game 0-1, having lost their first round game to Jonesville 52-41. And when they ran up with the Pioneers, they were completely outmatched.

Ronald Skeens troops took the early lead and never looked back as they outscored Flatwoods 24-6 in the opening quarter, and then stretched the lead 47-17 at the half with a 23 11 second period.

Thomas Walker which never trailed in the game, used their entire team by the games end. The Pioneers took the second half by a 30-15 margin. Its hard to say how much the score would or could have been rolled up if the Pioneers had played their starters throughout.

Thomas Walker 1-0 on the year is a solid favorite to win the Cumberland district this year. The Pioneers were led by a well balanced scoring attack with sophomore Johnny Edds leading the way with 18 points. He was the districts second leading scorer last year. Following Edds in scoring was Riley Littrell with 14 and Bob Bryant with 12 tallies. The Pioneers center Jim Miracle who stands 6'9", along with Mike Yeary scored 10 points each in the win

Flatwoods drops to 0-2 on the year. The Eagles were led by Bryan Denson with 13. Campbell Cope was next with seven points No other Eagle scored more than four. Flatwoods has some players capable of giving the Eagles a winning season, but will have to come up with a stronger defense to have the season they want. The Eagles definitely need a good season from Lawrence Greer

Score By Quarters:
T. Walker 24 23 12 18-77
Flatwoods 6 11 6 9-32

Individual Scoring:
T. Walker (77) Edds 18 R. Littrell 14, Bryant 12, Miracle 10, Yeary 10, Crockett 9, Grable 3, B. Littrell 1

Flatwoods (32) B. Denson 13, C. Cope 7, K. Cope 4, R. Denson 4, Greer 2, Ingle 2.

Dryden DECA Club Attends Fall Rally

On Tuesday, October 13, Dryden DECA club went to St. Paul High School to attend the district I DECA Fall Rally. There were 11 schools from the District that attended

The students were welcomed in the opening session by Mr. Jim Short, principal of St. Paul High School. They were given an inspiring talk by the Vocational Director of Wise Co Schools, Arthur L. Livesay, on the importance of participating and being active in the DECA Club.

After Livesay's talk the students watched an informative slide presentation on Human Relations.

After the opening sessions the club officers were installed in an impressive installation ceremony. After the installation ceremony, the students were provided with refreshments and live entertainment by the Backwater Band

Family Notes

By Betty Jean Moore

Virginia Tech Extension Service agents provide continuing education - programs, information, services - for everyone. Miss Moore is with the Lee County office at 346-1522.

Christmas is a pleasant time of the year. Right! Right, but it can also be a hassle. Sales of tranquilizers and admissions to mental hospitals rise around holidays. Try to do those things that make the holiday happy. Don't let the food, phone, electricity, fuel, and merchant's bills go up too much.

Time your activities so that nobody is missed, but life is still enjoyable. Invite the in-laws to your house and don't try to go to both of their homes. Don't forget that recently widowed neighbor who has no relatives nearby. Avoid conspicious consumption that runs counter to the deeper feelings of the [illegible]

One method is to draw up a list of the expenses to hold down and have a clan conference

Make a list of gifts to be made and those to be purchased. Could you substitute something that might be more meaningful and yet cost less? Perhaps two home permanents to your aunt might mean more than a house plant or a new robe. Mother might like "ten washing and waxings of the kitchen" from junior more than some item he really couldn't afford.

Don't forget items that are timely. For example, a guide to college for the high school senior or those wooly shawls and sweaters or thermal underwear for these energy short days

Check with your local extension agent about courses that either extension or other educational groups offer that give information on home repairs, upholstery, plumbing, woodworking, or sewing. Giving this to someone in the house might result in family savings over years to come.

Holidays are often the time of heaviest winter gas consumption. When invited to a party or church occasion, find out who else is going and team up in one car. Children can share rides, too; sometimes going with others and sometimes taking them.

On holiday meals, it might be well to cut down on expensive snack foods that have limited nutritional value. This is a good time to try out unit labeling and also to comparison shop for price per ounce

If there is room in the freezer and you plan to have a Christmas turkey, buy it ahead of time when the specials are on. The same is often true of holiday items such as popcorn, cranberries, yams, and cranberry sauce

Use the library for cookbooks from Italy, China, or Provincial France, countries which have historically been relatively poor. These areas have learned through the centuries how to make delicious meals for relatively little expense

Inform your children that it's a key part of everyone's education to know the foods of other lands. Also later when they start dating, they'll have to know more about nutrition than french fries and hamburgers

If you plan a party for persons of all ages, find a good recipe based on fruit juices and no alcoholic content. That is better than the constant soft drink and cheaper also

Another place to show creativity and save money is in gift wrapping and in decorating. Most original items are remembered long after purchased items are discarded

Also, don't forget December is the pickpocket's busy season. Handbags that open at the top should be put away this [illegible]

On long distance phone calls, check the time when calls are cheapest. Get people together before calling. Limit the length of your call. Agree how long you each are going to talk and stick to it. Some people tape record their holiday wishes and include the highlights of the year Thus, everyone gets a chance to perform and there is a lasting memento. Practice these before recording. And be sure the receiver has a recorder too.

Be certain that Christmas is an enjoyable experience for all, including yourself

Virginia Speaks Out On Oil And Gas Concerns

Virginia residents, concerned about land use and the impacts of future oil and gas development will speak out at public hearings on a proposed "Virginia Oil and Gas Act". This legislation sponsored by Senator Frederick Boucher is designed to regulate oil and gas development in the state.

"The Virginia Land Alliance came together early last summer," said Nina Gregg at the group's last meeting in November. "We began to feel that our concerns about land-related issues in our own communities might be shared. There has been so much leasing of oil and gas rights recently, for example, that people are beginning to wonder just what oil and gas development would mean for Southwest Virginia."

Members of the Virginia Land Alliance plan to testify in their own behalf in Gate City and Pulaski on Monday and Tuesday the 14th and 15th. The hearings will be held at 10 a.m. at the library and County Administrators building respectively.

"The new legislation has little regard for the rights of the surface owner, but protects the developer's interests," said Errol Hess, a Washington County landowner. "We intend to make our concerns known, and to suggest that recognition of surface owner rights be incorporated into this bill."

"We know the history of coal development," said Carol Schommer. "Now that oil and gas development is beginning in earnest, we want to make sure that it is done with a consideration for our total resources, including water."

Members of the Virginia Land Alliance share other land use and resource development concerns. They are watching developments in uranium leasing elsewhere in the region. Legislation on uranium mining has been proposed by Marline Corporation, who has leased more than 50,000 acres in Virginia and an undetermined amount in North Carolina. "Now that industry has proposed the terms under which they would like to operate, our legislators are caught in the position of having to bargain or lose what some view to be a potentially large capital investment in the state," noted Ms. Gregg. "We're especially concerned about uranium mining because there are so many health questions still unanswered."

Jonathon Venzie, a landowner in Grayson County, is troubled by the inadequate representation in Richmond of the concerns of local landowners in this part of the state. "The folks in richmond don't have to live with the consequences of the development their legislation permits. I'm going to the hearing to make sure my point of view is heard."

The group is also preparing to undertake several research projects in the new year. Using material from courthouse records, statistics related to land use and taxation will be prepared for several southwestern counties. "This material will be made available to individuals, school boards, ejected officials -- anyone who wants it. We all have a right to know who is benefitting from the extraction of the most valuable resources in this part of the state," said Ms. Schommer.

Winter Road Closure Planned

The Jefferson National Forest roads on the Clinch Ranger District will be closed during the freeze thaw period as in past years. In normal years, the freeze-thaw period begins in late December and ends around March 20th

Road maintenance money has been reduced by 25% this fiscal year and the forest roads will get only one contract grading job in fiscal year 1982. Because money is available for only one grading, it is most important that the freeze-thaw damage be minimized.

Only roads closed last winter will be closed and foot travel will be encouraged. Lee County road to be closed is F.S. 641 Wallen Ridge - Lee County from St. Rt. 611 to Robinette Chapel Hood Hollow.

The roads will be closed with gates or other physical barriers and signed

It is hoped the roads can be kept open through parts of January, but weather will determine this. The public will be informed on actual road closure through the news media.

Prevent Food Related Illnesses

Before the cook relaxes after a holiday meal, the leftover goods should be put away properly.

Holiday meals often mean a lot of food and leftovers for future meals. To keep leftovers safe, they should be put away as soon as possible after the meal, said Virginia Tech Extension specialist in foods and nutrition, Jo Anne Barton.

Remove the stuffing from the turkey before placing both in the refrigerator. The meat also should be removed from the bones. That chore could be postponed one day--but the turkey must be stored in the refrigerator.

Keeping hot food hot and cold food cold are the most important tenets of food safety, said Miss Barton. That means the leftover food should be placed in a refrigerator which is below 40 degrees Fahrenheit. When reheating food, bring it up to at least 140 degrees Fahrenheit and keep it at that temperature for a few minutes to destroy bacteria which may be present.

The faculty member in Tech's College of Home Economics reminded cooks of some regular food safety practices that should be used routinely in all kitchens.

Wash hands before handling food and cooking. Keep hands away from mouth, nose and hair. Cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue.

"If you must sample foods while cooking," Miss Barton said, "use a clean eating utensil each time. Don't use the stirring utensil and don't put a utensil back into the food after it was used to taste the food."

Wash cooking utensil and surfaces thoroughly. It is important to clean knives and cutting boards used for raw food before using them for cutting cooked foods. This prevents cross contamination.

To remove stubborn bacteria from a cutting board, scrub it with soap and rinse it with hot water. Then apply a chlorine bleach.

USDA Charts Conservation Course

Part 2: Resource Trends

Continuing present nationwide soil and water conservation trends would mean serious future conservation and farm production problems, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) report.

The finding is based on an analysis of the condition and trends of the soil, water and related resources of the United States. The analysis was part of a report required by Congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), explains Fred Copenhaver, Soil Conservation Service (SCS) district conservationist.

The analysis shows that the demand for food and fiber produced in the United States would increase while technological advances in agricultural production would decrease.

Without better technology to boost production, the demand to produce more food and fiber will mean that more acres of marginal land will be farmed. The result will be increased soil erosion rates and other resource problems.

If this happens, the productive capacity of American agriculture would decrease and production costs would increase.

The report says that these resource problems need to be addressed most quickly: Excessive erosion rates, upstream flood damages, groundwater depletion, and deteriorated water quality.

To project future conditions, the USDA analysts used a computer model to simulate the nation's agricultural productivity related to erosion. Although the model's results can't be taken as absolute indicators of what will happen, they do show the relative direction of American agriculture and the possible magnitude of future resource conditions and problems.

RCA Appraisal Part II, the second of three major RCA documents is available for reference use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state

A short leaflet summarizing the RCA findings and proposed conservation program is also available at these USDA offices. The leaflet contains a pre-addressed, postage-paid response form that may be used to send comments to USDA. Responses should be mailed by January 15, 1982.

Busy Bodies In Beauty Center

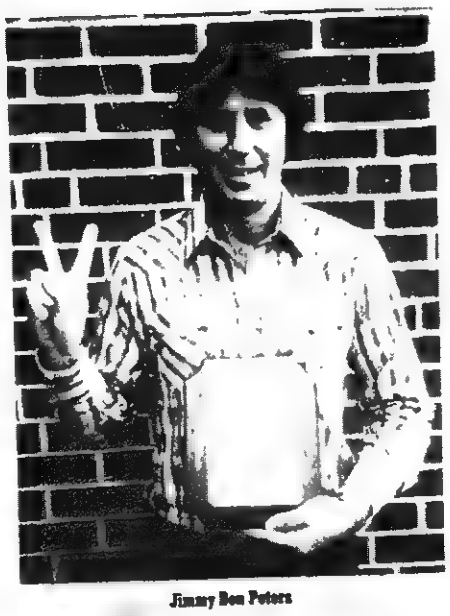
Demonstrations by two local hair styling artists was an all day affair in the cosmetology department at the Lee County Vocational School last Tuesday. Mr. Bill Wilder from Arnold's Beauty Salon and Mr. Bob Scott, owner of the Lee Beauty Shop exhibited varied techniques and uses of the Richard Caruso Molecular Roller system - from setting to permanent waving; new and innovative manipulation of the curling iron and seal blowdryer; explained theory and important tips regarding SO Coloring, and gave several haircuts showing and explaining the differences and results of each style in accordance with the shape of the client's face.

The students who served as models for haircuts, permanents, sets, and coloring were Lyvonne Differenderfer, Polly Ayers, Gwen Carroll, Sue Jones, Zella Tignor, Janie Wilder and Sue Ward. Robert Pennington, a student with strong natural curl, sat for a simple straightening process performed with brush and blowdryer. Also serving as demonstration models were Mrs. Evelyn Perkins, Instructor, and Mrs. Bill Wilder.

In addition to presentations of actual technique skills Mr. Wilder and Mr. Scott offered suggestions for making the patron comfortable and building good public relations. They also stressed the importance of keeping up with the incessant change in the world of beauty culture.

Sitting under a hot hair dryer Wilder stated "is the price women pay to be beautiful. The relaxed atmosphere was conducive to class participation in the "show and do" sessions.

Explaining "what and why he is doing what he is doing" is Bob Scott as he styles Sue Ward's hair. Standing in the background are student Joyce Qualls assisting Mr. Bill Wilder.



Jimmy Don Peters

Cedar Hills Club Champion

Jimmy Don Peters is pictured with the plaque he received for winning the 1980-81 Cedar Hill Country Club Championship. This was the second consecutive year Coach Peters won the tournament, which is the first time this feat has ever been accomplished.

This plaque is in addition to the trophy he had already received at the Country Club's award's banquet. The plaque has been inscribed with each person's name that Peters played and the final score of each match.

Senate Confirms Doumar, Kiser For District Courts

Sen. John W. Warner (R-Va.) said the United States Senate confirmed Robert G. Doumar of Norfolk, to be a federal judge in the United States District Court in the Eastern District of Virginia and Jackson L. Kiser of Martinsville, to be a federal judge in the United States District Court in the Western District of Virginia.

"Robert Doumar and Jackson Kiser are two of the most outstanding individuals President Reagan could have selected for these important judicial posts.

"These two reflect in every way the exacting standards and unquestioned dedication to the administration of criminal justice I believe are vital in the federal courts today," Warner said.

Doumar, 51, is a founding partner in the Norfolk law firm of Doumar, Pincus, Knight and Harlan. He is currently president of the Virginia Conference of Local Bar Associations.

Kiser, 52, is a partner in the Martinsville law firm of Young, Kiser, Haskins, Mann, Gregory and Young. He is a permanent member of the Fourth Circuit Judicial Conference, a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, and a member of the American and Virginia Bar Associations.

Warner said, "The responsibility of the Senate in its role to 'advise and consent' on federal judgeships is important because these judges must make decisions affecting life, liberty, the pursuit of happiness and the right of real and personal property.

"The single most important criterion of a federal judge is a personal commitment to dispense equal justice under the law. I believe both Mr. Doumar and Mr. Kiser have demonstrated unwavering commitment to this principle throughout their careers."

Orr Hostess To Alpha Chi Chapter

The Alpha Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met on November 24, 1981 at the home of Mrs. Monnie Orr.

Following devotions delicious refreshments were served by hostesses Betty Quillen, Susie Baker, Lana Sergent and Monnie Orr.

The fifteen members present enjoyed hearing Dr. Don Rasnic of the Lee County Chiropractic Center introduce the many aspects of a chiropractor.

The next meeting will be on January 25, 1982.

CVC Announces January Intersession Course

In its two week 1982 Intersession, January 4 through 15, Clinch Valley College will offer a unique opportunity to study the natural history and land use of the south central portion of the United States.

Students may select either Biology 495, Physical Science (Geology) 495, or Environmental Science 495, for one, two or three semester hours credit. The course consists of a field trip to Big Bend National Park and Padre Island National Seashore, Texas, plus preparatory and follow up study of natural history and land use phenomena encountered. The objective of the trip is to acquaint students with biota, geology and land use in areas significantly different from Southwest Virginia.

Those who choose to receive Biology credit will study the transition from the humid east to prairie and desert biomes, plus coastal marshes and sand dunes, and large wintering bird concentrations.

Geology students will see a transect from the Appalachian ridges across the Interior Plateaus and lowlands, including the Mississippi River Valley to the Ouachita Mountains of Arkansas, a possible outlier of the Appalachians, and across the Southern Great Plains to the edge of the Rocky Mountains in western Texas.

Environmental Science students will observe a variety of land use problems in ecological settings different from the humid east such as agriculture, forestry, and mineral exploitation in arid and semi arid lands, park and recreation area management in remote (Big Bend) and heavily settled (Padre Island) areas.

All students will turn in a Journal containing an itinerary and extensive notes on topics pertinent to that student's interest and background. Those who elect to earn two credit hours will additionally edit and annotate the Journal with appropriate reference material on topics of particular interest to them. Three credit students, in addition to producing an annotated Journal, will write a more intensive research paper on some aspect of the trip.

All students will participate in an open seminar to be held in the 1982 spring semester. One- and two credit hour participants will select topics of interest to them, and three credit hour students will present results of their more intensive studies.

Enrollment is limited to 10-12 students and is primarily open to upper class science majors, on a permission of instructor basis. Interested students should contact the instructor, Phil Shelton, as soon as possible.

Registrations are being accepted at the Office of Continuing Education, Clinch Valley College, for Natural History and Land Use of the South Central United States, as well as for other courses being offered in the January Intersession. Call 328-2431 extension 260, for further information or to register. Full tuition and fee costs must be paid before the beginning of the Christmas break.

Wood Ashes In Gardens

Ashes from the wood burning stove can be a source of potash for the home garden.

"If you have wood ashes, by all means save them for use on the garden," said Virginia Tech Extension specialist in home horticulture, Diane Relf.

Wood ashes contain about 5.5 percent potash and 1.8 percent phosphoric acid, but no nitrogen. Nitrogen is the most important fertilizer material required by most plants, so wood ashes are of less importance as a fertilizer. They still will be useful, however.

Broadcast the ashes uniformly over the area before working up the soil by rototilling or plowing.

"If you only have a small supply of wood ashes consider using it in a compost pile," said the faculty member in Tech's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. "The ashes will aid in the breakdown of plant materials by cutting down on excess acidity."

Helpful Hints For Respiratory Illnesses

As the number of patients with chronic respiratory illnesses increase, we feel there are a few helpful hints that can be offered to help make their breathing problems a little more bearable. This article, one in a series to be presented for patients with lung disease, is being presented as part of the effort to provide helpful information to people who have Asthma, Bronchitis, Emphysema and/or Coal Worker's pneumoconiosis.

The following article is one excerpt from the educational materials that is being presented to individuals attending one of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia Chronic respiratory illnesses are a significant and growing health problem in Southwest Virginia. The purpose of these articles and the clinics is to help inform individuals with lung diseases about their illness and to help make them feel better

Proper Cough Technique

When using proper cough techniques you control your cough and make it useful. A cough is considered useful when it brings up mucus and helps clear your airways. A useful cough should not tire you or take your breath, and it need not embarass you

When you feel a cough coming, follow these steps:

a. Breathe in deeply, b. Hold your breath for a few seconds; c. Cough twice, first to loosen mucus, then to bring it up; d. Breathe in by sniffing gently; e. Get rid of mucus Use strong tissue or paper towels Remember swallowing mucus can upset your stomach

The best position for effective cough is to sit with your feet flat on the floor

This procedure should be followed everytime you feel like coughing Don't try to keep yourself from coughing. Check with your doctor before using any cough medicine. Your goal is not to stop coughing, but to use your cough effectively to clear your airways whenever you need to

This article has been presented with the help of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia, in conjunction with a Black Lung grant administered in association with the Virginia Department of Health

Dryden DECA Officers

Pictured above are the 1981-82 Dryden DECA officers. These officers were elected by their fellow club members at the first monthly meeting in September to lead the DECA club for this coming school year.

After the election of officers, the club under the direction of newly elected president discussed possible plans and projects for this year.

Two sales projects were approved at this meeting. They were: DECA Annual Candy sales to be held in September and DECA movie — to be shown to the student body in October.

Who's Who Among Students In American Junior Colleges

The 1981 82 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges will carry the names of 23 students from Mountain Empire Community College, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,300 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934

Students named this year from Lee County are Lannie Allen, Dryden, Jimmy Graham, Jonesville, Carmen Lockhart, Jonesville; Allison Orr, Dryden, Marsha Wilson, Jonesville

ASCS Offers Tobacco Reminders

Roy J. Myers, Chairman of the Lee County ASC Committee, says that tobacco processing companies have reported some burley tobacco producers are using synthetic string to tie baled tobacco. "This string adheres to the tobacco when processed and could impair the smoking quality of the finished product," said Myers.

To remedy this from occurring, farmers are requested to tie their baled tobacco only with cotton twine, 32 ply, with a minimum of 150 pounds tensile breaking strength.

Myers also reminds tobacco producers to promptly return their marketing cards to the ASCS Office as soon as their sales are completed.

A Shrinking Minority

In the days of the Model-T Fords and steam-powered threshing machines, farm living was a major part of the American lifestyle. Nearly one out of every three Americans lived on farms in 1920. Today, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, it's only about three out of 100.

Although the rate of decline in the farm population slackened off in the 1970's, people are still leaving the farm faster than they're being replaced. From 1978 to 1980, the number of farm residents fell by 450,000 to about 6 million.

Also, farm residents no longer make up the majority of the agricultural work force of farm operators, family members, and hired employees. Only 47 per cent of the 3.5 million people working in agriculture in 1980 lived on farms. Fifty years ago, 87 per cent lived on farms

Wage and salary farm workers, in particular, are more likely to live in towns and cities than they did in the past. In 1980, about 8 out of 10 agricultural employees lived off the farm.

Of course, farm residents as a group are more likely to work in agriculture than other industries. However, more men are employed on the farm full time, while working farm women often take nonagricultural jobs. When working off the farm, men usually go into manufacturing, while women take service jobs.

The farm population has a lower proportion of blacks than the non farm population. Last year, 4 percent of all farm residents were black, compared with 12 percent of the nonfarm population. Only 1 percent of all blacks lived on farms, down from about half the black population in 1920.

In 1980, nearly half the farm population lived in the north central states. The south, which ranked first until 1965, had 36 percent of the total. The west held 12 percent, while the northeast had 7 percent.

Some experts estimate that the first dogs were tamed over 12,000 years ago.

William T. Hughes killed a 5-point buck on Lovelady Gap on November 18 around 12:00 o'clock. The deer weighed 101 pounds.

College - Community Choir To Perform

The Humanities Division at Clinch Valley College will present the College-Community Choir in its annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 13.

The program, under the direction of D. Michael Donathan, Assistant Professor of Music at Clinch Valley College, will be at 3:00 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Norton. It features the Cantata 142, Uns 1st Ein Kind Geboren, of J.S. Bach (sung in German) and W.A. Mozart's Regina Coeli (sung in Latin). Other selections are by John Jacob Niles, M. Shaw, M. Leontovich, J. Rutter, B. Britten, and T. W. Kirk.

In addition to selections by the entire 50-voice choir, the Chamber Choir will present A Consort of Choral Christmas Carols by P.D.Q. Bach and other selections by Newbury, Pinkham, Berlin and Kerr, Gruber and Simeone.

Featured soloists are soprano Julia Heise, contralto Kathy Eppes, tenors Henry Stout, Jr. and D.E. Narramore, Jr., baritones John Powers and Robert Botts, alto Mary Nell Saunders, and bass Donnie Henry. Accompanists are Kathy Stewart and Elaine Kiser. Meredith Guinness, Chris Henson, Michael Krochalis and Chris Russell are the instrumentalists.

The College-Community Choir invites you to celebrate the Christmas season through music on Sunday, December 13.

Local Teacher In Concert

The Big Stone Gap Chorus Group played to near capacity crowds last Friday and Saturday nights in the Powell Valley High School auditorium.

Among the many talented singers and musicians was one face familiar to seventh grade students at Pennington Gap Elementary School. A favorite among the teachers, Mr. Luther T. "Luke" Stewart provided one of the base voices for the third annual Christmas gala concert.

Mr. Stewart's students admire him for his rapport with them and his accomplishments as a singer and pianist. Many of them have seen him in a leading role in the play "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" presented each summer in Big Stone Gap.

Children Write For The News

Sneak preview of the letters to be published in the Christmas edition of the NEWS. The letters to Santa, are very interesting, you may laugh, you may cry, but our children have expressed their thoughts.

Next week read them all.

Dear Santa,

I am going to be sleeping all night. My stocking will be in the basement and my stocking name is Andy. We will have a large Christmas Tree. And it will be filled with lots of bulbs and lights and candy canes. And there will be cookies and milk for you. And I have been extra good this year. And my three brother Stephen, Sam, Tim will be expecting you.

My Christmas List:

One Rubiks Cube, One Truck, One Bike, One Tape re-corder.

From Andy M.

Schools Close For Holidays Tuesday, December 22

One of the questions facing the Lee County School Board at last week's meeting was how to address the lack of action of the Board of Supervisors in regard to the 701 grant a grant agreement through the Farmers Home Administration for the purchase and development of a school site in the Woodway Community

Lee County School Superintendent, Robert G McCoy expressed disappointment that the grant had not been accepted He said that the school board still feels their proposal was in the best interest of the school children and the taxpayers The school board has no immediate plans on this issue but is left with the lingering question "Where do we go from here"

Reports of the superintendent included

Enrollment and attendance for November was down a bit from the previous month

Semester tests and schools close for Christmas Holidays on December 22nd

Most semester exams will be given on December 21st and 22nd

Pest control was left to the principals on an individual basis No action was taken on bids for additional services

The decision was made to accept bids on obtaining a maintenance truck

Driver education cars are to be kept at the schools at night

In school board action, the attempt to fill the position for Head Start Bookkeeper Secretary was tabled until January

Tony Lawson's resignation as Program Coordinator for Head Start was

Lenowisco Suggests Regional Water System

In last Wednesday's meeting with engineers and representatives from Pennington Gap, Woodway and Jonesville water systems, Lenowisco Director, Bruce Robinette suggested that a regional water system be considered for those Lee County communities. Backflowing and connecting those systems may be a viable alternative.

Since the Flatwoods community has no municipal water system and many private wells are high in iron and sulfur content, it needs a sponsor in Woodway or Jonesville.

Woodway gets water from Jonesville and the water supply is not expected to meet future demands so Woodway is con

The Meaning Of Christmas By Young Writers

What Christmas means to a large number of our young friends is expressed in this story about Christmas. Next edition of the NEWS will carry numerous stories written on this same theme.

Christmas is not the way it used to be-or should I say it should be. What I mean is Christmas is supposed to be Jesus' birthday, but now it seems that it's a time for children to get toys from this so called Santa Claus. But it's not the children's fault, because that's all some of them have been taught. I believed in Santa Claus when I was a little girl and I still get certain things for Christmas But when we're opening our gifts, do we ever stop to think that it was God, Jesus' Father who put us on this earth? This may sound like a Sunday School lesson, but it's not. All I'm asking is, that this Christmas when you are opening your gifts just take time out and thank God, that you're on this earth. I'm sure you've heard of the poem,"If God Should Go On Strike." Well, we're just lucky that he hasn't, because if he did, we would be in a sad situation

A three day stake out netted an arrest for the Lee County Sheriff's Department

Clyde Boggs, age 52, of Route 2, Ewing, was arrested Monday morning at his mother's home in Ewing

Boggs had been sought by Kentucky authorities for an extensive period of time, according to Sheriff R.V. Chadwell The fugitive from Kentucky had been charged with grand theft of some $3,000 in monies from an employer and had served time in prison in Kentucky and Virginia on various charges

When Kentucky authorities indicated they needed assistance in making an arrest, Chadwell's office located Boggs' whereabouts in a short time

After his arrest by the Lee County sheriff, who was assisted by Investigator M O. Radcliff and Deputy K. Martin, Boggs was initially confined to the Lee County Jail where he waived extradition and was released to Kentucky authorities

New Trial

$20,000 to have David M. Hill of Swainsboro, Georgia murdered. Hill's frozen, bullet-riddled body was found near Keokee in Lee County on December 23, 1977.

Affidavits filed in Lee County Circuit Court last week contained statements by Henry Cowden of Jonesville that he received three phone calls during the two weeks of the trial. An unidentified man with a coarse voice promised financial gain to Cowden if he would vote to find Herring guilty.

Cowden states that although he has not received any money, the bribery attempts did influence his vote. Cowden's lawyer, George Cridlin, said the foreman contacted him first by phone and then made an appointment to give his statements for the affidavits.

Cowden reportedly admitted that the bribe efforts had "bothered him -- he's had trouble sleeping and in even trying to do a decent day's work."

Although Commonwealth Attorney Cynthia Kinser said she "would rather not comment on this case," Cridlin told Powell Valley News that Cowden's coming forward with his statemepts is an extraordinary happening and could be significant to his client's (Herring's) case.

Heart Association Needs Volunteers

Did you know that heart disease is the nation's number one killer?

It affects more people than all other diseases combined including cancer!

Currently one person out of two will die from one type of cardiovascular dis-

The odds are getting better -- your American Heart Association is seeing to that and with your help and support we can win.

We not only need your dollars but we need "YOU".

If you have benefited or you know of someone who has benefited from heart surgery, a pace maker, valve replacement, or transplant you can see the evidence of this fine organization.

Lives are being saved every day but they urgently need volunteers here in Lee County.

They are not asking for a big commitment -- just what you feel comfortable doing -- an hour or two would really make the difference -- the difference between life and death.

The American Heart Association needs you ... to volunteer write the American Heart Association, P.O. Box 459, Pennington Gap, Va. 24277.

Rye Cove Eagles Dump Jonesville 74-54

Rye Cove won their second straight game last Friday night when they dumped the Jonesville Bulldogs 74-54, on the Bulldog home floor.

The Eagles and Bulldogs both started ripping the nets in the opening quarter as Rye Cove outscored Jonesville 24 20. The Eagles doubled the first quarter point spread at the half, with a 15-11 second period advantage. Rye Cove led by the play of a trio of players completely outplayed the Bulldogs in the final two quarters, winning the second half by a 35-23 margin.

Randall Spears was burning the Bulldogs from everywhere, as he finished with 30 points. Randy Hunter and Jimmy Gilreath were the other two thirds of the trio, scoring 16 and 11 points respectively.

Rye Cove, after traveling to Dryden Friday night, will host the Coeburn Blue Knights on December 29th.

Jonesville is 3-2 overall and 1-1 in the district. The Bulldogs who suffered their worst loss of the year, were led by Gary Oaks' 21 points. Joey Chadwell canned 12, while Winston Terry added 11. The Bulldogs will be at Keokee this Friday, then travel to Powell Valley Tennessee next Tuesday.

Score By Quarters:
Rye Cove 24 15 17 18-74
Jonesville 20 11 14 9-54

Individual Scoring:

Rye Cove [74] Spears 30, Hunter 16, Gilreath 11, Rollins 8, Bowen 5, Lane 4.

Jonesville [54] Oaks 21, Chadwell 12, Terry 11, Rosenbaum 4, Spence 3, Presley 2, Crumley 1.

Thomas Walker Comes From Behind, Tops Pennington 60-53

The Thomas Walker Pioneers came to Pennington last Friday evening, sporting a 4-0 won loss record. And even though the Pioneers kept their record unblemished with a 60-53 win, they were pushed by the Bobcats, as they had to come from behind.

After taking only a 14-12 lead at the end of the first quarter, Ronald Skeens troops left the floor at halftime, trailing 30-26, by virtue of a 18-12 second quarter Bobcat outburst. Tim Byington who played a super game was the key to putting Pennington in the lead at the half.

The Pioneers regained the lead 42-41 with a 16-11 third quarter, and won the game with a 18-12 final quarter advantage, with Johnny Edds and Jim Miracle, being the big key in the Pioneers comeback.

Pennington 1-2 on the year was led by Tim Byington's 23 points and ten rebounds. Gary Collier scored 12 points, while Billy Byington was held to seven points. Billy pulled down 13 rebounds to lead the Bobcats on defense.

Thomas Walker now 5-0 on the year got 25 points from Johnny Edds and 16 from Miracle. Riley Littrell bucketed eight points in the win.

Thomas Walker's next game will be December 30th, when they travel to Powell Valley Tennessee. The game was originally scheduled for last Monday.

The Bobcat's next game will be Friday night at Powell Valley High School, in the invitational tournament. Pennington will play the winner of the Gate City against Norton game, which will take place tomorrow night. If you're a Bobcat fan, got to Powell Valley Friday and support your team.

Score By Quarters:
T. Walker 14 12 16 18-60
Pennington 12 18 11 12-53

Individual Scoring:

T. Walker [60] Edds 25, J. Miracle 16, R. Littrell 8, Crockett 6, Bryant 3, Yeary 2.

Pennington [53] T. Byington 23, Collier 12, B. Byington 7, Belcher 7, Henderson 4.

Thomas Walker Runs By Dryden 57 - 44

Thomas Walker's Pioneers continued to roll last week, when they ran their way past the Dryden Crusaders at Dryden.

First year coach Pat Jarvis saw his Crusaders behind the leadership of Randy Anders and clutch shooting of Ronnie Rhoten grab a 14-10 lead after eight minutes. But when the second quarter started Thomas Walker head coach Ronald Skeens turned his Pioneers loose in a running game and they scored at will in rolling up a 24-6 second quarter advantage. After a 10 all third period, Dryden took the final stanza, but only by a 14-13 margin.

Thomas Walker who had a losing season last year, one of a few since way back got 16 points from Johnny Edds, Jim Miracle got 15 and Mike Yeary added 10. Randy Crockett bucketed eight tallies. The Pioneers connected on 9 of 11 free throws for 82%. Thomas Walker 4-0 overall and 1-0 in the district has won all four games by a margin of at least twelve points.

Dryden by losing fell to a 2-2 won loss record. The Crusaders had two in double figures, with Randy Anders hitting 15 and Ronnie Rhoten 12. Charlie Wampler came off the bench to score nine points. One of Dryden's top scorers was held to six points. Dryden only attempted four free throws, making two for 50%.

Dryden, like all other district teams will probably improve as the season goes on and could be a team to be reckoned with before the season ends.

Score By Quarters:
T. Walker 10 24 10 13-57
Dryden 14 6 10 14-44

Individual Scoring:

T. Walker [57] Edds 16, J. Miracle 15, Yeary 10, Crockett 8, Bryant 6, Grabeel 2.

Pennington Bocats Roar Past Keokee 82 - 61

The Pennington Bobcats got their first win of the year last week, and in the process, sent the Keokee Mountaineers reeling to their third straight loss without a win, defeating Roger Morris' club 82-61.

After a 15 all first quarter, Pennington forged into a two point halftime lead, outscoring Keokee 18-16 in the second period. When the Bobcats came from the dressing room, they came out shooting, and hitting nothing but net as they took the second half by a commanding 49-30 score. Jerry Myers words of instruction in the dressing room must have fired the Bobcats up, as the game had been fairly even played up until the second half explosion.

Keokee 0-3 on the year was led by the game high 24 points of Jimmy Bailey. Dewayne Phillips also had a good offensive night for Keokee as he bucketed 18 tallies. Gary Parsons had five points for the Mountaineers who shot almost 58% from the free throw circle, making 15 of 26 shots.

Pennington 1-1 on the season got a well balanced scoring attack led by Kent Henderson's 17 points. Gary Collier and Tim Byington found the range for 15 points each, while Tim's brother Billy scored 14 markers. Jeff Morgan and Steve Young had eight and six points respectively. The Bobcats had a good night at the charity stripe, hitting 16 of 20 shots.

Score By Quarters:
Keokee 15 16 12 18-61
Pennington 15 18 22 27-82

Individual Scoring:

Keokee [61] Bailey 24, D. Phillips 18, Parsons 5, McElyea 4, Kelley 4, Snodgrass 4, Woodard 2.

Evarts Ky. Rolls By Dryden

The Dryden Crusaders playing their second game in two nights at home, couldn't make it two wins in consecutive nights as they fell to Evarts, Kentucky last Saturday night 74-58, the worst that Dryden has been whipped yet.

Trailing 34-29 at halftime, the Crusaders were trying to figure out a way to stop the combination of Kerry Vanover and Harvey Ford scoring, to get back in the game but Evarts went up by a margin of twelve points 55-43 to start the final eight minutes of play. Again Evarts outpointed Dryden 19-13 to win easily over the Crusaders.

Leading Evarts in scoring was Vanover with 26 points. Harvey Ford bucketed 22. Dryden by losing, stands 3-3 overall. The Crusaders were led by Randy Anders with 16 points, while Greg Peters added 15. Ronnie Rhoten also tallied 11 points.

The Crusaders will be looking for revenge against Evarts when they visit Kentucky to invade Evarts on February 15th. Dryden will try to knock Rye Cove from the unbeaten ranks of Cumberland district play Friday. After the game Friday, the Crusaders won't see action again until January 5th when they visit the Pennington Bobcats.

Jonesville Tops Twin Springs In Overtime 58 - 52

Twin Springs came to Jonesville on Tuesday of last week, riding a twenty game regular season win streak, but after tangling with Kyle Chadwell's Bulldogs the Titans lost a close game, dropping a 58-52 decision to Jonesville.

Both teams played on even teams in the first stanza, with both scoring ten points. Jonesville took a 24-21 lead to the dressing room at halftime, but Jerry Field's Titans came back into the second half, winning the third quarter by a single point, and the last by two to set up the extra period.

The overtime stanza belonged to the Bulldogs however, as they ripped the twine for 13 markers while Twin Springs could only manage seven points.

Jonesville is now 3-1 overall and 1-0 in the Cumberland district. The Bulldogs were led by Joey Chadwell's 14 points. Gary Oaks canned 13, while Winston Terry had another big game, scoring 12 points, and leading the defense with 10 rebounds. Overall' Jonesville pulled down 39 rebounds to 28 for the losing Titans.

Twin Springs record slips to 2-1 overall and 0-1 in district play. The Titans got 20 points from Mike Penley to lead all scorers. Gary Wolfe and Craig Short each had 10 points. David White, one of the Titans leading scorers was held to four points. Twin Springs shot 50% at the foul line, hitting 8 of 16 shots. Jonesville hit 20 of 25 free throws for 80%.

Rye Cove Turns Back Flatwoods 64 - 51

Rye Cove which is expected to be one of the teams to challenge Thomas Walker for the crown this year, got their first win against the Flatwoods Eagles last week 64-51, sending Max Chance's lads to their fourth straight loss without a win.

Rye Cove opened up a 15 point lead at the halfway point and never looked back, as the winners made it a 19 point advantage with a 14-10 third quarter. Flatwoods made a gallant effort to get back into the game with a 20-13 last quarter effort, but ran out of steam before making up the point difference.

Flatwoods 0-4 overall was led by the brother combo of Campbell and Kevin Cope with 17 and 10 respectively. Lawrence eight points for the losing Eagles.

Rye Cove with the win evened their record at 1-1. They were led by Randall Spears and Jimmy Gilreath, both with 12 apiece. Rye Cove's only loss of the year was to Gate City. The winning Eagles were never in any serious trouble. Beware of Rye Cove, when they visit some of the other teams because they are going to be tough.

Score By Quarters:
Flatwoods 8 14 10 19-51
Rye Cove 12 25 14 13-64

Individual Scoring:

Dryden Crusaders Rip Flatwoods 72-44

The Dryden Crusaders ripped the winless Flatwoods Eagles last Friday by the score of 72-44.

Dryden opened with 16 first quarter points, while some missed Eagle shots and some Crusader defense held Flatwoods to only three first quarter points. Both teams traded baskets for nearly the entire second period before Dryden finally took the quarter 18-15. The Crusaders iced the game by taking the final half by a 38-26 margin.

The win upped Dryden's record to 3-2 overall, 1-1 in the Cumberland district. The Crusaders got a combined 34 point effort by Randy Anders and Greg Peters. Both canned 17 points each. Both players are currently in the top ten scorers in the district.

Flatwoods who is off to a slow start falls to 0-5 overall. Max Chance must be wondering what the Eagles will be like when they finally win their first game. Bryan Denson led the Eagles with 14 tallies while Lawrence Greer played one of his best games this year, scoring 12 points. Campbell Cope added five points in the loss

Dryden will host Rye Cove this Friday, while Flatwoods next game will be next Tuesday at home against the Ervinton Rebels.

Twin Springs Titans Shell Keokee 71-45

The Twin Springs Titans played at Keokee last Friday night, and the Titans scored at will in rolling up a 71-45 shelling of the Mountaineers.

Jerry Field's forces were never in trouble as he watched his defending district champs, rack up a 23-10 first quarter lead and then kept rolling in the second period as the Titans outscored the Mountaineers 19-7 to build the lead to 42-17 at the half. The second half of the game saw Keokee losing, but only 27-28 to make the final 71-45.

Keokee is now 0-4 overall and 0-2 in the district. The Mountaineers got 11 points from Tim McElyea, while Kelly was next with 10. Dewayne Phillips had eight points, while Jimmy Bailey was limited to only four points. Keokee connected on 9 of 16 free throws, good for 56.4%. Twin Springs by winning ups their record to 3-1 overall. The Titans stand 1-1 inside the district. The Titans placed three in double figures with Mike Penley canning 20 points to lead the way. Craig Short and David White hit 12 and 10 respectively. Nine other different players scored in the game, as Twin Springs was able to play the entire team against Keokee. Twin Springs hit 9 of 19 free throws for 47.7%.

The Titans will be in action tomorrow night at Powell Valley High School, as they face Whitewood in the invitational tournament.

Keokee will be at Jonesville this Friday night, trying to get their first win of the year. The Mountaineers will be facing a tough Bulldog club, led by the play making Gary Oaks.

Market Trends

At the Virginia auctions veal prices were $1.50 to $3.25 higher as estimated receipts were up 31 percent from the previous week. Choice & Prime veal brought $60-90; Good $52-69, and standard $45-61. The wide range in prices is due to the wide range in weights and locations of markets throughout the State.

Lamb prices were uneven, 25 cents lower to 50 cents higher as estimated receipts were down 25 percent from the previous week. Sales with official State grading sold the Choice & Prime, 95-125 lbs., $49-49.50, and the Choice lambs, 85-125 lbs., $43.50-45. Yard graded lambs, 90-125 lbs. $48.50-49, and the 85-125 lbs. $44

Hog prices were $1.25 to $3.50 lower as estimated receipts were up 15 percent from the previous week. Barrows and Gilts 1-3, 200-240 lbs., at $41.75-43.65; 240-270 lbs. $38.90-42.60; 180-200 lbs $37.50-40. Sows, US 1-3's, 300-500 lbs. were $30.75-43.

Slaughter cattle prices 25 cents to $2.50 lower as estimated receipts were up 18 percent from the previous week. Good steers, 2-4, 1000-1200 lbs., at $53-56.70, and the Good heifers, 2-4, 850-1100 lbs., $48.50-55. Utility & Commercial cows 2-4 brought $29-40.25. Bulls, 1-2's, 1000-1500 lbs. at $40-49.50.

Feeder cattle prices were uneven, steers were steady to $1.25 lower, heifers 75 cents to $2.00 lower except 500-700 lbs. were steady to 50 cents higher as estimated receipts were up 44 percent from the previous week. The Medium Frame No. 1 steers, 500-700 lbs., at $50-62. The Medium Frame No. 1 heifers, 300-500 lbs., were $41.75-52, and the 500-700 lb. heifers at $41-52.75

Special Sale A special computer slaughter lamb sale was held at Dublin, Va. on December 11, 1981 in which 232 head sold on USDA grade standards and by cwt. Choice & Prime, 95-125 lbs., $48.00; Choice, 85-125 lbs., $45.00. Take-up points are: Dublin, Seven Mile Ford, and Tazewell, Va.

Virginia Mine Operators Using Surface-Mining Exemption

Virginia appears to be the only one of 25 coal-producing states where mine operators are taking advantage of a special exemption from surface-mining regulations, according to a recent study by Virginia Citizens for Better Reclamation.

The exemption, provided in the 1977 federal surface-mining act, allows mines covering two acres of land or less to operate free of any regulations called for in the act.

The report says there are 820 such exemptions on record in Virginia. The only other state in which operators have used the two-acre exemption is Illinois, where officials reported one case.

In the remaining 23 states surveyed, the two-acre exemption has not been used, it has been covered by special state programs or it has been eliminated altogether.

Among the seven Appalachian coal states surveyed, Virginia is the only one allowing the exemption. Operators of mines two acres in size or smaller must comply with the same regulations as operators of larger mines in Alabama, Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

In Tennessee, the state exempts any mines producing 25 tons of coal or less per year.

Three states -- Arkansas, Kentucky and Missouri -- offer special programs for mines of two acres or less. Under the programs, operators must post bonds and acquire permits, but are subject to less strict standards than operators of larger mines.

Sixty-eight mines operate under the special program in Kentucky.

In western coal states, where no exemptions were reported, officials said terrain and mining techniques make such two-acre mines unreasonable investments for coal operators.

Except for Illinois, all seven of the midwestern states surveyed have done away with the two-acre exemption altogether.

Virginia and Maryland have proposed compromise programs for small mining operations. These programs are similar to those in Kentucky, Missouri and Arkansas.

Information included in the report was gathered through telephone conversations with officials in each of the 25 states. Exemptions for coal exploration, coal extraction for personal use and coal extraction incidental to construction were not included.

Virginia Citizens for Better Reclamation, one of several groups lobbying for better control of the excemption in Virginia, is based in Wise.

Mishaps Don't Take Vacations

Accidents never take a holiday.

To help make your upcoming holiday season safe, follow these precautions issued by Glen H. Hetzel, Extension safety specialist at Virginia Tech.

--Clear walks and steps of ice, snow and other potential hazards.

--Take frequent rest breaks when shoveling snow, and never shovel snow immediately after a big meal.

Select a fresh Christmas tree or a fire resistant artifical one.

Check tree lights for broken sockets and frayed wires, and replace them if damaged

- Turn on outdoor lights at night when you expect company.

- Be alert for drivers who have had too much "holiday cheer."

Dress properly for the weather. Note the wind chill factor as well as the temperature.

Be sure the fire in your fireplace is properly screened to prevent flying sparks. Keep the dampers open. Never leave children alone while roasting marshmallows or cooking popcorn in the fireplace.

Celebrated 90th Birthday In Hospital

Virginia Pace of Rose Hill celebrated her 90th birthday in Lee County Community Hospital on November 30. Along with the cards and gifts was a birthday cake and a two year old great-great-grandson from North Carolina, being a 5th generation present.

Some of Mrs. Pace's children Lora Hall, Paul Pace, Beatrice Williams, Lila Mondy and Nanlyn Jones, were present with other friends and relatives.

Following a two weeks stay in the hospital Mrs. Pace has returned home, remembering the kindness of the nurses and doctors, for making her birthday happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Barker

Open House To Honor Barkers

On Saturday, December 26, B. Willard Barker and Laura B. Brown will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The three children, Floyd Lee, Lester Wayne and Wilma Jean and four grandchildren are honoring their parents and grandparents with open house. The couple exchanged vows in the home town of the bride, Willailla, Ky., located near Mt. Vernon on Christmas day 1931, with Rev. David Gentry performing the ceremony.

The open house will be held at the Barker residence, located on the old Woodway Road as you travel toward Dot from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., with all relatives, friends and neighbors invited to come, visit and help make this fiftieth anniversary another great day to remember.

Federal Crop Insurance Premiums Due

The Lee County ASCS Office reminds policyholders of Federal Crop Insurance on burley tobacco that their 1981 premium is due once their tobacco is marketed. Checks should be made payable to the "Federal Crop Insurance Corporation" and mailed or delivered to the ASCS Office in Jonesville. Payments may also be mailed to the following address: Federal Crop Insurance Corporation: United States Department of Agriculture; Box 462, Kansas City, Missouri 64141

Policyholders who have the insurance through the ASCS Office are encouraged to contact the office to determine if their tobacco brought the dollar guarantee provided them under their policy. Tobacco producers may file a claim by bringing their sales bills and marketing card to the ASCS Office. Claims should be filed immediately after sales are completed.

The insurance policy provides protection against all natural causes of loss. Only the theft of the crop and the failure to follow good farming practices are not insurable.

Helpful Hints For Respiratory Illnesses

As the number of patients with chronic respiratory illness increase, we feel there are a few helpful hints that can be offered to help make their breathing problems a little more bearable. This article, one in a series to be presented for patients with lung disease, is being presented as part of the effort to provide helpful information to people who have Asthma, Bronchitis, Emphysema and/or Coal Worker's pneumoconiosis.

The following article is one excerpt from the educational materials that is being presented to individuals attending one of the Better Breathing Clinics of Southwest Virginia. Chronic respiratory illnesses are a significant and growing health problem in Southwest Virginia. The purpose of these articles and the clinics is to help inform individuals with lung diseases about their illness and to help make them feel better.

Medicines:

There are no wonder drugs to cure lung disease. There are, however, several kinds of medicine that may help you control it and live with it.

Along with your doctor you can work together to find the best medicine and the right amounts for you. That is something that you may take a little time to do, considering that no two persons with lung disease are alike. You may try several products before you find the one that helps you most. You'll get the best help from medicines if you and your doctor work together as a team.

Even though your doctor decides which medicine to use and gives you the directions, the rest is up to you. The doctor needs to know how your medicines affect you. Report good effects as well as bad, unwanted affects. Take your medications on time and the right amounts. If you want to stop taking the medicines or change your schedules discuss this with your doctor first.

Tell your doctor about all medicines you use, including prescriptions obtained from other doctors, and over-the-counter drug products, even if you don't use them every day. Remember cough syrups, aspirins, nebulizers, laxatives, antacids, vitamins and food supplements.

Keep medicines in correct containers, separate from other medicines you have at home. If you see a new doctor, or go to the emergency room take all medicines you take at home with you. This can save time and avoid mistakes.

For The Protection Of Our Readers And Advertisers

Close scrutiny is exercised over ALL ADVERTISING (Classified or Display) accepted for publication in this newspaper.

We never knowingly publish advertisements that are untruthful or fraudulent – and detrimental to the best interest of our readers. All advertisements are accepted for publication on the premise that they are factual, that products advertised are properly described at the advertised price and will be willingly sold to the customer at the price and conditions in the advertisement.

If any reader ever encounters anything other than faithful compliance with these conditions we would appreciate your calling or writing the Powell Valley News: Phone 546-1210.

Classified ads placed by persons who do not have a regular account with the Powell Valley News must be paid for in advance. This policy is effective January 1, 1976, due to the fact that the expense of collecting such ads is prohibitive.

Notice To Classified Advertisers

All advertising for the Classified section should be in this office, with payment, not later than Monday noon for publication.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries at a meeting held in Richmond, Virginia, on October 16, 1981, adopted the following amended regulations pursuant to Sections 29-125, 29-126 and 29-127 of the Code of Virginia, to become effective January 1, 1982

CHAPTER 23. Fishing Generally.

R23-3. Except as provided in this regulation and in R24-5.1, R24-10.1, R24-10.2, and R24-10.3, there shall be no size limit on any species of fish. There shall, however, be a twenty-six inch minimum size limit on muskellunge, a twenty inch minimum size limit on northern pike and a twenty inch minimum size limit on land locked striped bass (rockfish). Also, there shall be a twelve inch minimum size limit on largemouth, smallmouth and spotted bass in the North Fork of Pound Reservoir and in the Roanoke (Staunton) and Dan Rivers and their tributaries downstream from Niagara Dam on the Roanoke River and the Brantly Steam Plant Dam on the Dan River and the North Fork Shenandoah River downstream from Route 42 bridge at Timberville and the Shenandoah River from the mouth of the North Fork downstream to the West Virginia boundary line and the New River from Claytor Dam to the West Virginia boundary line, and in the North Anna, Chickahominy, Claytor, Philpott and Flannagan reservoirs and Beaverdam Reservoir in Loudoun County, and in Lake Moomaw (Gathright Project) and in the waters of Fort A.P. Hill and in the waters of Quantico Marine Reservation. It shall be unlawful to have any largemouth, smallmouth or spotted bass less than twelve inches in length in one's possession while on any of the waters mentioned in the preceding sentence. It shall be unlawful to have any largemouth, smallmouth or spotted bass from twelve to fifteen inches in length, both inclusive, in one's possession on Chesdin Reservoir or the Appomattox River from the Brasfield (Chesdin) Dam to Bevel's Bridge on Chesterfield County Route 602. It shall be unlawful to have any walleye or yellow pike perch less than fifteen inches in length in one's possession on Gaston Reservoir. It shall be unlawful to have any smallmouth, largemouth or spotted bass from eleven to thirteen inches in length, both inclusive, in one's possession on the South Fork Shenandoah River from the Luray Power Dam near Luray downstream to its confluence with the North Fork Shenandoah River at Riverton

CHAPTER 24. Trout Fishing.

R24-8. It shall be unlawful to fish in waters designated as trout waters or in the waters covered by R24-10.1, R24-10.2 and R24-10.3 after the daily creel limit of trout is obtained

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH

Chiropractic and Arthritis

Arthritis is one of the major health problems in our society today. Perhaps because it is so widespread, often aches and pains that don't seem to fit other categories are labelled arthritis. Since newspapers and magazines and the broadcast media have convinced the sufferers that arthritis is incurable, the effect is much like receiving a life sentence.

Then what often happens is that the so-called arthritic goes to a chiropractor, perhaps to have a back problem alleviated. And suddenly the arthritis is much improved. How could this happen? If it happens, the condition may not have been arthritis at all, but something else that was diagnosed as arthritis. The arthritis like symptoms were created by an out-of-place spinal segment (vertebra) which in turn has irritated a nerve. Restoring the vertebra to its proper position has eliminated the nerve irritation — and with it the "arthritis."

There are numerous instances where cases of deafness, migraine headaches and other health conditions have improved drastically following spinal adjustment. This is really a natural sequence of events. The nerves from the spinal cord extend out from between the vertebrae of the spine to send messages to and receive messages from organs of the body. It logically follows that a vertebrae out of place (and this can occur very easily from a bump or a fall or a strain) can interfere with the nerve and the job it is supposed to do.

So it's easy to understand how a condition that has wrongly been diagnosed as arthritis can benefit from chiropractic care. Because of his long and intensive training, a chiropractor is specially qualified to deal with these problems.

Heart Attack Victims Sought For Cholesterol Study

One-time heart attack victims ages 29 through 64 are currently being sought to participate in a study which lowers cholesterol to unprecedented levels. With heart disease claiming 800,000 lives annually, the National Institutes of Health is funding four research centers across the country to explore the role of lowered cholesterol in the treatment of heart attack victims. The aim of researchers is to find conclusive evidence that maximal reduction of this fatty substance will significantly reduce the risk of heart disease.

The East Coast Center, which opened a short time ago, is located in Philadelphia. The center provides transportation and lodging for all prospective participants and an interested family member to come in for a screening visit. Persons 29 through 64 who have suffered one heart attack within the last five years are urged to contact the Hyperlipidemia Study for more information. Call, toll-free 1-800-362-5244 (Pennsylvania only) and out of state 1-800-345 1057.

Orange - Glazed Pork Chops

4 Pork Chops
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon vinegar
½ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons orange marmalade

Season chops with salt and pepper and brown. Drain fat. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over chops. Cover and simmer about 20 minutes.

Old Fashioned Florida Orange Cake

¾ cup butter
1½ cup sugar
3 cups flour
1 cup buttermilk
1½ tsp. soda
1½ Cups Dates
Grated rind (through orange part only) of 1 Orange
1 cup nuts
3 Eggs
1 cup sugar
1½ cups orange juice
Grated rind of 1 Orange

Cream butter and sugar in electric mixer. Add eggs one at the time, beating after each addition. Mix soda with the buttermilk and add to the mixture with 2 cups of the flour. Chop nuts and dates, add grated rind of 1 orange and mix with the remaining cup of flour. Add to the cake mixture. Pour into 2 well greased 9 x 10" pans (or one 12 x 14") and bake in 350° oven about 30 minutes.

Dissolve 1 cup sugar in 1½ cups orange juice. Add grated rind of 1 orange. Spoon this mixture over cake while hot. Allow cake to stand until all juice has been absorbed.

Cut in squares and garnish with whipped cream and cherries or orange slices. Serves 20 to 24.

Ron Sutton Selected As New Commissioner Of State Parks

Ronald D. Sutton

The selection of Ronald D. Sutton as new Commissioner of State Parks, effective January 1, 1982, was announced today by Fred W. Walker, Director of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development. Sutton will succeed current commissioner Ben H. Bolen, who is retiring December 31.

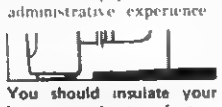
Beginning his career with the Commonwealth as facilities engineer with the Division of State Parks in 1966, Sutton rose to become chief of design and construction in 1969 before being selected to serve as assistant commissioner, in 1972.

"Throughout his 15 years with parks," Director Walker said, "Ron has pursued his responsibilities with tremendous enthusiasm, developing a keen understanding of park management. We feel his leadership qualities and administrative experience will be the key ingredients necessary for our state parks to meet successfully the challenges of Virginia's future outdoor recreational needs, while maintaining Virginia's traditional role as a national leader in high quality, cost effective state park operations."

Born in Henrico County, (Virginia) in 1936, Sutton grew up in that area, graduating from Varina High School. In 1960 he received a bachelor of science degree in Agricultural Engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. Prior to joining the division, Sutton was employed by the Virginia Electric and Power Company. He and his wife, the former Virginia Anne Jones of Fredericksburg, (Virginia) have two daughters, Leslie and Lynne.

Sutton's community activities include his role as deacon and former Sunday School teacher at the Chamberlayne Baptist Church of Richmond, and former Lay Advisory Representative to the Henrico County School Board.

As a licensed private pilot, Sutton enjoys flying whenever his schedule permits. He is a member and past president of Chapter 231 of the experimental Aircraft Association. In addition to reading and traveling, Sutton is an avid outdoorsman, enjoying fishing, camping and hiking.



You should insulate your hot water heater if it is located in a room that isn't used for living.

Cold weather brings increased hazards for homeowners, according to the Insurance Information Institute. Home heating systems are the leading cause of residential fires, so have your furnace and fireplace inspected and cleaned. If you're comtemplating a wood or coal stove, be sure the one you choose is safely designed and installed.

Also check your homeowners insurance coverages to make sure they've kept pace with inflation. If they haven't, a loss could mean financial shock. Inflation has hit hard at the cost of home repair and construction. In the past decade, home maintenance and repair costs have jumped 130 percent.

Home construction costs have soared 156 percent.

Homeowners insurance is inexpensive and comprehensive. Adding to the amounts of your coverages costs little. You want to be protected against a total loss of your home, but you need to have certain minimum amounts of coverage to assure you'll get paid for a partial loss.

Your agent or company representative can help you determine the amount of insurance you need on your home. You must be insured to 80 percent of the replacement value of your house to be fully covered for partial damage. Replacement value is the rebuilding cost, not the selling price.

The Insurance Information Institute has two new brochures - "Your Home Insurance and Inflation" and "Wood Stove Safety" - to help consumers prepare for cold weather hazards. Single copies are available free by sending a stamped, self addressed envelope to: Insurance Information Institute, Suite 370, 1025 Vermont Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20005.

Tobacco Information From ASCS

Charles M. Ingram, ASCS Director, offers the following information to tobacco producers

Leasing Producers may lease 1981 tobacco quota through February 15, 1982. Leasing of 1982 quotas cannot begin until quota notices for 1982 are mailed in late February or early March

Tobacco Marketing Cards All cards need to be returned to the County Office as soon as sales are completed. Each producer is also required to complete a postcard certification as to how much carryover tobacco is stored on his farm. The penalty for failure to return a marketing card and/or a carryover certification will be the reduction of the 1982 basic quota to zero.

New Grower's Allotment Landowners whose land does not contain a burley tobacco quota have until February 15 to make application. The following requirements must be met:

1. Applicants must not have another farm in the United States with a tobacco quota of any kind,

2. Experience must have been obtained during two of the past five crop years in producing burley tobacco as a sharecropper, tenant or operator;

3. Applicants must own the farm;

4. Land must be suitable for burley tobacco production; and

5. Applicant must expect to obtain more than 60 percent of his current year income from farming.

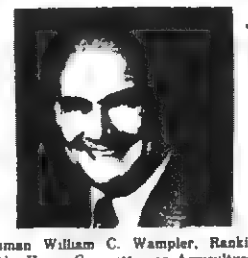
Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington



Congressman William C. Wampler, Ranking Minority Member of the House Committee on Agriculture, announced today that a House-Senate Conference Committee has completed approval of an Omnibus Farm Bill (s.884) including an extension of stabilization programs for major farm commodities during the 1982 through 1985 crop seasons. The Conference Committee bill, representing a compromise between separate bills passed earlier by the House and Senate, will now be sent to the House and Senate floors for final votes.

"This bill provides less than I had hoped for in farm programs," said Wampler. "However, given the problems this bill encountered in the House, and the funding constraints that the Administration must impose in order to limit the Federal budget deficits during the life of this bill, it may be more than many of us have a right to expect. It is a four-year bill, and farm groups and farmers tell me that is what they want."

The bill retains the major elements of existing farm programs, including the use of price support loans and "target prices" to protect the incomes of producers of major crops, and the use of a farmer-owned reserve under which growers can hold surpluses off the market until prices improve. For some crops, particularly rice and peanuts, traditional control programs would be loosened. For milk, the Conference agreement reduces supports below traditional levels in order to discourage surpluses, but provides that supports can rise again after surpluses are substantially reduced.

Wampler said that farmers are in deep economic trouble today. "In the wake of two straight years of declining farm income, and predictions of a third, farmers need a certain degree of assistance if they are to continue to give consumers a reliable, plentiful supply of food and fiber at fair prices."

"Farmers, not unlike other Americans," he continued, "want to see inflation brought under control and interest rates reduced. That is the best farm program this Congress or the Administration can provide to our entire farm sector. This farm bill was laboriously crafted in Conference to present a balanced compromise."

The Conference Report has yet to receive final approval in the House and Senate. If approved, the President is expected to sign the bill, even though it costs more than his own proposed farm bill, and that passed by the Senate

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—Hurrah! The Jonesville Senior Citizens float won third prize in the Jonesville Lions Club Christmas Parade last Saturday. The float was decorated beautifully in an old-fashioned motif by Golden Gilley, Nettie Mae and Elmer Hopkins, Luther Estes, Grace Davis, and Cuba Edwards. Riding on the float were Vesta Muncey, Jerushia Bruchett, Maude and Odie Allen, and Elizabeth and Burt Cody, playing the fiddle and square dancing. It was a cold day for the old timers. The candy was donated by the Shell Station and West Town Supermarket and the apples by Rhea Rasnic.

—First place went to Jonesville High School and second place to Jonesville High Spanish Club, and we are happy for them.

—Golden Gilley was in charge of Monday's devotional hour at the Center. She talked about Jesus, the son of man, and the Son of God, reading from John 15. She played the piano for the group singing.

—Following the luncheon, the monthly business meeting was held, with the president, Florence James, calling the meeting to order. Several items of business were discussed, with one major change being made, that the Jonesville Senior Center be discussed, with one major change being made, that the Jonesville Senior Center be opened only two days a week. This will be on Monday and Thursday with the doors to open at 10:00 a.m. Everyone eligible to attend should take time off from whatever they are doing and come on out, join in, and be part of the group.

—It was brought to my attention that the new telephone number is not in the Directory. Those wishing to call the Center should use this number 346-2401.

—A Christmas party is planned for the center, December 17, with an exchange of gifts and refreshments. We hope there will be a larger crowd than attended on Monday, which were: Florence and Marvin James, Mae Bledsoe, Nettie Mae Hopkins, Willie Sergent, Ica Stewart, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Vesta Muncey, Lorene Terry, Golden Gilley, Grace Davis, Pearl Ross, Sarah Smith, and Golden Lipps.

—Lee County Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, held their regular meeting and Christmas party, Wednesday, at Lee County Library with the following present: Betty E. King, Stella Kelly, Mary Gibson, Annie Redmond, Lorene Terry, Ralph Ingle, James E. Cox, Moran Gibson, Lillian and Floyd Hathaway, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Ida Carroll, Sallie Woliver, Kate Livesay, Lillie Carroll, and Anne Laningham. The president called the meeting to order and read an article, "The Value of a Smile." Lorene Terry, chaplain, read an article on Christmas, Luke 2, and had prayer. James E. Cox reported on legislation, and the White House Conference on Aging. Gaynelle Baumgardner gave a report on the Joint State Legislative Committee, which held meetings in Charlottesville in October and November. A get well card was sent to Mildred Ingle who is a patient in Lonesome Pine Hospital, Big Stone Gap

-This week, Lorene Terry moved into her new home on Carlisle Street, formerly owned by Betty and Lonnie Mason.

—Thursday night the Jonesville First Baptist Young Women were host to the single members of the church. The fellowship hall was beautifully decorated with a tree and all other Christmas trimmings. A covered-dish dinner was served and favors of macrame candy canes given to all guests.

—Lee Hospital Auxiliary met Friday night at Farmers and Miners Bank for a called meeting, with Ron Bodary as guest.

—Sue Sutton had a few friends in for a get together at her home Friday night. They were Viola James, Bessie Robinson, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Betty Harless, Lorene Terry, Nell Bush, Mae Davis, and Lizzie Minor. All enjoyed singing Christmas carols, talking, listening to a re-run of last year's cantata and the delicious refreshments.

—Patients in Lee County Community Hospital that you may like to know about are: Roy Bryant, Nancy Quesenberry, Cora Duncan, Una Mae Carrier, Curtis Huff, Henry Kirk, Spence Burgan, Fleetwood Gibson, Evelyn Daugherty, Laura Boone and John Laningham, Jr.

—Frank Oxford underwent surgery in Lonesome Pine Hospital, Big Stone, Monday. Some visiting him were Pattie Wallen, Elmer Cox, Maude and Odie Allen, Rev. C.C. Mize, Mabel Arnold of Mt. Carmel, Tn., Ethel Smith and Stella Sutphin of Rose Hill

—Spending the Thanksgiving holiday with Maude and Odie Allen were her son, Buford, Estelle and Ronnie Hines, Rockville, Md

Myrtle Mae Gibson

92 Is "Cool" With Me!

Myrtle Mae Gibson celebrated her 92nd birthday on December 11th. A party was given her, in honor of this occasion by her grandaughter Margaret Lynne. Many members of the family were present and everyone enjoyed the occasion.

Penalty Can Result From Failure To Report

People who receive supplemental security income (SSI) payments can be penalized if they fail to report an event which could affect the amount of their payments, R. L. Kelly, Social Security manager in Norton, said recently

Any penalty imposed is an addition to repayment of an overpayment resulting from failure to properly report an event. The first violation results in a $25 penalty, the second in a $50 penalty, and additional violations result in $100 penalties

Overpayments most often result when a person fails to report receiving additional income, earnings, additions to bank accounts, receipt of money or other gifts, acquiring property, or changes in living arrangements.

A penalty can be imposed when:

*The person fails to make a timely report of an event

*The unreported event could cause a reduction in payment, suspension or termination of payments

*Payment was received and accepted for the period of time involved

*There is no good cause for relief from the penalty

The Norton Social Security office is located at 630 Park Avenue, and the telephone number is 679-2404

Communicate With Your Mechanic And Save

A pamphlet which advises car owners how to best deal with mechanics is available without charge from the Automotive Information Council (AIC).

Entitled "Communicate with Your Mechanic and Save," the folder offers tips on how to describe problems to the mechanic or service writer, suggests preparation of a written list of problems, tells how to select a service facilty and what to look for when doing it, how to make better use of the owner's manual and other points of advice.

Both government and industry studies show that the biggest season for service complaints is a lack of proper communication between the car owner and the service facility. AIC says the folder will help eliminate those problems.

Single copies are available free by sending a self addressed stamped envelope to Automotive Information Council, 28333 Telegraph Road, Southfield, MI 48034 They also can be ordered in quantity, at $4.00 per hundred copies, postage-paid. Space is provided for an organization's imprint. AIC said the folder is an ideal giveaway for civic organizations, associations, service facilities, parts stores and others interested in promoting better auto service. About 60,000 copies already have been distributed.

The pamphlet points out that an automobile is a complex machine with an average of 15,000 parts, about 5,000 of which move, and consequently it needs a certain amount of maintenance and, eventually, repair.

"Newer cars need far less maintenance than did earlier ones and, consequently, we tend to overlook some of the recommended intervals. That's usually why things go wrong," it is stated

In urging recommended maintenance, the AIC folder states: "Take care of your car and it will take care of you . . providing you with the world's greatest freedom of mobility."

Big Stone Baptist Church Presents The Promise

The First Baptist Church of Big Stone Gap is pleased to invite the public to its Christmas Cantata and reception. The Adult Choir will present "The Promise," by Eugene McCammon on Sunday, December 20 at 7 p.m.

The story is of the birth of Jesus Christ, but emphasizes the truth that the coming of Jesus represents the fulfillment of God's promise to redeem His people.

The choir is under the direction of Dr. Robert E. Botts and accompanied by Mrs. Gwen Hodsdon. The reception will follow the program of music.

JUNE FULLER

THE COUPON CLIPPER

She makes movie tickets pay for themselves

By June Fuller

I answered the telephone. Wendy, my next-door neighbor, was calling.

"How would you like to see a movie this afternoon — my treat?" she asked.

I looked out the window. It was a rainy Saturday afternoon, and I was all alone at home.

"It's really a cute picture," Wendy pleaded.

I like Neil Simon movies. My neighbor's generous mood was enough to convince me to go.

The movie was very funny. But there were many noisy teen-agers in the audience who kept running up and down the aisles. I silently vowed to stay away from the movies on future Saturday afternoons.

As the picture was ending, Wendy leaned over to me and whispered, "Stay in your seat."

I began to suspect what she was up to.

The credits appeared on the screen, the house lights came on and everyone got up and started to move toward the exits.

That is, everyone but us. We just sat there and I started to feel a little uncomfortable.

"Let's walk up front," Wendy suggested. She rose and headed down the aisle with me in tow.

"The next show doesn't start for half an hour," Wendy said. "So, we have 15 minutes before the ushers come back to sweep up. There must be almost 500 candy wrappers on the floor!"

Wendy quickly pulled two big plastic trash bags out of her pocketbook and handed one of them to me.

"You take the left side, and I'll take the right," she said.

I could hardly control myself. I laughed and laughed and almost fell over backward.

I watched in fascination as Wendy made her way through the aisles. Each time she found a good proof of purchase, she held it up over her head and gave a little cheer.

Suddenly I realized that I had better move quickly if I was going to catch up with her.

Ten minutes later I reached the rear of the theater. My back was a little sore from bending over, but my plastic bag was filled with hundreds of M-and-M, Chunky and other candy wrappers.

"Do you want to try the balcony?" Wendy asked.

"Let's save that for next time," I said.

Trash bags in hand, eyes looking straight ahead, we calmly walked out of the theater.

On the way home Wendy said that she now saw most movies feee thanks to all the refunds she was getting from candy wrappers. She had even made a profit on some of the offers.

"I'll go through your wrappers, take the proofs that I need for the cost of your ticket and give you back the rest," she said.

That's my neighbor Wendy — generous to a fault.

Here is a refund form to write for Honey Maid-Rockwell Print Offer, P.O. Box 980, Young America, Minn. 55399. This offer of a Norman Rockwell print, 75 cents in coupons and a $1.50 refund form expires March 31, 1982.

MECC Offers Assertiveness

Mountain Empire Community College is offering an assertiveness training class that is designed specifically for health care professionals throughout the area. The workshop is scheduled to begin Tuesday, January 12, 1982, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The workshop will be concerned with several types of behavior and will concentrate on how to deal with the various behavioral categories. The format of the workshop will include discussions, lectures, and role-playing exercises. Ms. Sharon Edwards, In Service Director at St. Mary's Hospital in Norton, Virginia, will lead the class.

The cost of the course is $26.50 for first time Virginia Community College students, and $21.50 for anyone who has previously attended a Virginia Community College. The enrollment is limited to twenty participants. Interested parties should pre-register by phoning the Office of Continuing Education at Mountain Empire Community College at 523-2400, ext. 204.

MECC Offers Nurse's Aide

A nurse's assistant training program will be offered during the Winter Quarter at Mountain Empire Community College. The program, which is taught by a registered nurse, is designed to provide the student with skills required of aides working in hospitals and nursing homes. For the convenience of participants, the courses have been scheduled on Saturdays and will meet only six sessions from 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Interested parties may register at the first class meeting on January 16 at 8:30 a.m. The tuition for the six-credit beginning nurse's aide course is $64.50. In addition, a $5.00 application fee is due if the student is a first time enrollee in a Virginia Community College.

For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at Mountain Empire Community College - telephone 523-2400, ext. 204.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—Mrs. Willard (Pauline) Payne was pleased to have her son, Ronnie Payne of Richmond, Va., visit with her a few days during the Thanksgiving holidays. Her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Salyers and son, Brian of Jonesville, were overnight guests. Also joining the family group were Mr. and Mrs. Jim David of Big Stone Gap, and all enjoyed the day.

—Church services were held at the Oak Grove Primitive Baptist Church in Keokee last Saturday and Sunday. Elder Roy Flanary of Keokee is the pastor. The visiting ministers were Elder Carl Campbell of Kingsport and Elder Ray McGlophine and his wife from Bristol.

—Gloria Lynn Huff of Richmond, and her sister, Brenda Donovan of Kingsport, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bobrosky, Jr.

While there their brother, Colin Bobrosky and son, little John Randolph Bobrosky came from Cox's Creek, Keokee, and all enjoyed a delightful birthday dinner celebrating the birthdays of John, Jr., whose birthday was November 16, and his grandson, John Randolph had a birthday on November 24, and also Mary Alice Bobrosky of Duffield, a birthday on November 23.

—Mrs. Paul Kendle of Appalachia, visited her mother, Virginia Barker one day last week. Virginia who is on the sick list is improving at this time.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Huff were in Norton last Tuesday.

—We received our first Christmas card and greetings of the season last Saturday from 1st Sgt. Lonnie Fortner and wife, Terri, and their son, Jessee Dale, and daughter, Lisa in Germany. They are formerly from Keokee and hope to be returning to the U.S. next June, 1962.

—Mrs. R.P. Cooper, Jr., came for a short visit Tuesday at the home of Iva Clarkston and I and we were pleased to have her visit.

—Elder and Mrs. Roy Flanary recently visited their son, Pat Flanary and his family in Shelbyville, Ky.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Huff were happy to have as holiday guests at their home Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ratliff and children, Wendy, Aaron, and Sarah from Ohio spent a few days. Roger is Mrs. Huff's son. The Ratliff family has now returned to their home in Ohio.

—We were sorry to hear of the serious illness of Mrs. Carolotta Anderson of Keokee who is a patient in the Duke University Hospital in Durham, N.C. As reported she underwent surgery one day last week. Her husband, Joe Anderson was in North Carolina to be with his wife at the hospital.

—J.B. Calton and wife, Ronnie of Tazewell, Tn., visited at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Elder and Mrs. Roy Flanary on Monday. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Baker of Kingsport, Phil Flanary of Paintsville, Ky., also visited his parents last weekend.

—Mrs. Verda Thompson has returned home after spending a few days in Big Stone Gap with her daughter and son-in-law, Juanita and Jay Thompson.

—Mrs. Jimmy (Norma) Fleenor who had heart surgery a few weeks ago returned to the Holston Valley Hospital in Kingsport, on Tuesday for a check-up. Her mother, Lelia Barker accompanied her to Kingsport and they returned home in the evening.

—Clarence Morris is reported to be a patient in the Holston Valley Hospital in Kingsport.

—We lost a friend, Peter Anton Davis, 85, who died Wednesday, November 2, in the St. Thomas Hospital in Akron, Ohio, after a brief illness.

He and his wife, Hazel came to Keokee in 1968 from Weirton, W. Va., and he resided here for 13 years.

Davis was a native of Groatia, Yugoslavia and he immigrated to the U.S. in 1913 at the age of 17 and served in the U.S. Army.

His wife, Dorthy Rader Davis known as "Aunt Hazel" preceded him in death in 1975.

Funeral services for "Uncle Pete" were held Sunday at the Holding Funeral Home Chapel in Big Stone Gap and burial was in the Powell Valley Memorial Gardens.

—Thanks to our friends, Katherine and Everette Keister of Huntsville, Ala. for their nice letter and Christmas greetings.

Also arriving in the mail box Wednesday was the annual Christmas message and greetings from our cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris of Golden, Colo.

And the special greetings from our nephew, M. Sgt. (Ret.) Don G. Wells and his wife, Barbara and their daughter, Melissa of Albuquerque.

Library May Close

The Lee County Public Library in Pennington Gap and a branch in Rose Hill will close indefinitely December 31 unless the county board of supervisors releases a quarterly appropriation for its operation.

Letters were mailed last Tuesday by the Lonesome Pine Regional Library Board to Old Dominion Power Company, C & P Telephone Company, the water department in the town of Pennington Gap and Laningham Oil Company, instructing them to discontinue service to the library at 8:30 p.m. December 31.

Copies of the letters were sent to Ms. Edith Bowen, Acting County Administrator; Mr. Herman Grigsby, member, Board of Trustees; Mrs. Ronnie Montgomery, member, Board of Trustees; and Mr. Donald Haynes, State Librarian.

At a regular meeting of the Lee County Board of Supervisors held on Wednesday, December 2, 1981 at 10:00 a.m., at the courthouse in Jonesville, the board voted to withhold the $22,500 quarterly appropriation until the vacation and sick-leave benefits of Gloria Dye, a part-time employee in the Pennington Gap Library are reinstated.

According to Norma Ferguson, supervisor at Lee County Public Library in Pennington Gap, a closure notice was placed on the front door of the library by Linda Smith, assistant librarian of the Lonesome Pine Regional System. The notice reads: "The library will be closed at 8:30 p.m. on December 31 until funds are released by the Lee County Board of Supervisors. Please return all library materials by December 31st."

The library board's position, says regional librarian Theda Gibson, is that other counties in the system cannot be expected to support Lee County's facilities. The appropriation made by the supervisors only covers its propriate share of expenses through December 31.

Ms. Ferguson told Powell Valley News that "we are just caught in the middle. We do not know what to say except we were told by Ms. Gibson that the bills would not be paid after December 31st. Ms. Ferguson received a letter from the regional librarian stating "the employees of the Lee County Public Library in Pennington Gap and the Rose Hill Branch will be furloughed, without pay, as of January 1, 1982, until such time as the funds are received."

Confusion resulted in August when Ms. Dye was reinstated as a new employee three days after she received word her position had been eliminated because supervisors had only appropriated a portion of the amount requested by the library board. The library had also intended to cut back on hours, closing the facilities on Sunday and Monday.

As a new employee, Ms. Dye did not have vacation days or sick leave accumulated. Gibson said last Thursday that Gloria Dye

Lee County Has Assistant Commonwealth Attorney

Graham G. Ludwig, Jr., age 29, of Jonesville, will assume the position of Assistant Commonwealth Attorney the first Monday of the new year 1982. He has been with the law office of H. Ronnie Montgomery since June of 1979 upon completion of law school at the T.C. Williams School of Law, University of Richmond.

The Virginia State Compensation Board approved the part time post since the county meets the population requirements to substantiate its need for an additional criminal prosecutor. Graham expects to help with a current backlog of felony cases armed robbery, larceny, murder. He said he welcomes the chance to work with Commonwealth Attorney Cynthia Kinser as the part time work will allow him time to develop his own practice. He will maintain an office upstairs over Montgomery where he will work with real estate, oil and gas laws, criminal cases, divorce and personal injury claims.

In addition to his juris doctorate degree, Ludwig has a B.S. degree in both psychology and political science from Madison College (now James Madison University) in Harrisonburg. All his educational expenses were self financed with various part time jobs including surveying and engineering. He honorably completed a tour of duty with the Army that included two years in Vietnam.

Several Hundred People Enjoy St. Charles Christmas Parade

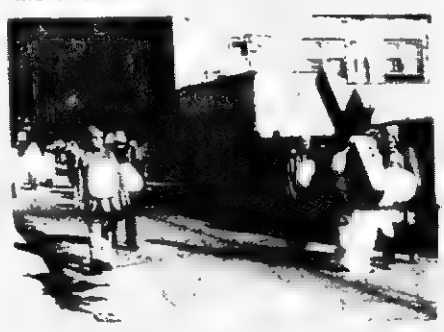
Despite very cold temperatures, the sun came out Saturday in St. Charles and so did more than 200 people the people to see the annual Christmas parade, sponsored this year by the St. Charles Volunteer Fire Department and under the direction of Charlie Province and Billie Laningham

A combined band of students from Dryden, St. Charles, Woodway and Stickleyville provided musical entertainment Each school received a trophy

First prize went to the First Baptist Church for their colorful portrayal of "The Crucifixion" Eternal Monument won second prize with their theme "Without Jesus There Is Nothing" And the manger scene "What Child Is This" rated third prize for Provines Funeral Home

Santa Claus was the star of the show as usual sending happy faced children scrambling for the treats he tossed to them as he rode by on a shiny, red fire engine

At the end of the parade visiting children were invited to Lelia's Cafe to pick up a treat of nuts, candy, gum, oranges, tangerines and apples provided by the local fire department



The First Baptist Church of St. Charles won first prize in Saturday's Christmas Parade with their depiction of "The Crucifixion."

Lee County Schools Deal With Measles On A One-To-One Basis

As a result of measles being diagnosed in Pennington Gap High and Elementary Schools, free immunization clinics were held at the schools on Friday, December 12.

If blood tests identify just one case of measles in a school, the Virginia State Health Department requires that all the students' health records be checked for completion of the proper immunizations

A large number of students at Pennington took forms home on Thursday, December 11, explaining the situation to the parents. Records had to be sent to school or parents were asked to return permission slips for their children to be given the needed vaccinations in a clinic held at the Lee County Health Department

The suddenness of the clinic caused considerable confusion. Most parents were sure their children were protected and had submitted their shot records and physical reports to the schools in August at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year.

However, as the records were purged and checked, three considerations were made

Had the student been immunized after the age of 12 months?

Was a live virus vaccination given?

Did the records document proof that a previous case of measles had provided immunity for the student?

If these requirements were not met, the student

Christmas In Jail

Being in jail is bad enough at any time of the year but is especially unpleasant at Christmas

Christmas is a time of joy and happiness, of homecoming But to those imprisoned, the holiday season can be a sad, lonely time

Thanks to Lee County Sheriff R.A Chadwell whose favorite time of the year is Christmast, the cooks and the entire Sheriff's Department, the inmates in the Lee County Jail at Jonesville may enjoy the holidays more than those at most other jails

An attempt is made to brighten the area with wreaths Radios and televisions are allowed

The cooks, Dora Smith of Ewing and Shirley Harless of Dryden, try to prepare special menus for the prisoners. However, Dora says that is hard to do because she actually prepares good meals for them every day meals that include lasagna, pork chops, spaghetti, etc As special treats she likes to make things like peanut butter rolls, fudge and homemade pies and cakes Fresh crisp salads are served at least twice a week

Santa In Rose Hill

The annual Rose Hill Christmas Parade was held last Saturday with the temperature in the mid - twenties . . . a cold day but the warmth generated by the participants kept everyone warm.

Santa arrived on the fire truck.

The winning floats were: Rose Hill PTO, First Place; Lee County Sheriff's Department, Second Place; Rose Hill Boy Scout Troop, Third Place and Rosedale Baptist Church, Fourth Place.

Happy Holidays To All!

On a starry night, almost two thousand years ago, the first Christmas started with a child. Since that time, Christmas has had a special meaning for young and old alike, all over the world. For Christmas is a time of great love, great happiness and great hope.

As we celebrate again that magical moment, let us pray that the true spirit of Christmas be reflected in the hearts of all men. And may the special promise of the first Christmas child bring us all to a new and glorious morn.

The NEWS has brought to our readers this week a variety of Christmas stories, plus letters to Santa. We are grateful to the ministers for their cooperation, and the teachers of the schools who worked so faithfully with their pupils to write for us. Christmas can be viewed from many angles as you read the paper this week. To all those contributing, especially the advertisers making it possible to publish the NEWS, we wish to express a special "Thank You" and Merry Christmas.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

was required to be inoculated. The majority of the students' records were in order and they returned to class. Others lined up for shots, with some parents accompanying their children to school. Those without up-to-date records were asked to go home or call home for records. Most of those students were immunized on Tuesday, December 15 at the health department.

Successive clinics have been held methodically at all the schools in the county with one probable case each at Elk Knob, Dryden and Jonesville Elementary and a combined total of five cases diagnosed at Pennington High and Elementary schools.

A few students not vaccinated for personal reasons may elect to take a 21 day vacation. That is, they will be excluded from school for 21 days following the last reported diagnosed case of measles in their school.

Some school staff members may be asked to take the vaccination.

The threat of icy road conditions prompted authorities to close Lee County Schools last Wednesday and Thursday and a snow schedule was observed the rest of the week. Some previously scheduled semester tests were delayed or canceled while others were given Friday with some still planned for yesterday and today.

Students will receive their report cards next about January 12.

Questions have arisen concerning snow days. If school is missed on Friday, there will be no school on Saturday. However, if school is missed on any other day (Monday through Thursday), students will be asked to attend school half a day on Saturday with the concerted opinion that days are easier made up in the winter than in May or June.

Saturday attendance was cancelled this past week because of problems related to the measles outbreak.

Only three Saturday make up days were observed last year.

sheriff's secretary, enjoys helping with cookings for special occasions.

Ms. Smith, head cook who has been on the job since January of 1980 was especially proud of the excellent rating she earned when a delegation from the State Department of Corrections toured the Lee County Jail's kitchen.

When asked what they wanted for Christmas dinner the inmates chose ham. Young with ham all the trimmings Dora plans to serve home made pecan pies.

The average number of prisoners at the jail is 15 to 18 men. 14 to 18 are expected to be there for Christmas.

Gifts of cigarettes popcorn and candy are welcomed by those incarcerated. Ms. Smith has volunteered to address any cards that might be contributed. She says that some of the current inmates already have up to 5 years.

Visiting hours are Monday 2-4 and Sunday 2-4.

property.

Also, a Pennington Gap man has been charged with breaking and entering last Wednesday morning.

Patrolman Dale Young, a member of the Pennington Gap police department, said he was on duty when an alarm sounded at 2:18 a.m. The alarm panel light indicated Cas Walker's Grocery was involved.

Young apprehended Greg Clark, 18, who had a crowbar and a duffle bag in his possession.

Young had asked his dispatcher to call for a back up and Lee County Deputies James Bledsoe and Warren Stidham arrived on the scene. The deputies arrested Clark and took him to Lee County jail.

Patrolman Young remained at the store until the manager came. The door where entrance was gained was the site of a previous break in and had been reinforced with two extra locks.

was given vacation pay.

However, Ms. Dye contends she was only given $19 for five and one-half days of unused vacation time. She said she had questioned the small amount and believes more was due her. Sick leave was lost.

In a December 14 letter to the board of supervisors the assistant commonwealth attorney for Wise County and the City of Norton, Joesph M. Kuczko states it is his opinion the board is withholding the funds unlawfully.

He cites the mandates of the March 2, 1972 written contract executed by and between Wise, Dickenson, Lee and Scott counties, the City of Norton, and the Trustees of the Lonesome Pine Regional Library, for the establishment of the Regional Library System, as provided for in 42.1-37 and 38 Code of Virginia.

The statute requires the participating counties to make local appropriations of funds as recommended by the State Library Board. When the State Library Board fixed the amount of the appropriation for Lee County, the Board of Supervisors has no discreton or power to withhold funds to the library system treasurer, according to Kuczko's letter.

Since the regional library receives state and federal aid and funds, all books and bookmobiles purchased with such funds become the property of the State Library in the event any library system fails to meet its obligations.

Lee County may withdraw from the Regional Library System upon two years notice. Otherwise, to withdraw prior to two years notice, the consent of the other counties and the City is required.

Lee County Administrator Edith Bowen told Powell Valley News that she had nothing more to add but that, "we are in limbo at this time."

It is believed by some that the board is acting in good faith on behalf of the library and its employees.

The next scheduled meeting of the Lee County Board of Supervisors is Wednesday, January 6, 1982 at 10:00 a.m.

Larry Paul Pendergrass, died July 17, 1976, age 28 years. Often I'm asked about the inscription "I'm Home To Stay" on my son Larrys grave monument, this poem tells the story behind the words. Thinking of you at Christmas son. He is sadly missed by his family and friends.

Home To Stay

When it's winter time in Virginia,
And decorations light up Christmas day,
My thoughts return to you, Son,
And how you'd always say.

"I'm coming home for Christmas, Mama.
I miss my hometown and it's way.
I'm coming home for Christmas, Mama.
Someday, I'm coming home to stay."

Last night as I lay dreaming, Son,
I held your hand so very tight
You said "Please Mama, don't be grieving
I've never been far out of your sight"

"I've come home for Christmas, Mama.
I love my hometown and it's way.
Just as I promised you I would.
This time, I've come home to stay."

ASCS Community Committee Results Announced

The 1982 ASCS Community Committee elections were recently conducted by mail ballot from November 27 to December 7. Over 1650 ballots were tabulated. The County ASC Committee assisted by the office staff tabulated the ballots on December 11. Listed below are the election results for the ten Lee County ASC Committees. Each committee is listed in order of chairman, vice-chairman, regular member, first alternate and second alternate.

Committee members serve a one year term and have the following responsibilities:
1. Assist in carrying out programs assigned to the County Committee;
2. Elect the County Committee
3. Keep farmers in their community informed on ASCS programs; and
4. Participate in the development of the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Karate Classes Offered In Lee County

Mountain Empire Community College will offer Karate I, II, and III in Lee County during Winter Quarter. Registration for all three courses will be held on Monday, January 4, at Jonesville High School. The instructor will be Mr. Kyle Light.

Karate I is a beginning course in the fundamentals of karate and body control. Students who have already mastered this course may enroll in Karate II, in which the student gains skills necessary for earning a belt.

Finally, Karate III is advanced instruction aimed toward the student's advancement to the blue belt level.

The three classes will go on simultaneously on Wednesday, beginning January 6, at 6:30-9:10 p.m. The tuition is $21.50 plus a $5.00 application fee for first-time students

For more information, contact MECC, Office of Continuing Education at 523 2400, ext. 204.

State Energy Office Can Help Homeowners Lower Heating Costs

The State Office of Emergency and Energy Services (OEES) can help you lower the cost of heating your home this winter with the help of Honest Sam, the Energy-wise computer.

Honest Sam is the name of a free computerized home energy analysis offered by the OEES Energy Division through Virginia Tech.

The free service is similar to the Honest Sam program that has been available to Virginia homeowners for several years. Today's Honest Sam program offers several improvements over the first generation analysis.

"We've taken a good service and made it better," said Kathy Erickson, OEES residential program branch chief. "We've made the input form easier for the homeowner to fill out and expanded the information provided in the printout that the homeowner receives from the computer."

The improved printout will give the homeowner a variety of low-cost and no-cost suggestions that can lower the cost of heating and cooling a home.

Honest Sam's printout will also suggest several energy-saving measures a homeowner can take to lower energy costs; provide an estimate of what the conservation improvements will cost to complete; and give another estimate on how long it should take to recover the cost of making the improvements from the amount of energy saved.

Based on the estimated cost of heating a home for one season, Honest Sam's new program will now tell individuals using wood as supplemental or primary source of heat approximately how much wood, in cords, they can expect to consume.

The OEES Energy Division offers a large assortment of free energy conservation fact sheets, brochures and booklets covering nearly every aspect of residential energy conservation.

A free package of energy-saving tips, including a 70 page book and the Honest Sam input form, or any of the energy saving publications, can be ordered by calling the OEES Energy Division Hotline, toll-free, at 1-800-552-3831 any workday between 8:00 and 4:30

Holiday Gift List For The Gardener

There are a variety of gifts that will delight the home gardener, and make holiday shopping easy.

Give the gardener one of the many popular garden books available in all book stores, said Virginia Tech Extension specialist in home horticulture Diane Relf.

Give a subscription to one of the many plant magazines. This gift will come regularly throughout the year. Virginia Extension offers a new publication which will start in January. Called the Virginia Gardener, it is a monthly newsletter that can be obtained by contacting the Virginia Cooperative Extension Service Distribution Center, 112 Landsdowne St., Blacksburg, Va. 24060. A year's subscription is $3.

Gift certificates from a seed catalog make excellent gifts, said Ms. Relf. If the home gardener is particularly interested in one type of gardening, such as oriental vegetables, get the certificate from a firm that specializes in them.

Hand tools, large or small, can help make the gardeners work easier.

A dairy or record book helps the home vegetable gardener keep track of the factors affecting the garden -- dates of planting, weather, size of harvest.

"Or be even more creative in gift-giving," said Ms. Relf who is a member of the faculty of Virginia Tech's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

"Design a 'rig' or adapt a tool to solve a problem the gardener has talked about," she said.

Be a detective and track down seed for an exotic vegetable that the gardener would like to try to grow.

Compile a collection of seed catalogs, publications, notebooks, graph, paper, pens and books and give them to the gardener. This kind of gift makes it easy to spend time planning and looking forward to the next gardening season.

"Or, give the gardener an 'I.O.U.' for labor in the garden," said the specialist. "It not only will be a real gift for the gardener, but might start the giver on home gardening too."

SEASONS GREETINGS

The members of the Pennington Gap Fire Department wish to thank all the merchants and individuals who donated to the Christmas Treat Fund this year. Without your help this would not have been possible. Thanks for your support and concern for the project through out the years.

Merry Christmas From The

Gate City Stomps Pennington 94 - 53

The Powell Valley Invitational tournament finally got underway last Friday night, after being cancelled the night before because of bad weather. The Gate City Blue Devils and Twin Springs Titans kicked off the tournament with Gate City topping the Titans 69-53.

Things looked bright for Jerry Field's Titans as they broke through the Blue Devils man to man defense in the first quarter and grabbed a 19-14 lead. The second stanza was completely different however, as Gate City changed defense and in the process got their offense rolling behind the leadership of Chris Fugate. With a 22-8 second period advantage the Blue Devils enjoyed a 36-27 halftime lead. Gate City took the final two quarters with a combined 33-26 score.

For the game, Gate City now 5-1 overall got 19 points out of center Chris Fugate. Vermillion added 17, while Morty Shelton bucketed 10 markers. The Blue Devils hit 30 of 65 shots from the field, good for 46%, and made 9 of 18 free throws for 50%. Gate City which had a decisive height advantage over Twin Springs lost the battle on the defensive boards 31-27.

Twin Springs got 18 points from David White, who kept the Titans from getting blowed out in the game. Craig Short added nine points in defeat. Twin Springs shot 36.8% from the field hitting only 17 of 47 shots, and 61.9% from the charity stripe, connecting on 19 of 31 free throws.

The loss put the Titans in the losers bracket against Norton, who lost 73-46 in the opening round to Whitewood.

Pennington Hands Flatwoods Sixth Straight Loss

On Tuesday of last week, when it was snowing outside, and the weather was cold, the Pennington Bobcats traveled to Flatwoods to face the Eagles in the only game played in the district on this particular night.

With the snow coming down outside, inside of the Flatwoods gym the Bobcats were busy ramming the ball down through the hoop, scoring at will. In the opening quarter, Pennington doubled the Eagles 16-8, and then blew Flatwoods out in the second period 28-11 for a 44-19 halftime lead. The second half was much closer, 33-32 in favor of the Bobcats.

Flatwoods who has a very young ball club this year, appears to be in a battle to get out of the basement. The Eagles have probably been a surprise at this point in the season to their coach Max Chance, but definitely the wrong surprise to which he probably expected. Coach Chance must be wondering how much longer it can go before his club gets a win.

Against the Bobcats Flatwoods now 0-6 overall, were led by Bryan Denson and Lawrence Greer with 12 points each. Three other Eagles had seven points each. Flatwoods which is 0-3 in the district, shot almost 47% at the charity stripe, hit on 7 of 15 shots. The Eagles currently stand in last place in the Cumberland district.

Pennington evens its overall record at 2-2, and 2-1 in district play. The Bobcats placed five players in double figures with Billy Byington leading the way with 14 points. Kent Henderson and Jeff Morgan each scored 11, while Tommy Gibson and Gary Collier collected 10 apiece. Jack Belcher and Tim Byington almost found the double digit mark, scoring eight points each. Pennington hit 21 of 25 free throws for 75%.

Score By Quarters:
Pennington 16 28 11 22-77
Flatwoods 8 11 16 16-51

Individual Scoring:

Pennington [77] B. Byington 14, Henderson 11, Morgan 11, Collier 10, Gibson 10, Belcher 8, T. Byington 8, Young 4, W. Wolwer 1.

Flatwoods [51] B. Denson 12, Greer 12, Ingle 7, R. Denson 7, K. Cope 7, C. Cope 4, Fee 2.

Twin Springs Stops Norton

Jerry Field's club from Twin Springs came back to Powell Valley high school, site of the invitational tournament, for two consecutive nights. On their first trip into Wise County from Scott County, they were soundly beaten by their opponent, the Gate City Blue Devils. But to come back a second straight night and lose would have been a big disappointment to the Titans. And so the Titans pulled out a thrilling 51-48 victory over the Norton Black Raiders. Norton who dropped their opening game of the tournament to Whitewood, took a 13-9 lead at the first break. But then disaster struck Norton, as they were held to three points in the second period while the Titans grabbed a 19-16 halftime lead with ten second quarter points of their own. Both teams scored 14 and 18 points respectively in the final two quarters of play. The second quarter of the game was a low point in the game for Norton, for the second straight night as they were held to three by the Titans, and four the preceding night by Whitewood.

Norton was led in defeat by Frank Gravely and John Etter with 12 points each. The Black Raiders hit four of eight free throws for 50%.

Twin Springs got 16 points from David White, 14 from Craig Short and 13 from Mike Penley. The Titans made 13 of 21 free throws for just short of 62%.

Twin Springs will return home to face Flatwoods on January 5th.

Score By Quarters:
T.S. 9 10 14 18-51
Norton 13 3 14 18-48

Individual Scoring:

Twin Springs [51] White 16, Short 14, Penley 13, Wolfe 1, Lawson 2, Darnell 2.

Norton [48] Gravely 12, Etter 12, Stallard 9, Forney 6, McCray 5, Daniels 4.

Gate City Topples Twin Springs Titans 69 - 53

Gate City already disposing of one Cumberland district team the previous night came back for more competition from the Cumberland district, and found little threat in stomping the Pennington Bobcats 94-53.

The rout was on after the first rest stop as the Blue Devils rolled up a commanding 26-8 lead. The Bobcats did manage to match point for point in the second quarter as both teams hit for 22. But then came the embarrasing third quarter when the Bobcats were outpointed 26-6. The fourth was fairly close, but again the Blue Devils were in complete control, taking a 20-17 quarter.

Gate City by winning raises their record to 6-1 overall. They were led by 6'5" center Chris Fugate 23 points. Joey Salyer canned 17 while Deetsie Vermillion added 16 points. Nine other players scored in the game for Gate City, who shot 75% at the free throw circle, making 12 of 16 shots.

Pennington now 2-3 overall was led by freshman Tim Byington's 20 points. Kent Henderson scored 12, while the rest of the Bobcats' scoring power had a bad night. This is the worst that Pennington has been beaten in a long time, as they were just simply outmanned. Better luck next time, Bobcats!

Score By Quarters:
Pennington 8 22 6 17-53
Gate City 26 22 26 20-94

Individual Scoring:

Pennington [53] T. Byington 20, Henderson 12, Collier 7, Belcher 6, B. Byington 4, Morgan 2, Young 2.

Gate City [94] Fugate 23, Salyer 17, Vermillion 16, Lynch 6, Addington 6, Moore 6, Hargrove 4, Harrison 4, Fields 4, Shelton 4, Check 2, Ervin 2.

Dryden Behind Greg Peters Upsets Rye Cove 62 - 51

Rye Cove's Eagles came to Dryden last Friday night, probably a solid favorite to beat Dryden, but a fine effort by the team, and the hot shooting of Greg Peters allowed the Crusaders to knock Rye Cove from the unbeaten ranks in district play, upsetting the Eagles 62-51.

Dryden broke fast from the opening whistle, taking a eight point lead 16-8 after one quarter. They maintained the eight point lead at the half, as both teams bucketed 15 points. Dryden won the second half 31-28.

Rye Cove who is one team picked to give Thomas Walker a run for the district crown this season, was led by Roy Lane's 16 points, with Randal Spears and Scott Bowen adding 13 and 10 respectively. Dryden was led by Peters 22, with Greg Milan and Ronnie Rhoten adding 10 each. The Crusaders still managed to pull the upset, despite one of their leading scorers in Randy Anders being held to nine points.

Dryden will not see action again until January 5th when they come to Pennington. Rye Cove will be at home next Tuesday against the Coeburn Blue Knights, from the Lonesome Pine district.

Score By Quarters:
Rye Cove 8 15 10 18-51
Dryden 16 15 14 17-62

Individual Scoring:

Rye Cove [51] Lane 16, Spears 13, Bowen 10, Gilreath 7, Baker 2, Percival 2, Hunter 1.

Dryden [62] Peters 22, Milan 10, Rhoten 10, Anders 9, Orick 5, Johnson 4, Gibson 2.

THE COUPON CLIPPER

Coupon clubs: 2,000 strong and growing

By Jane Fuller

DEAR COUPON CLIPPER — I read your column for the first time several weeks ago. You explained how to file cents-off coupons by product groups.

Your advice sounded interesting, so I went out and bought an expanding check file and separated all of my coupons into your 12 groups.

The results have been terrific. Instead of struggling to find a dollar's worth of usable coupons, I am now sailing along and happily finding that I have more and more coupons to save with each time I go to the supermarket.

Yesterday I saved $5.25 with my coupons — a personal record.

My question is this. I have heard that there are coupon clubs where members trade coupons. I would never have believed that such groups existed. But now that I have caught the coupon "bug," I would like to know more about these clubs. Can you tell me how they work? — Wilma R. from Commerce, Texas.

DEAR WILMA — Coupon clubs do exist. In fact, I would estimate that there are now more than 2,000 active clubs.

The reason for their growing popularity is simple. Belonging to a coupon club gives you an excellent opportunity to trade all the coupons you can't use for new ones that you can turn into immediate savings.

A club meeting can turn $20 worth of useless coupons into $20 worth of coupons for products you use.

Starting a club is easy. One way to do it is to call up a few friends and invite them over to your house for coffee and some coupon trading. Give them a few days' notice so they will have time to find as many coupons as possible.

At a swap session like this we pass around our envelopes of coupons and invite everyone to take what they can use. With four or five friends at your swap session, you should be able to find a fair amount of valuable coupons.

What would your trading session be like if there were 12 or 15 other couponers? What if they also brought along refund forms and proofs of purchase?

Well, that's what a coupon club is all about. The more traders at a meeting, the more opportunities you will have to find the coupons you need.

If there are a few experienced refunders in attendance, you will also be able to learn about organized refunding. Most veteran refunders trade forms by mail. They can show you hundreds of refund forms that you never saw at the local supermarket.

Your swap-session friends can become the charter memebers of your club and help you organize the first meeting. Most coupon clubs meet once a month at the home of a member.

I will give you some tips on getting your club started in my next column.

The smart shopper award goes to Jo Valich of Midland Park, N.J.

Her favorite supermarket doubled two 40-cent Saran Wrap coupons so that two boxes of the 50-foot size cost her only 18 cents.

But her savings weren't over. She then sent for a Saran Wrap "Buy Two, Get One Free" offer. So, the third box cost her only the price of a postage stamp. With the proof of purchase from that box, she sent for a different refund offer.

Ms. Valich and other readers whose smart shopping experience appear in my column receive a copy of the refunding magazine, The National Supermarket Shopper. Write to me in care of this newspaper.

Here is a refund form to write for: DX Toothbrush Refund Offer, P.O. Box PM-152, El Paso, Texas 79966. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. This $2 refund offer expires Feb. 28,1982.

Here is this week's list of refund offers. Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends. Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below. Remember, some offers are not available in all areas of the country.

Today's refund offers are worth $10.48.

Fortieth Anniversary Celebrated

It was a surprise celebration that the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yeary prepared for them at their home in Ewing on the afternoon of December 12th in honor of their fortieth Wedding Anniversary.

All their children were present, and were Betty Lynn and husband, Bob Smith, Ewing, H.C. Yeary and wife Jouette, Ewing, Wanda and Doug Myers of Maynardsville, Tn., and, Brenda Yeary of Atlanta, Ga.

Their five grandchildren also helped in the celebration, and were Billy and Heidi Smith, Justin and Trina Yeary, and Maggie Myers.

Plans had been made for other relatives and friends to drop by for a surprise visit throughout the afternoon and enjoy Anniversary refreshments.

Later, the four children and their families took Mr. and Mrs. Yeary (the former Mae Dean) and enjoyed dinner together.

-Welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jackson of the Cumbo Area who moved here from Manchester, Ky., with his family to the house formerly owned by White and Mellie Marcum.

- Mrs. Ina Thacker of Batavia, Ohio was guest last week of her sister, Mrs. Sam Beaty and family, and her brother, C.M. Lawson and family.

Florence Bayless and Mrs. Charles Emmett were visiting at Claiborne Co. Nursing Home on Wednesday with Henrietta Cole and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Surber of Atlanta, Ga., and daughter were guests of Mrs. W.B. Surber for the weekend. The Senior Citizens meeting was canceled Tuesday and Wednesday because of ice and snow.

—Rev. and Mrs. Estil Hensley visited last week with their daughter and son-in-law in Nickelsville, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Jim L. Trent and children.

—Mrs. Charles Jones was visiting the Senior Citizens last week and brought them a box of candy as a going away present. She has been so helpful and kind, that the group expressed their regret that she and Mr. Jones will be moving to London, Ky.

—Mrs. Charlene Hensley also gave her services to the Senior Citizens by taking their blood pressure.

—Friends were sorry that Asher Davis lost his house by fire last Saturday.

—Sympathy is also expressed to the Eugene Jones family and other relatives of W.L. Jones due to this untimely death at Luray, Va., on December 4, and also to the families of others in the area where death has occurred, Jerry Long, Guyton Senter, and Wanda Richard Mills.

Keokee News

By Eula Clarkston

—The Fellowship Hall at the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church was a scene of activity as the adult Sunday School Class gathered last Friday night for a Christmas party. The group enjoyed singing, games, and opening funny gag gifts. Refreshments were enjoyed at the conclusion of the party.

—The meeting of the Keokee Extension Homemakers Club scheduled for Tuesday, December 15 was postponed until a later date.

—Kyle Kerns of Mabe, Va., recently visited his sister, Mrs. Maude Barker. Her daughter, Ruby Barker of Alexandria, Va., plans to spend the Christmas holidays. Another daughter, Barbara Cummings and daughters, Rissie and Victoria of Norton, will join them at the home of her mother, Maude Barker.

—Belated birthday greetings to Mrs. George (Frances) Bohlander of Staunton, celebrated her birthday on December 13. She is the daughter of Mrs. Echel Edens of Keokee.

—Get-well wishes to Naomi Wells of Crackers Neck near Big Stone Gap. Naomi is a correspondent for The Post in Big Stone Gap.

—Ernest Arnette, Jr., of Dayton, Ohio recently visited with his mother, Mrs. Milburn (Frances) Bush.

—Mrs. Virginia Barker and Russell Gilbert were visitors in Wise, last Monday.

—Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnston of Knoxville, for their nice Christmas greeting and card. He was formerly from Lee County

—Members of the W.M.U. of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church held their annual Christmas party at the fellowship hall in the Church on Tuesday night. The party began with a devotion followed by the singing of Christmas carols. The group exchanged Christmas gifts with Willie Richardson presenting the gifts to each member

There were eleven members present which included Louise McDaniel, Amelia Rogers, Jean Gloyer, Dorthy Arnette, Verda Thompson, Willie Richardson, Hazel Richardson, Ora Christian, Helen Johnson, Artie Trammell and Sandy Kelley.

—A Christmas program will be presented at the Rawhide Missionary Baptist Church at Keokee, on Wednesday night, December 23. Dora Lynn Dinsmore is the director of the play.

—Mrs. Milburn (Frances) Bush visited her son, Gregory Arnette and family at Wise last Saturday.

—Recently received was a card from Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Newkirk of Franklin, Ind., who were in Hawaii attending the 40th Anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

Elsie and her husband, Bob Newkirk met one survivor, Parkis Dotson from Norton, Va., who attended the reunion.

Mrs. Newkirk is the former Elsie Morelock of Keokee and she spent her early years here.

—A card and letter from Mr. and Mrs. Don Sandlin of New Lexington, Ohio contained a birth announcement:

It's A Boy

Mary Ellen and Rick Hiles of New Lexington, Ohio are the proud parents of a baby son born November 29. The new arrival weighed 7 lbs. 11 ozs. and he has been named Shane Curtis Hiles

He has a three year old sister, Christina Lynn, and a 11 months old brother, Ricky to welcome him home.

"Congratulations to Mary Ellen and Rick on the birth of their son."

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Sandlin of New Lexington, Ohio. The Sandlins now have 17 grandchildren

The Sandlin family formerly resided at Keokee

—Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Curtis (Jerry) Huff, 66, of Pennington Gap, who passed away Monday, December 14 at the Lee County Community Hospital.

Kelly Williamson

Royalty Crowned

Kelly Williamson was crowned Miss George Wythe High School in Wytheville, Va., on November 20, 1981.

The contestants were judged on scholarship, physical fitness, appearance, poise and personality.

Kelly is in her Junior year and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williamson of Wytheville.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelly of Pennington Gap and Mr. J.R.B Williamson and the late Mrs. Alice Williamson, formerly of Jonesville.

Record Deer Kill In Lee County

In Lee County, there were 135 deer killed this year, compared to only 82 last year. This is an increase of 64.6%. The largest deer in point size was a 15 pointer and the heaviest was a 10 point buck field dressed weighing 180 pounds

Statewide nearly all of the game checking tags from West of the Blue Ridge have been counted and the results indicate a whopping record of 25,235 deer, well over last year's kill of 20,522.

Most counties recorded an increase in the deer harvest. Some of the success can be traced to the heavier than usual carry over of deer in south western counties because of the lower than usual harvest during the 1980-81 season due to bad weather. Deer were generally healthy and in excellent condition. The final tally will not be in until the western bow hunting and muzzleloading seasons are over January 5

The plantain is something like a banana but it does not ripen to sweetness. It must be cooked to be eaten. It's an important food to millions of tropical people.

W.W.W. New Staff Announced

The office of Women's Work World would like to announce gladly their new staff. They are: Lynnette Stuart of Appalachia, who is attending Mountain Empire Community College part time, has been hired as a program assistant, and will be dealing mainly with housing, construction, and child care. Nina Gregg of Dungannon, joined the staff as a program assistant focusing mainly on non-traditional jobs for women and outreach to employers. Bridgett McCoo of Big Stone Gap, is a graduate of MECC and has been hired as the office manager/secretary. Two work-study (co-op) students have been hired. Debbie Bush of Appalachia, is working as a legal assistant and Mary Crawford of Big Stone Gap, is working as an assistant office manager. Brenda Anderson of Pennington Gap, is the coordinator out of our Jonesville office of Women's Work World serving the Lee County area

Gloria Lawson, the program director of Women's Work World, who has been with the program since its beginning, said, "I am happy with the new staff and hope that with them we will be able to serve more women and increase resources that are needed in the area."

Women's Work World is a private non profit organization incorporated in August, 1979. It was organized to serve women in Lee, Scott and Wise counties. WWW's overall goal is to assist women in organizing themselves to take an active part in decisions directly affecting their everyday lives, to build a capacity to sustain women's endeavors, and to increase community resources available to meet women's needs

The offices of WWW are located in Big Stone Gap, at 314 Wood Avenue, phone 523-4981 and Jonesville in the Court House Building, phone 346-2443

STATEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION
"Powell Valley Electric Cooperative has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization.
"Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals, to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued there under may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D.C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 180 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations."

MECC To Offer Beginners Bowling In Lee County

Mountain Empire Community College will offer a beginners bowling class in Lee County during Winter Quarter. The class will meet at Sunny Acres Recreation Center on Saturdays from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. beginning Saturday, January 9, 1982. Tuition for the one credit class will be $10.75 plus a $5.00 application fee for students enrolling for their first MECC class. Interested parties should register for the class on January 4, 1982, at the Jonesville High School from 5:00-8:00 p.m.

In The Service

Pvt. James L. Hedrick, son of Harold L. Hedrick of Jonesville, has completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the solider as a light-weapons Infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

He is a 1980 graduate of Flatwoods High School, Jonesville.

Legal Courses Offered At MECC

For students wishing to begin in the Legal Assisting Program offered at Mountain Empire Community College, the beginning course, Law Office Management, will be offered again winter quarter on Thursday evenings beginning January 7, at 6:30 p.m. Other legal classes on the winter schedule include Real Estate Law and Criminal Law I to begin on Tuesday, January 12 at 6:30 p.m., and Thursday, January 7 respectively.

Students may register at the first class session. For more information concerning the Legal Assistant Program, call MECC at 523-2400, ext. 204.

Evening Classes At MECC

Evening classes at Mountain Empire Community College will begin on Wednesday, January 6. Included in classes offered both on campus and off campus are Journalism, Accounting, Artistic Design, First Aid, CPR, Horticulture, Legal Assistant Classes, Aerobics, Karate, and many others. For more information about these and other classes, call the Office of Continuing Education, 523-2400, ext. 204.

Journalism Class Offered At The Mountain

If you have an interest in writing and would like to develop writing skills applicable to the newspaper and radio media, Mountain Empire Community College invites you to enroll in the Introductory Journalism class to be offered during the Winter Quarter.

The class is designed to acquaint the student with the function of the news media. Participants will get practice in gathering, evaluating, and writing news. Techniques of page layout, newspaper make-up, rewriting and editing, will be addressed.

Mr. Bill Edwards, an experienced reporter and free-lance writer, will direct the class.

The first class will meet on Thursday, January 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the College and continue each Thursday from 6:30 to 9:10 p.m. for ten weeks.

Students may register at the first class meeting. For more information call MECC, 523-2400, ext. 204.

Family involvement is a vital part of 4-H. In addition to tours, parent day at the fair and other programs, many 4-H groups hold a family picnic in the local community, or even at the 4-H campsite.

4-H Workers Honored

Three members of the Virginia 4-H staff were honored at the annual meeting of the National Association of Extension 4-H Agents.

Kenneth E. Dawson, state director, was presented the Distinguished Service Award, and two leaders, Robert W. Blanton and Cecil M. McBride, received 25-year service awards.

The Distinguished Service Award is a tribute to those who have been selected by their peers for contributions to the 4-H program in their state. As director of 4-H in Virginia, Dawson led the team that tripled 4-H enrollment in one decade. The current Virginia 4-H enrollment is 176,000 youths. He has helped raised more than $5 million in grants and contracts for scholarships, activities and 4-H educational centers. Under his direction, 4-H was recognized and has resulted in greater cooperation among staff members at all levels.

Both Blanton and McBride joined the 4-H staff in 1956. During the quarter century, both contributed personal dedication to youth.

Blanton was cited for serving as director of state 4-H conservation camps and as adviser to the district 4-H cabinet, All Stars and leaders' association. He assisted with 21 state congresses and managed a weekly half-hour television program for eight years.

McBride's honor noted that he organized the state 4-H program of work to correspond to "4-H in Century III," a national campaign. As part of it, Virginia 4-H members, volunteers and staff members meet annually for programming in each of the program component areas.

McBride also provided leadership for the first state 4-H dog show, which now is a regular event at the State Fair of Virginia, and wrote the first Virginia introduction to 4-H project.

Let the just cooked turkey set for about 20 to 30 minutes to make carving easier.

Here is a method to estimate the number of servings from a turkey For a turkey 12 pounds or less, allow 3/4 to 1 pound per person. For turkeys over 12 pounds allow 1/2 to 1/4 pound per serving. Correct cooking and carving also increases the number of servings

Season's Greetings to each of you! This is Christmas week a time to spend with family and friends. A time of giving and sharing our blessings with others.

No gift touches my heart like something that's known the touch of someone's loving hands. I guess that's why I always enjoy giving and receiving cakes, cookies, candy, and homemade breads as Christmas gifts.

If you have a few people that you would like to give a special gift to this week, why not bake them a loaf of this cranberry nut bread?

Cranberry Banana Nut Bread

⅔ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs
2 cups mashed bananas (about 4)
3½ cups sifted self rising flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 one-pound can (1¾ cups) whole berry cranberry sauce

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease and flour two 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inch loaf pans.

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add eggs and beat well. Stir in bananas, flour, soda and nuts. Fold in cranberry sauce. Pout into prepared pans and bake 60 to 65 minutes

For smaller loaves, use 3 Junior loaf pans (7 3/8 x 3 5/8 x 2¼ inches) bake 50 55 minutes

4 Medium Loaf pans (6x3½x2 inches) bake 45 50 minutes

8 Individual loaf pans (4½ x 2 3/8 x 1½ inches) bake 40 45 minutes

NOTE- If using plain flour, add 4 teaspoons baking powder ¾ teaspoon salt, and increase soda to ½ teaspoon

Phone Federal Excise Tax Drops

The federal excise tax on monthly telephone bills will drop from its present two percent rate to one percent on January 1, 1982, according to the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia

The tax on local, toll and teletypwriter services will remain at the one percent rate until January 1985 when it will end.

Congress first imposed the excise tax on a limited basis during World War I. Although repealed briefly after the war, it was reinstated during the Depression and has continued since then on a more extensive basis. During the 1940's and 1950's the rate was as high as 15 percent on local telephone service and 25 percent on long distance service. From the mid-1950's until 1972 it was 10 percent on most services

Since 1973, the rate has been reduced annually by one percentage point. That policy would have eliminated the tax by 1983. However, this summer Congress extended it for two years Revenues from the phone tax extension will offset the cost of extending a separate, federal tax credit

Back Pain And Chiropractic

Every year well over six million people are troubled by back pain. Every year a growing number of these back pain sufferers seek help from a doctor of chiropractic

It really shouldn't be too surprising that so many people are finding that chiropractic gives them the fastest and the most effective relief from back pain. Your chiropractor is more intensively and thoroughly trained in spinal troubles than any other specialist in any of the healing arts To prove the point, a recent study compared similar subject matter taught in eighty five medical schools and eleven chiropractic colleges. It was learned from the study that the students at the chiropractic schools spent appreciably more time studying six important subjects, including anatomy and physiology, than their counterparts learning medicine with

One of the interesting benefits many have found when they become chiropractic patients for back troubles was that conditions other than pure and simple back problems also improved.

Once you understand the basic make up of the spine, you can easily see how this happens The spine consists of twenty six parts (vertebrae), twenty-four of which are moveable Running through "holes" in the vertebrae is the spinal cord, which is made up of many, many nerves whose job is to carry messages to and from the brain and various organs of the body

Modern life is filled with potential hazards to the spine—fall, bumps, twists. Suddenly those nerves that reach out from between the vertebrae aren't sending the proper messages to their assigned organs and a health problem other than the back develops And when the chiropractor restores the "offending" vertebrae to its proper place, the condition starts to improve

For back pains, a chiropractor is specially equipped to help you But don't be surprised if other health problems benefit, too

Rose Hill Homemakers Officers Christmas Luncheon Installation

The home of Col. and Mrs. Claude Davis was the site chosen for the Annual Christmas Luncheon of Rose Hill Homemakers on Friday, December 11, 1981, and nineteen members and one visitor, Reba Graham, Jonesville, were welcomed by the gracious hostess, Loraine Davis.

The house throughout was filled with festive decorations, music and laughter, and the aroma of home cooked foods. Before the bountiful and delicious food was served buffet style a beautiful table grace was given by Mrs. Charles Emmett.

At the end of the meal, Mrs. Willard Davis, president, directed an informative Christmas Program, beginning with Devotions by Mrs. Snyder Harris.

Mrs. Harris inspired the group with a story centering around the Christmas Orange and its early usefulness to an immigrant family in America at their first Christmas in this country, and for whom after making good in America - it is still a memorable event, in the home of his grandson For him, the orange is the symbol of gratitude for the year's blessings - including friends and for the Coming of Christ into the world.

The program continued with varied and traditional Christmas Customs that have come to us in America, and having intermingled, have become our own today. Mrs Davis was assisted by factual stories by Mrs. Snyder Harris, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Kathleen Carter and Mrs Van B. Grabeel.

After explanatory stories of Christmas Carols, the group was led in singing three favorite carols with autoharp music by Mrs. Oscar W. Smith. They were O Little Town of Bethlehem, Silent Night, and We Three Kings. The first was spoken of as one of the earliest carols of American origin to become popular among the people.

Mrs. Davis summarized the program in part by saying that is not a date, but a state of mind.

Bess Fugate then did an original and lovely Installation Service, and also presented gifts to the new officers, as follows: President, Mrs. Ocie McMellan; Vice President, Mrs. Marilyn Davis, Secretary, Mrs. Verna Grabeel, assistant, Mrs. Mollie Grabeel; Treasurer, Mrs. Minnie C. Smith; Reporter, Mrs. Viola Emmett, assistant, Miss Florence Bayless.

Mrs. McMellan graciously accepted her task for the year, and handed out copies of the program for January 1982, which will be a meeting with Bashie Kincaid, with co hostesses Bess Fugate and Lillie Fugate.

Lee County Garden Club

The December meeting of the Lee County Garden Club was held at the Village Inn, Dryden. A lovely Christmas luncheon was enjoyed by members and guests.

Mrs. Bob Gregory, president, presided and Mrs. John Lamingham gave a most meaningful devotional.

Mrs. Sam Bratton had a fine program on the religious meaning of Christmas and the trees and shrubs associated with the observance of Christmas.

Hostesses Mrs. Susan Gabriel and Mrs. Sam Bratton had lovely table decorations to suit the holiday occasion.

Intercepted Letter To Santa Claus

Dear Santa,

Many Christmases have been enjoyed since I wrote a letter to Santa.

The first I am sure I can remember was when I was five years old. Actually the only thing I can remember about it was seeing Santa dance up and down the aisles of the church to which my parents took us children. The smile on Santa's face repeats itself for me year after year.

That first Christmas Santa gave treats of big red apples, oranges, whole candy bars, and assorted nuts to all the children there. The apples and Brazil nuts were my favorites. I was tired and sleepy walking home in my warm, green snowsuit but I never forgot Santa.

The next Christmas I can recall may have been the very next year. My family had moved to a new house. I remember the vibrant colors Christmas afforded to an otherwise drab existence in the forties.

Of course we knew Santa couldn't get down the chimney of that house but our worries were alleviated when Christmas eve came and there Santa was ... climbing through the window ... and bringing in a big box of toys, the likes of which I never expect to see again.

I was so glad it snowed so Santa's sleigh could arrive. In fact, we had about three feet of the beautiful, fluffy white stuff. Snow holds a matchless fascination for me. Any hint of snow finds me peeking through the drapes. All day ... into the night ... I watch for the first feathery flakes to come floating down. Suddenly the stillness that usually precedes the beginning of a snowfall startles me from a fitful nap and I rush to the window. I see the snow glistening in the moonlight. I watch it cover the sleeping lawn. It heaps little mounds on fenceposts. Bushes turn into marshmallows. Serenity blankets the scene. I fall asleep, relaxed, secure ... watching the snow ...

A couple of years later my uncle and his family (including several children) spent the night before Christmas with us. I was aware of their concern and my parents' concern that there wasn't much for Christmas.

My family had moved again and our little four room house was crowded even for our family of eight. But that didn't matter. In fact, it was great. We snuggled, with our company, under the covers, six or more to a bed and talked, dreamed and watched the fireplace grow dim, barely able to cope with the anticipation and magic of this special night. The memory of our sharing the beautiful companionship only a family knows still mellows my heart.

On Christmas morning, we discovered Santa had been there. My little cousins had dolls and trucks and treats just like my brother and sisters and I did. My faith was renewed.

One year, during this time period, when I was about ten or twelve years old, Christmas came on Sunday. Going to church played an important role in the holiday season. We learned all the favorite songs, produced Christmas plays for our parents and all the neighborhood children and pets and never missed Sunday School. We were sent word that the church had caught fire and there would be no Sunday School that day. We were devastated. I can still remember the crisp air and crunchy snow as we trudged on a four mile hike to get our Christmas treat.

Times were hard and for us children to have an individual little brown paper bag filled with goodies that were ours alone ... well, the joy provided and the feeling of being special were indescribable. Needless to say, that has been my favorite treat down through the years.

I treasure some of my Christmas presents from childhood ... an amber colored glass powder dish shaped like a duck ... I have a doll, worn and tattered from play with my own children, who has lost her shoes but still wears the white ruffled dress with which she came.

The aromas of flowery bath powders and hand lotion are Christmasy smells for me. These were special occasion articles for a coal miner's family.

I don't remember making a list but every year I wanted a soft new doll with a blue dress and usually got one. The element of surprise was important and the words of a song were favorites — " .. bring for me, Dear Santa Claus, what you think is right..."

I enjoyed art and my teachers would let me draw Christmas scenes with colored chalk on the black boards at school. The black boards were real slate and years later when the school was demolished, I took a piece of the slate home for a souvenir.

Our first Christmas together, my husband and I set a precedent of decorating a tree, a habit that has gotten stronger through the years. Every year, some remains of that first Christmas adorn the crisp new tree. We've had 20 trees but one of them is more special than the others. It was given to us by my husband's brother at a time when we had small children and were struggling to get through school. We still have that beautiful silver tree with its shiny red balls.

As we approach this 1981 night before Christmas, the excitement of Santa's visit is no less for me. My thoughts include reminiscences of happy Christmases past and anticipation of the upcoming one.

For years after I was married, I always wanted to wait for Santa at my parents' house. And I still feel a little sad when we don't travel to be with them but my own children want to stay home. Perhaps this is testimony that they are enjoying some of the good experiences similar to those I had as a child.

But, Santa, after all, I remain a child at heart. A couple of things are on my list ... things like a box of chocolates and of course my brown bag treat ... and if you have any old diamonds laying around ... but, "..bring for me ... what you think is right ."

Your friend,
Louise, age 40

P.S. A self made Scrooge just handed me a little gift and wished me a Merry Christmas. Once again, my faith is renewed

What Christmas Means To Me

What Christmas Means To Me

I think Christmas is a time of joy, happiness, love, and celebration. Christmas celebrates a very important event in our lives. Christmas celebrates Jesues birth. And I think everyone should celebrate Christs birth. I love Christmas because we have a big Christmas dinner, and we open presents.

Christmas is a time that everyone should be loving and thankful. We should not only think of our friends and family on Christmas, but we should think of all the people in the world. Many people say they don't have anything to be thankful for on Christmas, but we do! We should be thankful that God gave his soul for ours. And we should be glad that we are not ill. We should pray for those who are ill, and help in any way we can. We should be glad that we have food to put on our tables, because so many of us do not, and if you are lonely, don't just sit around, make yourself useful. Help elderly people. Many elderly people do not drive, take them where they need to go. Help them get in wood or coal. So, if you are lonely, go and make yourself some new friends, and remember, you always have something to be thankful for.

A Little Child At Christmas

by Ken Perkins

Jesus says in Matthew 18:3, "unless we become like children, we will never enter the kingdom of heaven." There is more depth to this truth than we can understand. Jesus is not talking about acting like a spoiled brat, but rather a good child

Humility is the context in which verse 3 is set. The greatest act of humilty ever known is God becoming man in Jesus Christ. A child is humble, not trying to elevate themselves over parents, but rather being devoted and obedient to them

What child does not want to please its parents? Nothing makes a child feel better than to know what they have done is pleasing to their parents. This is especially true at Christmas Jesus wanted to please His Heavenly Father, even to His death on the cross. Think what could happen if all God's earthly children as were eager to please Him this much

A little child is trusting Trust is one of the foundation stones of the Christian faith A little child does not doubt what its father says, why should we doubt what our heavenly Father tells us through His Word, the Bible. The hymn writer expressed it so well with. "Trust and obey, for there's no other way, to be happy in Jesus, but to trust and obey." What a different world it would be if we followed these instructions.

A little child is full of enthusiasm and expectation at Christmas. It is often difficult for them to contain themselves. We need to escape from the dullness of "Churchianity" and move up to the joy of living in Christ and expecting great things from God and for God.

As we celebrate the birth of the Christ Child let us ask God to help us become like little children, that we might receive all He has for us and finally enter the kingdom of heaven

Dear Santa,
I want something special for Christmas. I want a radio F.M. A.M. radio, with the time and an alarm. Our main stereo is in the living room and I have to turn it sky hi to hear it from my room! There is some more things I want, like a pair of boots, money and other things.
Thank you,
Jennifer Clendenen

Dear Santa,
I would like for every one to be happy and healthy I would also like to have peace in the world. Could you also manage a tape recorder, a stereo, and my own T.V. I can't think of anything else.
Thank you,
Lisa DeBusk

Dear Santa,
How are you? I hope you are doing well. I have done my very best to be good
I would like for Christmas a watch, Rubik's cube, and a toy typewriter. For my sister, a Twelve-colored Lip Gloss kit. For my mother, a sapphire circle ring and a gold filled cobra bracelet. For my father, a Western style yarn dyed flannel shirt.
I hope very much that the poor children will get all that they need and that they get plenty of gifts.
Thank you,
Angie Carroll
P.S. Have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Dear Santa Claus,
I would like for you to bring me a Golden Dream Barbie, some clothes, a pair of boots, and a pair of sandels, a plastic notebook, a pair of tennis shoes. Santa Claus, my mother said I have been a good little girl. I will have cookies and milk for you. There is two stockings for you to put little things in.
Love, Melaine Warner

Dear Santa Claus,
I look forward to Christmas. This is the day Christ was born. This is the main reason we celebrate Christmas. I have been a very good boy and made some good grades on my report card.
Would you please bring me some gifts for Christmas? I would like a record player, magic set, a stop watch and a toss across game.
I will leave you cookies and milk.
Love, Shane Bonham

Dear Santa Claus,
I would like you to bring me a nerf ball, clothes, Western Barbie and cowboy boots.
My mom says that I have been a good girl this year.
I'll have cookies and milk for you.
Love, Teresa Creech

Dear Santa,
I don't care what you bring me for Christmas but there is one special thing I want. That is a Merlin. Are you writting down the names of the good and bad kids? I bet those elves are working hard so they can get done with it. Are you going to let the elves ride in your sleigh with you at Christmas? Is it cold up there in North Pole? It is cold down here. That is because it is almost Christmas and it is about time for it to snow again.
Your friend,
Kim Ridings

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa,
I haven't been very bad this year but I haven't been very good. But I don't know if I deserve any toys or not, it is up to you. If you decide to give me a few toys please bring me a 8 track cassett tape player. And bring me a camera. But if I deserve any more toys, please bring me a Barbie Dream Pool. And that is about all I want for Christmas, but there is still a few more things I want but I won't mention them, right now anyway. But thank you for all the other toys you have given me. Thank you for giving other boys and girls their toys too. But if it weren't for god you wouldn't be here to give us our toys.
Love, Michelle

Dear Santa,
How are you? I'm fine. The weather is cold here. Is it there? I live in a red house. What kind of house do you live? This year I would like to have a new bike for Christmas.
From,
Missy Hopkins

Dear Santa,

Bring my dad a new fur coat like mine. My lovely sister want a new bike. If you can't afford all these items, just make my family be happy on Christmas Don't forget, make all my cousins, uncles, aunts, grandfathers, and grandmothers happy, too. Oh! and Santa have a Merry Christmas from: Broch lane

Dear Santa,
I am always happy to hear from you every December 25. I never really have the time to write you, so now I am. It is always a pleasure to have you come down my chimney on Christmas Day. I never believe you will eat the cookies and milk I put out for you, but when I wake up Christmas, I see the cookies and milk I put out for you are all gone You leave me such good and fine toys to play with on Christmas This year I am going to leave you, a "hot" "hot" cup of coffee instead of cold chilling milk You need the hot coffee to warm you up in the cold wet snow Give Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixon, Comet, Cupid, Donder, Blitson and Rudolph a good word for me. Well, that's all I have to write until next Christmas, which will be on December 25 Good Bye, So long

Dear Santa,
Just a few lines to say hello. How are you and your wife getting alone? I'm getting alone just fine. I have been a very good girl this year. I also have been doing what my mom and dad told me to do. I have been going to Sunday School and Church every Sunday. I would like to have a table and chairs, a doll, and some dishes for Christmas. If I get up at Christmas and don't find anything under my tree don't worry about it Santa. just as long as I have my mom and dad and my brother. Santa, I will have everything that I need. I will close for now, Santa. I hope to see you very soon and I love you very much.
Love, Gretta Edgar

Dear Santa,
One reason I like Christmas is it is full of joy. We also celebrate Christ's birthday. There are many things I'd like to have but, I don't care what you bring me. My Father and Mother and brother are the greatest of all. I would like you to tell all the reindeers and elevs and special of all Mrs. Clause, hello.
Yours truly,
Marsha Mullins

Dear Santa,
I would like a tape recorder, a stero with speakers, some clothes, rings and necklaces. There is many things about Christmas I like. Christmas is for loveing, sharing and giveing to people. Some people don't know what Chistmas is. Sometimes people don't get anything. What I enjoyed is looking out the window and looking at the snow. It's a time of thanking God. Thanking God of what he made. I'm thankful for my teacher's, my family, my grandparents, my school and my friends.
Yours truely,
Denis Hines

Dear Santa,
Christmas is a time to come together, and it's a time for rejoicing. For Christmas I want many things, but the important thing to remember is that God put us on this earth to celebrate his son's birthday. Many people think about there presents and having fun, but we should think of Jesus. We can still have fun, but God wants us to think of how thankful they should be.
Your friend,
Eric

Dear Santa,
I enjoy Christmas very much. I would like to celebrate Jesus's birthday. Christmas is for loving and taking care of each other and for giving gifts. All I want is love.

What I Like About Christmas

On Christmas I like to sleigh ride, and open Christmas presents. When the first snow falls. I can't wait to go sleigh riding. I get my overalls on and I get my sled then I go to my papaws huge hill.

It's hard walking to the top of the hill, but it's all worth it once I get started down the hill

Once I ran in to the water trough at the bottom and fell in May mom was tempted to kill me. After I got through sleigh riding I went back to my house and decorated the Christmas tree

One year I fell over the Christmas tree and knock ed it over

On Christmas Eve my family and I go to my papaws and mamaws house to open presents. After we were done we all, go to my grandmother's house. Almost everyone in my family tree is there We open presents, shoot fireworks, and everyone has a wonderful time. Af ter we clean up at grand mother's house we take mamaw and papaw home. After we take them home we finally go home and open presents and that is what I like about Christ mas.

A Special Christmas

Christmas is a happy time. The joy of giving and of receiving means a lot to me. Christmas is a special time when the family gets together. You decorate the Christmas tree with tinsel and flashing lights. I snuggle up in a chair and read the story of the first Christmas in Bethlehem.

How happy Mary must have been to have God's child! When Mary was traveling, she must have felt tired and then happy to get to Bethlehem. She was probably the happiest wo man in the world. When the wise men came she must have felt proud to be the mother of a savior!

I put on my coat and go outside and play in the snow. Then I go inside my warm cozy house. Just knowing I have a loving family makes me feel bet ter.

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is the time when Jesus was born. Shepherds and Three Wise Men went to the stable where he lay.

Our family always goes out to where our Christ mas Trees are and get one of our many trees. We do that every year.

Dad goes up into our attic to get the ornaments to decorate the tree. We always put an angel, dressed in gold and white, on top of the tree. That's fun.

On Christmas Eve mom always says "You better get to bed or you won't find any Christmas presents in the morning under the tree for you.

That night before I went to bed I told myself quietly, "Now Debby set your alarm clock for five o'clock in the morning. So you can wake-up your sis ter and you two can go see what's in your stocking. Then go back to bed." So that's what I did.

The next morning when my parents got up they woke up my sister and me. Oh was I thrilled to see what I got!

But do you know what I like best about Christmas? I like Christmas because it is Jesus' birthday.

Christmas

On Christmas Day
I would say,
I can't wait till nine
To see what is mine,
After I found out
I would shout.
It's Christmas night
What a beautiful sight!!

The Little Brown Mouse

One Christmas Eve. There sat a brown mouse under a tree.

He wanted to see Santa Claus. Although it would probably turn out false.

He waited till twelve o'clock. Waiting for Santa to come down with a plop

All of a sudden a pre sent fell on his foot. Down came Santa covered with soot.

Santa didn't notice the little brown mouse. Watching him scamper all over the house

Santa scattered pre sents all under the tree

The little brown mouse he did not see

He tossed a present unaware of the little mouse with brown hair.

The little mouse peeped over a bed. The present hit him on the head.

The mouse lay there an hour or so, finally Santa had to go.

As soon as the little brown mouse woke up, he heard a tremendous hic cup.

He looked around and sitting there was a little elf with black hair.

The little mouse at first was afraid, but another hiccup the elf made.

He laughed and laugh ed till he could laugh no more. The little elf the mouse did adore.

So he invited him in to stay, but the elf had to go away

The little elf hated to go, even though he loved the snow.

So he waved as he flew out of sight, to all a good Christmas and to all a good night.

What Christmas Is About

Christmas is a time for joy and a time to exchange each others love. It is a time to celebrate the birth of Christ. It is a time to share your thoughts

Christmas is a time to give and receive love and affection and tokens of your appreciation. It is a time to be with your family and friends. I think that Christmas is the best time of the year. I hope you feel the same way The End.

Christmas

I like Christmas be cause Jesus was born on Christmas day. Christmas is when Jesus was born. I need underweard to wear I hope that Jesus didn't take my uncle Fred. Be cause I loved him so much that I could cry when he got shot. But thats all right with me because I feel better. It was last year My daddy is in North Caro lina. I hope they will let him out. I want to see him for Christmas because I love him

"Why I Enjoy Christmas"

One of my favorite things to do at Christmas is going hunting.

I'll be walking through the woods kicking the snow off my feet as I go, just hoping a rabbit or squirrel or maybe a bird or something will jump out of brush pile or a bunch of weeds.

When a dog makes a point, I get nervous, and I want a rabbit to run out or a bird will fly up so I can shoot at it.

After we have been out all day and it starts getting dark, we take the dogs back to the truck, and go home

On the way home we talk or brag how we shot the birds, rabbits, or what ever we shot at earher

Then I go to sleep and sleep the rest of the way home

When I get home I complain about my aching feet and legs, before we eat supper.

We talk some more about how the day was, and make up excuses on why we missed.

After that I go to bed and go again the next morning.

What Does "Christmas" Mean?

To me Christmas means several things. The main one is that Christmas day is for celebrating the birth of Jesus.

If not for that, there might not have been a Christmas day, and then all of us would not have a reason for a tree and presents.

There is also the joy and excitment of the day. The beautiful decoration and all smiling faces.

This day also being family members, of whom I've not seen in awhile. I like that most of all. I especially like going shopping when the snow is falling and choosing gifts for those on my list. The store's are usually decorated and alot of them play Christmas music. Ever now and then I look out my window, I can see a deer running through the field of covered snow. This makes me smile to see and realize Christmas is near. I see passing cars and realize that some where out there someone will lose a life and love ones this Christmas season and tears come into my eyes.

Dinner is always enjoyable to, with turkey or ham, all kinds of vegetables and of course there is dessert, one for everyone's tastes.

There's also a variety of fruits, candies and nuts around the house to enjoy. If there is snow, there alway the Christmas snow man to build. This we all enjoy doing. Our toes and noes don't care much for this than. It's a pleasure to look at all of the beautiful decorated houses and trees Christmas day is very sad when darkness came and our guests have left but I have meomeries have each passing Christmas.

The most terrific thing about Christmas is getting a vacation from school

What Christmas Means To Me

What does "Christmas" mean? or Why do we celebrate "Christmas"?

Has anyone ever asked you one of these questions? What did you tell them?" Some children usually say to give gifts Other say to celebrate Santa's birthday Or to have a celebration for Santa's first visit Others just say to have a celebration. Do you know why we celebrate Christmas? Some children say Christmas means "jolly" Or some say it means "gift time" All questions are answered here. Once there was a virgin of Nazareth named Mary who was to have the son of God. She was to marry a poor carpenter named Joseph. There was to be a great census taken, ordered the Roman Emperor. So Joseph had to go to his father's house. They started on their way to the city of David, called Bethlehem. The journey was to be long.

When they reached Bethlehem, the inns were full. For it was crowded there. But one innkeeper saw Mary was with child. His inn was also filled But behind the inn was a stable. With donkeys, cows, sheep, horses, and a manger. The child was layed in a manger. There the child, savior, Christ, Jesus was born. So these questions are answered. What does "Christmas" mean? The Christ Jesus' birth. Why do we celebrate "Christmas"? We celebrate Jesus' birthday.

Christmas

December 25, is when we celebrate Christmas Christmas is the time of the year when love is the strongest, because it's the day we celebrate Jesus' birthday.

Before Christmas we hang decorations, put up trees, and go shopping so, we can by gifts for our family and friends. They go shopping also to by gifts for us.

On Christmas day I go to my grandma's house At my grandma's house we open gifts and have dinner My aunts and uncles and cousins go there too We go sleigh riding and our dads go hunting

I get excited when Christmas comes because I can play with the toys and things I get

On Christmas at my grandma's the girls usually get clothes or Barbie dolls The boys get trucks and clothes too Last Christmas we got sleeping bags, trucks and Barbie dolls

After Christmas it usally snow so we can still go sleigh riding We also go hiking on the mountains sometimes before or after Christmas while snow is still on the ground It's a lot of fun watching the birds and squirrels and rabbits

Having a Christmas celebration at Grandma's is really fun

The Bear Who Went To Seek Christmas

There once was a bear named Todd. On one foggy day in December there was a bear who worked in a honey factory. Once the bell rung for all of the bears to go home for it was time to quit until the next morning. Well Todd went to sleep before the bell had rung. There was a lever you could pull or push. Well Todd was clumsy and when you pulled the lever the honey would come and go in to jars to sell. Well todd pulled the lever when he fell asleep. And all of the honey flooded the building. The boss said to Todd "you are fired!" Todd was so sad. The next day he heard about Christmas. So he set out to find Christmas when all of the other bears slept. When he came to a little town and asked all of the people, they laughed. Well he was never going to quit 'sking for Christmas. It w the night befor Christmas and Todd was so sleepy. It was about 3:30 in the morning Well Todd ran into a man. He was big and fat with a red suit on. Todd asked him if he could help him find Christmas but first he said, "What is your name little fellow?" Todd," he said Todd said, "What is yours?" "Well, my name is Santa Claus," he said. I will help you find Christmas. Todd was so happy and sleepy Santa took him to a little girls house who wanted a little teddy bear for Christmas. Todd saw the Christmas tree and laid down to go to sleep. Well five hours later he woke up in a little girls arms and fell in love And Todd lived in love and lived happly ever after

Christmas Story

Christmas is the time for happiness and joy, but there is another thing that has to do with Christmas This thing is what started Christmas

Long, long ago on their way to Bethlehem A man and a woman named Joseph and Mary were traveling on the road to Bethlehem

Mary, Josephs wife, was with child

Joseph we have to get a room, said Mary "My wife, I will find us a room" said Joseph

So Joseph found a hotel and went in to ask for a room

I am sorry good man, but we have no rooms said the hotel man

But my wife is with child' Oh well I have a stable you can use

So Joseph took Mary into the stable The stable had horses, cows, and hay Joseph built Mary a bed of hay

Not far from the stables shepards were tending their flock of sheep when suddenly a large star appeared!

Why did that beautiful star suddenly appear?

Then there was a funny light then a angel appeared

I am Gabriel , an angel of God I bring you good tidings , go to the stables and behold a joyful sight!

But how do we get to the stables?

Follow the star

Then the funny light was agian there and the angel was gone

The shepard followed the star to the stables, and when they got there people was crowded into the stables, but the shepards seen what everyone was looking at for in a cradle made of hay laid a baby!

The baby was a boy named Jesus Jesus was the son of God

Jesus was also the thing people forgot about. So let's not forget about him this Christmas!

When Baby Jesus Was Born

By Connie Lee Smyth

Far away in the town of Bethlemem a child was born

One day Mary was sitting in her house then a big angel came down from heaven and said to Mary, "you shall have a child and he shall be called Jesus." Mary was so happy that she ran out and told Joseph. "Joseph was her husband." He was happy that Mary was to have a baby. One day Joseph came home and said to Mary, "Mary I must go to Bethlehem to pay our taxes." You stay here and I will go. But Mary said to Joseph "Joseph you are my husband and I will go too." So they began there long trip to Bethlehem. They got tired and stopped at a inn and Joseph said we would like a place to stay but the innkeeper said, "We don't have anymore rooms but we do have a stable so they went and that night baby Jesus was born!

The Busy Little Elves

It was two days before Christmas and the elves was very busy. They were working very Hard to make the boy's and girl's Toys for Christmas. Santa was out fixing the reindeers and getting them ready for the long trip. Well all the little elves were wrapping presents and putting them in santas bag. The next morning they put the bag full of toys on the sleigh and hooked up Santa's Reindeers to the sleigh and then Santa got in the sleigh and called the Reindeers name and away they went. Up in the air they went up past the moon and house to house with the presents and put them under the tree and went up the Chimney and got in the sleigh and went on to the next house and when he was done you could here him say Have A Marry Christmas and a Happy New Year

The Woman Who Found Christmas

There was a woman who didn't know about Christmas. Then she went to a little town. She heard people laughing and singing and dancing She went to see what it was They were shouting Merry Christmas. She thought what is Christmas. She went to ask When she asked they stopped and said, "you don't know about Christmas." So they told her it was when Jesus was born, it's were you give presents too. Then she knew and joined in with them

The Little Girl's Christmas

The Little Girl's Christmas

Becky was a little girl who lived in an orphanage. She was eight years old, blond hair and blue eyes.

Becky knew it was getting close to Christmas because tomorrow would be Christmas Eve. When Santa came on Christmas Eve, he would ask her what she wanted. She always said, "I want to be adopted." But he always just looked at her.

The next day some people came to the orphanage and the wanted a little girl. When they saw Becky they wanted her instead of the other girls. Then they asked the orphange if they could arrange for them to adopt.

That night Becky got the surprise of her life, she was really adopted. She said, "This is the best Christmas present I ever got."

What Christmas Means To Me

Jesus The Christ Is Born

Jesus the Christ is born. Ye mighty kings of earth. Give thanks now everyone. Befor the manger bed. Regoice ye great ones and ye small. Cast down cast down your golden crown. Gods will it hath been done. From off your royal head. For in this lowly guise the son of doth sleep.

One might I hear something come down my chimey. An one Christmas I open one of my present Christmas even.

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is the day we all celebrate by giving presents to one another. We have a nice dinner on Christmas for the whole family. There's also a Christmas tree, holly, mistletoe, etc. But hardly anyone celebrates it for what it is really meant to be celebrated.

To me Christmas means the birth of Christ. The night Mary had him in the stable cause there wasn't enough room for them in the inn. The presents we get are a symbol of the treasures the wisemen gave Jesus when he was born. Christmas is also the day for sharing, loving, and giving not just recieving.

Everyone has a birth day and I believe Christmas is Christ's birthday. We don't know exactly when Christ was born so we sat aside the 25th in honor of his birth

There's a song called "If Every Day Was Like Christmas." And thats exactly how I feel. If everyday could be like Christmas this would be a wonderful world. There would be no more fighting, hating, wars, and other bad things such as that. It would be absolutely fantastic.

Angel's Christmas

Snow filled the air and covered the ground as a twelve year old girl named Angel was thinking about a present for her little sister Betty for Christmas but she hasn't got enough money for the toy she wants She has been worring all week. She has got to find a job. Angel knows that it would break Bettys heart if she wakes up Christmas morning and there's nothing in her stocking.

Angel decided that she would ask Mr. Johnson, her landlord if she could help him. He was a very mean person. Finally he said yes. Poor Angel had to clean his floor every day after school Sometimes he would make her do the floor twice before she would get her pay. At the end of the month Angel had saved enough for the little doll that her sister wanted so much. She told Mr. Johnson that she had enough money and couldn't work the next day.

Since this was her last day he made her work twice as hard

The next day Angel went to the toy store and bought the doll. They wrapped it for her. That night Angel put the toy in her sisters stocking

On Christmas Betty ran to her stocking How happy she was when she saw the doll. Her Christmas was a jolly one. Angel felt good inside for what she had done for her little sister. Angel's stocking had some small things in it too but the look on her little sister's face was the best Christmas present that Angel had ever gotten. Angel found out that it is better to give a gift than it is to receive one

Things I Like About Christmas

First of all I got out of school for two whole weeks. During this time I have lots of things to do to get ready for Santa. I must get my letter ready for Santa and visit him at one of the stores in our town so he will know what I want. When I see him he always gives me a ring and candy cane.

Next thing I have to do is help my mom make decorations for our Christmas tree. We always try to make some new decorations each year. I really like to make things to go on our tree.

After we get trough with making our decorations we clean up our house and put our tree up. I really love the smell of the tree and the glow of the decorations.

On Christmas Eve we always visit my Grand mother .

She always cooks a good supper for us and has lots of candy, nuts and other good things to eat. She doesn't have much money, but she always gets a little gift for everyone in our family because she loves us so much.

After we leave Grand mother's house we go home and go straight to bed. Santa has always been good to me and brought everything I have ever ask him to bring me.

On Christmas morning when I wake up I see what Santa has brought I am so happy that we have Christmas

I love Santa, but the real meaning of Christmas is that Christ the Son of God came to earth that we could have life and enjoy Hohdays such as Christmas

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is a holiday that you should celebrate because it was when Christ was born. And we all should be thankful for that. Because Christ gave his life for us, and everyone should be thankful

Christmas is a beautiful holiday. Because we have a big dinner and open presents, and have a wonderful time. I think that no one should be alone at Christmas. They should have their loved ones or friends with them and celebrate together.

They are many people in nursing homes who have no family. A visit or a gift to them would be thoughtful. We should be thankful for anything we receive, and rember it is the thought that counts. Merry Christmas, everyone

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas means being with my family, loving and giving things to people

You see my dad and Christ were born on Christmas and I feel very special about them. Because Christ is my savior an my dad is my dad

Sometimes when I am sleigh riding, I just sit on my sleigh and think about my family and life. If it weren't for Christ we would not be here or maybe not even have the world

This is how I feel about Christmas. I hope you feel the same way Christmas. Christ, families, and love are something special.

What Christmas Is To Me

It does not mean Santa to me it means Jesus was born that day. He came to die for you and me so we could live with him in heaven. Remember on Christmas all the things Jesus has done for you.

And don't forget it is his birthday so why don't you give him the gift of going to church or reading your Bible. So stop and think what does Christmas mean to me"

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is the time of year when everyone seems to remember the good things of life, like joy, peace, and good will towards their fellow man.

Christmas is also the time of year when we remember the birth of Jesus Christ, who was born in a manger in Bethelem.

Christmas is also the time of year when we think of others. We show our love by giving gifts to one another.

Christmas means the love that God had for man by giving him his only begotten son Jesus.

Twas The Night Before Christmas

Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house not a soul was stiring, not even a rich mouse

The stockings were hung by the thermostat with care in hope that Santa soon would be there. When all of the sudden there came such a clatter my butler spray out of bed to see what was the matter

Out on my drive sat a red Ferari, and at the wheel sat a fat little man, with a red nose.

As soon as we saw him we knew it was St. Nick.

I rushed to my door to let him in, and with a grin, I asked, "What happened to the tiny reindeer Santa?"

"Well, Dasher the boldest and also the oldest can't dash a way like he used to, and Dancer just can't dance. Rudolf has a cold, and his nose doesn't work as well as it should.

The rest since they're so old can't stand the cold."

So Santa went on and fitted the stockings and left saying,

"Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night."

Dear Santa,
What I would enjoy the most for Christmas is to be with my family and rela tives. To get little gifts is very nice but I would rather be with my family. Even so I would also want a Christmas tree to watch while sitting at the dinner table .All my friends say it's no fun without pre sents but I don't believe it. Christmas is a time for giving in many different kinds of ways. That's what I would enjoy for Christ mas
Merry Christmas
By: Dana Harvel
Age 10

Dear Santa,
Christmas is my favor ite holiday. I like Christ mas because of giving and receiving presents, Christs birthday and peace on the Earth. I am thankful for being with my family on this joyouse occasion. Some thing I love to do when it is snowing is to take my Alaskan Huskey for walks, roast chestnuts, decorate the tree, have snowball fights, and sleigh ride down a mountain top. I enjoy a lot of reading and writing this time of year. These things make me enjoy Chirstmas.
Yours truly,

Dear Santa,
I wrote a little some thing for you. The name of it is "What Christmas means to me". Christmas means to me not just opening presents but to celebrate it because it is Christs birthday, not just getting from other people, but giving things, too. Christmas is a time for love, happiness, and a time for family's to come to gether. A time to give praise to god.
Yours truley,
David S. Hester
P.S. I like you Santa Claus!!!

What Christmas Means To Me

What Christmas Is To Me

Christmas is a happy time when people get together, and celebrate Christ's birthday. People also exchange gifts, and show love to one another. I like Christmas because it is a special time, when I get to visit my Freinds, and relatives, and share our happy times together. Christmas makes me feel good inside, and it makes me feel happy, and cheerful.

A Christmas tree is something special that also makes Christmas come to life. It shows color and it makes things seem like Christmas is really there.

Presents are nice too, they help express my feelings toward other people, and they also bring happiness to children, and parents. Christmas would not be complete without presents to make everything seem bright, and beautiful.

But the most important thing about Christmas is Christ's birthday.

"Lisa Littrell"

What Christmas Means To Me

There are many different things that go along with Christmas like: Christmas tree, mistletoe, Christmas stocking, Christmas lights, and the Christmas star.

Many people just think of presents, toys and clothes, but that is not all there is to Christmas. They should think of Christ. After all it is Christ's birthday.

It is fun going Christmas shopping for other people. Putting the Christmas tree up, and decorating is fun, too. Waiting for the presents and trying to guess at them is fun.

But just remember the real meaning of Christmas and that it is Christs birthday. That is the real meaning of Christmas to me.

Beth Peters

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas means to me: presents, candy, relatives coming, a merry fire in the fireplace, a good meal in the kitchen with someone to share with.

But most of all Christmas means Jesus was born in Bethlehem so many years ago that some don't know the story of the wise men and the shepherds going to the small stable behind the crowded inn where Jesus lay in the manger with all the animals gathered around the manger Jesus used as a crib.

Jesus didn't get toys as we do on Christmas. What Jesus got was gold, frankincense and myrrh.

Lee Sharp

What Christmas Means To Me

To me, Christmas is a very busy and enjoyable time of the year. I help decorate at home and at church. We sing Christmas cards and read stories about the birth of Jesus. We send Christmas cards, wrap gifts and tie pretty ribbons on them. We fix fruit baskets and deliver them to all the sick and shut-in people. I get the Christmas tree and help trim it.

Christmas means to me that all the family will be together for a few days to visit with each other and exchange gifts, play games and enjoy one of grandmothers delicious Christmas dinners. Its fun to watch the little tots when they get up to see what Santa has left for them. To me Christmas means a time to be happy and joyful and love one another.

By Tracy Snodgrass

Christmas

Christmas is a very special time of year. Its a time when you can be with your family and friends. But thats not all. Christ our Savior was born on this day. People are kind of guilty for forgetting that it is Christ's birthday. Afterall, where do we get the word CHRISTmas? Christmas is fun if you know the real meaning of it. It would be hard to enjoy Christmas if you didn't know the meaning. It really is fun getting all of those neat things like new clothes, toys, and eating all of that good food, but just remember, we wouldn't have Christmas without the birth of Christ our Lord.

Kelli Mangus

What Christmas Is To Me

Like every boy and girl in the world, When Christmas is mentioned, I think of all the good things, like presents, shopping, and putting up the Christmas tree with my mother and brother.

What I enjoy most about Christmas is being with my family during this special holiday. First we go to our Church play. Then my family all get together for eating, singing carols, and reading Christmas stories from the bible. Later on my brother and I hang our stockings and go to bed. We can hardly sleep because were so axious to see what we have under the Christmas tree in the morning

But out of all this I have always thought about when Christ our Lord was born on Christmas day. He must have been very great and wonderful, because after almost too thousand years, people are still celebrating his birth. We celebrate many birthdays, but none with as much enthusiasm as we celebrate Jesus our Lord's.

This is what Christmas means to me

Santa Mouse

Christine was worried. She had never heard of Santa Mouse. Everyone always told her about Santa Clause and Santa Squirrel. But she had never heard of Santa Mouse.

"Patience, it takes patience. Santa Mouse will come. Just wait, he will be here this Christmas. I promise you," said Moma Mouse.

"Oh, Moma. Let's face it, there isn't a Santa Mouse. "Christine said sorrowfully.

"On Christmas Eve Santa Mouse goes around giving all little mice gifts. He came last year and I'm sure he'll come again this year," replied moma mouse.

But moma why didn't I see him?" Christine asked.

"He only comes when you're asleep. And also only if you've been good all year." moma mouse said softly.

"Do you think he'll come here?" she asked excitedly.

"Of course he will. You've been one of the best girls in the whole world. And your brother Mark has been good, too. I'm very proud of you." moma mouse replied.

Christmas Day

Early the next morning Christine awoke. Immediately she got up and ran down stairs to her surprise Santa Mouse had been there and left the most beautiful gifts in the whole world.

"Oh moma, if only he were here. If only I could thank him, she exclaimed.

And to her surprise when she turned around there he stood. "Oh Santa, it's just what I always wanted, a bike and a kitten. Oh thank you. Thank you so much!" she thanked him.

"Your welcome. Now do you believe in Santa Mouse?" he asked.

"I sure do."

And ever since then, each year Santa Mouse has been to see Christine and all the other little mice.

Christmas - Prophecy & Hope

by Rev. Meg Taylor

Christmas is a tradition al holiday celebrated by Christian peoples around the world Though the customs vary widely, the birth of Jesus is the original reason why we have Christmas. To that, man has added Santa Claus and gift exchanging Some times these additions become the main reason we celebrate Christmas. But behind the commercialization of Christmas, lies the fact of "Jesus" birth: a historical fact which had been predicted centuries before His arrival. The old Testament is full of these prophecies, especially in the books of the prophets, such as Isaiah

But just as the Bible predicted Christ's birth, His first advent, so also does God's word predict Christ's second advent, or second coming. His first coming was to show us what God was like, ultimate love made known to man by way of His teachings His example, and in the sacrifice of His life. The timing of the Lord's second coming will be at time we know not. This second coming will be a joyful event for Christians, but it will be a tragic happening for those who haven't acknowledged the purpose of His first coming, because it will signify judgement from a rightous Lord At this Christmas season, let's celebrate His first coming, but at the same time, prepare ourselves for His certain return

Twin Christmas Trees

Pennington Gap Municipal Park has two nicely decorated Christmas trees. The trees were decorated by the Ladies Auxiliary, Pennington Gap Rescue Squad.

The Message Of Christmas

by C.C. Mize, Minister

Christmas is a mystery! According to Webster, A mystery is, "a profound secret, something wholly unknown or something kept contiouly concealed, and exciting curiosity or wonder hence, something as a religious truth, fact, beyond human comprehension, a sacred and mysterious thing."

Almost two thousand years ago, when the angels appeared to the wondering shepherds as they kept watch over their sheep in the lonely fields near Bethlehem the Celestrial Chorus sang that glorious song of old," "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." This was the beginning of our indescribable religious festival, Christmas. In our time all over the world, this holiday is celebrated in various ways and under such names as Kenst mssg in Holland, Noel in France, Natale in Italy Weihnachten in Germany, and El Natal in Spain

When Emperior Constantine established Christianity as the state religion of the Roman Empire, the persecution of the Christians came to an end. At first Christ's birthday was not observed by his followers, for the Chruch fathers did not want this sacred occasion put on a level with pagan carnivals

In the early centuries of the christian era the exact date of the nativity was not known. However, by the third century some had been observing the event on varying dates January 6, February 2, March 25, April 19, May 20 and November 17 (It must be remembered at this period in history there were five different systems of reckoning time.)

According to St. Chrysostom, at the request of St Cyril of Jerusalem, JULIVS I Pope or Bishop of Rome from A D 337 to 352 made an investigation into the matter of the date In AD 350, December 25 was set as the most probable time The feast of the nativity was first observed on December 25 at Rome, most likely in A.D 353 and from that date the custom spread eastward

It significant in A.D. 440 the Pope at Jerusalem also accepted this ruling as did most of the other Christians, except the ARMENIANS, who still observes Christmas on January 6

In A D. 521 in England, when King Arthur celebrated his victory in retaking York Christmas was first observed as a holiday

During the Middle ages, Christmas was England's most popular holiday with everyone from the king to beggars taking part

The puritans came into power under Oliver Cromwell when the Civil War broke out in 1642, their ministers preached against Christmas observance as a heathen practice

History records as soon as the puritans felt secure in the position, Parliament passed an act forbidding the celebration of Christ's nativity and other religious festivals including Easter "Everyone was ordered to go on with his work as usual shops were to stay open on Christmas Day and no one was allowed to light Christmas candles or to eat holiday cakes In many places on Christmas Eve the town criers went around and called loudly so that all might hear, "No Christmas! No Christmas!"

The first Christmas on the bleak New England shore must have been a gloomy experience in that the puritans brought this hatred with them for such festivities Governor Broadford reported in his diary that on "Ye the 25th day began to erect Ye first house for comone use to receive them and their goods."

The following year, 1621, the governor again insisted that work be continued as usual and permitted no religious observance

In 1659, because of the strong feeling toward holiday joys the pilgrams passed the following law:

"Whosever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas and the like, either by far bearing labor, feasting, or any other way upon such account as aforesaid, every such person so offending shall pay for each offense five shillings as fine to the country."

The law was repleaed in 1681 In 1686 Governor Andros conducted a service in Boston Town Hall and this is believed to have been the first legal Christmas in the colony "However the holiday did not become lawful in Massachusetts until 1856, and New England did not enter wholeheartedly into Christmas celebrations until late in the nineteenth century."

The central message of Christmas is not joy without a Saviour but joy about a Saviour that is the deep joy that can be ours at Christmas, a joy which is more than mirth and gaity

The first Christmas greeting was a call to joy, not to mere merriment For you see it was God our Heavenly Father, who called from heaven and said, "I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people, for unto you is born this day in the City of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord."

Christmas for 1981 is not a little baby named Jesus lying in a cold manager in Bethlehem. Rather it is Jesus the Christ, our risen living Lord, the Savior of the world, the Son of God Christmas is love, it is light, it is life, and it is Spirit getting people together Barriers are broken down, families are reunited, friendships are renewed, correspondence is reestablished, differences are adjusted It is the recognition and the receiving of God's Gift into all mankind. Thus, repeated by we exclaim Merry Christmas, because it reopens the springs of genuine joy

To You

If I could do whate'er I want to do, to make complete your gladsome Christmas Day, I would not bring a single thing to you, But I would come and take some things away, I'd take away all trouble from your heart, Each pain and sorrow I would have relieved; and every word that caused a single smart, and every hour through which you sadly grieved. I'd have them all be gone forever gone forgotten, take things that cannot be; and then each hour would be a joyful one, for only good things would be left, you see. Now that is what I'd really like to do If I could do the things I wish for you.

The Giving Of Gifts

St. Charles Circuit

Christmas...The giving of gifts is usually the first thought we have when we hear the word "Christmas". Can there be something to this practice after all? John 3:16 says, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

We celebrate the birth of our Saviour, truly, as the greatest gift ever given to sinful man. A gift of God's wonderful and extravagant grace. This expression of our loving God does go beyond our understanding but is received by many, through faith, as a loving gift from our Heavenly Father.

Jesus was quick to continue this practice of giving by always giving of Himself. In Acts 20:35, we are told that Jesus said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." We don't have any record of where or when Jesus said this but we do have a record of His life which testifies to the truth of these words. Jesus wants everyone to know that the sustaining force behind every loving relationship must be one of divine "giving."

Divine giving, by far, surpasses the commercial aspect of giving we find present in Christmas today. Am I saying, "take away the childrens' toys and the practice of giving a gift to a loved one?" Certainly not! If that is the meaning you get from reading these few words, then I have failed. Every year I spend considerable time searching for gifts for my wife and children to express my love, but it always comes down to the fact that the giving of myself and the love my Heavenly Father has placed in me (by the indwelling of His Holy Spirit) is the greatest gift I can give to them.

We share with one another the knowledge of God's greatest gift, the Christ Child His birth was the beginning of our salvation which was accomplished by Jesus dying on the cross, being buried, and then resurrected to ascend back to His Father's Throne and "by his blood he entered in once into the holy place having obtained eternal redemption for us." Praise God! Lets celebrate, lets worship, lets give, but let it all be done in a way that will bring glory to God. To our Blessed Lord!

Rev. 4:11 "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

This Christmas lets honor our creator by giving God pleasure in our love to one another. Then all men will know that we are His disciples. John 13:35

On behalf of the St. Charles Circuit of the United Methodist Chruch I want to extend to you an invitation to join us in our celebration of the birth of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus

What Christmas Means To Me

Don And The Three Kittens

Once there were three kittens. Their mother died when they were born. They had barely survived but a little child found them. The childs name was Don. Don took care of the kittens. Don found the kittens three dys before Christmas.

Those three days passed slowly but when Christmas finally came everyone was happy, even the kittens. Don got 5 presents, 6 if you want to count the kittens. He got a football game, a rubics cube, a B-B gun, a watch and a shirt. The kittens got little balls to play with. One was green, one was red, and one was blue and they all squeaked.

Don had to go to the store the next day to get some milk and bread. While he was there he also got some B-B's and some Kitty Chow and Kitty Bowl. The kittens loved the kitty chow.

One day when Don was watching the kittens eat. Don's mom pulled him aside and said, "Don, one of the kittens has got to go."

"Why Mommy?" asked Don.

"Because they're getting too much to feed," she said.

"But Mommy, I'm buying all they need with my allowance. They're so cute I just can't give one up!" Don pleaded.

"Yes, I know that you can't save any money for other things, like the World's Fair," she replied.

"I have some money left over and I saved it. I have $8.00 even," he said.

"You do?! "Why didn't you tell me, I guess they can stay."

"Oh, thank you, Mom my!" he said happily.

So when the World's Fair finally came Don still had the kittens. He also had saved up to $50.78. Don only spent $15.58. So he could get a lot of things for the kittens.

Don had the kittens many, many more Christmases. When the last kitten died he went out and got him three more kittens and his Mom said: "Oh, no!" So it started all over again.

A Beaker Christmas

It all started at muppet labs. There Dr. Bunson Honeydu and his assistance Beaker are working on a way to recycle Christmas paper.

"Hello, I'm Dr. Bunson Honeydu here at muppet lab. Here my assistants Beaker and I are working on recycling Christmas paper. Now Beaker will put in the old Christmas paper. I will now turn on the machine."

"Oh no," Beaker saying in his strange way.

"Beaker, Beaker, where are you?"

"Help, Help!"

"Beaker, what in the world are you doing in the machine? Now look what you've done! You've turned yourself into Christmas paper. But have no fear because I'm here with my trusty back to normal gun. Just pull the trigger."

Yap!

"There you go, Beaker. You're back to normal."

Fozzie the Bear enters the room.

"Hi ya, Hi ya, Hi ya," Fozzie saying excited by.

"Oh, hi Fozzie.

"Where's Beaker, Dr. Honeydu?"

"Oh, he's outside getting a breath of fresh air."

"Well, anyhow Kermit wanted me to come over and ask you all if you wanted to come to the muppets' Christmas party?"

"I would like to, Fozzie, but I'm going home with Beaker to meet his parents."

"Beaker, are you packed and ready to go yet?"

"Yes, I'm coming."

So Beaker and Dr. Honeydu are in their car driving down the road singing songs and talkung. They drive for two hours. Finally they get there.

"Mommy, Daddy, I'm home," Beaker shouted loudly.

"Oh son, how have you been?" I've ...

"Oh son, who's your new friend?" His mother asks.

"Allow me to introduce myself. I am Dr. Bunson Honeydu, scientist at muppet labs."

"Oh, Beaker has told me alot about you. Beaker, come in and open your presents."

"Gee, Dr. Honeydu, look what I got "a Rubiks cube." Oh I almost forgot - here Dr. Honeydu for you."

"Gee, Beaker, just what I needed A McDonalds' gift certificate."

So they all gathered around and sang Christmas carols and listened to the story of baby Jesus.

The Orphans' Christmas

Once there were four orphans that lived in a shack. It was close to Christmas Eve and before then, they hoped that they could get parents.

The biggest kid was Tommy. He was ten. He went out to find a Christmas pine. Tina, Jerry and Scarlet went out to find old Christmas decorations. They looked everywhere even in the trash cans, and didn't find anything, except a little plastic angel.

They were very sad, for they told Tommy they would find lots of decorations to put on the tree.

When Tommy got back to the shack he saw that the children didn't have any luck. "Well," said Tommy. I know you did your best, and I did my best. We don't need a tree, decorations or even presents. All we need are parents to love and care for us.

Suddenly the orphan hunters' dogs came rushing through the door. The children ran out. They ran and ran.

Finally they came up to an apartment building.

Their noses were red as fire, their cheeks were rosy pink.

They ran in, but the dogs were still on their trail. They ran in the nearest door they could find. They closed the door as fast as they could.

They saw a sleeping bag, they jumped in to hide excitedly they fell asleep. The next day a woman and man came in their apartment. They saw the kids. The kids saw them and became frightened. The woman said, don't be scared we mean you no harm. Where are your parents? Then she looked down and saw their clothes, they were torn and ragged. She stood up and whispered in her husbands ear. Honey we always wanted children. Now we got them, let's keep them for our own Christmas came for the children and their parents were happy. And they lived happily ever after.

The Christmas Donkey

One December night far, far away, a little long eared donkey was born. He was like any ordinary donkey, except his ears were long. They were too feet long! They were the longest ears I ever saw, but that donkey was smart for his age He knew he needed love, food and warmth.

Every night his mother would keep him warm and safe. Until one spring night his mother died. The poor donkey cried and cried.

The next morning an angel appeared. The angel said "Come follow me. The Lord wants you to have a part in something special."

The little donkey said "Yes".

He followed the angel. They had a fun time while they went to a Gallean Village

It was a long trip. In fact it took a whole year.

When they got there the place was empty. The donkey stayed there anyway.

The next night some people came. They said that they needed a donkey for Mary to ride because she was about to have a baby.

The donkey went with them. When they got to Bethleham. The Inn was full, Mary and Joseph had to stay in the stable.

All the animals laughed at the donkey because of his ears.

Mary called for Joseph saying "It's time for the baby."

Jesus was born. The long eared donkey went up to him Jesus touched the donkey by mistake and his ears shrank to regular size.

The little donkey said "You really are the Son of God and the king of the earth!"

The little donkey grew up with Jesus and lived happily ever after.

What Christmas Means To Me

It means hearing and singing beautiful Christmas carols

It means going out and getting a tree. Pretting it up with beads, pretty bulbs, and sparkling lights and beautiful shiny snow flaks. And most special of all is putting a beautiful star on top

To me its going to church and thanking god for another beautiful Christmas

The thing that puts me in a Christmas mood is making beautiful decorations and hearing the nice chime of bells ringing

The most important thing about Christmas is getting to see all of your loved ones after all of this time. Then we all sit around the tree and open our presents. Best thing 'about it is seeing the glitter of love in everyones eyes Also seeing the little ones open their gifts.

The thing I don't like about it all. Its trying to tell everyone that you don't have to have snow to have beautiful Christmas.

May you and your family have a very merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Also May God Bless you always.

Thats What Christmas Means To Me.

The Mice's Christmas

Once there were four mice that lived in a chest in the Brown's attic. There were Henry the father, Betty the mother, George their olest son, and Junior the youngest. They were opening their presents on Christmas Eve. Then when they had opened all their presents they ate dinner and went to bed. They sat out the milk and cookies first. That night when Santa came he filled their stockings, ate their milk and cookies. Then he climbed up the chimney and got in his sled. Then he rode away in his sled. Before he left he yelled, "Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night."

The next morning we went to see what Santa gave us. Everybody got what they wanted. Dad got a new shotgun, mom got a new dress and we got everything we wanted. We all lived happily ever after.

What Christmas Is To Me?

Christmas means the children playing with presents and the adults sharing joy and comfort, but the most important reason I love it so much is because Christ our Savior was born.

Christ was born on Christmas day and was put in a straw manger. Wise men and shephards came to praise him. They did not give Him toys but gave Him gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

Many people forget what Christmas means but I always take at least fifeteen minutes to thank God for all he has done for me.

Christmas is sometimes thought of as a gift giving holiday but nobody ever thinks of giving Jesus Christ a present. All He wants you to do is read your bible and pray to Him and give thanks that He has let you live for another day.

Joseph And Mary

Once Joseph and Mary were traveling down an old city and Mary was about to have a baby. Joseph was worried. They did not have a place to go. But then Josph saw an old house. An old man came out and he asked, What do want"? Joseph said ... "Could ... could we have a room? The man said, Sorry we're out of rooms. I'm very sorry. You could stay in that old shack" "Were most grate ful for you, thank you very muck. "Oh" "Oh" "Oh" said Mary, I'm haveing a baby"! Then the next morning had had the baby and had named it Jesus the sun of God

Jesus had grown to a great poriful man. He created many miracals and many people now love God. We should be thankful for Jesus. Now when we pass away we meat God. Then that is judgementday. God has the book of life in his arms. God tells you if you go heaven or where satan lives. You will become one of his angles. If you go to heaven you will become one of Gods angles. The End

What Christmas Means To Me

It means that Jesus was born on that day. It is a special holiday. On Christmas Day everybody gets up and opens their gifts. Then after they do that they have a big feast. Last they gather around the Christmas tree and sing Christmas carols. Christmas is my favorite holiday.

We also have fun on Christmas day at school. At school we draw names then on the day of our Christmas vaction we exchange the gifts to open. And last we have a Christmas party. Christmas is alot of fun. This is what it means to me.

What Christmas Means To Me

It's the day that hope and joy and love were put into one man.

Christmas can be looked at either on the side of Santa or Jesus. Jesus makes us look back to what we can look upon and be thankful what happened on that special day.

The Santa side, is a man dressed in red that comes down the chimney bringing toys to all girls and boys. The mention of Santa's name can make a twinkle in the eye of a small child. But also the mention of Jesus can put a twinkle in the eye of a Christian, on that special day called Christmas.

The Christmas Rabbit

There once was a rabbit named Henery. He wanted to give Christmas presents to all children in his neighborhood. But there was a mean man who wanted the childred to do with out presents for Christmas. But the Rabbit was going to do something about it. He was going to get the children some prsents before he quit. But how was the probelm. So on the day before Christmas the Rabbit was upatsun up and thinking as he wrapped Christmas prsents, and he thought of something. But he didn't know if it would work. So that day he put the presents in a car. So the next morning he dressed as Santa Clause and went out giving presents to boys and girls. And the mean man didn't do anything about it. And he never found out who the man was in the suit.

Don't Be Disappointed

We all want a lot for Christmas. But back in the older days they didn't have much. An apple, an orange, a stick of peppermint candy was about all they got. If they were lucky they got a cap buster or a rag doll. They were very happy with what they got. Today we get dolls, games, bikes, clothing and thousands of other things. Even with that we aren't satisfied. When you aren't, with this you might say this. "They dont love me," "They don't care" and much more. You should be satisfied. You are being selfish when you do this. Don't be disapointed if you don't get all of what you want. There is always next Christmas.

The Town That Didn't Know About Christmas

Long long ago there was a town that did not know about Christmas. Every day they went along doing the things they always did. Then one day a woman came to the town. She was singing. When a man came up to her and said, "Why are you singing?" The woman stared and said, "Because it is Christmas." "What is Christmas?" the man shouted! When the man shouted! the whole town came to see what was wrong. The women asked "Doesn't anyone here know about Christmas?" "No," everyone shouted! Sit down and I will tell all about Christmas. Every one sat down and the woman began to talk. She said that Christmas was when Jesus was born. Then a man asked, "Who is Jesus?" Jesus is the son of God. God told Mary she would have a son and she would call him Jesus. On December 25 Jesus was born. Now on December 25 we celebrate a holiday called Christmas. On Christmas we buy gifts for our family and friends. We set up a Christmas tree and decorate it with colorful balls and different colored lights. We put the presents we buy under the trees. We all gather somewhere and have a Christmas feast. But I have to be going. They might be someother town who don't know about Christmas. Bye." Quick we have to start Christmas shopping."

What Is Christmas?

Have you wondered what is Christmas, well I'm going to tell you. It was a very cold day and a couple was traveling, to Bethlehem in Jerusalem. Mary and Joseph was a couple of young people. Mary was a pretty woman and Joseph was a handsome man Mary was riding on the donkey's back and Joseph was leading him. Mary was going to have a baby, they came to Bethlehem to have the baby. Mary ask Joseph how much longer will it be tell we get there He said a couple more miles. So they traveled on then finally they got there. It was a small town and a quiet place to settle. They ask a man who owned a place, if they could rent a room to sleep but the man said sorry sir but their all rented. Joseph looked at Mary who was sorry, too He said all I have is a stable so Joseph said fine. So they settled in the stable where sheeps, pigs, cows, horses, and donkeys stayed. Mary soon had a baby and it was a baby boy. Joseph was so happy. Mary named him Jesus. He layed his sweet head down on the hay as everyone looked at him. Mary loved her little boy. He was born on Christmas Eve. Every Christmas Eve Night we always see the star in the sky. It was there on the night Christ was born. So there you heard about What is Christmas.

Merry Christmas
to everyone.

A Christmas Story

Chirstmas is the nice day. You can't wait to open all the presents that you got. You go to bed on Chirstmas Eve and you can't sleep. Then you wake up on Chirstmas morning Then you run to the Chirstmas tree and find all of the presents that you got and you run to ask your mom if you can open your presents and she said you go and wake up your brother Then you can open your presents. So you run to wake up your brother Then he wakes up and you level. Then you run to open your presents.

Everybody's Busy But Santa

Everybody was busy on Christmas Eve but Santa The elves were busy making toys. Mrs Santa was baking cookies and making candy All Santa was doing reading letters from children. He never had a chance to test any of the toys. So when it was time to deliver toys to children's houses Santa was sad When he came to the door Mrs. Santa whispered something in his ear The elves saw him chuckling to himself as he walked to the sliegh. When he came to the last house he played with all the toys. He sent the play airplane buzzing around the Christmas tree. He built a house with the blocks. He sent the electric train around it's track. When he finshed testing all the toys he went back home to Mrs. Santa an told her all about the toys.

"The First Christmas"

It was night before Christmas when all through the house not a creature was stirring not even a mouse. I went to bed. Along in the night I heard a noise on the roof top. I rushed to the window. I opend the window. I saw St. Nickolas on the rooftop. He came down the chimley and he was dirty. Luckily, I had the fire out. I told him the children's lists. Then he putled out some present for the children. The next morning the children openend their presents, and they got the mess all over the floor. Then they danced and sing. Then I made them help me clean up the house. The End

Christmas Morning For The Thomas Family

On Chritmas morning the thomas woke up and saw a man standing there with a red coat on with black suit on it. And he had a bag full of toys for for all the little girls and boys. He had red cheeks, a big round belly shiverd like jello when he laughed and when he walked. The man saw us and he looked at the fireplace and snapped his fingers and in a cloud of suit he was gone so we ran down the stairs to open the toys.

A Surprising Christmas

One cold and dark Christmas when children were sleeping and thier parents were too. With a great click and a clatter everyone rushed to see what's the matter Right before thier eyes was dear old St. Nicolice. He had eight tiny reindeer's with him. Now those people never beleived in a Santa Clause or you or I belive in one. But they looked at him in astonashiment he asked them what was the matter, with this he pulled out stockings filled to the top and presents for the children and thier parents. And with a twitch of his nose he was gone but the things were still there

The Christmas Story

One day before Christmas Eve a little girl, named Suzanna was writing a letter to Santa There was one thing she really wanted very badly, a cute little kitten. Her father had kept saying that he would get her one, but he hadn't, as she remembered him saying. "Yes Suzanna I'll get you a kitten this Summer," tears fell from her eyes. Whenher letter was finished she put it in an envelope and asked her father if he would mail it, he said he would after supper. Then mother called, "Dinner is ready."

When everybody was finished, and the dishes were washed, Suzanna and her father went out to mail the letter. When they came in mother said it was time for bed. Suzanna just couldn't sleep that night, but if she dozed off she would dream about all the kittens that she had ever seen. The next morning Suzanna opened all the presents that she could find, hoping to find a cute little fluff kitten. But she didn't. At last she found a big box, hoping to find a little kitten in it. she opened it. And a kitten popped out. She named it Samantha. They lived happily together.

Why I Like Christmas

I like Christmas because it is the day we celebrate the birth of Jesus. I also like Christmas because we get to see our kinfolks and friends we haven't seen for a long time I like the vacation from school. I also like the gifts we get. I also like the cookies, candy and all the goodies fixed for the holidays

Yours truly,

What Christmas Means To Me

Once upon a time Santa Claus was working in his shop on Christmas. His elves were working hard. One of his elves name was Droopy. He was making a doll, but he was crying because he forgot the hair. She was bald. His name was Forgetfull. Santa was looking for Rudolph when he saw. He went to see what time it was. It was 9:00! he shouted. He lined up. He got in and away he went at 11:00 he got at my house. I saw him and I sceamed. Mommy came running and the Christmas tree collapsed, and so did mom when she saw him. My dad came and Santa said "Ho! 'Ho! Ho!" I showed him my list and got it for me. It said: doll house, doll, cholk board, puppy, kitten, teddy bear, clock, coat and best of all.

I'm going to give somebody something. I'm going to give Jesus love becoase Jesus gave me life. Jesus loves me. Merry Christmas.

What Christmas Means To Me

The First Christmas Night

'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the town, everyone was hurrying and moving around.

A donkey was plodding through the street, with a clip-clop sound coming from his feet. A man was leading the beast, with a woman on its back. They had not been able to find a room; But maybe a stable, a stable at least!

So a stable was found in no time at all, and the donkey settled himself into a stall.

So it came to pass that this night would bring, to our world a Savior and King!

Angels greeted Him, Shepherds lowed to Him, On that cold dark night in Bethlehem.

Now to hail the coming of the Divine little boy, God placed a star in the sky, Which helped us to share in everyone's joy.

Then there were Wise Men from afar, who saw the baby's shining star.

They came to see Him, bringing Gold, Frankincense, and Myrrh, to the little King of Bethlehem.

A Christmas Poem

Christmas day is almost here; Santa is coming with his deer.

Everyone can hear a merry sound; Santa jumps with his belly round;

Santa always thinks of me; Mom and Dad are getting a tree;

I know about Santa and his decorations, But Jesus birthday is the real celebration:

Santa will come to call "Merry Christmas to all!"

A Christmas Story

Once apon a time, long long ago in the forest there was a great great big cottage. There were all kinds of little animals. And beside the animals was a Christmas tree. They were decorating it. No one new who lived in the cottage. All they new was that there was little people. But the animals new everyone who lived in it. The little people were called elves and Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus in the kitchen cooking treats and goodies. She was cooking it for kids on Christmas. It was Christmas Eve and Santa was getting ready to leave. And after he had went to every house. He shouted Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night.

Sharing Love

Sharing Love

What is Christmas? It is a time to share Love and gifts. Christ was born to save us from our sins. We give gifts and Love on Christmas Day Jesus Loves us. Hear are some things we do: Love, Go to churches, give Love, pray and think of others. Most of all we love Jesus. The End.

Santa Claus

When Santa Claus comes to your house he slides down your chimney and says ho! ho!. And gives you your presents. When he is through he puts his finger to the side of his nose and goes back to North Pole. ho! ho!.

When Santa Came To Mamaws

When Santa came to mamaws, we were opening gifts and then we hird a big knock. I ran to my mommy and mamaw opened the door. There stood Santa and he said, "Ho ho ho." He sat down and ask us to sit on his lap. I did and plaied ride on the horsey. he gave us a candy bar and asked us if we wanted to see the deer. Then he changed his mid and said that they might bite.

"What Christmas Means To Me"

Christmas is a time of joy and good cheer. It's a time to celebrate Christ's birth, by coming together and loving everyone.

Christmas is a very important day. It is the day Jesus Christ was born, and without him there would be no true love in the world. We should celebrate his birth by showing that we love him, and everyone else.

We usually show people we love them by giving them gifts. It's not the size, but the thought that counts.

Christmas, to me, is a day for caring, loving, and spreading good cheer and joy throughout the world.

By: Debbie Mullins

The Christmas Tree's Christmas

"I wonder if anybody will buy me to put me in their living room," thought Chris the Christmas Tree.

Just then an old lady hobbled up to Chris. "I wonder if she'll buy me," Chris wondered.

She heard the lady mutter, "Too Tall," and then she walked away.

Then a mean looking woman walked up to Chris. "To short," she stated, and walked away.

Then a little boy and girl came near. They yelled "Over hear, Mom, we want this tree."

Their mom walked over she said, "You children made a good choice. This tree is perfect. Let's take it home and decorate it."

"At last my dream is coming true," said Chris.

Jolly Old Santa

Outside, the pines glitter with snow, and the animals, at home, are sleeping low. The quiet snow, falls softly and white, and the stars up above, twinkle at the night.

The cold crisp air and December snow, makes the warmth of the stars glimmer and glow.

But at the North Pole is a fellow at work, and Mrs. Claus is trying on his red suit with a jerk.

He yells "Oh!" Ho! Ho! I've put on some weight." Mrs. Claus pats his stomach and says, "Will your sleigh hold all that freight?"

Santa laughs again, with a jolly old laugh, and then with a whistle calls for his staff. Soon, little elves, dressed in red and in green, with tinkling bells and faces a-gleam, run around bumbing and knocking in dream.

They finally fall in line with a jingle, and Santa says "It's almost time!" Which makes them all tingle.

The moonlight shines on the brightly and as he fades gives a wave lightly, Mrs. Claus says, "We will miss him and he will miss us." And in the distance she heard a jolly: Merry Christmas!

Santa Claus

One snowy day, in a town far away, a curious little boy, said to his mother with a pause. "Mommy is there a Santa Claus? Yes, dear, there is a Santa.

Even though he's not living dear old Santa is the spirit of giving.

For he is a part of everyones heart.

But Momma, the kids at school think Santa is silly as I said before Santa is a part of everyones heart. Don't think he's silly because that's not smart.

Santa is living and he'll live forever as long as you have a heart.

What Christmas Means To Me

My Christmas Story

It was a cold December 24 (as it should be), and all of the young household was writing letters to Santa Claus. When they were finished, they asked for the address of the North Pole. Their parents said, "Just address it to the North Pole, and Santa will get it."

It was very cold, and so they lit candles, and built a fire. After supper, and then some hot chocolate, it was time for bed. They didn't put the fire out. After a while, their parents went to bed. They still didn't put the fire out.

After everyone was asleep, Charlie, one of the kid's brothers, woke up and said. "I just remembered that when Santa comes down the chimney he will land on the fire, and burn the toys!"

So, as quietly as they could, they went to the well to get some water to put the fire out with. They put out the fire, and everything got cold.

Their parents thought it was a robber, and captured them. They found out who it was, and laughed. Then they heard something on the roof. They never knew who it was, but they had an idea!

Christmas Story

One night a donkey traveled with two people, Joseph and Mary, who's child was soon to be born. They lived in Nazareth when a census was made by the Roman Emperor. Joseph was a member of the royal line, so he had to go to Bethlehem.

When they got to Bethlehem, everything was overcrowded. It was so overcrowded, people were sleeping in the kitchen! They went to an inn. The innkeeper said "We have no room, but we have little room in the stable." So they went into the stable for the night. Then a wonderful thing happened. Mary gave birth to a boy. They named it Jesus.

Outside Bethlehem, sheperds tended the sheep. Then a bright light gleamed in the night. An angel came down from heaven. The sheperds were afraid. But the angel said "Fear not, for I give you great news. A savior. Jesus was just born in Bethlehem."

Far in the east, a bright star was moving. Three kings was following the star. It led them to a city. The kings asked "Where is the newborn king of the Jews? For we saw his star."

The emperor didn't like it, so he would kill every child under two. A vision came to Joseph to go to Egypt. They went to Egypt. After four years another vision came to Joseph telling him to go home. So they went back to Nazareth to live a happy life.

On a freezing night when the snow is on the trees. As you know it's Christmas Eve. Christmas means a lot more than getting gifts or eating all the good foods, it means Christ was born in a manger in Bethlehem. He only had a bed of hay but that was alright for him. His mother was Mary and father was Joseph. The Wisemen saw a star that they thought would lead them to baby Jesus. And it did! They brought him Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh. Jesus Christ Our LORD

Do you know why we get gifts on Christmas day? A long, long, long, time ago. Jesus was born. His parents were: Mary and Joseph. They had to travel all the way to Bethleham because they had to pay taxes to Caeser the king.

Some shepherds were taking care of their sheep. Then they saw angels. They were so scared. I guess their shepherd hats flew off. The angel said.

"For unto you is born a ... savior" Later before he knew it Jesus was preaching. He helped the sick people Later he met a rich young man. The Bible says he was ruler and owner of many cattle. He said, "Jesus how can I get to heaven. Jesus replied. "If you want to go to heaven then give all your money away to the poor." The rich young ruler looked away sadly and went away. Jesus said; It is easier for a camel to get through a needle eye than a rich man to get to heaven. Later he died on the cross to save us from our sins. So that is how Christmas really got started All because Jesus. The End.

What Christmas Is Like To Me

What I like to do best on Christmas is open presents decorate the tree, and sleigh ride.

When my daddy has to work late, I go to the barn, feed the dogs, put up the ponies, and put in hay for them. I do all that work so my daddy won't have to do it when he comes in from work.

When I go sleigh riding I build a ramp. When I get through building that ramp I have a very good time. Then I go into the house and warm up.

One year I got so cold there were icicles in my hair. Mommy said, "Good Lord what's in your hair?

I said, "It's icicles."

On Christmas Day we all go to my mamaw's house and eat Turkey. After we eat we will open presents. Then we will go back to my house and open presents under our own tree. After I open my presents, I play with them.

After Christmas is over we take down the tree and put the decorations back where they belong. Then we do the same thing over the next year. That's what I like best about Christmas.

When Jesus Was Born

Along time ago in Bethlehem, a babby, boy was born. His name was Jesus. He was born on Christmas. It's Daddys name was Joseph. It's mothers name was Mary. Then about 21 years Jesus went to peoples houses getting them to pray. He was born to save peoples souls God made Jesus for us. When you go to church when you die, you will go to Heaven. When you die make sure you go to Heaven. I love Jesus do you? Dont be bad to people. If you love Jesus give presents to people. When Jesus was born the angels went to the shepherds and told them what has happened. Thy went with the angels and prayed for him.

Christmas

No one really knows when Christ was born, but, Christmas is celebrated on December 25. The word Christmas comes from the early English phrase Christes Masse, which means Christ's Mass.

Matthew, an apostle, tells how the Three Wise Men, called the Magi, followed the bright star until it led them to Jesus. The Wise Men gave Jesus gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

Remember Christmas is celebrated because of Christ's birthday. It's not just for presents, christmas trees, candy, and good food. So next time you open presents, eat candy and food, just remember that Christ our Savior was born

A Christmas To Remember

There was girl named Libiea. She always loved Christmas. But this Christmas thought it wasn't going to be fun. Do you know why? Because it hadn't snowed. She thought it was going to be destroyed without snow. She loved snow there wasn't any. She looked out her window waiting for it to snow. She kept looking for a long time. She was wondering why it hadn't snowed it was way past winter. As the nights went by know snow had never follen. It was getting very close to Christmas.

Well the next night was Christmas Eve. She was so disapointed. On that night. Some friends came over they had a good time but not Lebbria. After a will she looked out the window. Still know snow. Soon it came bedtime, and she went to bed. She had a dream that it snowed. When she woke up the next morning, she ran to the window. And on the ground she saw a blanket of snow. And it was still snowing. Her dream had come true. And she said. This is a Christmas to remember.

Christmas is a wonderful holiday. I say. It is better to give at Christmas than to recieve. You and your family are supposed to celebrate Christmas Christmas is when Christ was born in Bethlehem. And that's another thing that most people don't know about

I know where Jesus was born and when he was born. Christmas is a time to be thankful to others. You're supposed to worship Jesus on Christmas Day because it is his birth day.

Jesus was born in a manger that his mother used as a bed

He didn't have only toys for Christmas. But got gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

True Meaning Of Christmas

I think the true meaning of Christmas is celebrating the birth of Christ and giving thanks to him It's not how many presents you get on Christmas because Christmas is a time to be happy and a time to worship. Christ died for our sins so we could at least celebrate his birthday and go to church.

Linda Ingram

True Meaning Of Christmas

To me Christmas is being with friends and family, to celebrate the birth of Christ, but Christmas is not to celebrate gifts, but Christ the Savior, for he was born on the very day, and when you celebrate, Don't foreget the True meaning.

What Christmas Means To Me

"The Stable Boy"

Once long ago in a town called Bethlehem a disease was making people ill. Almost a whole family was killed, all but a ten year old boy. For he now had one arm that hung useless and a crippled leg. He went to an inn to ask the keeper for scraps. Everyone just laughed at him. He said I'll prove I can work. He worked all night. At dawn the king rode to town to say that rent and taxes must .be payed. The inn was crowded with people, the boy saw a man and woman from which a child shall be born. The boy said there is no more rooms. I sleep only in a stable but you are welcome there. They went to the shed for she was about to deliver and did. The boy found a feed box and made it soft with straw, and said lay the child in the manger, a knock sounded at the door. It was the wise men and shepherds. Are you the boy who works for the inn keeper? Yes. We heard you were crippled, but why now are you not? The End.

Christmas Magic

There was a family who lived far back in Virginia. This family was very poor. The only money they ever got was when they found some on the street. Christmas was coming up and the mother and father didn't know what they were going to do.

MOTHER: "Oh Joe, the children are so unhappy. They would give anything just to find one toy under the Christmas tree on Christmas day."

FATHER: "I know Rebecca but all we can afford is our food."

MOTHER: "I know! But we've got to get something for them!

ABBY: "Mom! Dad! Guess what I found on the front step!

FATHER AND MOTHER: What Abby! What did you find!

ABBY: $50.00 dollars!

The Girl That Wanted The Cat

There once was a girl that wonted a cat. When Christmas came she opened all her presents. But she could not find a cat. Then she looked in her stocking and she found her cat. Then she hugged, petted, and played with it. Then she hugged her mommy and daddy. The she started playing with it again. She would not play with her other toys she got for Christmas. She would always play with the cat. One day she and her cat went for walk. The cat ran away. She went home to get her father to help look for it. When she got back home the cat was a sleep on the couch. She picked up and put it in it's bed. The End.

What I Think Of Christmas

What I think of Christmas, it is a time for children to be happy. It is also Christ's birthday. It also reminds me of Jesus died on the cross for us. Jesus wants us to believe in Him. He once layed in a manger wrapped in swadd ling cloths in a crib in an old barn. This is God's son so believe in Him always and you will be happy.

Melissia Hensley

A Christmas Story

For Christmas is to receive and to give and to love. But what about Bethleham where Jesus was born but we can not forget that day. But when we get our presents thank God for them. (For god so loved loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have ever lasting life. John 3:16) And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard go forth, and are choke with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. But that on good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience. Luke 8:14-15.

Christmas Story

By Patricia Rines
Grade 10

The old man in the corner raised in hand in the air and waved to me. He said, "come, I will tell you a story. Sit in this chair." He asked me my name, and if I was glad that Christmas was near.

I told him who I was, and yes, I was glad, and asked what kind of story would I hear. He said, "This is the story of Christmas. It goes like this:

God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth in Gallee. There, he was to tell the virgin Mary, espoused to Joseph, that she would bear the son of God, Lord and Savior to be. The angel told her to call his name Jesus. Later, Mary and Joseph had to go into a town called Bethlehem to pay a tax. Mary's baby was ready to be born, but every inn turned them down. There was no room in the city for them. But one innkeeper offered them his stable fresh laid with hay. There, Mary's baby was born. She wrapped him in cloth and put him in a manger to lay."

The old man asked me if I knew these things. I told him that I did, but I always loved to hear it. He said, "Yes, it's a wonderful story to us all," and took a puff off the pipe he's lit.

"If it weren't for Him," he said, "There would be no Christmas for you and me. There'd be no Santa Claus, no presents, and there'd certainly be no Christmas tree. So, when you go home tonight, my son, and sing the carols so soft and mild, Remember why Christmas even exists 'Tis the marvelous birth of the Christ Child!"

The End

What Christmas Means

What Christmas Means
Christmas means giving and loving. It means caring. JESUS was born in BETHLAHAM on DECEMBER 25. In a manger in a stable. The Shepherds were in the field watching their sheep and the Angels coming from the sky and told them. And the Wise men followed a star and took presents to the new born baby named JESUS. The End.

By Timmy Earl Littrell

"Why I Enjoy Christmas"

I enjoy Christmas because Christ was born on that day and because we give and receive gifts. During that time kids, teenagers and parents stay home for about two weeks to celebrate Christmas. I like to sit around the tree looking at the presents and thinking of what could be inside. But when my relatives come I jump for joy and then I run outside to greet them and then we all go into the house and get a cup of hot cocoa and sit and talk. The kids go play in the snow with their sleighs. Afterwards the kids comes inside and they take off their wet clothes and lay them by the fire to dry. Then we all play monoply until dinner is ready. Then we eat and go to sleep so Santa Claus and his 8 reindeers can come and bring us good little boys and girls toys and gifts we wanted for Christmas.

Christmas

Christmas is a time to rejoice for it is Christ the Lords birthday. Christ was born in Bethleham over 2,000 years ago. God sent down angels to tell some shepherds that our saviour was born.

He showed three wisemen where baby Jesus was by a very bright star in the sky. The three wisemen followed the star to Bethleham and gave baby Jesus some presents gold, frankincence, and myrrh. Jesus was born to save us from sin. God also sent Jesus because he loves us so much. If he was alive today he would love us just the same.

Tree Farmers Wanted

By Clark Boyer, County Forester

The nation's demand for wood products is expected to double between now and the year 2030. Unless private landowners become more interested in mananging existing woodlands or plant more trees, it will be impossible to meet future demands. Presently in Virginia nineteen counties are cutting more pine sawtimber than is being grown. It is projected that planting of pine in Virginia will need to be increased by 19,000 acres per year to meet future demands.

There is a Reforestation of Timberlands program that will reimburse landowners in Virginia for up to 75% of the total cost of preparing and planting their land in pines. This program is available on a limited funds basis. Anyone interested should contact their local Virginia Division of Forestry representative.

The Division of Forestry also offers many services to help private landowners in the management of existing woodlands. A forester will examine your woodlands and develop a management plan free of charge. Among other services offered are insect and disease examinations, advice on timber sales, timber marking, and log road layout. Most services are free of charge.

Landowners having ten or more acres on which they are interested in following a management plan for the production of continuous forest products may qualify for enrollment in the American Tree Farm System. There now are over 41,000 Tree Farmers in the United States, but few of these are in the local area. Managed forests not only provide income through the sale of wood; they are more pleasing to the eye, offer improved wildlife habitat, and provide better recreation.

If you are interested in planting trees, managing your woodlands, or becoming a Tree Farmer; contact the Virginia Division of Forestry in Abingdon at 628-2791 or in Big Stone Gap at 523-0903. A professional forester will be glad to help you.

Poinsettia Is Lovely — And Safe

One myth of the Christmas season is about the poinsettia -- the Christmas plant. The myth is that it is poisonous.

But like other myths, it is not true. Poinsettias do not appear to be poisonous, said Paul L. Smeal, Virginia Tech Extension horticulturist. That doesn't mean anyone should eat the plants, he said.

"But based on many studies, the poinsettia appears unlikely to induce systemic toxicity," the specialist said.

He reported a study by researchers at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa., one of the latest in a series of studies on plant toxicity.

The researchers said, "The inadvertent mishandling of the poinsettia plant does not appear to present a danger at the levels of eye and buccal cavity." The buccal cavity is the cheeks or mouth cavity. In the study, laboratory rats were fed the leaves of the plant and substances from the plants were tested on the eyes of laboratory animals. No damage appeared.

"It is estimated that a child weighing 50 pounds would have to ingest approximately 1.25 pounds of the poinsettia (550 to 600 leaves) to surpass the above experimental dose," the report said.

These and so many other studies based on procedures required under the Federal Hazardous Substance Act regulations should have long ago put to rest all the myths surrounding nature's loveliest gift for Yuletide," said Smeal, a faculty member in Tech's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

The bride elect is a 1979 graduate of LMU (Lincoln Memorial University) and is presently employed at Lonesome Pine Hospital in Big Stone Gap, Va.

The bridegroom elect is a 1981 graduate of LMU and is presently employed by his father in Jonesville.

Immediately following the wedding the reception will be held at the Fellowship Hall of the Calvary Baptist Church. All family and friends are invited to attend.

Give Health And Safety Items

Dr. G.C. Honeycutt, Jr. of the Lee County Health Department suggests giving presents this holiday season that will pay health and safety dividends throughout the new year.

"There are a lot of gift items available that provide exercise and aid in the maintenance of health and safety in the home as well as the car," said Dr. Honeycutt.

For exercise and health maintenance consider giving YMCA and health club memberships. They are perfect for an entire family or a single member. A gift of aerobic dance lessons also provides healthful exercise. For those seriously interested in keeping fit, exercise equipment such as a stationary bike, jump rope or other muscle toning devices are good gifts. A bike for getting around town and country provides good exercise and saves expensive fuel. For the jogger, jogging equipment including shoes, shorts, rain suits, and reflective gear for night jogging are ideal choices. For the walker, a pedometer makes reading distance easy. Of course, any sports equipment tennis racket, golf club, bowling ball, would be prized by the receiver interested in a particular sport.

"And don't forget other health areas where excellent gifts are available," said Dr. Honeycutt. There are a number of good cookbooks in print containing low calorie recipes. Also, membership in a fruit of the month club provides good nutrition year round. And many self help books on personal health maintenance and grooming are available.

Safety, particularly around the home, is a constant need for the entire family. Safety gifts may not be very exciting or glamorous, but they are no less welcomed," said Dr. Honeycutt. Available gifts include smoke alarms, fire screens for the fireplaces, non skid rugs for the stairs and halls, and non skid strips, or decals, for the tub. If there are elderly members in the family, a railing by the tub, and non skid strips on the steps provide security.

Dr. Honeycutt stated that safety equipment in the car is crucial. "If you have a small child, you absolutely must have a child auto safety seat or mechanical restraint," he said.

"A Highway Safety Research Institute study of 53,640 accidents involving injury or death to children revealed the victim was without benefit of a safety seat or restraint. What better gift can you buy for the new baby than a safety seat," asked Dr. Honeycutt. Also, automobiles should have a flashlight, jumper cable, a blanket, flares and a first aid kit.

"If you need stocking stuffers," said Dr. Honeycutt, "there are those personal items such as a toothbrush, tooth paste, dental floss and other grooming necessities."

Cumberland Chapter OES Annual Christmas Dinner

Cumberland Chapter No. 170, Order of the Eastern Star, enjoyed a delicious and bountiful "pot luck" Christmas Dinner in the Recreation Room of Masonic Hall on Saturday evening, December 12th. The hall was beautifully decorated with ever greens, candles, and other ornaments of the Christmas Season, by Bashie Kincaid, Drucilla Hensley and Marilyn Davis.

Before partaking of the buffet dinner, members and guests were welcomed by Worthy Matron, Mary Stickley. Guests of the Chapter introduced were Ruth Reasor. Assistant Lecturer, Dryden, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coughlin of Big Stone Gap, all members of the Big Stone Gap Chapter, No. 157.

Also, John Lanningham, Past Grand Master of Masons of Virginia, and Mrs. Lanngham, both members of Powell Valley Chapter No. 13, Pennington Gap, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rowlett of Rose Hill.

Members and their spouses or other family members attending were Sheriff R.V. Chadwell and Mrs. Chadwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Seale, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Susong, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bray, Col. and Mrs. Claude Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sutphin, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Smith, Mrs. Ralph Campbell and Dwight Campbell, Mrs. Jerry Hounshell, Mrs. C. M. Lawson, Mary Stickley, Bashie Kincaid, Mrs. Betty Brooks, Mrs. Elizabeth Breeding, and Mrs. Selma Shackleford.

Following the delicious dinner, a unique program was presented by Mrs. John Seale of Christmas Customs of Many Lands. She was assisted by Mrs. Emma Campbell, Mrs. Judy Hounshell, Mrs. Beulah Bray, Miss Bashie Kincaid and Mrs. Elizabeth Breeding, and Mrs. Betty Brooks. Christmas Carols were sung by the group ending with "White Christmas."

The program was followed by recreation of fun games and competition, directed by Mrs. Marilyn Davis, which ended in a game of choosing gifts.

Fuel Assistance Funds Available

More than one-third of the funds available to assist low income families with their fuel bills this winter has been committed, according to the Virginia Department of Welfare. As of December 3, 1981, $7.8 million has been set aside to assist needy families with fuel deliveries.

The $7.8 million represents 37.3 percent of the state's total allocation of $20.9 million for direct assistance to families in need. Of the $7.8 million committed to assist applicants seeking help during the first five weeks of the program's operation, $1.9 million has already been paid-out to cover existing fuel bills.

The Low Income Energy Assistance Block Grant is expected to provide $27.4 million to Virginia this year to fund the fuel assistance program. Other than the $20.9 million set aside for direct assistance to needy families, funds have also been budgeted for:

- emergency weather related crises,
- repairs to dangerous heating equipment,
- supplements to the home weatherization program.

An additional $1.1 million is being held temporarily to provide additional funding to localities who exhaust their initial appropriations because of an expected high number of applications or bad weather prior to the program's termination on March 31, 1982.

Persons in need of assistance to pay their fuel bills may apply for help at their local department of welfare or social services. Additional information about the program may be obtained by calling the Virginia Department of Welfare, toll-free, 1-800 552 3431 during normal business hours.

—Billie Gillespie, pastor of Powell Valley Methodist Circuit, was the guest minister at the Center's Monday devotional. He led in the singing of Christmas carols. He sang a solo, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and told the story of how this song came to be written. Phillips Brooks wrote the words as a poem for the children of a Philadelphia church. A week later, at Christmas, Lewis H. Redner had written music for the song, and the children sang it in church.

—Rev. Gillespie told the story of "Silent Night" being written in 1818 by Joseph Mohr, calling it "Stille Nacht." The organist of their church wrote the music, composing it for a guitar accompaniment. He was Franz Gruber. Gillespie told of several incidents that had happened at Christmas time. He stayed for the covered dish lunch.

—Pearl Wade has returned from Knoxville, where she spent two weeks, due to her daughter, Geneva Ermit, being in the hospital. Another daughter, Wilma Parsons of New Lebanon, Ohio, came to spend a week with her sister While Mrs. Wade and Wilma were not at the hospital they stayed at the home of Geneva and Ken Ermit, and their son Kenny.

—Jerushia Burchett and daughter, Georgia Roy, were in Middlesboro Thursday.

—Spending Saturday with Jerushia Burchett were her daughters, Georgia Roy, Linda Fee and Chris.

—Sallie Woliver has received word that her brother-in-law, Carson Vannoy of Lone Mountain, Tn., underwent surgery in St. Mary's Hospital, Knoxville.

—Lynn Johnston and Sallie Wolver were in Middlesboro, Monday.

—Paul Carroll, son of Sandra and Fred Carroll, is a patient in Indian Path Hospital, Kingsport, Tn.

—Oscar Ingle entered a hospital in Johnson City, Tn., last Sunday.

—Our community has been saddened again by the death of another neighbor, Dewey Livesay. To the many families who have lost loved ones recently, we express our sympathy.

—Sunday, December 13 marked the 89th birthday of Jonesville First Baptist Church. As the minutes read, Sunday, December 13, 1892, a group of men and women (names given) numbering 26, met and instituted a church to be called the Baptist Church of Jonesville The church grew, with its ups and downs, through these 89 years, and is, as you see it today, a beautiful and ongoing church.

-A birthday cake was on display at the covered dish luncheon which followed the morning worship service There were 140 present for Sunday School, and Frank Starnes, who holds a Sunday School at Green Hill Rest Home every Sunday morning, reported that there were 60 residents present, making a total of 200. This Sunday School that Starnes teaches is something he has been led to do, and is an outreach and a part of the Jonesville Baptist Church.

Christmas Program and Dinner Climaxes the Year For Morgan Memorial UMW

The theme of the United Women this year has been 'Love Made Visible", and on Thursday evening, Dec. 3, husbands and other guests were invited to participate in a meaningful program entitled, "A Humble Manger", which was followed by a bountiful dinner in the fellowship hall

Georgia Hounshell, president, welcomed the fifty three members and guests, and told what a blessing it had been for her to serve as President of the United Methodist Women for a term of four years

Mrs Grant Seale then presented in the Sanctuary of the church an outstanding Christmas Program which was a climax to the year's theme, 'Love Made Visible "

In the center of the stage was the manger scene representing the birth of the Christ Child, and Mrs Seale remarked that Christ should always be the center of any Christmas Celebration

During the program, the children from the Kindergarten and Primary Classes whose teachers are Mrs. Seale and Debbie Brooks, came onto the stage, dressed in white robes, and shared a Christmas message and a song as they stood around the manger.

They were assisted by Andrea Harris, Denise Harber, and Mrs. James Gibson, and in music by Mrs Claude Glass who also led the entire assemblage in group singing.

Others assisting Mrs. Seale in the presentation of the program were Mrs. Snyder Harris, Alvona Seale, Georgia Hounshell, Viola Emmett, Mrs. Henry Campbell, and Mrs. Oscar W. Smith.

Throughout the program there was an awareness of the true spirit of Christmas, a Celebration of God's greatest message to the world: that the coming of Jesus Christ was, and still is, love made visible for the world

The leader remarked that the special offering above regular givings made this past Sunday, and growing, for World Hunger was an example of Love Made Visible

The worship service was closed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. James Wright, and all adjourned to the Fellowship Hall which was beautifully decorated with Christmas tree, flowers, candles, and other ornaments of the season, by the decorating and food committee, Ms. Ruth Wright and Mrs. R.C. Smith.

Preceding the bountiful meal prepared "pot-luck" style by the ladies of the church, Mrs. Georgia Hounshell gave an inspiring Table Grace, and was surprised by a gift of appreciation presented to her by Mrs. Snyder Harris for the United Methodist Women.

Library Gets Reprieve

At a special meeting last Wednesday the Lee County Board of Supervisors agreed to release the $22,500 quarterly appropriation to the Lonesome Pine Regional Library System making it possible for the library at Pennington Gap to remain open.

Business as usual was the official word from Regional Librarian Theda Gibson. Books and materials are to be stamped due on a two week basis, and a closure sign was removed from the library entrance on Monday.

Ms. Gibson told Powell Valley News by phone yesterday that the money was received from Lee County on Monday and that was all that was needed to keep the library open.

Ms. Gibson also stated that she had notified the utilities companies to that effect. She further added that she was glad the library could remain open and hoped it could remain in the regional system, noting that there are a lot of advantages to be gained from membership in the organization.

The board of supervisors had been holding funds to the regional system pending compensatory payments felt due Gloria Dye, a part-time employee in the Pennington Gap Library. However, they decided they could not legally refuse to pay the money due by December 31.

According to Acting County Administrator Edith Bowen, Ms. Dye's benefits have not as yet been restored. Ms. Bowen commended the board for their support of the employee. The board suggested that she might wish to pursue the matter on her own since her civil rights apparently were violated.

Reportedly, loss of services by the region to Pennington such as stationing the book mobile at Rose Hill has prompted the board to seek permission to withdraw from the regional system.

Members of the board feel that Lee County can operate independently as about one-third of Virginia's counties do already. Ms. Bowen has been asked by the board to take steps in that direction.

In other business, Lee County's reapportionment proposal was revised and submitted to the U.S. Department of Justice for approval. The newest remap plan would leave Dryden intact and place the Seminary Community in the fifth election district. The original plan in October split the Dryden community between the third and fourth districts.

Also, it was learned that a plan by the Appalachian Regional Commission to obtain funds for underdeveloped or distressed counties may be realized. If the program is approved by Congress, Lee County (with its low per capita income, high unemployment and inadequate tax base) could qualify for special assistance.

As of January 1, 1982 Lee County will return to a traditional form of government. That means the position of supervisor - at - large will be eliminated and the county administrator post is optional.

Also, Circuit Court Judge, S.W. Coleman from Scott County will appoint a three panel commission to appoint school board members. The board of supervisors can appoint a tie breaker who would act in the stead of a supervisor-at-large.

The Lee County Board of Supervisors will meet next Wednesday, January 6, in Jonesville at 10:00 A.M.

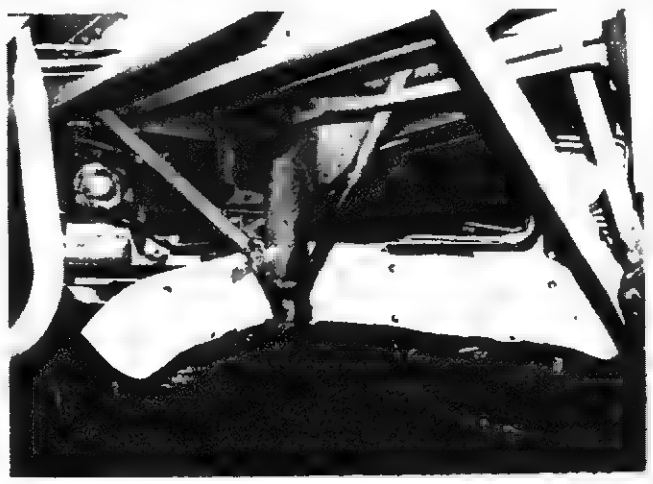
Virginia State Police Trooper Kay Counts assists Trooper W.A. Stevens in directing traffic away from accident involving a pickup truck and a tractor trailer on Route 58 last Wednesday evening.



Close-up picture shows damage to pickup truck belonging to William Rasnic of Jonesville after the truck plummeted into a tractor trailer on Route 58 last Wednesday evening. State trooper W.A. Stevens said the dollies on the semi stopped the truck and probably prevented serious injury to Rasnic.

Local Man Escapes Serious Injury In Highway Accident

Route 58, about two miles west of Dot, was the scene last Wednesday night of a highway accident involving a pickup truck and a tractor - trailer rig.

According to an accident report by Virginia State Police Trooper W.A. Stevens, George Large from Blountville, Tennessee was attempting to turn the rig on a straight stretch of the highway at about 6:30 P.M. when he saw the truck approaching him. He stopped the rig as it straddled the road and was struck broadside by the 1977 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by William Rasnic of Jonesville.

Rasnic reportedly said he had his attention directed on the flashing lights of the tractor and when he realized the trailer was blocking the road, he tried to stop. His brakes locked and his pickup slid into the "Overnite" semi.

Rasnic, the only passenger in the pickup, was taken to the Lee County Community Hospital where he was treated for a cut on the forehead and released.

Trooper Stevens, assisted by Trooper Ray Counts, said the Chevrolet was considered a total loss with damages listed at $3,000. Damage to the trailer appeared slight, limited to the underhanging dollies used to jack up the rig. These dollies stopped the pickup from going under the rig, thereby possibly preventing serious injury or death to Rasnic.

Charges are pending further investigation of the accident, one of the worst of the holiday season in this area.

Lee ASC County Committee Elected

The 30 newly elected 1982 Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Community Committeemen attended a County Convention on December 16, 1981 at the Senior Citizens Building in Jonesville The committeemen elected Clay Jones to a three-year term on the County Committee.

The community committeemen then filled the positions on the County Committee as follows: Max Graham, Chairman; Clay Jones, Vice-Chairman; and Roy Joe Myers, Regular Member.

County Committeemen are responsible for the administration of ASCS federal farm programs.

Clay Jones has served ASCS as a Committeeman for eight years. He served as a community committeeman in the Rocky Community beginning in 1974. He has served on the County Committee for the past two years.

Roy J. Myers began his service in 1960. He also worked for a number of years as an ASCS Field Assistant, measuring burley tobacco when it was under the acreage program. Myers was elected three year terms on the County Committee in 1973, 1976 and 1979.

Max Graham has served both as a County (1955-1974) and Community (1975-1979) Committeeman since 1955. He has served on the County Committee since being re-elected in 1979.

Sheriff's Report

Several fires were reported to the Lee County Sheriff's Department during the holiday weekend.

A December 24 house fire on 741, first house on left up Belgium Hollow, is under investigation. It was undetermined who owned the house but "C.M. Million" was listed on the mailbox.

A barn fire was reported the night before Christmas in the Hurricane area below Jonesville. A truck was stored in the barn belonging to Earl Harvel of Jonesville. The incident is under investigation for possible arson

Fire destroyed a wood frame house late Monday night belonging to Wallie Carroll of Wallen Creek on road 761. No one was living in the home at the time.

Smoke was reported coming from around door and vents in the furnace room at Thomas Walker High School early Monday morning. It was learned that a pin sheared causing smoke to back up in the furnace.

Other Sheriff's reports indicated Dr. Moore at the animal hospital near Jonesville stated that over the past weekend someone had cut the lock off a gas tank and gas was stolen.

Monday morning, Swanson's Mobile Homes of Pennington Gap reported an attempted breaking and entering. Entrance was not gained.

Glass was reportedly broken at the front entrance of Rowlett's in Rose Hill. $250.00 in cash and account records were taken in the incident reported on Christmas Day.

Arrests include James S. Smith, 45, of Jonesville. Smith was charged with shooting into an occupied dwelling and malicious wounding. Jimmy Scales was struck by a .22 caliber slug and taken to Lee County Community Hospital for treatment. C.S. Janeway was the arresting officer.

In the early morning of the day after Christmas, Dallas Crusenberry, 28, of Pennington Gap was arrested by Deputy James P. Bledsoe. Crusenberry was charged with entering a dwelling with the intent to commit a felony and two counts of malicious wounding with a knife.

An early morning snowfall gave Lee County residents a white Christmas, one of very few in recent years.

Late afternoon last Thursday in Pennington Gap found many busy, last-minute Christmas shoppers on the streets. Some snow remained from the surprise snowfall in the area last Monday that closed schools and resulted in many holiday activity cancellations.

Virtually every parking space at Dryden Mall was filled late in the day last Thursday as Christmas shoppers were out choosing that final gift before the big day of celebration.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Odd Fellows And Rebekahs Hold Christmas Dinner

"Race Hearse" First In County, On Dragway

Suppose you, a race fan, have been anticipating the new season since last September. It's now March.

You have wintered impatiently on football, basketball and maybe a little ice hockey. Santa Claus didn't bring you exactly what you wanted; your car got stuck in the snow more than once; you discovered that the furnace will never make it through another winter, but none of that matters now.

You've saved your money, bought your necessary tee shirts, packed enough food in a lunch to last a week and now it's off to the races...

But not just any old race track. You're going to Cherokee Dragway at Rogersville, Tennessee.

You park your car with instructions to "stay" till you return; you tromp through a milling crowd, exchanging "how-are-you's" and renewing last year's racing friends. You can't get the enviable "best seat in the house" but that doesn't matter. Just to be there is an elation all its own.

What is this? After six months, you would think all the preliminary things would have been taken care of? O'kay, just give them a few minutes. They'll get the lights and flags ready. The track will be swept. You'll have your day.

A black and white beauty coming around the bend catches your eye. Is it ... a car ... a station wagon? No it's a hearse. A "race hearse". A 1969 Cadillac. This can't be true. But it is. Boy, is it. The Caddy wins. Third in its bracket. Wow! Is this ever a day for a race fan.

You make a point of shaking hands with the driver. He smiles and says he's glad you enjoyed the race. He's proud of his hearse. He really had bought it to pull another race car but it has won third and fourth places for him several times. His hearse is a maverick in his home town, a first at Cherokee. He's glad it brings you so much pleasure.

You enjoy the rest of the competition, eat too much, holler your voice into oblivion but, this is all just a blur. The "race hearse" has made your day. All too soon the day comes to an end. You have to go home. You will recount this event many times to your children ... and their children ... to anyone who will listen.

Perhaps the biggest challenge of your life has now presented itself.

How do you possibly wait an entire week to get a chance to see this marvelous "race hearse" in action again? This really does matter...

"A Race Hearse"

Believe it or not, this black and white, 1969 Cadillac gets 55 mph at the Cherokee Dragway in Rogersville, Tennessee and has won third and fourth place several times. Aubrey Stapleton of Pennington Gap purchased the Caddy from Sturgill Funeral Home and uses it also to pull another race car. Aubrey agrees it is an unusual mode of transportation and proudly says it's the only one in the county and a first at the dragway.

JUNE FULLER

THE COUPON CLIPPER

Spread the word of your new coupon club

By June Fuller

If the idea of meeting regularly with a few dozen other couponers and refunders appeals to you, then it's time to start a coupon club in your area.

Here are some of the ways you can publicize your first meeting:

— Pick a date several weeks in advance. Start telling your friends about the meeting and ask them to tell their friends. Word-of-mouth advertising can quickly spread your message from one end of town to the other.

— You can reinforce this message by printing small leaflets with this simple message: "COUPON CLUB BEING FORMED. For information call ..."

— You can use the same message for signs to be placed on supermarket bulletin boards. If your store doesn't have one, ask the manager whether you can put up a sign near the store entrance or in a window.

— Ask your newspaper to list the meeting in its calendar of events. If this isn't possible, consider taking a small classified advertisement to announce your meeting.

— If you are an experienced refunder, your savings may make a good feature story for your newspaper and radio and television stations. While you are getting yourself interviewed, be sure to mention your new coupon club.

If the notices for your first meeting contain just your phone number rather than the time and place of the meeting, you can control the number of people who will attend.

How many people do you want at your first meeting?

I recommend that you have between 15 and 20 people. A group of this size is small enough to control and large enough to do some very worthwhile trading.

So, when people start calling, give out the meeting information to the first 25 who say they will attend. Some of them won't show up.

Put the names and phone numbers of subsequent callers on a waiting list for future meetings.

Next week I'll tell you how my coupon club runs its meetings.

This week's smart shopper is Pat Strobel of Akron, Ohio. She found a Johnson and Johnson offer of a free first-aid kit in a magazine.

The offer required proofs from six of the company's products. So, Ms. Strobel went to her coupon file and found four 25-cent coupons for these same items.

She used them when her local discount store offered to triple the value of its customers' coupons. Her total cost came to $2.06.

She received the $4.49 first-aid kit free, and inside were three more 25-cent coupons.

But her savings weren't finished. An insert in her newspaper contained a $1.25 refund for sending in part of the wrapper from the kit.

"I'm ahead $3.68 not counting the additional 75 cents' worth of coupons," says Ms. Strobel. "My experience confirms your advice to save cents-off coupons in an organized way. I had those first four coupons for more than a year before I was able to use them to make this 'home run' discount."

Ms. Strobel and other readers whose smart shopping experiences appear in my column receive a copy of the refunding publication, The National Supermarket Shopper. Write to me in care of this newspaper.

Here's a refund form to write for Baker's Coconut $1 Cash Refund Offer, General Foods Corp., P.O. Box 8058, East Court Street, Kankakee, Ill. 60901. This offer expires June 1, 1982.

Here is this week's list of refund offers. Start looking for the required refund forms, which you can obtain at the supermarket, in newspaper and magazine advertisements and from trading with friends. Meanwhile, start collecting the needed proofs of purchase as detailed below. Remember, some offers are not available in all areas of the country.

Dairy Products, Oils, Margarine, Diet Products (File 2)

— Figurines $1 Coupon Refund Offer. Receive a $1 coupon for Figurines. Send the required refund form and the box tops from three Figurines packages. Expires March 31, 1982.

— Kraft Dips $1 Refund. Send the required refund form and five Universal Product Code symbols from a variety of 8-ounce Kraft Dips. Expires Jan. 31, 1982.

— New Age, Anderson Clayton Foods. Receive a $1 refund. Send the required refund form, two Universal Product Code symbols from any New Age Sandwich Slices and one end label from a loaf of bread. Expires Feb. 28, 1982.

— Rondele, Inofood Corp. Receive a $1 refund. Send the required refund form and the front panels from any three Rondele cartons. Expires June 15, 1982.

— SugarTwin Coffee Refund. Receive a $1 coupon for instant coffee. Send the required refund form, two special proof-of-purchase seals from specially marked boxes of 50-packet or 5-pound SugarTwin and the inner lid from any brand of instant coffee. Expires Jan. 31, 1982.

Bonus: This offer doesn't require a form.

— Mrs. Filbert's Free Pound Offer, P.O. Box 475, Berlin, Conn. 06038. Receive a free pound of Mrs. Filbert's 100 Percent Corn Oil Margarine. Send the green nutrition information panels from six 1-pound packages of any Mrs. Filbert's 100 Percent Corn Oil Margarine. Expires April 30, 1982.

Jonesville Senior Citizens

—There were Christmas cantatas and programs in all the churches and one wishes they could have attended all. I was only able to attend two, "God's Love Gift" by Harold DeCou, at First United Methodist Church in Pennington, under the direction of Phyllis Luchsinger, and "Mary Had A Little Lamb" by Dan Barker, at Jonesville First Baptist, under the direction of Carlotta Bush. The Messiah, which was to be presented at the First Baptist and First United Methodist churches in Jonesville, had to be cancelled both times due to the weather.

—Members of all ages from Jonesville First Baptist went through the community Wednesday night singing Christmas carols. It was a wonderful sight to behold, and the voices rang out clear and cheerful, accompanied by Buddy Presley playing the guitar. This is one of the things that makes Christmas.

—M/Sgt. Philip Terry, Fredrick, Md., spent several days with his mother, Lorene Terry, during Christmas. Christmas Eve was spent at the home of Lillie Carroll, joined by Jim (Earl) and Charleen Carroll of Johnson City, and Gaynelle Baumgardner.

—Spending Christmas Day with Lillie Carroll were her children, Jim Earl and Charleen Carroll, Johnson City, Tn., Ed Curtis and Faye Carroll, Knoxville, Gaynelle Baumgardner, Lorene Terry, and grandson, Philip Terry. Phone calls were received from John and Elaine Carroll, Aberdeen, Md., Doris Kooch, Seattle, Wash., granddaughters, Patti Seals, Dayton, Ohio and Nadine Baumgardner, Cleveland, Ohio.

—Visiting with Cora Howard, June and Joe Napier, were Hudean and Helen Howard, Lebanon, Va., Lillie Carroll, Lorene Terry, and Gaynelle Baumgardner.

—Sallie Woliver took Christmas dinner with Lynn, Dewey, and Eddie Johnston.

—Lynn Johnston and Sallie Woliver were Sunday visitors of Herman Quinley.

—Carson Vannoy, who was a patient in St. Mary's Hospital, Knoxville, has returned to his home in Lone Mountain, Tn. This news was received by his sister in law, Sallie Woliver.

—Birg Sergent, Sr., and Kate Livesay remain patients in Lee County Community Hospital. Jess Farmer of Ben Hur is still a patient in the hospital.

—Dwight Smith and Charles Brooks died Saturday morning in Lee County Hospital. Mr. Smith was the father of Stella Sutphin of Rose Hill and brother in law of Maude Hines Allen, Jonesville. Mr. Brooks was a relative of my neighbor.

—Frank Oxford has returned to his home from Lonesome Pine Hospital, Big Stone Gap. Due to his condition, he had to make trips back to the hospital Saturday and Sunday.

—Word has been received of the death of Nick Fletcher of California. He was a former Lee Countian, the son of the late Rhoda and Russ Fletcher of Mitchell, Ind., who lived in Lee County most of their life. Mr. Fletcher leaves a wife, Geneva Burgan Fletcher, daughter of the late Alice and Cahrlie Burgan who lived at Ocoonita.

—Thelma Seals of Ben Hur and Virginia Burke of Jonesville are cousins of Nick Fletcher. Spencer Burgan of Ben Hur and Ullys Burgan of Elizabethton, Tn. are brothers of Geneva Fletcher. Her sisters are Dora Clark, Pennington, Mae Mullins and Mallitine Kiser of Jonesville.

—Lee Osborne is a patient in Lee County Hospital due to a broken foot he sustained Christmas day.

—Nell Glass is a patient in the local hospital, also. She is the mother of Lois Glass and sister of Golden Gilley.

Canine Mange

Our friendly canine companions are susceptible to various diseases, several of which we have briefly explained in our articles over the past few weeks. Some of the diseases were perhaps new to a few of our readers, but the skin disease which I will describe today are all too familiar to most everyone. "Mange" is the terminology we hear most often. More specifically, mange is classified as "Red Mange" or Demodectic Mange and Sarcoptic Mange, each of which is caused by a specific species of mite. There are others, but these are most common, and will be discussed in this article.

Although Sarcoptic Mange and Demodectic Mange are both caused by mites, they are completely separate diseases. Canine scabies affects dogs regardless of age, sex or breed and is highly contagious. Likewise the mite may invade the skin of man, causing reddish papules, which usually are not severe but may be discomforting. After mites are eradicated from the dog, seldom do new lesions appear on the owners skin. Unlike the Sarcoptic Mange mite, Demodex Canis mite is a normal inhabitant of canine skin. Puppies usually acquire mites from their mother during periods of nursing. Generally they are present only in small numbers in healthy dogs; however, they may seize the opportunity to grow and populate the skin by the thousands during stress or challenge of the immune system.

Quite commonly any dog which has hair loss of scaly skin is condemned as having the mange, whereas allergic or hormonal problems may be the cause. Prior to veterinary treatment, home remedies such as lime sulfur, kerosene oil, burnt motor oil, ect. are often used. These may be harmful to the skin, as well as toxic. In addition, home treatments may interfere with the identification of mange mites. Thus, it may be emphasized that it is important to arrive at a diagnosis before any therapy is initiated Various tests may be employed to differentiate skin diseases. Often, however, only a skin scraping with microscopic examination is all that is necessary and treatment can begin.

Consumers Should Be Wary Of Energy Saving Gadgets

The State Office of Emergency and Energy Services (OEES) cautions Virginians to be skeptical of manufacturer's claims for gadgets and chemicals which are supposed to save energy.

"There usually are gizmos and gadgets on the market around Christmas time that have impressive advertising, but don't live up to their claims or don't work at all," according to Temple Bayliss, director of the OEES Energy Division.

Bayliss adds that there are a number of items a homeowner can purchase that do reduce a home's energy consumption. Consumers considering buying an unfamiliar energy-saving product are encouraged to call the OEES Energy Hotline. A hotline operator may be able to provide unbiased information about the actual energy-saving potential of some products.

The Energy Division's toll-free number is, 1-800-552-3831. Hotline operators are on duty weekdays between 8:00 and 4:30.

USDA Charts Conservation Course

Part 3

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announces a proposed national conservation program to deal with the serious resource conservation problems ahead for American agriculture.

Four points highlight the program, according to Fred Copenhaver, district conservationist, Soil Conservation Service (SCS):

--Setting soil and water conservation priorities;

--Strengthening the role of local and state governments in conservation planning;

--Increasing budget coordination and cooperation between USDA agencies; and

--Targeting more USDA conservation assistance to critical problems and areas.

This program is the proposed response to the Congress required by the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), reports Copenhaver.

It is based on an extensive appraisal of the condition of the nation's soil and water resources and an analysis of future trends.

Highest national priority in the proposed conservation program is reducing soil erosion to maintain the long-term productivity of agricultural land. Second priority is reducing flood damages in upstream areas. Other priority activities are conserving water and improving water supply and quality, community-related conservation, improving fish and wildlife habitat, and increasing the use of organic waste.

Strengthening the relationship between land owners or users and government at all levels is a principal feature of the proposed program. This would include having local conservation coordinating boards identify critical resource problem areas, set priorities and develope programs for action Local boards would be based on the existing organizations--conservation district boards, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committees, extension advisory boards and others. State boards would be organized along similar lines. A national board also would be set up to advise the Secretary of Agriculture.

The relationship between the state government and the federal government would also be strengthened through an agreement signed by the governor and Secretary of Agriculture to establish cooperative activities and through federal block grants.

Other features of the program include targeting USDA conservation dollars and people to critical areas; promoting tax incentives and information toward the most critical problems; and setting up pilot projects to test new solutions to conservation problems. Current programs would continue.

Details of the new program are presented in the RCA Revised Draft Program Report and Enviromental Impact Statement available for reference use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state. The two USDA offices also have leaflets that summarize the program and that contain a postage-paid, pre-addressed response form.

Comments on the proposed new program are encouraged. They must be mailed to SCS State Conservationist, P.O. Box 10026, Richmond, VA 23240, before January 15, 1982.

Social Security 1982 Figures Announced

The annual earnings base- the maximum amount of annual earnings that counts for Social Security will increase to $32,400 in 1982, up from $29,700, the 1981 base, R.L. Kelly, Social Security manager in Norton, said recently.

The increase is based on the change in average earnings levels from 1980 to 1981.

Also scheduled to increase in 1982 is the Social Security tax rate. Mr. Kelly said. The 1982 tax rate will be 6.7 percent, an increase of 0.05 percent over the 1981 rate of 6.65 percent. The increase will amount to just 50 cents a month for a person earning $1,000 a month.

Other Social Security figures are scheduled to increase in 1982 as well. The annual exempt amount used in the annual earnings test will increase. The annual earnings test is the measure used to determine whether a person will receive benefits during a year. A person whose earnings do not exceed the annual exempt amount will receive all benefits due for the year. A person's benefits are reduced $1 for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount.

In 1982, the annual exempt amount for people 65 72 will be $6,000. For people under 65 all of 1982, the exempt amount will be $4,440.

There is also some important news concerning the age at which the earnings test no longer applies, Mr. Kelly said. Under the law in effect before 1981 the age at which the earnings test no longer applies was scheduled to drop from 72 to 70 in 1982. A 1981 law delayed the change to 1983.

Cookin' Corner

Serve your family "good luck" food on New Years, it may be black eyed peas and hog jowl, or perhaps boiled cabbage brings you good luck, begin the New Year with your favorite food. Happy New Year.

CAKE

4 cups unsifted flour
1 cup sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
½ cup soft butter
1 cup buttermilk
2 teaspoons vanilla

Sift 3 and ¾ cups flour into a bowl. Add remaining ingredients in order given. Mix quickly into soft dough. Divide into 6 parts. Use remaining ¼ cup flour to roll out dough. Bake in 9 inch cake pans at 450 degrees until slightly brown.

As you take cake from oven, spread each layer with the apple mixture. Don't put apples on top layer. Put in covered container at least 12 hours before cutting.

OLD FASHION STACK CAKE

1 pound dried tart apples
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon allspice

Wash and cook apples until tender. Mash thoroughly. Add sugar and spices.

STUFFED CABBAGE

1 pound chopped raw beef
½ pound chopped pork
1 good sized onion, chopped
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 medium size cabbage
Melted butter

Stir all ingredients before using the cabbage. Then break apart about a dozen cabbage leaves, scald and drain them. Put on each one and one half tablespoons of the mixture and fasten with a toothpick. Place in a saucepan, half cover with boiling water, add a little salt and cook about 35 minutes, with slow heat. Remove the toothpicks and serve with melted butter or cream gravy

Good Impression Helps Sell Used Car

Thinking of buying a new car and want to sell your old car yourself? To sell it as quickly as possible, make a positive first impression on a potential buyer by having the car look its very best, says the Automotive Information Council (AIC).

A clean appearance is the first item a buyer will notice. Begin by washing and polishing the exterior of the car. Give the chrome a shine and wash the floor mats. Remove old bumper stickers.

Don't forget to clean the interior as well. Vacuum the rugs, empty the ash-trays and clean the upholstery. Remove any scuff marks from door panels and arm rests. Take all odds and ends out of the glove compartment.

Don't forget the trunk. Remove any tools or other items not included in the sale. If a buyer sees a case of motor oil and some spare parts, the buyer may get the wrong impression about the condition of the car.

You might consider steam-cleaning the engine, but don't wait until the last moment. Moisture can get into the ignition system from the steam and the moisture may make it hard to start the car until it dries out. Any car that is hard to start will be hard to sell.

Make sure the battery is fully charged. Check the tire pressure and tighten any loose screws or brackets on the car.

After you've spruced up your old wheels, place an ad in your local paper. You can arrive at an asking price by comparing it to similar cards advertised in the paper. Make sure you or someone else will be available to take calls and to show the car.

A car with a better appearance can bring the top dollar in a sale, but remember to invest only what time and money you hope to recover in the price of the car, says AIC. And don't fake it

Whitewood Dumps Pennington 82 - 38

Pennington's Bobcats suffered their second consecutive loss in the Post Invitational tournament. Their first loss was to Gate City by 41 points, and their second loss was by 44 points, on Tuesday night of last week to the Whitewood Indians.

Whitewood started the rout early as the Indians jumped to a 22 10 first quarter lead, and then tingled the twine for a 16 7 advantage in the second period, to enjoy a 21 point lead at the half The Indians never let up their assault as they upped their lead bigger with a 44 21 second half advantage.

Pennington with no player over 6'0" tall was never a threat to the Indians, who consistently went to their 6'7" center, Tim Dotson. Dotson responded with 41 points, hitting on 20 of 24 field goal attempts and 1 of 2 free throws. He also pulled down 15 rebounds against the Bobcats. Whitewood now stands 8 1 overall, with their only loss coming at the hands of Powell Valley. The Indians also got 16 points from Ricky Goodman.

Whitewood hit 10 of 12 free throws for 83.4%.

Pennington now stands 2 4 overall and 2-1 in the district. The Bobcats who scored fewer points as a team than did the Indian's Tim Dotson, was led by Kent Henderson with 10 points. The brother duo of Tim and Billy Byington was held to a combined total of 15, with Billy netting 8. The Bobcats hit 4 of 7 charity tosses, good for 57 1%

The Bobcats did manage to place one player on the all tournament team. They landed Tim Byington on the 14 man team. The tournament most valuable player award went to Gate City's Deetsie Vermillion, who helped guide Gate City to a 85 64 win in the championship game. With the Christmas holidays now over, the regular season will get back into full swing next Tuesday, and Friday

Score By Quarters:
Pennington 10 7 12 9-38
Whitewood 22 16 20 24-82

Individual Scoring:
Pennington (38) Henderson 10, B. Byington 8, T Byington 7, Collier 6, Morgan 5, W Woliver 2
Whitewood (82) Dotson 41, Goodman 16, Honaker 11, Hayes 8, Ward 4, Horne 2.

FARM CREDIT OFFICE IN ROSE HILL

Ronald Crabtree, your Farm Credit Representative for Lee County.

In an effort to expand financial services to the agricultural community of Lee County, Southwest Virginia Farm Credit Service will be opening an outpost in Rose Hill. The office hours will be 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon each Thursday at C. M. Lawson's Farm Equipment and Building Supply, starting January 7, 1982. Phone 445-5411.

If you are considering a long-term loan to buy a tract of farm land or an entire farm, check with us about an FLBA loan. Should you require a short or intermediate - term loan for things such as equipment, livestock, herbicides, seed and fertilizer, or for about any farm related needs, check with us about a Production Credit loan.

Could you save money by buying your spring planting supplies early, being assured you get what you want, when you want it? Could you get an additional discount or avoid additional charges by paying at time of purchase for farm supplies? As farm operators you may be faced with these questions, Farm Credit may be the answer.

Secretarial Students Receive Scholarship Award At MECC

The Mountain Empire Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association presented Thelma Lockhart with the "Secretary of the Month Award." The award is made to an MECC Secretary who has demonstrated outstanding service to the students. Presenting the award is Lisa Wynn, FSA Recording Secretary. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wynn of Jonesville.

The Mountain Empire Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association presented Mel Bullock, director of Learning Resources, with the "Faculty Member Of The Month Award." The award is made to the MECC faculty member who has demonstrated outstanding service to the students. Presenting the award is FSA President Carmen Lockhart. Carmen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lockhart of Jonesville.

The Mountain Empire Chapter of the Professional Secretaries International has awarded two winter quarter scholarships for tuition at MECC to Ms. Becky Gilliam and Ms. Missy Jennings who are College Accelerated Program - Secretarial (CAPS) students at Mountain Empire Community College.

The CAPS secretarial program was created for students who have achieved proficiency in basic secretarial skills before entering college. These students are awarded credit for their previously acquired abilities and placed in college classes accordingly. The scholarships are given by the PSI local chapter in an effort to assist young people in their education and professional growth toward a secretarial career.

This year scholarship recipients were awarded their winter quarter tuition at MECC Final determination for the scolarships was made by an interviewing committee of PSI and MECC Secretarial Science faculty members.

Ms. Becky Gilliam, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Gilliam, graduated from Gate City High School in 1981 where she was active in the Future Business Leaders of America, Students in Action for Education, Annual Staff, and the Gate City High School Band. She received an award for excellence given by Josten's American Yearbook Company and was chosen Miss Gate City High School

Ms. Missy Jennings, the daughter of Mrs Dorothy Jennings, graduated from Gate City High School in 1980 At Mountain Empire Community College Missy is active in Phi Beta Lambda, Phi Theta Kappa, Future Secretaries Association and scholastically has received the following honors: Merit List, Honor List, and President's List

Sometimes there are as many as 300 bananas on a single stalk.

Angela Kaye Wilson

PHS DAR Good Citizen

Miss Angela Kaye Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wilson, was selected as the Pennington High School recipient of the DAR Good Citizen Award. This contest has been approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. This award is given to a high school senior who possesses qualities such as dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism to an outstanding degree.

Miss Wilson maintains a high average in her senior class and is very active in school and church activities. She is the editor of the yearbook, president of the Art Club, secretary of Teens for Christ, and secretary of the Beta Club. She is a member of The Church of God of Prophecy in Pennington Gap and serves as the assistant youth director.

What Christmas Means To Me

Christmas is the day we all celebrate by giving presents to one another. We have a nice dinner on Christmas for the whole family. There's also a Christmas tree, holly, mistletoe, etc. But hardly anyone celebrates it for what it is really meant to be celebrated.

To me Christmas means the birth of Christ. The night Mary had him in the stable 'cause there wasn't enough room for them in the inn. The presents we get are a symbol of the treasures the wisemen gave Jesus when he was born. Christmas is also the day for sharing, loving, and giving not just receiving.

Everyone has a birthday and I believe Christmas is Christ's birthday. We don't know exactly when Christ was born so we set aside the 25th in honor of his birth.

There's a song called "If Every Day Was Like Christmas." And that's exactly how I feel. If everyday could be like Christmas this would be a wonderful world. There would be no more fighting, hating, wars, and other bad things such as that. It would be absolutely fantastic.

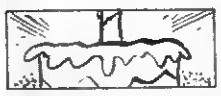
Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Lawson

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Lawson of Dryden celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary Tuesday, December 22 at the Western Steer Steak House in Norton.

Their children Mr. and Mrs. Tommy (Wanda) Tester, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas (Emma) Marsee, Jr., grandchildren, Jeremy, Jennifer and Alissa, also Mrs. Lawson's mother, Annie Deary. All enjoyed the dinner.



When it comes to cake baking, shiny metal pans are best, because they reflect heat away from the cake and produce a light brown, tender crust.

USDA Agency Saves $21.7 Million In FY 1981

Recently President Reagan was presented a symbolic check for $21,717,000 by Secretary of Agriculture, John R. Block, representing fiscal 1981 savings in salaries and expenses by one USDA agency.

The check had been presented to Block by Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The money will be returned to the U.S. Treasury.

"The potential for savings that come from efficient management of our day-to-day operations should not be overlooked," Block said. "This is a tremendous savings for just one agency. If we put our minds to it, it proves we can accomplish the President's goal of producing savings in government without reducing the quality of services we provide to the public."

Block said the savings resulted from improved personnel staffing and management practices, reduced employee travel and more efficient procedures for purchasing office equipment and supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Watson

White Rocks Garden Club

Phyllis Munsey, owner of the Flower Gallery in Rose Hill, addressed White Rocks Garden Club members in her shop on November 30 at 7:00 p.m.

She showed the group how to make Christmas decorations using natural and inexpensive materials. She also made a Christmas flower arrangement using candles, white pine and fresh fruit which she presented to Betty Jean Rowlett. Following her demonstration on how to make Christmas corsages, each member present was presented with one

Members then converged on Morgan Memorial Methodist Church where refreshments were served by hostesses Andra Harris, Judy Hounshell, and Linda Lawson. The business meeting was conducted while members refreshed themselves and officers were elected for the 1982 club year

New president is Linda Lawson. She will be assisted by Vice President Betty Brown. Secretary Andra Harris, Treasurer Edith Yeary, Reporter Rita Graham, Historian Judy Hounshell and Courtesy Chairman Charlotte Brooks. These officers will be installed at the January meeting

Plans for the annual Christmas dinner were finalized. The Lincoln Room at Lincoln Memorial University will be the setting for the 7:30 dinner for members and husbands

Members present were Carolyn Davis, Charlotte Brooks, Rita Graham, Judy Gregory, Andra Harris, Jacinta Hensley, Judy Hounshell, Linda Lawson, Sue Welch, Edith Yeary, Anita Taylor, and Kathy Feck

The next meeting is scheduled on January 25 at the home of Charlotte Brooks in Ewing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Louis Swain
(Lisa Michelle Ramsey)

Lisa Ramsey, James Swain United In Double Ring Ceremony

Lisa Michelle Ramsey and James Louis Swain were married at 5:30 p.m. November 25 at the Dryden Baptist Church. The Rev. Ulyss Graham officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ros Ramsey of Dryden, Virginia. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughes of Dryden, Virginia.

A program of wedding music was provided by Anna Kirk. The wedding was directed by Linda Craft.

The bride given in marriage by her parents and was escorted by her father wore a gown of white sheer polyester featuring a Queen Anne neckline trimmed with chantilly lace and applique trim. The skirt extended into a chapel length train. She carried a bouquet of blue silk tiger lily cascade style with streamers tied in love knots.

Elizabeth Mack was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marsha Ramsey, sister of the bride and Joyce Swain, sister of the groom.

Mark Fisher served as best man. Ushers were Charles Arnes, uncle of the bride, and Joe Bill Hughes, uncle of the groom.

The bride is a junior at Dryden High School. The bridegroom graduated from Dryden High School and is employed with M&R Trucking Company.

After a short honeymoon the couple now resides in Dryden, Virginia.

Adams, Harless Exchange Vows

Karen Lisa Adams and Warren David Harless were united in marriage November 28 at 4:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Lexington, Ky., with the Rev. William R. Jennings officiating the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Payton F. Adams of Lexington, Ky. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Betty A. Harless of Jonesville, Va., and the late Warren Y. Harless.

A program of wedding music was performed by soloist Mrs. Bertram Hawk, and Mr. Steven Morris, pianist and organist.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a formal gown of white chantilly lace with seed pearl accents. It was fashioned with a high Victorian neckline with a high ruffled collar. The fitted bodice was of chantilly with a white chiffon sash tied into a bow in the back of the dress. The sleeves were full and made of chantilly with wide fitted lace cuffs. The skirt featured nine layers of chantilly lace and extended into a cathedral length train. Her hat was covered with chantilly lace and trimmed with white chiffon and bridal illusion. One side of the brim was lifted to the crown and trimmed with white ribbon and a silk rose. She carried a sheath of long stemmed white roses, accented with English ivy with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Lynn A. Adams, sister of the bride of Lexington, Ky. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Cindy Faulkner, Starkville, Miss., Karen Dunaway, Lexington, Ky., Johanna Serletis, Charlyn Mumphrey, both of Chapel Hill, N.C. Junior bridesmaid was Susan Hawk, cousin of the bride of Tucker, Ga.

Mrs. Warren David Harless
(Karen Lisa Adams)

MECC Offers Business Courses In Evening Programs

Among MECC's business course offerings in the evening program in Winter Quarter, 1982, are "Individual Income Taxes" and "Analyzing Financial Statements."

Many of the provisions of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 are applicable January 1, 1981; others are not effective until January 1, 1982, and thereafter. Still others are effective on August 13, 1981. Many individual income tax changes are in store for you. Why not take advantage of this opportunity to learn precisely what these changes are and how they will affect your individual income taxes in 1981, 1982, and thereafter?

"Taxes I," Accounting 244, will be taught on Tuesday evenings, 7:00-9:40 p.m. in Room A142 at the College by Mr. Dennis Horton, beginning Tuesday, January 12, 1982.

"Analyzing Financial Statements," Accounting 146, is a course designed to acquaint students with the principles of financial statement analysis. Tools and techniques of statements analysis will be used to interpret the present and projected financial condition of local, regional, or national business firms. This course will be taught on Wednesday evenings, 7:00-9:40 p.m. in Room A142 at the College by Mr. Dennis Horton, beginning Wednesday, January 13, 1982.

Both of these courses are three-credit courses. Each course will be $32.25 plus an application fee of $5.00 for first-time students at MECC. Interested persons may register on the first night of class or during the day or evening January 4-15. For more information, call the Division of Business Technology, 703-523-2400, ext. 281.

CVC To Offer Special Classes

A class in Beginning Stained Galss will be offered in the 1982 spring semester by Clinch Valley College's Office of Continuing Education.

Art 495a will be taught for two semester hours credit by Ray Dunkin, owner of the Carriage House in Kingsport, Tennessee. Students who enroll will learn the basic techniques of the art. As they register they will receive a list of materials to bring to the first class meeting, and will be advised what tools and supplies of glass will be needed for the projects. The first three projects are directed by Dunkin as teaching aids, and the students will complete a fourth project of their choice.

Dunkin has taught multiple classes in the art of stained glass over the past four years. His own instruction was from Gary Newland, owner of a stained-glass shop in Asheville, North Carolina. Dunkin's Kingsport shop carries a complete line of materials and tools for stained glass projects and he will be able to provide ample supplies of necessary equipment.

Registration for the class, which will meet once a week at the Norton Community Center, will be at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, February 1. Class participants should be prepared for their first class meeting at that time. Registrations are being accepted now at the Office of Continuing Education, Clinch Valley College, Wise, Virginia, telephone 703 328-2431, extension 260.

Congressman BILL WAMPLER Reports from Washington

Early this year when Congress passed the First Budget Resolution, the legislation contained a provision eliminating the so-called minimum social security benefit. That is a benefit paid to those workers who earned very little during the time they paid social security taxes.

Since that time, the President has asked that the minimum benefit be restored, and both the House and Senate acted quickly to comply. This week, with passage of the conference report, that action was finalized. The law provides that the minimum benefit be restored to all those who are receiving payments before it was eliminated, and to those who would have become eligible before January 1, 1982. For those retiring after December 31, 1981, benefits will be based on the actual earnings of the beneficiaries.

Another provision of the bill would allow borrowing between the three social security trust funds (OASI, Disability Insurance, and Health Insurance funds), but only through December 31, 1982. The reason for this provision is to cover the expected shortfall in social security retirement funds. The one-year time limit was imposed because the conferees believe that a better solution to the financial problems of the social security system will be developed before the cutoff date.

This legislation also provides for stiffer penalties for misuse of social security cards, including making such activities felonies and establishing a $5,000 fine for knowingly altering or counterfeiting a social security card. New language in the final bill also requires the Department of Health and Human Services to report to the Congress within 90 days on actions taken to prevent social security payments to deceased persons. Finally, Congress agreed to waive certain provisions of the Privacy Act to allow states to provide the Social Security Administration with information necessary to prevent persons from receiving social security disability and student benefits while in prison.

I voted with an overwhelming majority in the Congress to restore the minimum benefit. Seventy percent of those who receive it are women over sixty five, many of them widows who truly need that income to survive. There is plenty of room elsewhere to reduce federal expenditures without penalizing the elderly.

At the same time, I strongly support efforts to reduce fraud whenever it occurs within the social security system. And there is no excuse, in my opinion, for errors and inefficiency in management that would allow payments to beneficiaries long after they are deceased, or otherwise ineligible.

YOUR BACK & YOUR HEALTH

When do you see a chiropractor?

A common practice is to visit a chiropractor when there are back problems. This is good, of course, but it's really too limiting. The advantages of maintenance chiropractic care are largely overlooked.

An all too frequent pattern is that people will ignore a back problem "until it goes away." Then at a later date (it can take years), still another health problem, seemingly unrelated to the first problem, occurs. Actually, the first problem has led to the second.

When a vertebra is moved out of alignment, the nerves it surrounds can be affected, often hindering them in their work of serving, directly or indirectly, the body organs. Unless the "offending" vertebra is restored to its proper position, an increase in stress and a change in the body balance can result, and the musculo skeleton (most directly involved are the spine, pelvis, shoulders and rib cage), can become distorted. So the original "little" problem can grow into something much bigger.

This is the reason so many doctors of chiropractic recommend to patients the preventative visit, to maintain back health. Keeping the back in its normal state, the way nature intended, can easily eliminate many of the larger problems that can develop in the future.

When do you see a chiropractor? Certainly when you have health problems — but also before unseen problems grow to major proportions.

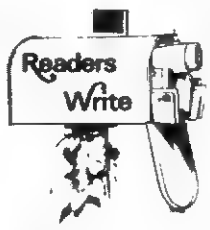
Special Christmas Activities At Morgan Memorial Church



Don Watson
Publisher of
Powell Valley News
Pennington Gap, Va. 24277

Dear Sir,

A native of Lee County, Rose Hill, Va., being away since 1939. But still read the Powell Valley paper when I saw some out of state people wanting different recipes for Cooking Corner. Brought back memories of a cake when I was young I enjoyed.

I would like to know if any one recalls old time stack cake dough rolled thin, layers of mashed dried apples or apple sauce between layers. I would like to know the portions of what was used in dough, also old time molasses was used when no sugar was available as in the 30's were tough times.

Thank you,
Sincerely,
Lucille Depew Barnes

Westminster, Md 21157

The joyous melodies of Christmas hymns and carols have been heard at Morgan Memorial United Methodist Church since the lighting of the first Advent Candle on Sunday, November 29th, the first Sunday of the Advent Season, with an additional candle being lighted in the Advent Wreath each Sunday.

On December 20th, the Christ Child Candle was lighted, and was a significant day when two young couples walked to the chancel of the church, each couple presenting a young son at the altar for the service of the Sacrament of Baptism, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus Christ who said, "Let the children come to me, do not hinder them; for to such belongs the Kingdom of God."

It was a time of dedication for the parents and the congregation, with a covenant to surround the young children with steadfast love, and live before them that they be brought up in the Christian faith, being taught in the knowledge and love of God until each accepts for himself, the gift of Salvation, and becomes a responsible Child of God.

The children presented and baptised by the Pastor, Rev. James Wright, were Joseph Randolph Glass, and James Ryan Dean, the parents being Mr. and Mrs. Claude Glass and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Dean. Other family members stood with the parents and children.

One hundred six persons were in the congregation for the Morning Worship.

The church was beautifully decorated with poinsettas, which after a special program given by the children of the church on Wednesday evening, were taken to the homes in the neighborhood where there was sickness and shut in residents, not necessarily of his church or any specified church affiliation. Fruit and candy was also shared with them, and with the congregation on Sunday morning. A Christmas Mail Box for sharing Greetings of the Season was opened ... The Christmas program on Wednesday evening was directed by Mrs. Jewel Campbell, and Mrs. Andrea Harris, assisted by Mrs. Bessie Seale, and Mrs. Kim Haley, with all the children dressed in white choir robes, as they presented a program of love and adoration for the gift of the Christ Child.

The congregation appreciated the visitors, and several persons home for Christmas and also the lovely service on December 13th when an adult stood in the congregation and asked to become a member of Morgan Memorial Church, and was joyously received.

The offering for World Hunger during November and December exceeded $500.00.

Looking forward to the New Year, the Officers of the United Methodist Women will be installed at the morning service on January 3rd by the pastor, and the Wednesday evening sessions for the youth will be continued under direction of Mrs. Nancy Gibson, Mrs. Georgia Hounshell, and Mr. Mike Check.

COULD YOU USE AN EXTRA $540,585 WHEN YOU RETIRE?

THE NEW TAX-DEFERRED INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS—IRAs.

That's a ridiculous question, of course. Because everyone could use an extra $540,585 toward their retirement.

And now, with a tax-deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) from Farmers & Miners Bank, almost everyone can have an extra $540,585. Even if you're already covered by a company pension plan.

To build such an impressive nest egg, you'll need to salt away $2,000 a year—for 30 years—into your own high-yield retirement account.

Or, as demonstrated in the box at right, you can deposit less than $2,000 a year and still end up with a sizeable amount of cash.

You can even set up a convenient payment schedule. Making deposits by the week, by the month or whatever suits you best.

WHAT A TAX-DEFERRED IRA COULD MEAN TO YOU
Based on 12% interest compounded annually

	$500 INVESTMENT	$1,000 INVESTMENT	$2,000 INVESTMENT
[illegible]	$ 15,000	$ 30,000	$ 60,000
[illegible]	$135,146	$270,292	$540,585

Note: This chart is intended to be an example of how regular deposits into an IRA can grow into a substantial sum. This is not a guarantee of interest rates or end financial results.

And because our retirement accounts are tax deferred, you deduct your annual investment from your taxable income. So you'll pay no federal tax on an IRA until you start withdrawing funds (minimum age 59½).

Then, when you retire, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, so you'll pay lower taxes.

If you're intrigued with the thought of reducing your tax load while increasing your security, call one of our professionals at our [illegible] BANK for all the details.

They could help make your retirement much more enjoyable. About $540,585 more enjoyable.

The Armour Veribest Pork Story

The Veribest pork story starts with the live hog. The common ingredient in all Veribest products is the SELECT Meat-Type hog. Armour produces Veribest pork from only those hogs designated by an experienced hog evaluator to be Meat-Type hogs. Each pork producing plant has one or more evaluators on the kill floor to grade each hog immediately after slaughtering. Only the SELECT yielding hogs will be designated for Veribest and the evaluator will make a blue mark on each qualifying primal cut. The evaluator assures you Armour value-added pork products come from SELECT Meat-Type hogs and not merely graded at time of cut and then trimmed to a specification. The facts are that with today's hogs, a large eyed loin or four square inch loin eye is not uncommon but SELECT Meat-Type hog can assure you of four square inches or more of loin eye consistently and truly value-added pork products.

WHAT ABOUT QUALITY?

Save a lot on items you use a lot. Look for the plain black and white label at your Piggly Wiggly store for guaranteed low prices on these items. These black and white (generic) products are just as nutritious as the national brand. While they may not be as "fancy," they are good, wholesome, nutritious foods at rock bottom prices and you can save up to 45% compared to national brands.

GENERIC FOODS MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

Everything you buy at Piggly Wiggly is absolutely guaranteed for your total satisfaction regardless of manufacturer. If you are not satisfied with any product, we will gladly replace the item or refund the purchase price

WHY THEY COST LESS:

You save a lot on black and white (generic) products because you're not paying for a fancy pretty label using lots of color. Generic products also save you more because they are not advertised nationally. Another reason you pay less is because although the product is just as wholesome and nutritious as the national brand, they may not be as "fancy."
